Program of Research

My specific research spans 3 areas of inquiry that mutually inform one another. My primary area of research focuses on the application of evidence-based practice for youth with psychopathology in community settings (e.g., training community clinicians in cognitive-behavioral therapy for anxiety, flexibly adapting evidence-based interventions for community settings), while secondary areas of interest include clinical research on maladaptive behavior in youth and clinical research on evidence-based psychosocial interventions for youth (e.g., cognitive-behavioral therapy for anxiety).
