

David Barton Smith, Ph.D.

David Smith is Research Professor in the Center for Health Equality and the Department of Health Management and Policy at the School of Public Health at Drexel University and Emeritus Professor in the Risk, Insurance and Healthcare Management Department in the Fox School of Business and Management at Temple University. He has also served as an IPA fellow in the Office of Research and Policy at CMS. Professor Smith received his Ph.D. in Health Services Research from The University of Michigan. He was awarded a 1995 Robert Wood Johnson Health Policy Research Investigator Award for research on the history and legacy of the racial segregation of health care and continues to do research this topic. He is the author or co-author of six books on the organization of health services. His most recent, Forensic Cases: Diagnosing and Treating the Pathologies of the American Health System (World Scientific 2010) is scheduled for release in November. Other recent books include Health Care Divided: Race and Healing a Nation (The University of Michigan Press 1999), and Reinventing Care: Assisted Living in New York City (Vanderbilt University Press 2003). Professor Smith has also authored or co-authored more than forty health service research related journal articles. His most recent relevant papers are: D. Smith, Z. Feng, M. Fennell, J. Zinn and V. Mor. Separate and Unequal: Racial Segregation and Disparities in Nursing Home Quality in the United States. Health Affairs Vol. 26, No. 5 (September/October): 1448-1458., and D. Smith, Z. Feng, M. Fennell, J. Zinn and V. Mor. Racial Disparities in Access to Long Term Care: The Illusive Pursuit of Equity Journal of Health Politics, Policy and Law, Vol. 33, No. 5 (October 2008): 801-820. His paper with Z. Feng, Restructuring Long Term Care: Past Lessons and Future Opportunities, will be the one of the lead articles in the January 2010 issue of Health Affairs devoted to long term care reform.