

Engineering the future

Five Temple senior engineering students win NASA grants. See page 2.

A step closer

Senior forward Dupree makes second Naismith cut. See page 4.

Harriet Tubman

Actor to portray abolitionist at TU's Underground. See page 4.

TEMPLE TIMES

www.temple.edu/temple_times

February 23, 2006

Vol. 36, No. 21

Making the world their classroom

Three study-abroad students will share their experiences in a new feature.

By Erica B. Fajge
ericabf@temple.edu

When Ian Waldruff arrived in Italy to attend Temple's Rome Campus for a semester, he was amazed at what he saw: bursts of color, lush greenery, sunny days and deeply ornamented architecture that surrounded him everywhere he looked.

"Every place of residence, every piece of architecture, every facade reflects a remarkable degree of warmth and care," he observed.

Waldruff, a senior theater major from Bethlehem, Pa., is just one of the many Temple students studying far from Philadelphia this spring. And throughout the semester, he'll be sharing his experiences with the Temple community as part of a new regular Temple Times feature, "Overseas Adventures."

Waldruff is one of three students selected by International Programs to write twice a month from their temporary homes abroad, sharing their photos and observations. Taylor Benjamin-Britton, a junior majoring in political studies and Asian studies, is writing from Temple University Japan's Tokyo campus, and Khanh Le, a junior history major, writes from Vietnam National University in Hanoi, Vietnam.

The students' biweekly journal entries are linked online from the Temple Times and International Programs Web sites, and will appear in a monthly Overseas Adventures feature in the print Temple Times newspaper.

Increasing numbers of Temple students are seeking education abroad programs, said

Greetings from Rome!

Senior theater major Ian Waldruff, studying at Temple Rome this spring, is one of three students keeping study abroad journals for a new Temple Times feature.

Photo courtesy Ian Waldruff

last year: summer programs, foreign university exchanges and non-Temple programs, in locations as wide-ranging as Ghana, Turkey, India, Paris, Puerto Rico and Brazil.

In addition, the Institute for Global Management Studies and Temple's CIBER sponsor exchanges for undergraduate business students in Paris, Lyon, Dublin and Mexico City, and this year The Fox School of Business began a collaboration with Welingkar Institute of Management in India.

Study abroad isn't limited only to the undergraduate years, either.

"Although study abroad is most commonly thought of as part of the undergraduate experience, it is becoming more popular in graduate schools, especially those that do professional training in law and business," said Adelaide Ferguson, assistant dean of graduate and international programs for the Beasley School of Law.

In The Fox School of Business, the international M.B.A. program sends its students to Paris, Tokyo and Mumbai (Bombay), India, as part of the curriculum, with an additional option to visit Shanghai, China. Students in the E.M.B.A. are required to

Study abroad on page 2

Denise Connerty, director of International Programs.

"Our students are thinking globally and recognizing that they need to learn more about, and experience, the rest of the world," Connerty said. "Temple is particularly fortunate to have its own campuses in Rome and Tokyo, and a longstanding program in London."

Students may attend the Rome, Tokyo or London campuses for a semester or an entire academic year, and take courses in a range of disciplines. According to International Programs, 476 Temple students attended one of these Temple campuses during the 2004-05 academic year. Another 198 Temple students took advantage of other study abroad options

TOGETHER FOR TEMPLE

Faculty/staff campaign has record support

By Ray Betzner
rbetzner@temple.edu

Launched in September, "Together for Temple" — the institution's first Universitywide campaign for faculty and staff — is drawing strong, broad support from across the campus.

Already, more than 1,000 employees have made gifts and commitments. Overall, more than $6.5 million has been raised, more than any amount given by Temple employees in the past.

"We are thrilled with the response from Temple's employees. This is a tremendous start for the faculty and staff campaign," said Stuart Sullivan, vice president for development and alumni affairs.

"The support we've seen so far shows that Temple employees truly understand the importance of philanthropic support of the University. They want to be a part of making Temple one of the best urban research institutions in the nation," Sullivan said.

"In every college and department, people are coming together to make a difference," said Richard Englert, deputy provost, dean of the University College and a co-chair of the faculty and staff campaign. "Temple is entering a new era, and its faculty and staff are leading the way."

Together for Temple had its kickoff Sept. 28, with more than 1,000 people gathered in the Liacouras Center for entertainment, prizes and a motivational talk by Philadelphia sports and business legend Pat Croce.

