In fiscal 2011-12, the Temple University Press board met nine times. The Board approved 26 advance contracts and 26 full contracts during this time. The Board granted final approval to 19 projects during this time. No projects were rejected during this time. The faculty board of review welcomed two new members during this year, Peter Logan (English) and Matt Wray (Sociology). Since Robin Kolodny became Chair of the Faculty Board of Review, Heath Fogg-Davis (Political Science) and Renee Hobbs (BTMM) have left the Board. Additionally, Teresa Soufas (CLA Dean – Spanish) and Dieter Forster (Physics) will end their terms in the summer of 2012. Three new board members will be added in the Fall of 2012. TUP publishes book projects in a wide array of academic disciplines and fields including Asian American Studies, Political Science, Ethnomusicology, Sports, Sociology, Urban Studies, Gender and Women’s Studies, Disability Studies, Global Youth, History, Criminology, American Studies, Environmental Studies, Higher Education, and Regional Trade. The Press also maintains a small trade list, most of which focuses on the Philadelphia region.
