

Temple University
Undergraduate Bulletin
2012 – 2013

Welcome from the President

It is my special pleasure to introduce the Temple University Undergraduate Bulletin, one of the most important tools available to you as you map out your path to complete your Temple University degree.

The Undergraduate Bulletin provides a wealth of information regarding your opportunities here at Temple, including

- overviews of degree programs and the requirements necessary to complete 141 undergraduate majors, as well as all undergraduate minors, concentrations and certificates;
- a searchable database with descriptions of more than 4,000 undergraduate courses offered at Temple;
- assistance in exploring opportunities to study abroad and engage in faculty-guided research;
- important information on academic policies and procedures that affect your academic planning and responsibilities; and
- a reference guide to the full array of support services available at Temple to ensure your success in fulfilling your degree requirements in a timely fashion and readying yourself for employment after you graduate.

I encourage you to consult regularly with your academic advising staff and faculty to get the most out of your academic experience here at Temple. Above all else, be prepared to work hard to earn your Temple degree. Your dedication will pay off throughout your life and career!

Sincerely,

Neil D. Theobald
President

About This Bulletin

The Undergraduate Bulletin is produced by the Office of the Provost to present general information about Temple University and specific information about undergraduate academic programs. Although every effort is made to provide complete and accurate information, the descriptions of programs and policies are announcements only and in no way serve as a contract.

If you are a new undergraduate student at Temple this year, this Bulletin contains the requirements of programs into which you will be enrolling. For that reason, your advisors may refer to Fall 2012 as "your Bulletin year." Current students who started at Temple before Fall 2012 should go to the "Archived Bulletins" link that appears on the Undergraduate Bulletin web site at www.temple.edu/bulletin to find the requirements of their program of study for their Bulletin year.

All new undergraduate students are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

New freshmen starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the GenEd curriculum. Students who have fewer than 15 transferable credits are considered freshmen. Additionally, students whose transfer credits were earned while in high school, regardless of the number of transfer credits, are considered freshmen.

New transfer students starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the GenEd curriculum. Students who attempted 15 or more transferable credits after high school and prior to being admitted to Temple University are considered transfer students.

In addition to this Bulletin, you will also find several other resources that provide important information for Temple University undergraduate students. These resources include, but are not limited to, the Course Descriptions, Campus Safety Services, Disability Resources and Services, Temple University Transfer Student Information, University Housing and Residential Life, and Veteran Affairs.

We hope this Undergraduate Bulletin will prove informative and useful to you as a Temple student. Questions or suggestions regarding the content of the Undergraduate Bulletin may be directed to the Office of the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies (phone: 215-204-2044).

The Undergraduate Bulletin was updated in April 2013.

Please note that all information contained in the Undergraduate Bulletin are announcements only and in no way serve as a contract between the student and Temple University. All prospective and current students are responsible for contacting individual departments regarding the latest information on regulations, policies, program requirements and course offerings.

About Temple University

Mission Statement

Temple University is a national center of excellence in teaching and research with an international presence. Our talented faculty and broad curriculum of over 300 academic programs provide superior educational opportunities for academically talented and highly motivated students, without regard to their status or station in life. Temple's richly diverse student population and the dramatic growth of our residential campus community of student scholars enrich the educational and extracurricular life of our people.

While the University especially serves students from Greater Philadelphia, it is enlivened by a rapidly increasing number of students from across Pennsylvania, throughout the nation, and around the world. We maintain an international presence with campuses in Tokyo and Rome and programs in London, Beijing, and six other locations worldwide.

A long-time leader in professional education, Temple prepares the largest body of practitioners in Pennsylvania; we are among the nation's largest educators in the combined fields of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, podiatry and law.

In addition, we offer more than four dozen doctoral and more than 100 master's degree programs that contribute to research and scholarship. Temple seeks to create new knowledge that improves the human condition and uplifts the human spirit. To achieve this goal, we maintain our commitment to recruiting, retaining, and supporting outstanding faculty that prize diversity of thought, excel in scholarly endeavors, and support the aspirations of capable students.

A View of Temple University

As a comprehensive, public research university, Temple University offers a commitment to teaching combined with a desire to learn from new experiences. The university is dedicated to new technologies and cutting-edge research built upon decades of practical experience in the field.

Located in the heart of metropolitan Philadelphia, Temple's Main Campus reflects the history and diversity of over 125 years of educating men and women. Since its humble beginnings in 1884, Temple University continues to affirm its commitment to learning, teaching and living with the help of dedicated faculty and staff, as well as the construction of various facilities, including state-of-the-art "smart" classrooms in Tuttleman Learning Center; the Liacouras Center (a thriving sports, entertainment and recreation complex); the TECH Center (one of the largest on-campus computer facilities of its kind in the United States); Alter Hall (the new home for the Fox School of Business and Management); the Tyler School of Art building; and the new Architecture Building. Renovations were recently completed for Pearson-McGonigle Hall (a state-of-the-art basketball practice facility that also includes additional recreational space, classrooms, offices and atrium) and Edberg-Olsen Hall (a football practice facility that includes an expanded weight training room, a new physical training and injury rehabilitation center and teaching, collaboration and study space for the student athletes). Mitchell and Hilarie Morgan

Hall, which will consist of a 27-story residential tower along with adjacent low- and mid-rise structures and a dining facility, is scheduled to open in 2013. Construction has started for a new seven-story Science Education and Research Center, scheduled to open in 2014.

As an internationally-recognized institution, Temple has earned its reputation. Temple's commitment to teaching and research has attracted top faculty members to each of its 141 bachelor's degree programs, as well as to its professional, master's, and doctoral programs. A recent university initiative has resulted in the hiring of many new faculty members from top institutions across the country. Temple professors are committed not only to research and teaching but to their students as well. A 15:1 student-to-faculty ratio ensures that students and professors develop a close rapport that enhances the learning experience.

Temple's campus extends further than its North Philadelphia roots. It offers campuses and programs of study in Center City Philadelphia, Ambler, Fort Washington and Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. The Temple University Health Sciences Center, located just two miles north of the Main Campus, is home to the Temple University School of Medicine, the Maurice H. Kornberg School of Dentistry, and the School of Pharmacy. It also includes the Temple University Hospital, a world-class medical facility. The Temple University School of Podiatric Medicine is located two miles southeast of the Main Campus. Temple's appreciation for diversity and international experiences is reflected in the various international programs offered at the university. Temple has campuses in Rome and Tokyo, as well as opportunities to study on almost every continent in countries such as Brazil, France, Germany, Ghana, Great Britain, India, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Senegal and Spain. Additionally, on campus, programs such as the Latin American Studies Semester provide an in-depth study of foreign cultures right at home.

Temple understands that the college experience is not limited to what happens in the classroom. To that extent, the university offers an array of recreational and cultural activities that reflect the diversity of its student body. There are dozens of student-run organizations in health, business, recreation, politics or religion that fit the student's background or desire to learn. There are also many social and professional Greek associations to join. Temple's traditional Spring Fling and Cherry and White Day invigorate the campus every year. The university offers art galleries on the Main Campus as well as in the Old City cultural district. Temple University's Boyer College of Music and Dance offers a wide variety of music and dance recitals and concerts throughout the year at on-campus and off-campus locations. The university has men's and women's teams that compete in a variety of intercollegiate sports, including basketball, crew, fencing, gymnastics, and track and field, most at the national-collegiate level. Temple University also offers a variety of intramural sports and sports clubs for its students. New on-campus student housing and the attractively-renovated Howard Gittis Student Center underscore Temple's commitment to enriching campus life. In fact, more students now live on campus than at any point in Temple's history, reflecting a broader change of the university from a commuter school to an expanding residential community.

Off campus, students can explore all that Philadelphia has to offer. The city is home to the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Philadelphia Zoo, and the Philadelphia Orchestra. Students can tour the historic neighborhoods of Philadelphia, and visit the Liberty Bell and Independence Mall, the birthplace of the country. The city also offers world-class theater from touring Broadway shows and local performances at the Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts. The Philadelphia Sports Complex in South Philadelphia showcases a variety of entertainment opportunities. Students can catch any of Philadelphia's professional sports teams and minor league teams in action, as well as concerts by any band or artist imaginable. Large or small, in the city or around the world, on the field or in the classroom, Temple University gives students every opportunity to grow as individuals, learn in a variety of unique settings, and explore the possibilities.

The University: Where We've Been and Where We're Going

Temple University was founded in 1884 by Dr. Russell H. Conwell as an outgrowth of his ministry at the Baptist Temple. Dr. Conwell wanted to make higher education available to all capable and motivated students regardless of their backgrounds and finances. His college began as informal classes for seven people and was first housed in the meeting rooms of his church.

Over 125 years later, having emerged as a major educational enterprise, Temple University continues the Conwell mission. Today, Temple enrolls about 38,648 students, is the 25th largest university in the United States and is one of the nation's leading centers of professional education (law, dentistry, medicine, pharmacy, and podiatric medicine).

Temple is a world-class center of teaching, research, and health care. The university is identified in the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education as one of only 98 public institutions nationally (and one of four in Pennsylvania) that are designated as a "Research University - High Research Activity." Temple serves as a vital research center for the United States government and is one of the three national survey research facilities.

From its roots in the historical and cultural richness of Philadelphia, Temple has become a major international university. With seven regional campuses as well as foreign campuses in Tokyo, Japan, and Rome, Italy, Temple attracts students from across the nation and around the world. In addition to its campuses in Tokyo and Rome, Temple has connections to campuses on virtually every continent, and its professors are known both nationally and internationally.

Through its 17 schools and colleges, Temple University offers academic programs on both undergraduate and graduate levels. There are 2 associate degree programs, 139 bachelor's programs, 124 master's programs, 51 doctoral programs, and 7 first professional programs. In addition, there are 15 undergraduate level and 42 graduate level certificate programs. In the 2011-12 academic year, Temple University awarded 8,813 degrees as follows: 8 Associate's degrees, 6,057 Bachelor's degrees, 1,561 Master's degrees, 235 Doctoral degrees and 952 first professional (J.D., M.D., D.M.D., D.P.M., Pharm.D.) degrees.

The university is proud of its distinguished faculty, many of whom possess national and international reputations. These award-winning scholars and teachers offer students at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels the education and training they need to succeed. At the undergraduate level, the average class size is 27, and most of these classes are taught by senior faculty. One of the nation's major centers of teaching, research, and service, Temple is one of three public research universities in Pennsylvania and the second largest in the state. It is a leader in medicine and biomedical research, and the Temple University Health System, Inc., provides the most advanced care for thousands of residents throughout the region.

Temple has also been a leader in bold curricular initiatives. It was one of the first public research institutions to establish a rigorous, university-wide Core curriculum in its undergraduate schools and colleges. In 2007, Temple launched the General Education program for incoming freshmen, and this program has expanded to include transfer students. Temple also has received national recognition for its Learning Communities, in which incoming freshmen form small groups according to their majors and interests. In addition, the university's Honors program is a model for other colleges and universities as it engages students in intellectually-stimulating and challenging coursework throughout their undergraduate career.

Temple University is a member of the Commonwealth System of Higher Education in Pennsylvania and is supported by student tuition; annual appropriations from the Commonwealth; federal grants; gifts from alumni, corporations, and friends; and income from endowments. The university is governed by a 36-member Board of Trustees.

Temple University is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Higher Education. Most of Temple's schools and colleges have received additional accreditation from other agencies, noted in each school and college's section of this Bulletin.

For more information on Temple University, visit the university's home page at www.temple.edu, view the Temple University Factbook at www.temple.edu/ir/factbook/ir-factbook.html, and see more about Temple at www.temple.edu/about.

The Undergraduate University Policies specified in this Bulletin cover all students taking courses at all Temple University campuses worldwide. Maps and descriptions of Temple University's Pennsylvania campuses are provided in the Campuses section of this Bulletin.

Temple University Ambler, a respected innovator in research and education in social, economic, and environmental studies, delivers high-quality undergraduate, graduate, and non-credit courses and programs to meet the needs of the region and provide a rewarding life experience for students of all ages. Ambler Campus faculty members and administrators promote responsible citizenry through curricular and extracurricular activities and applied research that demonstrate and promote concepts central to the creation of strong, sustainable communities: student-centered learning, community engagement, and respect for the environment.

The Ambler Campus, with an undergraduate student population of 2,500, is an ideal campus to pursue higher education, with a convenient location, courses in a variety of disciplines, and a friendly atmosphere. Located in suburban Montgomery County, just 18 miles north of the Main Campus (and minutes from Route 309 and the Pennsylvania Turnpike), Ambler offers the benefits of a small college campus with the excitement and vast resources of a large university. Ambler attracts students who live or work in the greater Philadelphia area, including those from Philadelphia, Bucks, Lehigh, Montgomery, and Northampton counties. The Blue Route (Route 476) also makes Temple University Ambler easily accessible to students from Chester and Delaware counties.

Students enjoy Ambler's stunning grounds, student organizations and activities, and recreational facilities that include an exercise/weight room, outdoor pool, and tennis, basketball and volleyball courts. The campus is also home to Temple University's baseball, softball, and men's and women's soccer NCAA Division I teams.

Ambler's facilities include science laboratories, a library, top-quality computer labs, smart classrooms, Computer-Assisted Design (CAD) and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) labs/classrooms, and dining venues.

In Fall 2006 the Ambler Learning Center opened; the center is a state-of-the-art facility incorporating smart classrooms, wireless technology, new computer labs/classrooms, a technology breakout room, study lounges, video-conferencing room, and a 300-seat auditorium. There is also a writing-mathematics-science resource center as well as a drawing/drafting studio.

The Ambler Campus offers hundreds of undergraduate courses during the day, evening, and weekends, taught by the university's distinguished faculty. Students may begin almost every undergraduate program at Ambler. Depending on the major, students may take all their courses at Ambler. Popular majors that can be completed at Ambler include: Adult and Organizational Development, Business, Community and Regional Planning, Criminal Justice, Early Childhood Education (PreK to 4), History, Horticulture, Landscape Architecture, and Psychology. Also, degree- and non-degree-seeking students may enroll in credit certificate programs.

