TEMPLE UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE OF DANCE SCHOLARSHIP
Scholar-in-Residence Program
Call for Applications

The Dance Department at Temple University invites applications for a week-long Scholar-in-Residence Program as part of the Institute of Dance Scholarship. At the time of application, the candidate must have held a PH.D for at least four years, and have a track record of significant and original achievements. The experienced visiting dance scholar will share new research in dance, and engage in collegial feedback sessions and discussions with graduate students. Spring 2018 residency dates will be negotiated according to availability and scheduling.

The Institute of Dance Scholarship will provide:

- 5 nights' accommodation
- 5 days of per diems ($65/day)
- Travel expenses up to $1250
- Honorarium of $1500

The Scholar-in-Residence will:

- Deliver two guest classes
- Read and provide feedback on a draft chapter by a PhD dance student
- Read and provide feedback on draft writing by a dance faculty member
- Provide a draft chapter of your own work in preparation for a mentoring session with one of the dance faculty
- Offer an "open hours" session for interested graduate students

To apply, please submit to Prof. Merián Soto (msoto@temple.edu) by October 30, 2017:

- Recent CV
- 2-page statement outlining your current research activity and how it would benefit from engagement with specific Temple Dance faculty.