Campaign on page 2

Soccer's Donatelli drafted by new MLS team

By Karen Shuey
karen.shuey@temple.edu

After ending the season last fall unbeaten in its last five matches, the men's soccer team is enjoying another winning streak — off the field.

For the second straight year, a Temple men's soccer player was drafted by a Major League Soccer organization in the league's supplemental draft held last month.

Fresh off earning Philadelphia Soccer Seven Player of the Year honors, Temple senior midfielder Tony Donatelli has been selected by the expansion franchise in Houston.

Last year, former Temple goaltender Patrick Hannigan was drafted in the third round by the New Jersey-based MetroStars.

After leading the Owls last season with 17 points, six goals and five assists, Donatelli caught the attention of numerous clubs by scoring a goal at this year's MLS combine.

The 6-foot-1-inch, 175-pound Donatelli is currently in Houston participating in a pre-season training camp after being chosen with the eighth pick of the third round of the supplemental draft. Though he has not yet been officially signed by Houston, the team will be making its final decision at the conclusion of training camp, at the end of February.

"There is no guarantee that I will make the team, but I think I have a pretty good chance because I'm really listening to the advice of the coaches and players," Donatelli said recently in a phone interview.

The Glenside, Pa., native said his extensive career at Temple gave him the tools to propel him to the professional level. While playing for the Owls, Donatelli led the Philadelphia Soccer Seven in scoring for two straight seasons, earning the 2005 league Player of the Year award. He also was named first team all-Atlantic 10 Conference for two consecutive years and was named to the first team all-Mid-Atlantic Region.

"Tony is a very good technical player," men's soccer coach David MacWilliams said. "He also reads and understands the game very well which is shown in his passion for the game."

MacWilliams credits Donatelli in large part for the team's success over the past four years, and said he will be greatly missed on the field and by his teammates.

"Right now, I'm just enjoying the time I have down here and am very glad for the opportunity [Houston] has given me," Donatelli said.

"It's always been a dream of mine to play soccer professionally — and now it may become a reality." ♦

Bits&PCs

TECH Center usage takes off

Since opening on Jan. 5, the TECH Center has become a popular hub for students on Main Campus. The number of students using the center has increased daily, with a total of 5,616 visitors on Wednesday, Feb. 15.

Students come to the center to take advantage of state-of-the-art hardware and software and to collaborate with their peers on projects in private breakout rooms.

For more information on TECH Center resources and hours, go to <http://techcenter.temple.edu>.

Windows 98 and Windows Me users need to upgrade

Microsoft has announced that it will discontinue support for Windows 98 Second Edition and Windows Me. As of July 11, Microsoft will no longer provide public and technical support and security updates for these systems. Microsoft will provide online help, however, for a limited period of time.

As a result, the Computer Services Help Desk will no longer support Windows 98 Second Edition and Windows Me, and strongly recommends that users upgrade to Windows XP. Faculty and staff can obtain XP at no charge for existing on-campus computers, and students can purchase XP at a substantial discount.

For information on upgrading to Windows XP, go to <http://cs.temple.edu/windowsupgradehelp.html>.

If you need additional assistance with upgrading your computer, contact the Help Desk at help@temple.edu or 215-204-8000.

Worm targets iChat on OS X

Symantec has announced that the OSX.Leap.A worm is targeting Macintosh OS X and spreading via the iChat instant messenger program. The worm, which infects files on Macintosh OS X version 10.4, will execute on Intel Macs but it cannot spread to other systems from these machines.

If you have the Symantec Antivirus program installed on your computer, obtain the latest definition files, which should prevent infection. Currently, Symantec is uncertain of the extent of the infection and cannot guarantee complete remediation. To obtain additional information, go to the Symantec Web site at www.symantec.com and type "osx.leap.a" in the search window.

If you have any questions, contact the Computer Services Help Desk at help@temple.edu or 215-204-8000.

Temple Health Empowerment Office

THEO is still located in Mitten Hall, despite the recent Student Health Services move from Mitten Hall to 1810 Liacouras Walk. Offering popular programs and from individual sessions to printed informational resources on health and lifestyle issues, THEO helps make Temple a healthier place to live and learn. For more information about THEO, visit www.temple.edu/theo or drop by the office in Mitten Hall, lower level.

Temple students chronicle studies abroad

Study abroad from page 1

take an annual trip abroad, this year to Budapest, Hungary, and Prague, Czech Republic.

About 18 percent of the Law School's students study abroad during their time at Temple, and this year alone J.D. students have earned credits in Italy, Ireland, Turkey, China, Germany and Japan.