Undergraduate courses include offerings from Temple's General Education curriculum (GenEd) and basic courses in Biology, Chemistry, and Earth and Environmental Science. These enable pre-Health Information Management students to complete the required first two years of prerequisite coursework. Pre-Medical, Pre-Dental, Pre-Pharmacy, Pre-Podiatry, Pre-Physical Therapy, or Pre-Occupational Therapy students may take courses at Ambler required for admission to a professional school. Pre-Law students may remain at Ambler for four years, pursuing degrees in Business, Community and Regional Planning, or the Social Sciences. (See the Degree Program Chart for a listing of the programs that can be completed entirely at the Ambler Campus.)

The campus is home to Temple's School of Environmental Design, which houses the Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture (A.S. and B.S. in Horticulture programs; B.S. and M.L.Arch. in Landscape Architecture programs; plus undergraduate minors and certificates), the Department of Community and Regional Planning (B.S. and M.S. programs; undergraduate minor and certificates; plus graduate certificates), and the Center for Sustainable Communities at Temple University Ambler. (See the School of Environmental Design section of this Bulletin for more details.)

The beautiful landscaped grounds, also known as the Ambler Arboretum of Temple University, feature formal gardens, a sustainable wetland garden, a green roof garden, an herb garden, a winter garden, wooded areas, a native plant propagation center, and much more.

For a change of pace and scenery, Ambler students can also take courses at Main Campus, Temple University Center City, or the Health Sciences Center. (See Bus Service below.)

After graduating, many Temple students continue their graduate work at the Ambler Campus or at Temple University Fort Washington Graduate and Professional Center. See the Off-Site Class Locations/Fort Washington section below.

The Temple University Ambler Campus has a long history and rich tradition of horticulture and landscape design. Established as the Pennsylvania School of Horticulture for Women in 1911, the 187-acre campus represents a unique mix of natural and designed landscapes. The gardens and campus serve as excellent outdoor teaching laboratories for numerous classes and as a source of inspiration for students, faculty, and visitors.

The Ambler Campus was officially designated an arboretum in March 2000. This accessible, historic, public garden, now known as the Ambler Arboretum of Temple University, continues to develop as a living laboratory. As the home of Temple University's Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture, the Ambler Campus has a myriad of learning gardens, including a ground cover garden, native plant garden, formal gardens, green roof garden, rock wall, woodland garden, sustainable wetland garden, trial garden, the Viola Anders Herb Garden, the Philip A. and Barbara F. Albright Winter Garden, the Ernesta Ballard Healing Garden with labyrinth, the Colibraro Conifer Garden, and large perennial borders. The arboretum's three areas of focus are sustainability, the health benefits of gardens, and the history of women in horticulture, agriculture, and design.

Athletic Facilities

www.temple.edu/ambler/campus_life/athletics.htm

Temple University Ambler is the full-time home for Temple's baseball, softball, and men's and women's soccer teams. The NCAA Division I teams practice and play all home games on fields located on the tract bound by Meetinghouse Road, Butler Pike, and Woods Drive. All games and practices take place during the day. Admission is free to all home games. The Intercollegiate Athletics Field House, located near the fields, has "green roof" structures, developed by Temple University with the help of a $50,000 grant from PECO Energy. A green roof is a living biological community of plants that provides an environmentally-sound alternative to a traditional roof system. The green roof garden allows for educational and research opportunities for students and faculty.

The Office of Undergraduate Admissions processes all undergraduate applications for admission to all campuses of Temple University. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis, and candidates are usually notified of decisions four to six weeks after receipt of a completed application.

The web site to apply online is www.temple.edu/undergrad/applying.html.

Students must submit all application materials to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions by the stated deadlines on the undergraduate application web site. Applications received after these dates will be considered on a space-available basis. The admissions application fee is $60.00. The renewal paper application fee is $30.00.

Special Requirements for Admission

The following programs have additional requirements for admission: the College of Health Professions and Social Work (Nursing, freshmen and transfers, and Health Information Management transfers only), Dance, Music, and the Tyler School of Art. Refer to the individual program description for the details on these special requirements. Adult applicants, those who are 22 years and older and have not attempted 15 or more college-level credits at an accredited institution, are not required to submit standardized test scores.

Tuition & Residence Hall Deposits

All students admitted to the university must pay a non-refundable tuition deposit of $200 in order to reserve a place in the incoming class. In addition, students who wish to live in the residence halls must pay a housing deposit of $250.

Applying for Re-enrollment

For further information, see Academic Policy 02.10.16 at http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=02.10.16.

Also see the Leave of Absence, Academic Forgiveness, and Academic Standing policies in the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin and the Academic Policies and Regulations section of each school or college. An application for re-enrollment is submitted to the school or college of the intended major.

Freshmen

Diploma & Required High School Credits

The university requires that students hold a diploma from an accredited high school with the following recommended distribution of courses:

Subject field	Units
English	4
Mathematics, college preparatory	4
Foreign language (same language/culture)	2
History/Social Studies	3
Science (2 years lab)	3
The Arts	1
Other college preparatory courses	3
Total	20

Students are required to have earned a minimum of 16 units in academic subjects from the above chart. Students 18 years of age and older may submit a high school equivalency diploma earned through the General Education Development Test and the high school transcript for all grades completed.

College Entrance Examinations

Temple requires one of the following tests for college entrance:

- Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) of the College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, NJ 08540
- American College Test (ACT) of the American College Testing Program, Box 168, Iowa City, IA 52250

Temple suggests that students take either test in the spring of their junior year, as well as in the fall of their senior year. Results should be forwarded directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. SAT or ACT scores are recommended but not required of applicants 22 years of age or older.

Entering with Academic Credit: Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate, & Dual Enrollment

Temple awards college credits to students who in high school participated in the Advanced Placement program (AP), the International Baccalaureate program (IB) or a Dual Enrollment program. Students should have taken the AP or IB exams in high school and should have their scores sent directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. All students must request that their official test scores be sent to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, even if they have requested them for a previously-attended college.

Limitations on credit earned through Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate and other forms of Credit for Prior Learning are as follows: (1) the credit must be useful in a student's program of study; (2) duplicate credit in the same course is not awarded in any case; (3) credit is only awarded in academic subjects with a corresponding Temple department.

Credit for Prior Learning will not be awarded for a course in which a student is currently enrolled and/or has previously received a letter grade for the course (including, but not limited to, an F, W, AU, or I).

See the AP and IB sections under Credit for Prior Learning in the Academic Policies and Regulations section of the Bulletin for further information regarding course equivalencies and corresponding scores needed for credit.

Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate equivalencies will be reviewed periodically and are subject to change. Students will receive the equivalency that is in effect at Temple at the time of their matriculation. If credit is awarded, a student's university record will carry notation of credit, but no grade will be recorded. Credit awarded will not affect a student's grade point average at Temple University.

College credits may be earned through Dual Enrollment courses completed while in high school. Students should have an official transcript sent from the credit granting institution directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Dual Enrollment credits are accepted and evaluated according to the guidelines established for Transfer Credits. For further information see Admissions: Transfer Credit.

Placement Testing

Most newly-admitted students are required to take placement tests upon admission to Temple. These tests are designed to help assess mastery of certain basic skills, to point out particular strengths and weaknesses, and to assist in designing a program of study for the student. Placement tests are offered in English, Mathematics, and Foreign Languages.

- All students are required to take the English Placement Test unless they transfer a course that has been evaluated as a direct equivalent of Temple's English 0802 or 0812*.
- All students within School of Environmental Design (formerly Ambler College), Boyer College of Music and Dance, College of Health Professions and Social Work, College of Liberal Arts, School of Communications and Theater, School of Tourism and Hospitality Management, or Tyler School of Art are required to take the Mathematics Placement Test unless they transfer a credit-bearing, college-level Math course; however, students considering, or required to complete, Math 1021 or higher or a Science course with a prerequisite of Math 1021 or higher are required to take the Mathematics Placement Test, regardless of transfer credits.
- All students within the Division of University Studies (DUS) or any student within a major in the Colleges of Science and Technology, Engineering, Education or Fox School of Business and Management are required to take the Mathematics Placement Test, regardless of transfer credits.

- All students who previously studied a foreign language are required to take the Foreign Language Placement Test if they a) are in a B.A. program in the College of Liberal Arts, College of Science and Technology, or Tyler School of Art; are a Communication Sciences major within the College of Health Professions and Social Work; or are an International Business Administration major within the Fox School of Business and Management; OR, b) are interested in taking a foreign language at Temple.

*Transfer students who completed an English placement test at their previous institution and tested out of their previous institution's English Composition or comparable requirement can be waived from the English 0802 requirement if they have documentation of their placement and have successfully completed a higher-level English/Writing course. Acceptable documentation includes an official letter from the university's registrar, advising unit, a faculty member, or other appropriate university official. In these instances, students will need to meet with an advisor for official approval. Once approval is granted, advisors will complete a DARS exception.

Incoming students take Online Placement Tests. New students receive an e-mail with the link to the Online Placement Testing web site where they can read descriptions of the tests and information as to the specific tests the student must take. The New Student Orientation (www.temple.edu/orientation) and Measurement and Research Center (MARC) (www.temple.edu/marc) web sites also contain descriptions of the tests, helpful hints for the test day, and sample items.

New Student Questionnaire (NSQ). The NSQ is a personal data collection survey that must be completed by all students. Temple uses the results of this questionnaire to develop programs and procedures to serve the needs and interests of its students. All information is kept confidential.

English Placement Examination (60 minutes). All students are required to take the English Placement Examination unless they transfer a direct equivalent of Temple's English 0802 or 0812. For the English Placement Examination, students write an essay and their essay score is combined with the students's SAT verbal score and high school percentile to determine the appropriate English course placement.

Mathematics Placement Examination (75 minutes). All freshmen and transfer students who are not transferring a credit-bearing QA, QB, or GQ designated Math course are required to take the multiple choice Mathematics Placement Examination. Additionally, the following students (regardless of transfer credits) are required to take the Mathematics Placement Examination:

- all students within the Division of University Studies (DUS);
- all students in a major within the Colleges of Science and Technology, Engineering, Education, or the Fox School of Business and Management;
- all students considering or required to take Math 1021 or higher;
- all students considering or required to take a Science course with a Math 1021 or higher prerequisite.

Students can consult with their advisor concerning conditions under which they may retest.

Foreign Language Placement Examination (60 minutes). Freshmen and transfer students who previously studied a foreign language and are not transferring a credit-bearing, college-level foreign language course are required to take the Foreign Language Placement Test if they:

- are in a B.A. program in the College of Liberal Arts, College of Science and Technology, or Tyler School of Art;
- are a Communication Sciences major within the College of Health Professions and Social Work;
- are an International Business Administration major within the Fox School of Business and Management;

OR

- are interested in taking a foreign language course at Temple.

Online Placement Tests are offered in French, German, Italian, and Spanish; a paper-and-pencil Modern Greek Test is also available. Each is a multiple choice test and consists of approximately 90 items. If a student has previously studied another foreign language (other than French, German, Modern Greek, Italian, or Spanish) and wishes to be tested in that language, it may be possible to arrange testing. The Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies web site (www.temple.edu/vpus/forms/index.htm) has a Foreign Language Waiver Form and Procedures for Applying for a Foreign Language Waiver (Group 2 or Group 3 Languages).

For more information about placement testing, sample questions, and news about changes in placement tests, visit the placement testing page on the Measurement and Research Center web site (www.temple.edu/marc/placements.html).

Orientation for New Students

Following admission to the university and payment of the tuition deposit, students will receive information regarding their orientation requirements. See the Office of Orientation web site at www.temple.edu/orientation/ for further information.

Immunizations

See Student Health and Wellness under Student Services for required immunizations.

Transfer Students

Transfer Admissions

Applicants who wish to be considered for transfer admission must have maintained at least a 2.50 grade point average in 15 or more transferable credits completed after high school at an accredited two- or four-year institution of higher education, although this is no guarantee of admission. The average GPA for entering transfer students is a 3.00+ GPA. Temple requires the same high school units of transfer students as of freshmen.

Applicants must submit official transcripts from high schools and each college previously attended. The university defines "official transcript" as that which is sent directly from a high school or college to Temple's Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Ordinarily, SAT or ACT scores are not required unless specifically requested by the Admissions Office.

An evaluation showing accepted transfer credits and a list of Temple course equivalencies are sent to students who are admitted. Evaluations are based on the majors students indicate on their applications. The Temple school/college in which they enroll will make the final determination of which transfer credits are applicable to the degree.

Transfer Credit

Generally, Temple accepts academic, college-level courses beyond the developmental level completed with a grade C- or better, from schools with regional accreditation (Middle States, Northwest, North Central, Southern, Western, and the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges). Temple does not award credit for courses from institutions accredited by the Commission on Technical and Career Institutions of the New England Association or from any university, college, school, institute, or program accredited only by a national, professional, or specialized accrediting body.

Credit is only awarded in academic subjects with a corresponding Temple department. Duplicate credit in the same course is not awarded in any case. Whenever possible, credit is allowed for courses completed more than 10 years before the date of admission. Courses evaluated for transfer from colleges and universities with different credit systems (e.g. quarter hours, units, etc.) are converted to semester hours (i.e., 2 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 1.5 semester hour credits; 3 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 2.0 semester hour credits; 4 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 2.5 semester hour credits).

Evaluation of transfer credits is based on a student's major. The student's school/college at Temple makes the final determination of which transfer credits are applicable to the student's degree program. Transfer evaluations may change for students who change majors or if additional transcripts or score reports are received. There is an expectation that final transcripts from previously attended institutions be received prior to the start of the student's second semester.

Initial evaluation of transfer credits is made in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Re-evaluation of credits will be done first by Undergraduate Admissions and when appropriate by academic advisors, in consultation with the Office of the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies, according to standard Temple policies and procedures. For more information about the evaluation of transfer credits and appeals for re-evaluation of credits go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/index.htm#EVALUATION.

