TEMPLE UNIVERISTY SYMPHONY ORCHESTA TO PREMIERE WORK BY DAVE AND CHRIS BRUBECK

Jazz legend Dave Brubeck and son, Chris

The Boyer College of Music and Dance has joined forces with an orchestra consortium to commission a work by jazz great Dave Brubeck and his son Chris. The score for Ansel Adams: America, includes the projection of over 100 of photographs chronicling Adams' life and work. The piece will receive its Philadelphia premiere by the Temple University Orchestra, under the baton of Maestro Luis Biava, at the Kimmel Center on March 21, 2010 at 3:00 pm. The exclusive New York premiere will take place at Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall on April 9 at 8:00 pm during which Dave Brubeck will receive the 2010 Boyer Inspiration Award in recognition of his body of influential work.

Also on the program, which celebrates giants of the American cultural landscape, is a second commission by Grammy-nominated composer/arranger/pianist Bill Cunliffe for orchestra, jazz combo and solo trumpet -- to be performed by Terrell Stafford -- as well as Leonard Bernstein's On the Town Suite and Samuel Barber's Essay for Orchestra No. 2.