Temple students' increasing pursuit of education abroad reflects a national trend. The U.S. Senate even passed a resolution recently declaring 2006 "the Year of Study Abroad," in recognition of the importance of diversity and cultural understanding.

"It's very valuable, especially in today's interdependent world, to put yourself in the shoes of someone raised in a different culture and educational system, and to learn that there are multiple ways of viewing the world and interpreting information," Connerty said. "Study abroad allows students to test their assumptions and beliefs; this process is very significant for personal and intellectual growth, and produces well-informed world citizens."

Taylor Benjamin-Britton

Year: Junior

Major: Political science and Asian studies

Hometown: Downingtown, Pa.

International program: Temple Japan

"It's the most advanced country in the world, and yet they'll build a massive skyscraper around a tiny shrine with the greatest care. ... Exploring the urban jungle, you will stumble across shrines you didn't even know existed."

The 'Overseas Adventures' students

Khanh Le

Year: Junior

Major: History

Hometown: Philadelphia

International program: Vietnam National University in Hanoi, Vietnam

"I am enjoying Hanoi. The lakes make it nice for me to walk around at night. This city has a lot to offer!"

Ian Waldraff

Year: Senior

Major: Theater

Hometown: Bethlehem, Pa.

International program: Temple Rome

"After three weeks of almost constant sun, I am still amazed by what first impressed me — the warm shades and hues of the atmosphere."

Khanh Le, who lives in Philadelphia, is spending his semester at Vietnam National University in Hanoi, through the Council on International Educational Exchange. He is a recipient of the Gilman Scholarship for study abroad.

Through travel and exploration, Le has already found differences among different regions of his new home.

"Hanoi is a beautiful city, and is very different from Saigon. Hanoi is more peaceful, and has a slower pace," he observed.

Taylor Benjamin-Britton, a resident of Downingtown, Pa., received the John Means study abroad scholarship, and is being featured on Blogabroad.com and in The Philadelphia Inquirer, where she regularly shares her experiences overseas.

Like Waldraff and Le, Benjamin-Britton was mesmerized by her surroundings the moment she stepped off the plane. Yet even before she arrived, she was fascinated by her perception of the exotic culture and adventure that Japan would hold.

"Samurai and castles, kimono, legends, Shinto shrines — all of these really captured my imagination," she said. "Japan, in my mind, was this great adventure to be had."

To read Ian's, Khanh's and Taylor's journal entries, visit the "Overseas Adventures: Spring 2006" Web page at www.temple.edu/temple_times/oip.

Faculty/staff campaign reaches record numbers

Campaign from page 1

The campaign encourages employees to support virtually any school, college or program at Temple. Gifts can help build student scholarships, and transform the campus through projects like Alter Hall, the new School of Medicine building or the relocation of the Tyler School of Art.

Donors may also elect to support Temple's programs that touch the lives of those in the North Philadelphia area, like the Partnership Schools program, community services projects or medical, dental and legal services for underserved populations.

In addition, there are opportunities to help the University Libraries, Temple University Press, athletics or research projects.

Gifts can come through a variety of means, from single payments to monthly payroll deductions and planned gifts. For more information about the campaign, and to make a gift online, go to www.fscampaign.temple.edu.

Look for additional announcements about "Together for Temple" in your e-mail. Plans have also begun for a thank-you celebration tentatively planned for early May.

Ways to give

Scholarships: Financial aid attracts strong students to Temple — and help them afford to take the opportunity to attend, whatever their financial background.

Campus transformation: From Alter Hall to Tyler School of Art, Temple is an increasingly excellent place to teach, learn and work.

Community impact: Temple's public mission includes a strong presence in local schools, providing underserved populations with medical care, and community service.

Engineering the future

Photo by Preston M. Moretz

For the past 15 years, NASA, in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Space Grant Consortium, has awarded up $7,500 a year to Temple in support of student research in the fields of engineering and science. The award is part of NASA's mission to attract young, talented students into space-related activities. This past fall, five Temple senior engineering students were awarded grants of $1,000 each to work in the area of robotics. The five have been working with electrical and computer engineering professor John Helferty (left) and students from George Washington Carver High School for Engineering and Science on their entry to the FIRST Robotics international competition. The award recipients are (seated, from left) civil and environmental engineering student Josiah Mount and electrical and computer engineering students Thi Thach, (standing, from left) Justin Pasquale, Jeremi Leasure and Dennis Defino.