To earn a degree from Temple, students must complete at least 30 hours of the last 45 semester hours as a matriculated student at Temple, fulfill all university requirements, and fulfill all of the degree requirements of the Temple school or college in which they are enrolled, as approved by the dean of that school/college. See Academic Residency in the Academic Policies and Regulations section of the Bulletin.

To graduate from Temple with Honors, students must complete at least 60 hours toward their degrees in residence as matriculated students at Temple University. See Honors for Academic Achievement in the Academic Policies and Regulations section of the Bulletin.

Credit for Prior Learning, including Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate, College Level Examination Program (CLEP) credits, and courses taken as a non-matriculated student at Temple, are posted on a student's record as transfer credit, but do not always count as transfer credits for determining a student's eligibility for the 45+ Transfer GenEd. See 45+ Transfer GenEd in the Academic Programs section of the Bulletin.

The number of credits that students can transfer from another institution (two- and four-year) depends on their declared Temple major.

Credit for Prior Learning

Temple University awards limited academic credit and course placement to students based on previous academic, employment, military and/or other learning experiences not earned in a traditional classroom setting. Credit for Prior Learning and non-traditional credits are not applied to the minimum number of credits (60) required to earn Latin Honors at graduation. Credit for Prior Learning and non-traditional credits are not counted toward Academic Residency. See Credit for Prior Learning in the Academic Policies and Regulations section of the Bulletin for further information.

Dual Admissions

To better encourage and facilitate transfer admission from other colleges to Temple University, Temple and these colleges have established articulation agreements.

Dual Admissions agreements conditionally admit students to Temple at the same time they are admitted to a community college, and provide merit scholarships towards Temple tuition for eligible students. Students at ten Pennsylvania-area community colleges (Bucks County Community College, Delaware County Community College, Lehigh Carbon Community College, Luzerne County Community College, Montgomery County Community College, Community College of Philadelphia, Northampton Community College, Reading Area Community College, Harrisburg Area Community College, and Valley Forge Military College) may enroll in the Dual Admissions program before completing 30 credits, including any colleges previously attended. Students are then admitted to Temple upon attaining their associate's degrees at the community college. Go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements.htm for any updates to the list of dual admission agreements.

Additionally, Temple maintains a Guaranteed Admissions agreement with Burlington County College in New Jersey with similar guidelines and provisions as our Dual Admissions agreements.

GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd, and Core-to-Core Transfer Agreements

GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd and Core-to-Core Transfer agreements accept -- upon Temple evaluation and approval -- the general education requirements of approved associate degrees in lieu of most of Temple's Core or GenEd requirements. Go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements.htm for the list of these agreements.

Program Articulation Agreements

These agreements between Temple schools and/or academic departments and other two-year institutions provide accurate curricular information for prospective transfer students and their academic advisors by lining up associate degree requirements and baccalaureate degree requirements. They indicate which courses students should take during their associate program in order to be prepared for the Temple baccalaureate program into which they wish to transfer. Go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements.htm for lists of agreements currently in effect.

Transfer Students and the University General Education Curriculum

Every Temple undergraduate fulfills the requirements of the General Education Curriculum in some way.

Students entering Temple with fewer than 45 transfer credits complete the full General Education Curriculum (see General Education Curriculum under the Academic Programs section of the Bulletin).

Students with 45 or more transferable credits satisfy the 45+ GenEd Curriculum. (See GenEd Transfer Programs under General Education Curriculum in the Academic Programs section of the Bulletin.)

Students who have earned the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma and meet minimum eligibility requirements complete the International Baccalaureate General Education Program (IB GenEd Program). Students accepted into the program will still complete the required number of credits needed for their selected baccalaureate degree – usually between 120-124 credits and will need to complete up to 18-19 credits of the full GenEd Program (35-36 credits). For more information go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/TransferGenEd.htm.

Students with an associate degree approved for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd, or Core-to-Core Transfer meet most GenEd requirements with the general education courses taken for the associate degree. Associate degrees are approved for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd, and Core-to-Core Transfer by two university-wide faculty committees. See GenEd Transfer Programs for information on the policy and a list of approved community college associate degrees.

International Students

An individual is considered an international student if he/she meets either of the conditions described below:

- applicants who hold or will hold a student visa, exchange visa, or any other type of non-immigrant visa
- applicants who are permanent residents, naturalized citizens, or have refugee status in the United States and have not studied in the United States at the secondary or college level

International students who require a visa must complete the International Student Application available online or from the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. International students are also required to complete a Financial Support Statement as part of the international student application.

Effective April 2002, U.S. federal regulations prohibit individuals in Visitor for Business/Pleasure (B-1/B-2) status from pursuing full-time academic studies at a university or college in the United States and from applying for a change of status from B-1/B-2 to Nonimmigrant Student (F-1) status while they remain in the United States. These individuals must seek Nonimmigrant Student (F-1 or J-1) status through a U.S. consulate outside of the United States.

Temple Health Scholars Program

healthadvising@temple.edu

www.temple.edu/healthadvising/scholars.htm

The Temple Health Scholars are eligible for accelerated programs that allow them to complete their undergraduate degree with the coursework required in the first year of their professional school program.

The Schools of Dentistry, Medicine, Pharmacy, and Podiatry offer a seven-year option, and the Department of Physical Therapy offers a six-year option. Scholars interested in pursuing an accelerated option must make their interest known to the Director of Pre-Professional Health Studies at the time of their admission to the Health Scholars Program. Dental, Medical, Pharmacy and Podiatry Scholars who choose the seven-year option and Physical Therapy Scholars who choose the six-year option will be awarded a bachelor's degree upon successful completion of their first year of professional school coursework. Dental, Medical, Pharmacy and Podiatry Scholars who choose the seven-year option are limited to undergraduate majors in the sciences. Physical Therapy Scholars who choose the six-year option can choose a science major in the College of Science and Technology or a Kinesiology major in the College of Health Professions.

Scholars interested in pursuing other majors or a traditional four-year program will complete their undergraduate degree before beginning study in professional school. Scholars pursuing accelerated paths are required to participate in the certificate and practicum program while they are enrolled as undergraduates.

High school students interested in the Temple Health Scholar's accelerated program should apply in the fall of their senior year. Both an application for undergraduate admission and an application for the Temple Health Scholars Program are necessary. The Temple Law Scholars program provides an opportunity for outstanding students in the College of Liberal Arts and the Legal Studies program in the Fox School of Business and Management to gain provisional admission to Temple University School of Law at the same time they are accepted into an undergraduate program. As Temple Law Scholars, students are expected to complete the University Honors Certificate Program in conjunction with their undergraduate degree, after which they enroll in the Temple University School of Law, leading to the degree of Juris Doctor. While most Law Scholars complete their undergraduate degree before entering Beasley School of Law, Law Scholars can choose the Accelerated Option and enter Beasley School of Law after their third year of undergraduate study. This 3+3 option is currently available only to students in the College of Liberal Arts and to Legal Studies majors in the Fox School of Business. A Law Scholar who chooses the Accelerated Option applies the first year of law school coursework toward undergraduate degree requirements and receives a Bachelor's Degree in his or her chosen major(s) after the first year of Law School. Law Scholars interested in pursuing the 3+3 option must indicate their interest in doing so during the first semester of their first year of undergraduate study. For more information or an application, please visit the web site listed above.

University Honors Program

The Honors Program is designed primarily to enhance the student's experience in the university's General Education courses. Qualified students who apply to any of the schools or colleges at Temple will be offered admission to the University Honors Certificate program. Typical admitted Honors first-year students will achieve a combined SAT score around 1300 and a high school GPA of around 3.80. For first-year students, no special application is required since all admitted students are screened for Honors. Current Temple students or transfer students may apply for late admission on the Honors web site.

For more information on the Honors Program, please visit the web site: www.temple.edu/honors.

Also see University Honors Program under Academic Opportunities.

Continuing Studies

See Special Programs.

Special Programs General Information

The programs listed in this section are available for all students intending to study at Temple University without having to be enrolled in a degree program.

The academic policies and regulations generally apply to all students and provide a framework within which schools and colleges may specify further conditions or variations appropriate to students in their courses or programs. Statements of academic policies and regulations apply to both degree and non-degree undergraduates unless explicitly noted otherwise. In addition to the description below, please refer to the Responsibilities and Rights and Academic Policies and Regulations for further information on particular policies that relate to students in these programs.

Temple University provides a broad administrative framework to present and support a wide range of university offerings not falling within the province of typical undergraduate and graduate degree work on Temple campuses. Registration for credit-bearing courses is administered through the Office of Continuing Studies on the various campuses. Registration for non-credit courses is handled through Temple University Fort Washington (TUFW). Students taking non-credit courses at Temple University Ambler, TUFW and Temple University Center City (TUCC) may register and pay online for non-credit courses through the Temple University Fort Washington web site. The online system links non-credit course payments into the TUPay system, already in use for credit course payment. The non-credit course registration and payment system may be accessed by going to www.tufw.temple.edu.

Course offerings under special programs respond to the differing needs of adults seeking additional education. Some offerings are of common interest to all, such as writing and general computer skills. Other courses, tailored for those adults who wish to change their work situation, focus on new skill and knowledge development. Coursework is also designed for adults who wish to maintain their current work position in a profession that requires re-certification to maintain appropriate licenses. Course offerings are also geared to those adults seeking personal enrichment as their primary goal.

The form of programming includes credit certificates, non-credit professional certificates, and non-credit personal enrichment courses. The courses are offered at the following Temple sites: Temple University Ambler, Temple University Fort Washington, Temple University Center City, Temple University Harrisburg, and a variety of public and private off-campus sites through the auspices of Extension Services.

Information about the services offered at each campus is presented below.

Main Campus: The Main Campus Office of Continuing Studies is the university's central office for serving non-degree students. Non-degree students are those who have not been formally admitted to a degree program. See [Undergraduate Non-degree Students below.] The office serves a variety of students, including adults returning to school for undergraduate or graduate courses, professionals updating their skills, qualified students seeking undergraduate admission, students taking courses for personal enrichment, and visiting students. There is no formal application to enroll as a Continuing Studies student; however, first-time enrollers are required to provide documentation of education completed (high school transcript, GED certificate, college transcripts [minimum 2.00 GPA required], or college diploma). Prior to their enrollment, degree-seeking students may be required to take one or more university placement tests.

Services include:

- individual academic advising
- informal evaluation of academic transcripts
- registration and schedule revisions
- referrals to other university services and programs

First-year, non-degree students may register for a maximum of 11 credits per semester. Second-year, non-degree student registrations are based upon academic progress. However, non-degree seeking students are prohibited from registering via Self Service Banner (SSB) and must register through their Continuing Studies office. All non-degree students must maintain satisfactory academic progress in order to continue taking courses through Continuing Studies. Continuing Studies students must apply for admission by the completion of 30 s.h. Preadmission counseling, academic advising, registration, and other support services are provided for non-degree students.

For more information on non-degree students, see the Academic Policies and Regulations section of this Bulletin.

Ambler/Fort Washington: Temple University's Ambler and Fort Washington campuses offer extensive undergraduate, graduate, and non-credit courses and programs that are available during days, evenings, and weekends. The listing of all offerings is available at www.ambler.temple.edu. Students interested in credit courses or programs should contact the Office of Academic and Career Advising at Ambler Campus by phone (267-468-8200), or go to the web site at www.ambler.temple.edu/advising. That office coordinates the services for students, as described under Main Campus above. For more information on non-credit offerings and registration, see the Non-Credit Programs/Temple University Fort Washington section below or go to www.tufw.temple.edu.

Center City: In addition to undergraduate and graduate-level programs and courses, Temple University Center City (TUCC) offers a rich selection of non-credit programs and classes. These include courses for your personal enrichment from Music Prep, courses leading to state licensure in the real estate field from the Real Estate Institute, lively classes on every conceivable subject for retirees provided by members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Temple University (OLLI), and career development seminars and professional certificate programs which are administered through Temple University Fort Washington campus. Credit-Bearing Certificate Programs

At Temple University, a certificate is a credit-bearing program of courses leading to a credential that recognizes the student's work in a specialized area of knowledge. An undergraduate certificate may be part of a degree program, or it may stand alone. It is distinct from an academic major or minor and should not be confused with the process of professional certification for teaching and other fields. Certificate programs often focus on the acquisition of specific skills recognized in the job market. They are open to undergraduates in all Temple schools and colleges and majors and are particularly useful to students seeking to document their exposure to fields and disciplines outside of their academic major and minor. Some majors recommend particular certificate programs to their students. Non-degree students should contact the department offering a certificate, as some certificates are restricted to degree students. The University Honors Program and the Fox School of Business & Management offer Honors certificates. You will find a partial listing of certificate programs below. For more detailed information, contact the school, college, or campus where the program is offered.

Programs with Academic Credit

Temple University offers a variety of special programs with academic credit. For more details, contact the school, college, or campus where the program is offered.

Visiting Students: Temple University welcomes students from other colleges and universities who wish to enroll in courses on any of our campuses. All students must provide a transcript of their previous academic work and must have earned at least a 2.00 cumulative GPA. Students must bring or fax a permission form from their home institution, listing the specific Temple courses that have been approved for transfer. If the courses have prerequisites, students must provide proof of having taken and passed them. Some courses may also require special authorization from instructors or departments at Temple (e.g. business courses numbered 2000 and above).

Students may use the Visiting Student Registration Form available on the Temple University Summer web site at www.temple.edu/summer. This form must be faxed or sent via postal mail to the Temple University campus you are planning to attend. The full listing of the campus contact information and registration information for all campuses is available by visiting the Summer Programs Registration page at www.temple.edu/summer/visitingstudents.html.

Credit Transfer to Your Home Institution: In order to facilitate the transfer of credits, students should request that an academic transcript be sent from Temple to their home institution. The transcript request form is available by visiting Temple's Office of the University Registrar web site. It will not be sent out automatically. For further information, please contact the Office of the University Registrar at 215-204-1131 or visit in person on the second floor, Conwell Hall, Broad Street and Montgomery Avenue, on the Main Campus. You may also visit the registration office at your campus of choice or go to their web site at www.temple.edu/registrar for more information.

