

Boyer College of Music and Dance
TEMPLE UNIVERSITY®

NEWS

Contact: Linda Fiore
linda.fiore@temple.edu
215.204.8307

www.temple.edu/boyer

Boyer Students Awarded Inaugural Dean's Grants for Students

November 1, 2010

The following students have received first-time Dean's Grants for Students. This newly established initiative, established by Dean Robert T. Stroker, supports student projects and is the result of an application process reviewed by a grant panel.

Julia Alford-Fowler -- Organize a concert in Philadelphia of the Temple Composers Orchestra.

Monica Cameron Frichtel -- To give a scholarly paper at the annual conference of the National Dance Education Organization.

Eun Jung Choi and Jose Guillermo Ortega Tanus -- To participate in the ImPulsTanz Vienna International Dance Festival.

Bridgette Duncan -- To purchase equipment for the creation and recording of choreography.

Vladimir Dyo -- To travel to Flint, Michigan to participate in a recording project of the music of Schnittke.

Jessica Featherson -- To learn Afro-Brazilian dance at the Peridance Capezio Center and Ailey Extension at the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater.

Colleen Hooper -- To learn about connections between Rolwing technique and dance.

Kate Jasmin -- To attend an "Embodiment in Education" workshop as part of a research project.

Andrew Laster -- To produce a concert of his compositions at Roulette Intermedium in New York City.

Lyndsay Markworth -- To complete a qualitative research study at the Nordoff-Robbins Center for Music Therapy.

Jill Reese -- To conduct a research study on adults' sensitivity to young children's musical behaviors.

Elizabeth Reynolds -- To complete a choreographic project that includes aerial dance.

Lyndi Shivak -- To conduct a research study on intensive dance therapy in Keene, NH

Tal Shtuhl -- To produce a jazz CD.