— Preston M. Moretz

TEMPLE TIMES

www.temple.edu/temple_times

February 23, 2006

Vol. 36, No. 21

Chief Communications Officer: Mark Eyerly mark.eyerly@temple.edu

Director of Communications: Ray Betzner rbezner@temple.edu

Editor: Betsy Winter betsy.winter@temple.edu

Assistant Editor: Kevin Gardner kevin.gardner@temple.edu

Director, Health Sciences PR: Eryn Jelesiewicz eryn.dobeck@temple.edu

Contributing Writers: Ted Boscia tboscia@temple.edu
James Duffy james.duffy@temple.edu
Harriet Goodheart harriet.goodheart@temple.edu
Tory Harris tah@temple.edu
Hillel J. Hoffmann hillel.hoffmann@temple.edu
Lisa Z. Meritz lisa.meritz@temple.edu
Preston M. Moretz preston.moretz@temple.edu
Patti Truant patti.truant@temple.edu

For a complete beat list, visit www.temple.edu/news_media/staff.html.

University Photography: Joseph V. Labolito joseph.labolito@temple.edu
Betsy Manning betsy.manning@temple.edu

Temple Times Online: Cheryl Afonso cheryl.afonso@temple.edu

Calendar Editor: Erica B. Fajge times@temple.edu

Submit news to times@temple.edu and calendar items, at least two weeks in advance, to TUCalendar at <http://calendar.temple.edu>.

1601 N. Broad St.
302 University Services Building
Temple ZIP #083-43
Philadelphia, PA 19122
Fax: 215-204-4403
Phone: 215-204-8963

Temple Times is published by the Division of University Communications each Thursday of the academic year.

TUcalendar

Continued from page 4

"Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad"

4 p.m. Student Center, the Underground. A theatrical presentation by Millicent Sparks. Sponsored by the Office of Student Activities and the African American Heritage Celebration Committee.

TUESDAY, Feb. 28

Ambler Campus: Leadership award and Student Government nominations

Ambler Campus, Bright Hall, Office of Student Life. Deadline for Student Government packets (to apply to run for fall 2006 and spring 2007 office; campaigning begins March 17): March 16, 4 p.m. Deadline to nominate in a variety of leadership award categories: March 31, 4 p.m. (leadership awards banquet held April 28). Sponsored by the Temple Ambler Office of Student Life. For more information, call the Office of Student Life at 215-283-1424/25.

Majors Fair

10 a.m.–2 p.m. Student Center atrium. Gives students the opportunity to explore academic programs offered across the University by speaking with representatives from Temple's schools and colleges. Open to all students, geared particularly toward those who have not yet decided on a major or are considering a change of major. Sponsored by University Studies. For more information, contact Kristen diNovi at dinovi@temple.edu, or visit www.temple.edu/dus.

Career Expo

10 a.m.–3 p.m. Liacouras Center. Meet HR representatives and hiring managers from various organizations, and explore a variety of career opportunities. Sponsored by Career Development Services. For more information, call 215-204-7981, or visit www.temple.edu/careerdev.

Bridging the Gap Seminar Series: "Classroom Research: Who are Temple students?"

11 a.m.–12:30 p.m. TECH Center, TLC conference room. Facilitator: Olga Vilceanu. Sponsored by the Teaching and Learning Center. For more information, e-mail tlc@temple.edu or 215-204-8761, or visit www.temple.edu/tlc.

Soul food luncheon

11 a.m.–2:30 p.m. Johnson and Hardwick

This Week's Scores

Men's Basketball

Feb. 14: Temple 57, Saint Joseph's 44
Feb. 18: Saint Louis 56, Temple 51

Women's Basketball

Feb. 17: Temple 59, Saint Joseph's 53
Feb. 19: Temple 70, Dayton 36

Men's Gymnastics

Feb. 18: Second of four

Women's Gymnastics

Feb. 18: Fourth of four

Men's Track and Field

Feb. 18: Eighth of nine

Women's Track and Field

Feb. 18: 10th of 11

Women's Tennis

Feb. 16: Temple 4, New Jersey Tech 2
Feb. 18: Syracuse 6, Temple 1

Feb. 19: Princeton 7, Temple 0

Softball

Feb. 18: Hofstra 10, Temple 0
Feb. 18: South Florida 11, Temple 4

Feb. 19: Jacksonville 9, Temple 1

Women's Fencing

Feb. 17: No team scoring

Women's Lacrosse

Feb. 18: No team scoring dining hall: $6.15. Diamond Club: $7.95. All other University dining locations: Various prices. Sponsored by Sodexo and the African American Heritage Celebration Committee.