Undergraduate Non-Degree Students: Students who are not currently enrolled at another institution may be permitted to register for some courses as non-degree students. To enroll in undergraduate courses they must have earned a high school diploma or a G.E.D. certificate. Students who have attended another college or university must provide a transcript of their previous academic work and must have earned at least a 2.00 cumulative GPA. With some exceptions, these students are required to take the university placement test before they can register. However, meeting these minimum requirements does not guarantee enrollment as a non-degree student. For more information, and to speak with an academic advisor, please contact the Main Campus Office of Continuing Studies or the office of the campus you wish to attend.

High School Students: High school students who will be entering their senior year may be eligible to register for college-level courses. Before they can register, they must secure and provide written authorization from their guidance counselor or high school principal, specifying the course(s) the student is authorized to take.

Summer Sessions: Temple University welcomes students from other colleges and universities, international students, as well as our own students, to enroll in a summer course at any one of our several campuses. We offer credit, non-credit, day and evening courses at our campuses. We also have several Study Abroad Programs in France, Germany, Italy, and Great Britain.

Institute on Aging: Gerontology is the study of aging and the issues that surround the aging process. The Institute on Aging offers a Certificate in Gerontology program in cooperation with schools and colleges throughout the university. Therefore, the certificate program is designed to provide the student with an interdisciplinary education along with practical experience in the field of aging.

Certificates in Gerontology are offered at the undergraduate and graduate level. The 18-credit-hour program may be completed in conjunction with a degree program or as a separate emphasis program for persons not currently enrolled in a degree program. All students must register and complete 15 credit hours and a field placement or action research project. Students are expected to finish the program within a five-year time span. No more than two gerontology electives may be taken prior to admission into the program.

General Information

Students planning to register for classes should visit the Office of the University Registrar's web site, www.temple.edu/registrar, and click on the "Registration Information" link for information about, and links to, advising, registration, courses offered, Learning Community, Distance Learning, General Education and more.

Detailed information regarding courses offered (day, time, location, instructor) is on the Class Schedule web site.

Advising is required for students registering at Temple for the first time and is strongly recommended for all students before registering through Self-Service Banner (SSB) at <http://tuportal.temple.edu>. Students should contact their school, college, or department advisors for appointments or information. Generally, advisors and students review options and requirements, select courses, and complete and sign a registration form when necessary. For further information on academic advising, please see Advising under the Student Support and Services section of the Bulletin.

Registration Policies

Registration for courses is not optional, and students must not attend courses for which they are not registered. Once a student registers for a course--or is registered by an advisor at the student's request--the student remains financially obligated for the course unless and until he or she drops the course by the prescribed deadlines for dropping and adding courses. Effective Summer 1 2013, prior to registering for the first time each semester, students are required to accept Temple University's Financial Responsibility Agreement, which outlines the financial terms and conditions associated with course registration.

Students may drop courses and otherwise modify their registrations in Self-Service Banner (SSB) or by working with an academic advisor. Please see www.temple.edu/registrar/documents/calendars/ for add/drop and withdrawal deadlines for each semester and summer session.

Once registered, students must pay tuition and fees according to the Bursar's Office billing schedule. Failure to satisfy billing and financial obligations may result in withholding of official transcripts and diplomas; denial of the right to register for future sessions; and the assessment of late fees and collection costs.

Students who are not planning to attend the semester must drop their course registration. Students who do not drop classes by the end of the official drop/add period (See Academic Calendar for specific dates) remain financially obligated for the amount due. Instructors are advised to issue letter grades (typically "F") for students who have not been attending but are on their roster of registered students.

Students who drop classes by the end of the drop/add period (the end of the second week of classes) of a semester or summer session will have their courses dropped. This will relieve them of academic responsibility and in most instances financial responsibility associated with the course.

Students who withdraw from classes after the drop/add period are responsible for full payment of all tuition and fees, along with any payment plan fees, and late payment charges. These courses will be recorded on the transcript with the notation of "W," indicating that the student withdrew. Unpaid tuition balances may be referred for collection, and students may be held liable for paying all associated collection costs and/or legal fees.

Continuing Student Registration

Continuing Student Registration is the period in which all currently enrolled, degree-seeking students are required to register. Each semester, currently enrolled students are sent an e-mail containing the registration schedule. This schedule is also available on the web site of the University Registrar (www.temple.edu/registrar) under Registration Information.

An installment tuition payment plan is available for students who register for the fall or spring semesters during these periods. See the Tuition and Fees section of the Bulletin for payment information.

Please note the following important information with respect to continuing registration for degree-seeking students (graduates and undergraduates) enrolled in the current semester:

- For fall semester, held mid-March, with initial fall semester E-bills sent beginning in late July and due mid-August.
- For spring semester, held mid-October, with initial spring semester E-bills sent beginning in December and due in January.
- Continuing, degree-seeking students (graduates and undergraduates) may continue to register beyond these dates but must register for their next semester by stated deadlines or risk a late registration penalty. Generally, they must be registered for the spring semester no later than the last day of the fall semester and for the fall semester by July 31. Visit the Office of the University Registrar web site for specific registration dates and deadlines.

Open registration is available:

- For new students, readmitted students, and continuing students who could not register during continuing student registration
- For fall semester, held April to late August
- For spring semester, held November to mid-January

An installment tuition payment plan is available for most students who register during this period. See Tuition and Fees for payment information and registration dates.

Late Registration

Temple conducts late registration at the beginning of each semester or summer session. Registration appointments may be required.

Effective Summer 1 2013, all students will be assessed a $100.00 late registration fee beginning the first day of the term. No new registrations or registration revisions will be processed after the end of the twelfth week of classes during the fall and spring semesters and after the end of the fourth week of summer sessions.

Schedule Revision (Drop/Add)

Students may revise their schedules at any time after they have registered. Students who cannot register online but wish to make changes in their course schedules must do so in their schools and colleges. Approvals required vary according to the time the transaction is completed. Visit the Office of the University Registrar web site for more information.

These students must:

- Obtain a schedule revision form from their advising office.
- Complete the form with appropriate signatures.
- Take the completed form to their campus registration office.

Students may not add courses or change course sections after the first week of fall and spring semesters and second day of the summer sessions. Course sections may be dropped through the second week of the fall and spring semesters and summer sessions. Withdrawing from a course within the first two weeks of the fall and spring semesters or the summer session results in the deletion of the class from the student's roster. In some instances, it also relieves the student of the financial liability associated with the deleted course. If a refund is due, the provisions of the refund policy will apply.

Student Identification Cards

OWL Cards (student IDs) are produced on the Main Campus by the Office of Orientation during New Student Orientation. At other times throughout the semester, ID cards are produced by the Diamond Dollars Office at 1910 Liacouras Walk. The cost of a replacement ID card is $10.00.

An OWL Card is needed for entry into buildings, library privileges, and many university services.

ID cards also are issued on the Ambler Campus, Health Sciences Center, and on scheduled days and times at the Center City Campus.

Additional Registration Information

Veterans

Veterans may enroll as full-time or part-time students; however, benefits are based on enrollment status. The Veterans Coordinator in the Office of the University Registrar is available to answer questions concerning V.A. benefits at 215-204-7358 or registrar@temple.edu.

International Students

If a student is on a non-immigrant visa, enrollment for a minimum of 12 credits each semester is required to meet immigration regulations. Non-resident tuition charges are assessed.

Continuing Studies Students

(Non-degree-seeking students attending Temple prior to formal admission into a degree program)

There is no formal application to enroll as a Continuing Studies student; however, first-time enrollers are asked to provide documentation of education completed (high school transcript, GED certificate, college transcripts [minimum 2.00 GPA required], or college diploma). First-year, non-degree-seeking students may register for a maximum of 11 credits per semester. Second-year, non-degree-seeking student registrations are based upon academic progress. However, undergraduate non-degree-seeking students are prohibited from registering via Self-Service Banner and must register through their Continuing Studies office. Continuing Studies students must apply for admission by the completion of 30 s.h. Preadmission counseling, academic advising, registration, and other support services are provided for non-degree-seeking students. Also see the Continuing Studies web site for more information.

Students who do not withdraw by the published deadline are responsible for payment of all tuition and fee and/or collection costs. Temple University will first apply all payments received to the oldest outstanding balance, if applicable, then to the current semester charges.

Temple University notifies students via their TEmail account to view their electronic bills in TUpay. Students are required to pay at least the minimum amount due on their bills on or before the due date on their bill.

Acceptable forms of payment include: financial aid vouchers, tuition remission forms, checks (paper and electronic), cash, credit cards, and money orders. Checks or money orders should be made payable to Temple University. Credit cards accepted for online payment only through TUpay include: MasterCard, American Express, and Discover. Please note that credit card payments are subject to a 2.75% convenience fee by the university's processor.

Payment must be received by the billing due date to assure proper crediting and to avoid potential registration cancellation.

Payment Plans

The University offers a deferred payment plan for the fall and spring semesters to help students who are not fully paying their bills budget the costs for tuition, room and board, and fees as best fits their personal situations. If students do not pay their fall or spring bill in full by the weekend before the semester starts, then the students are automatically enrolled in the University's deferred payment plan. The payment plan allows students to pay off their fall balance by October 16, 2012 and their spring balance by March 19, 2013 before being subject to a $60 late payment fee. The payment plan deferral fee amount is $25, which is a non-refundable fee.

The University also offers the Temple Installment Payment Plan (TIPP) for those students who need an extended payment option. For more information about this plan, offered through Higher Education Services (HES), go to www.temple.edu/bursar.

Financial Counseling

Students who need assistance in financing their education should see a Financial Counselor in the Department of Student Financial Services (Ground Floor, Conwell/Carnell Hall) or call 215-204-2244 for an appointment.

Student Loan Counseling

All students who receive federal student loans are required by federal regulations to receive loan counseling when first receiving a loan and prior to leaving the university.

The Credit and Collections unit in the Bursar's Office is responsible for completing loan counseling for all students who are receiving federal student loans for the first time (entrance interviews). In addition, this staff can assist students with related financial planning that would help them in completing their education at Temple. Students can go to www.fc.campusoncall.com/cgi-bin/home.pl?FromAdmin=1&campus=temple to complete the entrance interview or call 215-204-5549 for additional information.

Students who are graduating must complete an exit interview online at www.fc.campusoncall.com/cgi-bin/home.pl?FromAdmin=1&campus=temple or contact the Credit and Collections unit in the Bursar's Office, Second Floor, Carnell Hall, at 215-204-5549.

Assessing Tuition Charges

Tuition assessment at Temple University is based on full-time or part-time status; student level status (undergraduate, graduate, or professional), student class level for undergraduates; and in-state/out-of-state residency status. The level of the courses is not a factor in how students are assessed.

Full-time Status

Undergraduate students are considered full-time students when carrying between 12-17 semester hours (s.h.). Credits in excess of 17 s.h. are additionally assessed at the per semester hour tuition rate.

International students, holders of non-immigrant visas, are required to pay out-of-state tuition fees and register as full-time students.

There is no distinction between full-time and part-time graduate tuition rates. All graduate students are assessed at a credit hour rate, regardless of the number of credit hours they are taking.

Part-time Status

Undergraduates are considered part-time students when taking fewer than 12 s.h. per semester. Tuition is charged by the semester hour for part-time undergraduates.

In-State/Out-of-State Residency Status

A student is classified as a Pennsylvania resident for tuition purposes if his or her permanent, legal residence is in Pennsylvania. In-state residency is generally established within the context of the following overall guidelines:

An individual who has not lived in Pennsylvania for a continuous 12-month period immediately prior to registration as a student at a Pennsylvania college or university is presumed not to be a Pennsylvania resident. A student may rebut this presumption with convincing evidence.

A student under 22 years of age is presumed to have the residency of his or her parents or legal guardians. A student may rebut this presumption by presenting convincing evidence of emancipation and independent domicile.

A student who receives financial aid based on residence in a state other than Pennsylvania will not be considered a resident of Pennsylvania.

A student who is not a United States citizen or does not have an immigrant visa is presumed not to be a resident of Pennsylvania for tuition purposes; however, a student may rebut this presumption with clear and convincing evidence.

For more information and a copy of the Resident Tuition Eligibility Guidelines, visit www.temple.edu/registrar. Specific questions pertaining to Pennsylvania residency status should be directed to the Office of the University Registrar at 215-204-1131 or resident.tuition@temple.edu.

Description of Special Charges and Fees

Students may be required to pay some or all of the following (subject to change):

Application Fee

Matriculation Fee

A one-time charge is assessed of all first-year students who are degree-seeking candidates in their initial semester after admittance. This fee includes the student orientation program. The rate for undergraduate students is $150.00 and the rate for graduate students is $45.00. Professional students should check with their respective college as the rates vary per school.

University Services Fee

The University Services Fee is a single, comprehensive fee that helps fund a number of university services, including:

- Funding for state-of-the art computer equipment and technologies to provide support for the students' academic experiences, including e-mail access and modern lab facilities;
- Access to all student activities, events and recreational facilities;
- Expansion and maintenance of recreational and academic facilities to enhance and improve student life;
- Availability of basic student health and treatment services provided by nurses and physicians on campus.

All students are required to pay the University Services Fee. The fee structure for the fall and spring semesters is:

- Enrolled for 9 or more credits - $295.00
- Enrolled for 5 to 8 credits - $213.00
- Enrolled for 1 to 4 credits - $104.00

The structure for each summer semester is:

- Enrolled for 9 or more credits - $148.00
- Enrolled for 5 to 8 credits - $113.00
- Enrolled for 1 to 4 credits - $66.00

Please direct all questions about the University Services Fee to the Office of Student Financial Services at 215-204-2244 or sfs@temple.edu.

Special Tuition Charges

Certain courses have special tuition in lieu of the standard tuition rates. This charge is assessed at the time of registration for the course.

Additional Fees

Certain courses have special fees assessed in addition to the standard tuition. This charge is assessed at the time of registration for the course.