RCC Celebrates African American History Month: Game Show

1–2:30 p.m. 1700 N. Broad, room 203. Win prizes; refreshments served. For more information, or for additional group and individual tutorial services, contact the Russell Conwell Center at 215-204-1251, or visit www.temple.edu/rcc.

Special research seminar: "NeuroAIDS, Neuroinflammation and Neurotherapeutics"

4 p.m. Biology-Life Sciences Building, room 237. Lecture presented by Harris Gelbard, department of neurology in the Center for Aging and Developmental Biology, University of Rochester Medical Center. Sponsored by the neuroscience department, School of Medicine. For more information, contact C. Schriver at cynthia.schriver@temple.edu or 215-204-0618.

Exploring Leadership Series: "Encouraging Others to Act"

4:30 p.m. Student Center, room 217 C/D. An interactive workshop that offers students an opportunity to examine each of the five leadership principles. Presented by Arnold Boyd, student activities program coordinator. Earns five diamond points. Sponsored by Student Affairs and Recreation Services. Part of the TU Student Leadership Challenge. For more information, visit www.temple.edu/studentleadershipchallenge.

"Gamekillers" featuring Mo Rocca

7 p.m. Mitten Hall, Great Court. Mo Rocca (VH1's "I Love" series, "The Daily Show") offers his commentary on the trials and tribulations of the dating game. Sponsored by the Main Campus Program Board.

Indoor soccer tournament

7–9 p.m. Student Pavilion. Recreation Services access required. Sponsored by Recreation Services. For more information, call 215-204-1267, or visit www.temple.edu/recsvcs.

Faculty recital

7:30 p.m. Rock Hall auditorium. Lawrence Indik, baritone, and Charles Abramovic, piano. Featuring Schubert's Winterreise. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

WEDNESDAY, March 1

Early registration deadline: Mini course on disabilities

Held March 15, 9:30 a.m.–noon. Student Center, room 217. "Reframing Disability Through the Arts," presented by Simi Linton, founder and president of Disability/Arts Consultancy. Sponsored by the Institute on Disabilities, the Center for the Humanities and the School of Communications and Theater. To register, call Yvette Bolden at 215-204-1356, or apply online at <http://disabilities.temple.edu>. For more information, contact Mike Dorn at mdorn@temple.edu.

Registration deadline: Financial aid priority applications due

All students desiring financial aid for the 2006–07 academic year must file the FAFSA by today's deadline. Applications filed late will be processed, but all funding sources may not be available. Student Financial Services recommends that students file the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. For more information, e-mail sfs@temple.edu.

"Get a Grip"

6:30 a.m. IBC Student Recreation Center. All day; Recreation Services access required. For more information, call 215-204-1267 or visit www.temple.edu/recsvcs.

"Images of the City in Popular Culture"

11:40 a.m.–1 p.m. Gladfelter Hall, 10th floor, CHAT lounge. Lecture presented by Rickie Sanders, CHAT faculty fellow and professor in the geography and urban studies departments. Sponsored by the Center for the Humanities. For more information, e-mail humanities@temple.edu or visit www.temple.edu/humanities.

Information session: Temple semester abroad programs

Noon. Tuttleman Learning Center, room 200. Learn about studying abroad for a semester with Temple's programs, which include Rome, Japan and various exchanges. Sponsored by International Programs. For more information, contact International Programs at study.abroad@temple.edu or 215-204-0720, or visit www.temple.edu/studyabroad.

Off-campus living fair

1–3 p.m. Student Center atrium. Sponsored by University Housing. For more information, contact Lisa Prestileo at lisa.prestileo@temple.edu.

TECH Center holds grand opening

As masses of students continued to arrive at the TECH Center, administrators crowded into the lobby last Thursday to celebrate the center's grand opening, after a regular joint meeting of the Board of Trustees' budget and finance and executive committees. Vice President of Computer and Information Services Timothy O'Rourke (above) praised representatives of the architecture and computer firms that helped bring the center online, and thanked President David Adamany, the Department of Campus Safety Services, and the staff of Computer Services for their work in making it possible for the University to have a 24-hour computer center.

Afterward, tours of the building — which includes a new Admissions Welcome Center and the Teaching and Learning Center — led to a buffet with a cake shaped like an ASCII keyboard (below). For more information about the new TECH Center, visit <http://techcenter.temple.edu>.