Late Registration Fee Policy

Effective Summer 1 2013, all students will be assessed a $100.00 late registration fee beginning the first day of the term. No new registrations or registration revisions will be processed after the end of the twelfth week of classes during the fall and spring semesters and after the end of the fourth week of summer sessions.

Late Payment

Tuition payments not received by due dates will be subject to a $60.00 late payment fee. Students who fail to pay their initial payment by the due date may also have their registrations canceled.

Bad Check Penalty

A $25.00 fee is assessed for all paper and electronic checks issued to the university and not paid upon presentation to the bank. Registration may be canceled as a result.

Transcript Fee

The cost per transcript is $8.25 ($6.00 transcript fee plus $2.25 National Student Clearinghouse processing fee). Consult the Office of the University Registrar's web site for ordering instructions.

Health Insurance

Group medical insurance to defray certain medical expenses at hospitals is offered to full-time students during a limited period of time at the start of each semester. Students should consult the Human Resources Benefits Department's web site (www.temple.edu/hr/students/index.html) or call Velda Fletcher-Jones at 215-926-2270 for details concerning costs and application procedures. International students are required to buy medical insurance or show proof of comparable coverage to the Human Resources Benefits Department.

Tuition and Fees Policy

I. Policy

A. Tuition charges and fees are based upon the student's enrollment status in the respective schools or colleges. Refunds are made in accordance with the student's academic records.

B. Students will be charged 100% of their semester bill unless a course drop form is processed by a registration office of the university or the student successfully drops courses through Self Service Banner by the Drop/Add deadline date. See www.temple.edu/registrar/documents/calendars/ for add/drop and withdrawal deadlines for each semester and summer session, typically at the end of the second week of the semester. Students who process their course drops by the deadline date will be issued a 100% refund.

C. No complete financial credit will be made if a student does not process course drops for all registered classes.

D. Students who are still registered for classes after the Drop/Add deadline date are responsible for paying all related tuition and fees.

II. Exceptions

A. Failure to Process Withdrawal Form by Deadline

Under extreme, extenuating circumstances, an appeal may be made to the Office of the University Registrar and the Tuition Review Committee if the drop transaction is not completed by the deadline, and the student did not attend classes after the deadline date. All appeals must be accompanied by the following information:

1. A letter explaining the extenuating circumstances of the appeal.
2. A properly-signed schedule revision or official withdrawal form available from the Dean's Office.
3. Supporting documentation that will establish that the student never attended the semester in question or that he/she did not attend beyond the official refund period.
4. Appeals for retroactive course deletions must be filed within one (1) year from the end date of the semester for refunds to be considered. If the above conditions are met, the Office of the University Registrar will direct the removal of the semester's records from the academic history. This automatically results in a 100% refund of tuition and fee charges for the semester.

B. Death of a Student

In the event of death during a semester, the student's account will be credited with a 100% refund of tuition and fee charges for the semester.

C. Serious Illness Which Prevents a Student from Attending All Classes

In the event of a serious personal or family member's illness, the following steps can be taken:

1. The student should provide the Department of Student Financial Services with:

- a. A letter from the student listing the reason(s) for their refund request (i.e., personal or family illness, etc.).
- b. Certification from a licensed physician verifying that the student or family member was ill. In the case of the student's illness, the certification should indicate that the illness prevented the student from attending all classes, and
- c. Letter(s) from the student's instructor(s) or department chairperson(s) that, based on the actual or anticipated length of the student's leave, the course work cannot be completed within the current term and the last day of attendance.
- d. The student must withdraw from all registered courses. NOTE: For purposes of this policy, a family member is defined as the student's parents, spouse, child(ren), or any other family member noted under the federal Family Leave Act.

2. When the above criteria in C.1 are met, the student's bill will reflect an adjusted tuition charge in accordance with the attached schedule. A credit will be issued on a pro-rated basis after:

- a. Confirming that the student has no other outstanding balances, and
- b. Having the Department of Student Financial Services adjust any financial aid awards, where applicable, in accordance with state and federal regulations. NOTE: Student refunds will be issued as a credit towards tuition and fees for future registrations up to one (1) year after the end of the semester in which the withdrawal took place. Unused credits will be forfeited after that time.

3. The effective date for all medical credits will be based on the earlier of either:

- a. The official date of withdrawal, as established by the Tuition Review Committee and the Office of the University Registrar, or
- b. The physician's date of certification, if the student is physically unable to complete a withdrawal by the end of the semester.

4. Refunds or credits resulting from the death or serious illness of the student will not require the deletion of courses from the student's academic records. The student's record will reflect excused withdrawals ('WE').

D. Employment Change/Relocation

1. If a student must withdraw from classes because of a job change or shift in work hours that prevents the student from attending classes, the student may request a pro-rata credit, based on the actual withdrawal date and in accordance with the Fee Schedule of Adjusted Tuition Charges, if documentation from the employer is provided showing that the individual is no longer able to take classes because of a change in job scheduling or relocation.
2. This provision applies solely for the student and only after the student has totally withdrawn from all registered courses.

III. Authority

- A. The Office of the University Registrar will have authority for determining the student's academic records.
- B. The Director of Student Financial Services will have authority for approving financial exceptions to the policy.
- C. Appeals of any decision outlined under this policy will be made to the University's Tuition Review Committee, whose decision is final.

Application Procedures

Documents Needed to Apply

The only document required is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). A FAFSA must be filed each year a student expects to receive financial aid. Applications are available at all Student Financial Services (SFS) locations and also may be filed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov/. The federal code for Temple University, Main Campus is 003371. Locations and phone numbers for Temple University's SFS offices are listed at www.temple.edu/sfs/contact.htm.

Application Deadlines

New Students -- March 1

Continuing Students -- March 1

Priority consideration is given to new and renewal applications received by the federal processor by this date. Late applicants will be considered, but all funding sources may not be available.

Verification

Federal regulations require that the Office of Student Financial Services reviews all student financial aid applications (i.e., your Free Application for Federal Student Aid [FAFSA] information) to make sure it is accurate and consistent. The Office of Student Financial Services is required to resolve any conflicting information, inconsistencies or errors made on FAFSA applications to ensure the integrity of federal student financial aid programs. You may be selected for verification if:

- Your Social Security number, veteran status, or citizenship status reported on the FAFSA does not match the federal government's data.
- You completed the FAFSA using estimated income information or income information is inconsistent (i.e., your reported adjusted gross income is less than taxes paid). You may be asked to supply copies of federal tax returns.

Temple University operates as a Quality Assurance School in association with the U.S. Department of Education. As a result, you do not need to submit verification documents unless the University's Office of Student Financial Services contacts you.

If verification documents are requested, you will be required to submit all of them within thirty days. If all documents are not received by the deadline, all federal and university need-based aid will be removed from the award.

Your financial package will be outlined in an award letter mailed to your home and online on Temple's TUportal. If Temple's aid offer meets your entire financial need, great! If not, then seek outside help. You should begin looking for alternative means of educational assistance from private sources, such as fraternal organizations, unions, clubs, and churches.

International Students

The Office of International Services, 215-204-7229, offers limited financial assistance to persons holding non-immigrant visas. Federal regulations limit most financial aid to U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens, i.e., permanent resident aliens (<http://studentaid.ed.gov/PORTALSWebApp/students/english/Glossary.jsp>). Questions about immigrant status should be referred to the Office of International Services.

Academic Requirements

Applicants for Federal, State, and University financial aid programs administered by Temple University must be accepted for admission or currently enrolled as a matriculated student in a degree or certificate program. Exceptions to this requirement are the Federal Direct Loan or PLUS Loan Programs. A non-matriculated student may be eligible for a Federal Stafford Loan if the student is enrolled in a course of study necessary to prepare for admission in a degree or certificate program. Students enrolled in the Qualifying Program have one 12-month period beginning on the first day of the loan period for which the student is enrolled.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Financial aid funds are restricted to students who make satisfactory academic progress. This is defined as maintaining Academic Good Standing according to University Policy and successfully completing 67% of all attempted credits. Also see Academic Standing.

Enrollment Status

Some financial aid programs are restricted to full-time students. Other aid programs are available to both full-time and part-time students. (NOTE: High school students accepted under the Early Admissions Program are not eligible for financial aid until they receive their high school diploma.)

Students should be aware that dropping and adding courses can affect financial aid eligibility, and they must notify the Office of Student Financial Services of any change in enrollment status.

Academic Dismissal/Reinstatement

Eligibility for financial aid, including federal work-study, ends if a student is academically dismissed or ceases to be enrolled.

Financial Aid Eligibility -- Need Analysis

Financial aid is offered to students based on financial need. The U.S. Department of Education establishes the federal definition of need. Need is determined by the following formula:

$$(\text{Estimated cost of attendance}) - (\text{Expected Family Contribution}^*) - (\text{Expected Financial Aid}) = \text{Need}$$

*The Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is determined by a federal formula based on information reported on the student's FAFSA application. The EFC is the number that's used to determine a student's eligibility for federal student financial aid. This number results from the financial information a student and/or parent provided in the FAFSA application. The student's EFC is reported to the student on the Student Aid Report (SAR).

The result of a need determination is met by a combination of awards called a financial aid package.

Other sources exist that may be available to students for educational assistance. Some of these are private scholarship programs, Cooperative Education programs, Veterans Administration benefits, public assistance, and Social Security benefits. If outside assistance is received, financial aid awarded by the university may be adjusted.

Independent Student Definition

2012-13 Financial Aid Applicants: Federal regulations define an independent student if he/she meets one of the following criteria:

1. You were born before January 1, 1989.
2. You will be enrolled in a master's or doctoral program for the 2012-13 academic year.
3. You are married.
4. You have children and/or dependents who receive more than half of their support from you.
5. You are a ward of the court, or both your parents are deceased.
6. You are currently serving on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces, or you are a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces.

Federal regulations require that a student not meeting the definition of independent apply as a dependent. These students must provide income, asset, and household information for themselves and their parent(s), (including stepparent[s]).

Educational Budget

Financing one's education takes planning and budgeting. Students should try to plan ahead, anticipating costs and resources, and should request aid for the entire academic year. The basic budget for a year at Temple should include tuition and fees, books and supplies, living expenses, and transportation. Tuition shown in the following example is for undergraduates attending Main Campus. Financial aid awards will be adjusted accordingly for programs having different tuition rates. The figures in the table are based on estimates from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The economy and one's style of living may make actual costs higher or lower.

Sample Budgets for 2012-2013 Academic Year
	In-state	Out-of-state
Tuition and Fees	$13,921	$23,993
Books/Supplies (Estimated)	$1,000	$1,000
Living Expenses/Transportation/Personal/Miscellaneous (Estimated)	$15,379	$16,347
Totals	$30,300	$41,340
NOTE: Actual rates may vary depending on college, school, program, housing location and meal plan selected. Tuition rate is an estimate at time of publishing.

Financial Aid Notification and Refund Policy

Applicants are notified of aid eligibility by letter or electronic letter after applications have been reviewed. Financial aid may consist of a combination of grant, loan, and/or work assistance.

Recipients receiving aid in excess of institution charges will receive a refund. Checks are issued according to the university's established schedule, starting just prior to the first week of classes each semester. Students are encouraged to sign up for direct deposit to expedite the receipt of refund payment. This can be done online via the TUportal.

Student Employment

Academic Year

The Federal Work Study (FWS) program at Temple promotes part-time employment of college students with demonstrated financial need. FWS is awarded as part of the student's financial aid package, but the award is not credited to the student's tuition account.

Employment may be within the university or at other public and private non-profit organizations. All university work-study job openings are posted on StudentJobs@Temple. Students can reach StudentJobs@Temple via the TUportal.

FWS jobs which are available from Off Campus employers are listed on the Work Study Job Bank of the Student Financial Services (SFS) web site at www.temple.edu/sfs.

Summer Sessions

Summer Federal Work-Study Program awards need-based funds to full-time students currently enrolled in degree or certificate programs who have a current FAFSA on file. Summer positions are posted in the same manner as the regular academic year. University employers list openings on StudentJobs@temple.edu. Off campus openings are posted on the "Work Study Job Bank" link on the SFS web site: www.temple.edu/sfs. You must arrange your own employment. You must complete a separate Temple Summer Financial Aid application. Summer Financial Aid applications are available by selecting the "Forms" link from the SFS home page.

Grants, Scholarships and Loans

The following grants and scholarships have individual eligibility requirements and procedures. Be sure to read the requirements for each carefully.

Temple University Grants

Temple University Grants are institutional funds available to students as a way of supplementing other aid sources. These funds are awarded based on need, as determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), with priority given to applicants whose FAFSA is received by the federal processor by March 1.

Temple Scholars Award

Entering freshmen with excellent high school grades and test scores are offered four-year academic merit scholarships ranging from $3,000 to full-tuition for up to four (4) years of full-time undergraduate study. The award is made by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at the time of acceptance based on the admission application.

New transfer students with strong grades earned at their transfer institutions are offered three-year academic merit scholarships ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 for up to three (3) years of full-time undergraduate study. The award is made by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at the time of acceptance based on the admission application.

Additional details are provided on the Undergraduate Admissions web site at <http://admissions.temple.edu/cost-and-aid>.

Music Scholarships

Music scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis to students of exceptional musical ability. These awards are given to vocalists participating in the various university choirs and instrumentalists participating in the Temple University Orchestra, bands, and other ensembles. Recipients may matriculate in any of the undergraduate colleges. Prospective applicants should contact the Boyer College of Music and Dance at 215-204-8301 to arrange for an interview.

Temple University Diamond Bands

Membership in the Diamond Bands is open to all qualifying students from any school, college, or campus of the university. At Temple, the bands serve the entire student population; membership, therefore, includes not only music majors but also a large proportion of students representing almost every academic area of the university.

Scholarships are available to students selected for membership in the Diamond Bands in varying amounts based on participation and musicianship as determined by the Boyer College of Music and Dance. For further information, contact the Director of Bands, Room 315, Presser Hall, Temple University, Philadelphia, PA 19122 or call 215-204-8321.

Athletic Scholarships

Athletic scholarships are available in all varsity sports. The number of scholarships, requirements, standards, and awards are controlled by Temple University and by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). For further information, contact the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, 215-204-2571.

ROTC Scholarships and Grants

See Military Science under the Academic Opportunities section of the Bulletin.

State and Federal Grant Programs

To be eligible for the following grants, students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Pennsylvania State Grant (PHEAA)

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania funds a grant program for undergraduate Pennsylvania residents who will be matriculated students enrolled full-time (12 or more credit hours per semester) and part-time (6-11 credits) during the academic year. This program is administered by the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA).

Non-Pennsylvania residents should check with their respective state agency for state grant information. The U.S. Department of Education provides a full list of higher education agencies by state at the Education Resource Organizations Directory web site at http://wdcrobcolp01.ed.gov/Programs/EROD/org_list.cfm?category_ID=SEA.

Students residing in states other than Pennsylvania can contact their state education department directly to inquire about scholarship and grant opportunities. A directory of state educational grant agencies can also be found online through the U.S. Department of Education's Education Resource Organizations Directory.

Not all state grant programs are transferable if a student is attending a school outside of their home state.

Federal Pell Grants

To be eligible for a Pell Grant, one must be a matriculated student enrolled in an undergraduate degree program who has not earned a bachelor's or professional degree. Notification of awards will be made in the student's award letter.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

FSEOG is a federal grant program administered by the university. Awards are based on exceptional need and availability of funds.

Student Loans

Federal Perkins Loans

Perkins Loans are made by the university from funds provided by the Federal government. These loans are included as part of the financial aid package. The amount of the loan is based on the student's need and availability of funds.

Federal Direct Student Loans

Direct Loans are available to students enrolled for at least six (6) credits per semester. Annual limits are: $3,500 for first-year students, $4,500 for second-year students, and $5,500 for third year and higher.

Unsubsidized loans are also available to undergraduate students. Dependent students may borrow up to $4,000 for the first and second year of study and $5,000 for the third year and above.

Independent students and dependent students whose parents are denied a Direct Parent Plus loan may borrow up to $6,000 for first and second year of undergraduate study and $7,000 for third year and above. For all undergraduate study the maximum that may be borrowed in unsubsidized Stafford loan funding is $46,000 ($23,000 subsidized).

Direct Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

PLUS loans are available to the parents of undergraduate students. Parents may borrow amounts not to exceed the cost of attendance.

Nursing Student Loans (NSL)

NSL are made by the university from funds provided by the federal government. These loans are included as part of the financial aid package. The amount of the loan is based on the student's need and availability of funds. Students may borrow up to $2,500 per academic year.

Pharmacy Health Profession Loans

Pharmacy Health Profession Loans are made by the university based on demonstrated financial need. Funds are provided by the federal government. Pharmacy students may borrow a maximum of $2,500 plus the cost of tuition.

Alternative Educational Loans

Student loans are available from private lenders. The majority of these loans require the student borrower to have a credit worthy cosigner, and the interest rate is variable and determined by the credit score of the borrower and cosigner. Many of these loans also require school certification, and the student must be enrolled at least half time and making satisfactory academic progress. Consult with the lender for specific eligibility requirements.

Entrance/Exit Interviews

Federal law requires that every student borrowing from the programs listed above have an entrance and/or exit interview. During these sessions, a counselor will explain the provisions of loan repayment and deferment options.

Direct loan funds will not be released without the entrance interview requirement, and students may not graduate until the exit interview is completed. Any student withdrawing from the university before graduation must contact the Bursar Department at 215-204-6170 to schedule an exit interview. Students failing to do so will have a hold placed on their records.

Other Programs

A number of Temple's schools and colleges have privately-sponsored scholarships available for students in their programs. Details may be found in the individual school or college descriptions.

In addition to the scholarships available through Temple University, a wide range of scholarships, fellowships, and internships are available on a competitive basis to students during and immediately after their undergraduate careers. The Office of the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies provides information about these opportunities and support for students interested in preparing applications. For more information, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/index.htm#scholarships.

Student Responsibilities

Every registered student agrees to abide by an overall set of values, principles and regulations mandated by the university. In order for a student to remain in good standing, it is imperative that each student assumes responsibilities throughout his/her enrollment at Temple. Students also have a number of rights which protect their interests. This section details these important responsibilities and rights.

Academic Honesty

Temple University believes strongly in academic honesty and integrity. Plagiarism and academic cheating are, therefore, prohibited. Essential to intellectual growth is the development of independent thought and a respect for the thoughts of others. The prohibition against plagiarism and cheating is intended to foster this independence and respect.

Plagiarism is the unacknowledged use of another person's labor, another person's ideas, another person's words, another person's assistance. Normally, all work done for courses -- papers, examinations, homework exercises, laboratory reports, oral presentations -- is expected to be the individual effort of the student presenting the work. Any assistance must be reported to the instructor. If the work has entailed consulting other resources -- journals, books, or other media -- these resources must be cited in a manner appropriate to the course. It is the instructor's responsibility to indicate the appropriate manner of citation. Everything used from other sources -- suggestions for organization of ideas, ideas themselves, or actual language -- must be cited. Failure to cite borrowed material constitutes plagiarism. Undocumented use of materials from the World Wide Web is plagiarism.

Academic cheating is, generally, the thwarting or breaking of the general rules of academic work or the specific rules of the individual courses. It includes falsifying data; submitting, without the instructor's approval, work in one course which was done for another; helping others to plagiarize or cheat from one's own or another's work; or actually doing the work of another person.

The penalty for academic dishonesty can vary from receiving a reprimand and a failing grade for a particular assignment, to a failing grade in the course, to suspension or expulsion from the university. The penalty varies with the nature of the offense, the individual instructor, the department, and the school or college.

Students who believe that they have been unfairly accused may appeal through the school or college's academic grievance procedure. See Grievances under Student Rights in this section.

Attendance

Enrollment in a course presupposes intention to attend regularly. Attendance requirements should be announced by the instructor at the beginning of the course. The student who is absent for any reason is responsible for work missed. If a pattern of excessive absences develops, the instructor may report this fact to the student's advisor through the department in which the student is enrolled.

The student should understand that excessive absences may, at the option of the instructor, jeopardize the grade and/or continuance in the course. Although attendance is basically a matter between the student and the instructor, either may request the counsel of the advisor or the Office of the Dean in special cases.

Students should consult the policies and regulations of their own school or college for any further specifications of attendance policy.

Clearing Holds

A hold is an action placed on a student's record. Holds may affect a student's ability to register for courses, to apply for graduation, or to receive transcript services or degree audit reports.

Students may receive holds on their records for financial, academic, or disciplinary reasons. Students are obligated to resolve holds as quickly as possible, working with their academic advising office, student financial services, or other offices, as appropriate. Academic holds may be caused by failure to declare a major by the appropriate time, low GPA, or failure to make academic progress. Students receiving a "See College Dean" hold should meet with their academic advisor as soon as possible.

Code of Conduct

The Temple University Student Code of Conduct can be viewed at http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.12. Printed copies are available at the Office of the Dean of Students.

Temple University has the responsibility to formulate and enforce rules of conduct which are necessary for the furtherance of its educational goals and essential activities. In particular, the university has an obligation to protect itself from any acts which tend to impede, obstruct, or threaten its normal operations. While this authority is inherent, the university attempts to delineate its expectations as clearly as possible and publish its regulations. Students, both as individuals and as members of student organizations, are responsible for apprising themselves of, and complying with, all applicable, existing regulations in the Undergraduate Bulletin and any regulations that may be subsequently promulgated through appropriate publications of the university community. Copies of Student Rights, the Code of Conduct, and the Disciplinary Procedure may be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Students and on the web site at www.temple.edu/studentaffairs/deanofstudents/.

The University Disciplinary Committee is responsible for administering the Student Code of Conduct. Violations of the university's Code of Conduct, including, among other things, theft, underage consumption of alcohol, disorderly conduct, plagiarism, and possession of a weapon, can result in a student being brought before the University Disciplinary Committee. A finding of responsibility may result in a fine, suspension, and/or permanent expulsion from the university.

A disciplinary hold is placed on the student's record until sanctions are fulfilled. The hold prevents students from registering for courses, receiving their transcript or graduating.

Financial Obligation to the University

Being a Temple student means incurring a financial obligation to the university. An important part of taking responsibility for your education is to be aware of tuition and fee charges, payment and financial aid procedures, and all relevant deadlines, and to make sure that forms are submitted and bills paid on time. Even if someone else is paying the bills, you are responsible for remaining in good financial standing with the university. Failure to satisfy financial obligations, when due, can result in cancellation of your current registration, denial of the right to register for future sessions, delay in graduation, and withholding of official transcripts and diplomas after graduation. Unpaid balances are subject to referral to outside collection agencies or law firms.

Effective Summer 1 2013, prior to registering for the first time each semester, students are required to accept Temple University's Financial Responsibility Agreement, which outlines the financial terms and conditions associated with course registration.

Your registration for courses is not final until all applicable tuition and fees are paid through the Office of the Bursar. For information on registration, its financial aspects, and the impact of registration changes on your financial obligation to the university, please see the Registration section of the Bulletin.

For current tuition rates and fees, see Tuition and Fees in this Bulletin and the Bursar's Office web site at www.temple.edu/bursar. For information and instructions concerning the electronic bill, online tuition payments and answers to frequently asked billing questions, please visit the Bursar's web site.

For information about Financial Aid, Financial Aid requirements for satisfactory academic progress, and the impact of registration changes on your eligibility for aid, see Student Financial Aid in this Bulletin and the Student Financial Services web site at www.temple.edu/sfs/.

For information on campus housing and meal plans, see Student Support and Services in this Bulletin, and the Office of University Housing and Residential Life web site at www.temple.edu/studentaffairs/housing/.

See your school's or college's policies on graduation procedures for information on the impact of unmet financial obligations on clearance for graduation.

Health and Safety Issues

Alcohol Policy

In accordance with Pennsylvania law, no individual under the age of 21 may possess or consume alcohol on university property. Student organizations may not serve alcohol at campus events. The use of alcohol in the residence halls and university-owned housing is covered in the Proprietary Policies developed by the Office of University Housing and in the Student Code of Conduct. Please also see the university's Student Drug and Alcohol Policy (http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.01), Student Code of Conduct (http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.12) and the Rights, Responsibilities and Resource Guide (www.temple.edu/studentaffairs/housing/).

Drug Policy

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of controlled substances in any facility or work site of Temple University is strictly prohibited. Please see the university's Student Drug and Alcohol Policy (http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.01).

Immunizations

Under Pennsylvania state law, all students living in university-owned or -operated housing are required to submit proof of a one-time meningococcal vaccination, or submit a signed waiver. In addition, entering students are strongly advised to submit to Student Health Services proof of two measles immunizations (usually given as MMR), or serologic proof of measles immunity. Other immunizations that are routinely recommended for college students are rubella, mumps, diphtheria-tetanus, varicella (chickenpox) for those who have not had the disease, and Hepatitis B. Some students may also need Hepatitis A, IPV (polio booster), pneumococcal, or influenza vaccines; check with your doctor.

Students from countries with a high rate of tuberculosis must be screened for the disease. These students will be informed of how to complete this screening. Prior BCG vaccination does not exempt students from this evaluation.

Medical Fees and Insurance

Students are responsible for any medical fees incurred outside of Student Health Services, including those incurred at Temple University Hospital. Group medical insurance is offered at the beginning of each semester through the Benefits Office. Full-time students may enroll for health coverage in the months of September (effective September 1) or February (effective March 1). Students are urged to carry this insurance or a comparable policy. Students who are insured should keep in their possession the receipt of the above group policies or identification cards for other policies. All new and continuing international students in both J-1 and F-1 status are required to carry health insurance that meets certain minimum standards determined by the United States Information Agency (USIA). These students will be enrolled in the Low Option of Blue Cross/Blue Shield Plan, as well as the International Group Services Plan. For more information, contact the Benefits Office at 215-204-1321 or go to www.temple.edu/hr/students/index.html.

International Students

Temple University requires all new and continuing international students in Nonimmigrant Student (both F-1 and J-1) status to carry health insurance that meets certain minimum standards determined by the United States Department of State. For detailed information, please see www.temple.edu/iss/general/health.html.

All international students in Nonimmigrant Student (F-1 and J-1) status must maintain their nonimmigrant status insofar as regulations of the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and the United States Department of State (DOS) are concerned. In general, students in this status must complete a full-time course load each academic term while they remain in the United States and must not accept unauthorized on-campus or off-campus employment. For detailed information, please see www.temple.edu/iss/current-students/status.html.

Eligibility for employment for individuals in Nonimmigrant Student (F-1 and J-1) status is based on regulations of the USCIS and the DOS. For detailed information, please see www.temple.edu/iss/employment/index.html.

Major medical health insurance is required for all international students in Nonimmigrant Student (F-1 and J-1) status. International students are required to submit to the university's Benefits Office evidence of coverage by a health insurance policy that meets the minimum coverage required by Temple University (consistent with standards established by the United States Department of State): maximum deductible of $500 per accident or illness; payment of at least 75% of covered medical expenses; maximum benefit of $50,000 per accident or illness; repatriation benefits of no less than $7,500; and medical evacuation benefits of no less than $10,000. Students may also purchase such health insurance upon arrival at Temple University. For further information, please contact the university's Benefits Office at 215-204-1321 or visit the student insurance information web site at www.temple.edu/hr/students/index.html.

In addition, international students must demonstrate that they are free of active tuberculosis by submitting to Student Health Services a Tuberculosis Screening Record which has been certified by a licensed physician. International students may meet this requirement upon arrival at Temple University by taking a PPD test at Student Health Services.

A mandatory orientation session is held for new international students at the beginning of each academic term. For more information, please see the Office of International Services web site at www.temple.edu/iss/future-students/orientation-international.html and the Office of Orientation web site at www.temple.edu/studentaffairs/orientation/.

For more information about maintaining Nonimmigrant Student (F-1 and J-1) status, please see www.temple.edu/iss/index.html.