Campaigns and Elections Speaker Series

3–5 p.m. Gladfelter Hall, room 914, Russell F. Weigley Memorial Room. Diana Mutz, Samuel A. Stouffer Professor of Political Science and Communication at the University of Pennsylvania, discusses her new book, Hearing the Other Side: Deliberative Versus Participatory Democracy. Sponsored by the Institute for Public Affairs. For more information, contact the Institute for Public Affairs at ipa@temple.edu or 215-204-9211.

"Avoiding Plagiarism: Appropriate and Effective Use of Source Materials"

4 p.m. Tuttleman Learning Center, room 201D. Workshop that gives students practice at several different methods of incorporating source materials. Covers definitions and policies on plagiarism, plus an open discussion about why students plagiarize. Sponsored by the University Writing Center. For more information, contact Dan Gallagher at dagallag@temple.edu or 215-204-0705, or visit www.temple.edu/writingctr/workshops/incenter_reservations.htm.

Registration deadline: Study abroad exchange applications

5 p.m. Tuttleman Learning Center, room 200. Applications for all study abroad exchanges, including Germany, Puerto Rico and the United Kingdom, are due today in International Programs. Sponsored by International Programs. For more information, contact International Programs at study.abroad@temple.edu or 215-204-0720, or visit www.temple.edu/studyabroad.

ON SALE AT THE LIACOURAS CENTER

Tickets are available at the Liacouras Center box office at 1776 N. Broad St. (cash sales only), online at www.liacourascenter.com or by telephone at 1-888-OWLS-TIX.

Men's and women's basketball
Visit www.owlsports.com for schedules.

USA Gymnastics' American Cup
March 4: 11:30 a.m. $27–$77; $10 off the $27 tickets w/TUId.

Bill Gaither and the Homecoming Band
March 10. $22.75–$34.75.

The World Famous Harlem Globetrotters
March 11: 1 p.m. $20–$100.

"Madea Goes to Jail"
March 15–26. $46–$64. Visit www.liacourascenter.com for exact dates, times and prices.

MAIN CAMPUS CINEMA SERIES

Student Center Cinema (the Reel). $2 with TUId; $4 all others.

Show times:
Mon.–Wed.: noon, 2:30, 5 and 8 p.m.
Thu. & Fri.: noon, 2:30, 5, 8 and 10:30 p.m.
Sat.: 2:30, 5, 8 and 10:30 p.m. Sun.: 2:30, 5 and 8 p.m.

Visit www.temple.edu/sac/studact/cinema.htm for more information.

"Get Rich or Die Tryin'"
Feb. 23.

"March of the Penguins"
Feb. 24–March. 2

List your events

If you would like your University-sponsored event included in the TUcalendar, fill out the "Submit an Event" form at <http://calendar.temple.edu>.

All submissions must be received at least two weeks prior to the event.

This Week in Temple History

Feb. 25, 1952

The Temple University News reported that Ed Sullivan, the noted newspaper columnist and television emcee, spoke at the annual Brotherhood Dinner on Feb. 23. During his speech he praised Temple for promoting better religious understandings through the courses it offers.

TUcalendar

Events Feb. 23 to March 1

All events free unless otherwise noted. For the most up-to-date listings, visit the TUcalendar at <http://calendar.temple.edu>.

ONGOING

Tyler student exhibition

Through Feb. 25. Tyler Campus, Elkins Park. Tyler and Penrose Galleries. Once each year, the Tyler faculty juries the best of the undergraduate works from all departments. This presentation features work in photography, glass, fibers, print-making, painting, sculpture, drawing, ceramics, design, metals, and more. Sponsored by the department of exhibitions and public programs, Tyler School of Art. For more information, call 215-782-2776, or visit www.temple.edu/tyler.

Rome Campus: "Italianità"

Through March 2. Temple University Rome Campus. Exhibition of 24 black-and-white large-format portrait photographs by Roman photographer Marco Delogu, long recognized as a master of the photographic portrait. For more information, contact Shara Wasserman at s.wasserman@tiscalinet.it.

Libraries' Urban Archives exhibition

Through March 31. Paley Library, ground floor, Paley Lecture Hall. Part of Temple's Black History and Women's History Month celebrations. Sponsored by Temple University Libraries. For more information, call the Urban Archives at 215-204-5750.

THURSDAY, Feb. 23

Registration deadline: Mentor program applications

1700 N. Broad, room 203B. Applications are being accepted for international students who wish to receive an American mentor only. The peer mentoring program was designed to help new incoming international students adjust academically, culturally and socially to the United States and to the University. In exchange, those being mentored are expected to facilitate their mentors with cultural learning. Sponsored by the Office of International Services. For more information or to participate in the program by being mentored, contact oispeers@temple.edu.