Registration

Students must be appropriately registered for courses. Students not on the published grade list may not receive a grade or credit for a course. Go to Self-Service Banner in the TUportal to confirm your billing and registration status. If you add or drop a course, or revise your class schedule, check Self-Service Banner to make sure that your registration record is accurate. Be warned, if you are registered for a course but don't attend, you will be billed for the course, and your instructor should post a final grade of "F."

Temple E-mail Accounts

All students are required to obtain a Temple e-mail address and follow guidelines for university use of e-mail; the policy establishes your Temple e-mail account as an approved channel of communication for sending you official university notifications and important information. Visit <http://accounts.temple.edu/> in order to obtain your account.

Student Rights

Academic Rights and Responsibilities

Temple University students who believe that instructors are introducing extraneous material into class discussions or that their grades are being affected by their opinions or views that are unrelated to a course's subject matter can file a complaint under the university's policy on academic rights and responsibilities. The full policy can be found at http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.02.

The policy encourages students to first discuss their concerns with their instructor. If a student is uncomfortable doing so, or if discussions with the instructor do not resolve the student's concerns, an informal complaint can be made to the Student Ombudsperson for the student's school or college. Unresolved complaints may be referred to the dean for handling in accordance with the school or college's established grievance procedure. Final appeals will be determined by the Provost.

Course Syllabus

Instructors are required to supply a detailed syllabus explaining course rules and expectations for courses in which you are enrolled. The content requirements for course syllabi are enumerated on the Temple Policies & Procedures web site at http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=02.78.13.

Student Feedback Form (SFF)

Each course (with few exceptions) is required to employ a standard form for student evaluation of courses and teaching. Please fill out the SFF forms thoughtfully at the end of your course. (Temple Policy 02.78.14)

FERPA/Privacy Guidelines

As is required by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, with certain exceptions, generally Temple University cannot disclose a student's education records without the written consent of a student or without proof by a parent that the student is dependent on his/her parents for federal income tax purposes.

FERPA provides the following rights for students and for the parents of dependent students, as described above, attending Temple University:

- The right of a student, with minor limitations, to inspect and review his or her education records;
- The right to request amendment of a student's education records to ensure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy or other rights;
- The right, with certain exceptions, to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records;
- The right to withhold public disclosure of any or all items of so-called "Directory Information" by written notification to the Office of the Dean of Students within two weeks after publication of this notice. Under current university policy, the item "Directory Information" includes a student's name, street address, e-mail address, confirmation of enrollment status (full-time/part-time), dates of attendance, degree received, awards received (e.g., Dean's List), major field of study, participation in officially-recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of members of athletic teams.
- The right to file a complaint with the United States Department of Education concerning the alleged failure of Temple University to comply with the requirements of FERPA and of the implementing regulations.

The procedures for exercising the above rights are explained in "Temple University's Policy Regarding Confidentiality of Student Records," copies of which are available in the Office of the Dean of Students and on Temple's web site at <http://policies.temple.edu/ferpa>. Included in this policy is a description of the types and locations of educational records maintained by the university.

If you or your parents' primary or home language is not English, upon your request, reasonable efforts will be made to provide you with a translated copy of this "Annual Notice," as well as with "Temple University's Guidelines Pertaining to Confidentiality of Student Records."

Please note that, in compliance with a 1997 federal statute designed to advance military recruiting, Temple may release dates of birth to the military unless the student notifies Temple that he or she wishes this information withheld.

FERPA Waiver: A student may consent to the release of information from education records to parents, guardians or other appropriate persons. The students may provide the university with their consent by completing the FERPA waiver online via TUportal (<http://tuportal.temple.edu>). Once logged into TUportal, click on the "Self-Service Banner" link, then click the "Student" link, and then the "FERPA Contacts" link. After reading the informational text, click the "New Contact" link and enter the requested information before clicking the "Submit Changes" link.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

Under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1998, Temple University strives to make programs, activities and services accessible for persons with disabilities. Disability Resources and Services (DRS) is the department that facilitates access for students with disabilities at the university. Please see the Student Services section of the Bulletin for information on Disability Resources and Services.

Protection from Discrimination and Harassment

Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance

Sandra A. Foehl, Director
sandra.foehl@temple.edu
Sullivan Hall, 2nd Floor Mezzanine
215-204-6772
Fax: 215-204-8897
www.temple.edu/eoc

Equal Opportunity: Temple University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all in every aspect of its operations. The university has pledged not to discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, marital status, national or ethnic origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation and gender identity, veteran status and genetic information.

Temple University's equal opportunity/affirmative action program has these inclusive objectives: To support the admission and successful participation of disadvantaged students, students with disabilities, and those for whom English is a second language; and to employ and advance in employment qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, Armed Forces service medal veterans, disabled veterans, recently-separated veterans, and other protected veterans.

Temple University's equal opportunity/affirmative action program complies with federal regulations. For more information or to review Temple's Affirmative Action Program, contact the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance, 2 Mezzanine, Sullivan Hall (phone: 215-204-8890).

Discrimination: A student or employee who thinks he or she is being discriminated against or harassed because of age, color, disability, marital status, national or ethnic origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation and gender identity, veteran status or genetic information should contact the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance. It is this office's responsibility to help the student file a complaint through the appropriate grievance procedures and investigate complaints of discrimination and harassment.

Sexual Harassment: Temple University is committed to providing a learning, working, and teaching environment that emphasizes the dignity and worth of every member of its community, free from discriminatory conduct. Sexual harassment in any form or context is inimical to this and will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment subverts the mission and the work of the university and can threaten the career, educational experience, and well-being of students, faculty, and staff.

The university recognizes that sexual harassment may occur regardless of the formal position or status of each person involved. Sexual harassment is especially offensive, however, when it occurs in relationships between teacher and student or between supervisor and subordinate. In those situations, sexual harassment exploits unfairly the power inherent in the position of the faculty member or supervisor.

Sexual harassment also constitutes a form of sex discrimination that is illegal under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Elementary/Secondary Education Act of 1972, and state law. Sandra Foehl, Director, Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance, is the Title IX Coordinator for Temple University. In addition to any sanctions that may be imposed by the university for violation of this policy, a person who sexually harasses another person may be held personally liable to the victim and be subject to sanctions independent of those imposed by the university.

Complaint Resolution Procedures: Persons who feel they have been victims of discrimination or harassment may make an informal complaint to any Equal Opportunity (EO) Ombudsperson or to the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance. For a list of the names of the EO Ombudspersons designated in a specific school or college, contact the Dean's Office or access the online version, which includes photographs of the current EO Ombudspersons: www.temple.edu/eoc/AppDev/ombuds.asp.

Students, faculty, and staff may bring a formal administrative complaint of discrimination or harassment by filing a written complaint directly with the university's Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance. Aggrieved individuals are not required, but are encouraged, to utilize informal resolution procedures before filing a formal complaint.

Grievances

Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 requires that each college or university establish due process for the resolution of academic grievances. Undergraduate students enrolled at Temple University have the right to appeal any academic or non-academic matter in which they feel they have been treated unfairly.

While each school and college at Temple University has established and adheres to its own grievance procedure, all have in common the following steps:

1. Students attempt resolution through discussion with the instructor.
2. Failing agreement, students present appeals to the chair of the department, specifying the nature of the grievance, the result of the previous discussion, and the resolution sought.
3. Failing agreement at the department chair level, students may appeal to the Office of the Dean of the College.

4. When appeals warrant review beyond the school or college, students, faculty members, or the dean's office may appeal to the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies.

Details that may vary from school to school include the involvement of a student-ombudsperson; the constitution of grievance hearing committees, which may be a part of either step two or three; and time limits, both for students' filing and for the administrative response.

Students should be advised that filing a formal grievance, that is, beyond the level of the instructor, is serious and should be avoided until all informal methods of adjudication have been used.

For further information on academic grievance procedures, students should inquire in their dean's office or with an advisor or the student-ombudsperson in the relevant school. For non-academic grievances, further information is available in the Dean of Students' Office, 215-204-7188 or www.temple.edu/studentaffairs/deanofstudents/. (Temple Policy 03.70.12)

Instructor Office Hours

Full-time faculty are required to hold a minimum of three office hours per week and should schedule one hour immediately before or after one of the scheduled class meeting times for each course. Adjunct instructors are required to schedule one office hour per week for each class they teach and should schedule that hour either immediately before or after one of the scheduled class meeting times for that course. Make it a point to talk with your instructors about your academic work and progress. (Temple Policy 02.78.12)

Non-Smoking Policy

Temple University is committed to providing a smoke-free environment for everyone at Temple. All university facilities are designated as non-smoking. In addition, all indoor Temple University-sponsored activities that take place in facilities not owned or operated by Temple University are smoke-free in those areas under Temple's control. This policy will be enforced according to established university policies and procedures. (Temple Policy 04.62.11)

Student Services Office Hours

All Temple University offices directly serving students will maintain uniform business hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.). (Temple Policy 04.31.11)

Academic Policies

These academic policies and regulations generally apply to all undergraduate students and provide a framework within which schools and colleges may specify further conditions or variations appropriate to students in their courses or programs. Statements of academic policies and regulations apply to both degree-seeking and non-degree-seeking students unless explicitly noted otherwise.

The policies and regulations as stated in the Bulletin are announcements only and in no way serve as a contract between the student and Temple University.

The texts of some of these policies are available on the Temple Policies & Procedures web site at <http://policies.temple.edu/>.

Students should consult their advisors and dean's offices for any changes in policy that affect them.

Academic Course Load

The average semester load for full-time students is 15 to 17 semester (or credit) hours. Students must carry at least 12 semester hours to be classified as full time.

Academic overloads during fall and spring semesters (18 or more semester hours for students in the College of Liberal Arts and the College of Science and Technology; 19 or more semester hours in all other schools and colleges) need special approval of the dean or dean's designee of the school or college in which a student is matriculated. Tuition for full-time students covers 12 to 17 hours. Credits over 17 carry additional tuition charges. See Tuition and Fees in the Financial Information section of the Bulletin.

Summer sessions: Undergraduates must get overload approval for 9 credits or more.

Academic Credit

A credit hour is a measure of the amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement. A credit hour is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates: (1) not less than one hour of classroom instruction or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out of class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester of credit or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or (2) at least an equivalent amount of work for other academic activities such as laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.

Academic credit may be earned through traditional coursework at Temple University, courses approved for transfer from other institutions, Advanced Placement Tests, International Baccalaureate Exams, the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSST), military experience, cooperative work experience, and prior work or life experience. See the Admissions section of the Bulletin and the policy on Credit for Prior Learning (formerly Non-Traditional Credit).

Courses evaluated for transfer from colleges and universities with different credit systems (quarter hours, units) are converted to semester hours (i.e., 2 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 1.5 semester hour credits; 3 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 2.0 semester hour credits; 4 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 2.5 semester hour credits).

See also Undergraduate Credit for Graduate Level Courses.

Academic Forgiveness (Undergraduate)

Scope of Policy & Rationale

Former undergraduate, baccalaureate degree-seeking students who have not taken any coursework at Temple University for a minimum of four consecutive years are eligible for Academic Forgiveness (policy # 02.10.17). [Students electing Academic Forgiveness must choose the option before the end of the drop/add period of their first semester following their absence.]

Definitions

1. Re-enrolled - Students are re-enrolled when they are approved to return to the university after leaving of their own accord.
2. Reinstated - Students are reinstated when they are approved to return to the university following dismissal.
3. Academic Forgiveness - Academic Forgiveness is a status that enables students to return to the university with a renewed cumulative grade point average (GPA).
4. Four Consecutive Years - A total of eight consecutive fall and spring semesters.

Policy Statement

Undergraduate, baccalaureate degree-seeking students who re-enroll or are reinstated following a four-year consecutive absence from the university may petition to have their cumulative GPA recalculated from the time of re-enrollment/reinstatement to the university.

Upon successful petition:

- Cumulative GPA will be reset to 0.00.
- All prior courses and grades will remain on the student's academic record and transcript.
- The notation of "Academic Forgiveness" will be recorded on the student's transcript.
- Courses previously earned at Temple University with grades of D+, D, D-, F and NC will not be used for credit. Credit will be considered for courses with grades of A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C- and CR. The student's department has final approval of credits that will count towards graduation. Schools/Colleges may disallow credits towards graduation for some older courses.

Re-enrolled or reinstated students electing the forgiveness option may repeat a course one additional time if they previously exhausted their repeat options for that course under the policy on Repeating a Course (policy # 02.10.12).

Once enacted, the reset GPA cannot be reversed.

Students are afforded one opportunity for Academic Forgiveness.

Notes

1. Dates of official enactment and amendments

Adopted by the president on February 8, 2011. Effective August 30, 2011 (Fall 2011).

2. History

Supersedes previous policies concerning Withdrawal; Repeat; and Academic Warning, Probation and Dismissal with effective dates prior to May 16, 2011.

3. Cross References

Policy # 02.10.12, Repeating a Course (Undergraduate)

Policy # 02.10.14, Withdrawal from Classes (Undergraduate and Graduate)

Policy # 02.10.11, Academic Standing (Undergraduate)

[Note: Academic Forgiveness students wishing to qualify for Latin honors at Graduation must complete a minimum of 60 earned credit hours at Temple following their reinstatement (i.e., excluding their earned credit hours allowed at the time of academic forgiveness)]

Academic Residency Requirements

Temple University requires that all undergraduate degree candidates complete 30 hours of the last 45 hours of the degree or program as matriculated students at Temple University. If a matriculated student previously took Temple courses on a non-matriculated basis, those courses are counted towards this requirement. See the policy on Transfer Credits.

To graduate with Latin Honors, a student must complete at least 60 semester hours of the program matriculated at Temple. See Honors.

Students should consult their school or college for additional academic residency requirements.

Academic Rights and Responsibilities

See Academic Rights and Responsibilities in the Student Rights section of the Bulletin.