"Lack of Time Management Anonymous"

This workshop is located on the Web at www.temple.edu/rcc/workshops. Make plans to include time for all aspects of your life. For more information, or for additional group and individual tutorial services, contact the Russell Conwell Center at 215-204-1251, or visit www.temple.edu/rcc.

Spring into Success: "After Freshmen Year: What Next?"

1:30 p.m. 1810 Liacouras Walk, suite 101, the Academic Resource Center. The first of four hour-long workshops designed to help students spring successfully into the second half of the semester. Sponsored by University Studies. For more information, call 215-204-2500.

Donald A. Henderson lecture

1:30-3 p.m. Health Sciences Center, Student Faculty Center, fourth-floor auditorium. "Death and Resurrection of a Virus: Who Said Infectious Diseases Were Dead?" presented by Donald A. Henderson, director of the original smallpox eradication campaign. Henderson, who was instrumental in initiating the World Health Organization's global program of immunization, will discuss past experiences and current concerns regarding smallpox. Reception to follow. Part of the CPREP Distinguished Lecture Series in public health, sponsored by the Center for Preparedness Research, Education and Practice; the Office of the Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies; and the Institute for Public Affairs. For more information, contact Sarah Powell at sjpowell@temple.edu.

Temple Book Club: "Freedomtown: A Novelette"

2:30-4 p.m. Paley Library, ground floor, Paley Lecture Hall. "Freedomtown: A Novelette" by Jacqueline T. Small, guest author. Bring your lunch. Beverages and light snacks provided. Sponsored by Temple University Libraries; part of Temple's Black History Month celebrations. To be added to the book club's listserv or for more information, contact Margaret Jerri-do at mj@temple.edu or 215-204-6639.

"Strategy and Business Model"

4:30-6 p.m. Speakman Hall, room 201. Workshop focusing on strategy, value chain, value path and the business model. Co-sponsored by the Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute at the Fox School of Business and Management and the Small Business Development Center. For more information, call Michelle Eisenberg at 215-204-3081.

Registration deadline: Memorial Awards applications

5 p.m. The Temple University Memorial Awards recognize students for their outstanding academic, leadership and service achievements. Apply online at www.temple.edu/assistance, and include two letters of reference. Sponsored by the Office of Orientation and New Student Programs. For more information, contact Moira Ryder at assist@temple.edu.

"Memorable Moments": China

5:30 p.m.: meet at the Student Center. Register in Student Center, room 219M. Sponsored by Student Activities.

Temple University Concert Choir and Philomel

7:30 p.m. St. Mark's Church. 1625 Locust St. An all-Bach program featuring Cantata BWV 4 "Christ lag in Todesbanden" and Motet BWV 106 "Gottes Zeit ist die allerbeste Zeit." Alan Harler, conductor. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

"Throwback Night"

8 p.m. Mitten Hall, Owl Cove. Come listen to old-school '80s and early '90s music. Prizes for best-dressed "throwback" outfits. Sponsored by the Main Campus Program Board.

Ambler Campus: "TU Idol Live"

8 p.m. Ambler Campus, Bright Hall lounge. The winners of the video competition perform live in a karaoke competition for a cash prize. A panel of judges and the audience vote for their favorite act. Sponsored by the Temple Ambler Office of Student Life and the Ambler Campus Program Board. For more information, call the Office of Student Life at 215-283-1424/25.

Kariamou and Company: Traditions: "Taking Flight" dance concert

8 p.m. Conwell Dance Theater. $10 general admission; $8 students and senior citizens; $5 w/TUId and confirmation card. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

FRIDAY, Feb. 24

"Why Not Meet With Your Professor?"

This workshop is located on the Web at www.temple.edu/rcc/workshops. Your professor is one of the best resources to help you succeed in class. For more information, or for additional group and individual tutorial services, contact the Russell Conwell Center at 215-204-1251, or visit www.temple.edu/rcc.

Registration deadline: Orientation leader applications

Improve your leadership, communication and problem solving skills while welcoming Temple's diverse student population to the Temple community. Orientation leaders receive competitive stipends, free housing and a limited meal plan. Applications are available online at www.temple.edu/assistance. Bring your completed applications to Student Center, room 318. Sponsored by the Office of Orientation. For more information, contact Moira Ryder at moira.ryder@temple.edu.

Ambler Campus: Personal development training seminar

2-4 p.m. Ambler Campus, Dixon Hall, room 101. "The 'Invisible' Customer: Providing A+ Service to Faculty, Staff and Others." For more information or to register, contact Michelle Morales-Whiting at 215-283-1236 or michelle.morales-whiting@temple.edu.

Q&A session: Marc-Andre Hamelin, piano

2:40 p.m. Rock Hall auditorium. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

Film Friday: "The Spook Who Sat by the Door" (1973)

4:30 p.m. Annenberg Hall, room 3. Followed by a discussion led by Dan Kremer. Sponsored by the film and media arts department, School of Communications and Theater. For more information, contact Dan Kremer at daniel.kremer@temple.edu.

Texas Hold 'Em tournament

5:30 p.m. IBC Student Recreation Center. Recreation Services access required. Sponsored by Recreation Services. For more information or to register, call 215-204-1267, or visit www.temple.edu/recrevs.

Women's basketball vs. George Washington

6 p.m. Liacouras Center. $5-$35. Tickets are available at the Liacouras Center box office (cash sales only), online at www.liacourascenter.com or by telephone at 1-888-OWLS-TIX.

Kariamou and Company: Traditions: "Taking Flight" dance concert

8 p.m. Conwell Dance Theater. $10 general admission; $8 students and senior citizens; $5 w/TUId and confirmation card. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

Dupree takes step toward Naismith Trophy

Senior forward and All-America candidate Candice Dupree (above) has been selected to the 30-member Midseason Naismith Trophy list. The Naismith Trophy is the most prestigious national award presented annually to the men's and women's players of the year.

Come see Dupree and her fellow Owls — currently tied for 17th in the Associated Press poll — play George Washington this Friday at 7 p.m. in the Liacouras Center. Tickets, $5-$35, are available at the Liacouras Center box office (cash sales only), online at www.liacourascenter.com or by telephone at 1-888-OWLS-TIX.

For more information about the Naismith Trophy, visit www.naismithawards.com.

Free Food and Fun Fridays

10 p.m.-2 a.m. Student Center atrium. Madden tournament. Sponsored by Student Activities.

SATURDAY, Feb. 25

Student Activities ski trip

8 a.m.: Meet in Student Center atrium. 9 a.m.: Buses depart. $20 w/TUId; $25 without. Buy tickets in advance at Student Center, room 219M. Sponsored by the Main Campus Program Board and the Snowboarding Club.

Men's basketball vs. Duke (Wachovia Center)

2:30 p.m. Broadcast: ESPN.

Kariamou and Company: Traditions: "Taking Flight" dance concert

8 p.m. Conwell Dance Theater. $10 general admission; $8 students and senior citizens; $5 w/TUId and confirmation card. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

Saturday Night Live at the Underground

10 p.m.-2 a.m. Student Center, the Underground. Sponsored by Student Activities.

SUNDAY, Feb. 26

Temple University Wind Symphony

3 p.m. Tomlinson Theater. Arthur D. Chodoroff, conductor. Sponsored by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For more information, call 215-204-7600, or visit www.temple.edu/boyer.

25-Year Club dinner date set

This year's Faculty 25 Year Club Dinner will take place on Saturday evening, April 29, in the Great Court of Mitten Hall. Eligible members will receive formal invitations a little later this semester. In the meantime, questions may be directed to Bill Nathan at 215-204-7854.

MONDAY, Feb. 27

"Avoid Unintended Plagiarism"

This workshop is located on the Web at www.temple.edu/rcc/workshops. Learn to document resources properly when writing papers. For more information, or for additional group and individual tutorial services, contact the Russell Conwell Center at 215-204-1251, or visit www.temple.edu/rcc.

"Confused about Medicare Part D?"

11 a.m.-2 p.m. Student Center atrium. School of Pharmacy students answer questions and help guide faculty, staff and students through the Medicare Part D maze through an interactive poster with handouts. Sponsored by the School of Pharmacy/pharmacy practice. For more information, contact Lisa Becker at lisa.becker@temple.edu or 215-707-9379.

Continued on page 3

Tubman and the Underground Railroad

Millicent Sparks (left), a performing artist who portrays Harriet Tubman, and Mariline Wilkins, a great-grandniece of Tubman, took part in Temple's third annual Underground Railroad and Black History Conference on Feb. 11.

On Monday, Sparks returns for a theatrical performance sponsored by the Office of Student Activities and the African American Heritage Celebration Committee. Come hear her at 4 p.m. at the Underground in the new Student Center.

Photo by Nilgun Anadolu-Okur