Academic Standing (Undergraduate)

Scope of Policy & Rationale

Undergraduate baccalaureate and associate degree-seeking students are subject to the academic standing rules addressed in this policy¹ (Policy # 02.10.11).

Definitions

1. Academic Good Standing - A student is in Academic Good Standing if enrolled in an associate or baccalaureate degree-seeking program.
2. Academic Warning - The status of Academic Warning is applied when:
 - a) the most recent semester grade point average is less than a 2.0 or
 - b) the cumulative grade point average is below 2.0 prior to having earned 30 credit hours (or 20 credit hours for an associate-degree program) or
 - c) the student is an admitted transfer student in the first matriculated semester and is registered for 18 or fewer credits and whose semester grade point average is less than 2.0.
3. Academic Probation - The status of Academic Probation is applied to a student whose cumulative grade point average is below 2.0 after having accumulated 30 or more credit hours (or 20 or more credit hours for an associate degree program). However, transfer students in the first matriculated semester are subject to Academic Warning as specified in 2.c.
4. Academic Dismissal - A dismissed student is not in Academic Good Standing.

The status of Academic Dismissal is applied to a student who:

- a) accumulates more than 30 credit hours (or more than 20 credit hours for an associate degree program); and
- b) has had the status of Academic Probation in the most recent semester; and
- c) has a GPA below the allowable limit (See Appendix 1: Dismissal GPA by Total Institutional GPA Hours + Total Transfer Earned Hours).

Independently from a, b, and c above, the status of Academic Dismissal is applied to a student who:

d) has not successfully completed the following university requirements or equivalents (including Honors, English as a Second Language or other equivalent versions of these courses) after attempts allowable by policy 02.10.12, Repeating a Course (previous and equivalent versions of all courses included in the count):

- English 0701: Introduction to Academic Discourse
- English 0802: Analytical Reading and Writing
- IH 0851: Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I
- IH 0852: Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II
- Math 0701: Elementary Algebra

(See effective date at the end of this policy)

5. Institutional GPA hours include credit hours in all courses graded "A" through "F". Credit hours for repeated courses are calculated according to the course repeat policy.

Policy Statement

The university assesses academic standing and the statuses of warning, probation and dismissal based on academic performance following the fall and spring semesters. Academic Standing is not assessed as a result of grades earned during summer sessions.

However, those students who make their final attempts to repeat university requirements (as specified in 4.d. above) during the summer and who fail to achieve grades of C- or above will be dismissed during the summer as a result of not having successfully completed university requirements.

A student on Academic Warning or Academic Probation must meet with an advisor to discuss his/her academic standing. An advisor will help in planning a schedule of courses to assist the student in achieving an acceptable cumulative GPA. A student on academic warning will be able to self-register after this meeting; a student on Academic Probation must be registered by his/her advisor.

Reinstatement

A dismissed student may apply for reinstatement four years from the date of last enrollment at Temple University. At the time of application, all credit hours will be evaluated. Final determination of the acceptability of such courses is the responsibility of the academic unit.

A student may also apply for Academic Forgiveness (policy 02.10.17) at this time.

Notes

Dates of official enactment and amendments:

Amended by the President August 1, 2011. Effective May 16, 2011 (Summer Session I). Beginning May 10, 2012 (End of Spring Semester 2012), students will be dismissed when they fail to complete English 0701, English 0802, IH 0851, IH 0852, and Math 0701 or other equivalent versions of these courses in the requisite number of times per Policy 02.10.12, Repeating a Course.

Amended by the President on May 18, 2012. Beginning the end of Spring Semester 2012 and applying retroactively to the end of Fall 2011 semester, admitted transfer students in the first matriculated semester and who are registered for 18 or fewer credits and whose semester grade point average is less than 2.0 will be given the status of academic warning.

¹Academic Standing is determined by calculating Total Earned Transfer Hours plus Total Institutional GPA Hours. For Academic Forgiveness Students: Calculation includes Forgiveness Institutional Earned Hours (grades A through C- preceded by an asterisk) + Total Institutional GPA Hours + Total Transfer Earned Hours. Not included in Total Institutional GPA Hours: AU, CR, NC, HC, I, IC, IP, MG, NR, P, PI, R, S, W, WE, WF, WS. See your academic advisor for assistance.

Assessment of Student Learning

Temple University is committed to providing superior educational opportunities to its students. To help us maintain quality academic offerings, the University and its programs regularly examine the effectiveness of the curricula, teaching, services, and programs the University provides. As Temple University sees appropriate, it may retain representative examples or copies of student work. This might include papers, exams, creative works, or portfolios developed and submitted in courses or to satisfy the requirements for degree program(s).

In addition to regularly collecting and reviewing student work, Temple University may summarize the results of this review, and use the information to improve programs and enhance student learning. Some of this assessment may also be necessary for Temple University or its programs to demonstrate it meets the standards of external review or accrediting bodies.

Typically, results will be reported in a general, summary format and students' names will not appear on the collected examples. Cohorts may be tracked for specific educational purposes, but the expectation is that assessment will be anonymous. Identifiers will only be used when there is a compelling reason and educational value.

Questions about the assessment of student learning at Temple University may be directed to the Office of the Deputy Provost, 215-204-8873 or assessment@temple.edu.

Athletic Policies

Academic Eligibility

Initial and continuing academic eligibility requirements for student-athletes relative to NCAA guidelines are stated below. Student-athletes participating in the sports of baseball and/or football may have additional academic requirements regarding eligibility for competition. Please direct questions regarding academic/athletic eligibility to the Athletics Certifying Officer at 215-204-2507.

1. Temple University is a member of the NCAA Division I-A level of competition. This division of the NCAA requires all student-athletes first entering college to enroll and be certified by the NCAA Eligibility Center.
2. Student-athletes must be registered and attending a minimum of 12 semester hours. They may not withdraw from courses that would put them below 12 semester hours without prior approval from the Athletic Academic Advisor or Athletics Certifying Officer.
3. Student-athletes must pass 6 credits each semester, 18 credits each academic year, accumulate 24 credit hours, and maintain a 1.8 cumulative grade point average after their first two full-time semesters of attendance.
4. Student-athletes must officially declare a major prior to the beginning of their fifth semester of full-time enrollment of college. In addition, the student-athlete must have completed at least 40% of the declared major and maintain a 1.9 cumulative grade point average before the first date of competition.

5. Student-athletes are required to complete 60% of their declared major and maintain a 2.0 cumulative grade point average before the first date of competition of their seventh semester. Student-athletes entering their ninth semester of full-time enrollment will need to meet 80% of a declared major and maintain a 2.0 cumulative grade point average.
6. Student-athletes must remain in "Good Standing" each semester as determined by Temple University.
7. Transfer student-athletes from two-year institutions may need to graduate with an Associate's degree before entering Temple University for immediate consideration for practice/"try-out" opportunity.
8. Initial and Transfer student-athletes are also bound by a 5-year clock that begins at the time of first full-time enrollment at any institution of higher education.

Athletic Eligibility

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to practices, procedures and policies that are designed to assure proper emphasis on educational objectives, to promote competitive equity among institutions and to prevent the exploitation of student-athletes.

Eligibility to represent Temple University in intercollegiate competition as a varsity athlete is a privilege and not a right. Additionally, Division I athletic eligibility standards are more rigorous than other divisions. Factors which constitute athletic eligibility include, but may not be limited to:

- Amateurism
- Medical Certification
- Behavior and Conduct

Attendance

See Attendance in the Student Responsibilities section of the Bulletin.

Audit

There may be circumstances under which a student will wish to audit a course, i.e., participate in the class without earning academic credit, credit hours, or grades.

The student must have written permission of the instructor and of the dean of the college on a special approval form. Full tuition is charged, and standard payment procedures apply.

Change of registration from credit to audit, or from audit to credit, may be processed only during the following periods:

- before the end of the second week of the fall or spring semesters.
- before the end of the third day of classes during summer sessions.

Code of Conduct

The Temple University Student Code of Conduct can be viewed at http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.12. Printed copies are available at the Dean of Students' Office. Other information about the Student Code of Conduct may also be found in the Responsibilities and Rights section of this Bulletin.

Course Numbering System

Effective first summer session 2007, Temple University began using a new course numbering system. Specific details about the course numbering system as well as a course number search tool can be found at <http://renumbering.temple.edu>.

All courses have full four-digit numbers. The first digit of a course identifies its level.

- Courses numbered A000 - U000 are reserved for transferred elective and generic credits.
- Courses numbered 0700 - 0999 are reserved for preparatory courses, General Education courses and Honors General Education courses.
- Courses numbered 1000 - 1999 are appropriate for undergraduate students in their first year of study.

Courses numbered 2000 - 5999 are considered "upper level" for undergraduates.

- Courses numbered 2000 - 2999 are appropriate for undergraduate students in their second year of study.
- Courses numbered 3000 - 3999 are appropriate for undergraduate students in their third year of study.
- Courses numbered 4000 - 4999 are appropriate for undergraduate students in their fourth year of study.
- Courses numbered 5000 - 5999 are primarily for graduate students, but undergraduate students in their third or fourth year may enroll with permission of their instructors and the dean's designee.
- Courses numbered 8000 - 9999 are for graduate students.

Other classifications and definitions for undergraduate courses:

- 0700 - 0799 Preparatory Courses: Courses numbered from 0700-0799 are appropriate for undergraduate, first-year math and writing courses. Students' math and writing placement examination results determine these course-level selections.
- 0800 - 0899 General Education Courses: Courses numbered from 0800-0899 are appropriate for any undergraduate General Education course requirements.
- 0900 - 0999 General Education Honors Courses: Courses numbered 0900-0999 are appropriate for any undergraduate General Education Honors course requirements.

- xxx0 Special Topics: Regularly-scheduled courses (not individualized instruction) offered with variable content, and repeatable for credit.
- x9xx Honors Courses: Undergraduate Honors courses will be identified by a 9 as the second digit of the course number and will have "Honors" as the first word of the title. The 9 in the second position will not be used by any non-Honors undergraduate course. General Education Honors courses are designated 09xx.
- xx81 Cooperative Assignment: Increasingly complex, experiential learning with supervision external to the university. Usually these courses include learning experiences over more than one semester - as part of a defined program.
- xx82 Independent Study: Explorative study or research initiated by an undergraduate student with faculty sponsorship and an approved Independent Study contract.
- xx83 Directed Reading/Study: Mentored reading/study between a faculty member and an undergraduate student.
- xx84 Performance: Concert performance, juried art exhibition or other performance taken as a requirement for the degree.
- xx85 Internship/Externship: Pre-professional clinical or experiential traineeships contracted by the student's department, including experiences with a clinical, research, or other special concentration in a specific area. Students must have faculty sponsorship and an approved Internship/Externship contract.
- xx86 Internship/Externship: Reserved for a continuation of an internship/externship experience, following xx85.
- xx87 Practicum: Programs that are traineeships contracted by the student's department to meet the educational, geographic, and specific interests of the student. Settings generally have on-site clinical supervision.
- xx88 Student Teaching: Practical experiences in student teaching designed to support and lead to teacher certification.
- xx89 Field Study: On-site, observational study or data collection and analyses which deepen practical knowledge in the discipline. The purpose of the Field Study is to integrate and apply academic theories to on-site experiences.
- xx91 Directed Research: Mentored research between a faculty mentor and an undergraduate student.
- xx92 Undefined
- xx93 Undefined
- xx94 Undefined
- xx95 Undefined
- xx96 Writing-Intensive Course: Courses fulfilling the requirement of the General Education Program that each undergraduate major designates at least two courses as "writing-intensive." The designated courses shall require students to edit and rewrite papers to achieve a high level of clarity and cogency, use a variety of methods to find appropriate materials to support written work and to make proper attribution of those sources.
- xx97 Writing-Intensive Course
- xx98 Writing-Intensive Course
- xx99 Undergraduate Thesis: Sustained research, performance or artistic project resulting in a substantial, finished written report or other product in a format appropriate to the project. Assumes faculty sponsorship and mentorship.

For more specific policies, consult individual schools, colleges, or programs.

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Semester hours earned in some courses are excluded from the total minimum semester hours or earned credit hours required for graduation from some schools and colleges. While policies vary among schools and colleges, courses inapplicable to graduation requirements generally are ELECT, Mathematics 0015 (formerly Mathematics 0001), Russell Conwell Center courses, and lower-level Military Science (ROTC) courses.

For specific information, see Policies and Regulations: Courses Inapplicable to Graduation in each school and college's section in this Bulletin, or consult academic advisors.

Courses Over Ten Years Old

In admitting transfer or returning students, the university will, when possible, allow credit for courses taken ten or more years prior to the date of admission or re-enrollment.

However, academic units may choose not to accept courses regardless of age for credit in the major. Courses of a technical nature or courses in a particularly dynamic field may not be accepted for credit.

Final determination of the acceptability of such sources is the responsibility of academic units in the schools and colleges and generally occurs after the student has matriculated or been re-enrolled.

Credit/No Credit Courses

Eligible students may want to take a course in an area in which they are not proficient or about which they are curious, while not risking their grade point average. Such students, with certain provisions, may be graded using the Credit/No Credit (CR/NC) grading option.

Students may select the CR/NC grading option or return to the traditional grading option only during the first two weeks of a fall or spring semester course and during the first three days of a first or second summer session course, with the written authorization of their advisor and dean.

Eligibility is limited to:

- matriculated, full-time students
- those in academic good standing
- juniors or seniors (60 or more semester hours)

Courses are restricted to:

- non-required electives

- one CR/NC course per semester
- maximum of four CR/NC courses toward the degree

No grade points are assigned to either the CR or NC grade. CR is equivalent to grades of D- or higher. NC is equivalent to F. The semester hours earned are credited toward the total required for graduation. Because CR and NC yield no grade points, they are not included in divisor hours for calculating the grade point average. CR and NC are not included in calculating cumulative credits for determining academic actions specified in the Undergraduate Policy on Academic Standing.

Credit for Prior learning

Temple University awards limited academic credit and course placement to students based on previous academic, employment, military and/or other learning experiences not earned in a traditional classroom setting.

Credit for Prior Learning (formerly Non-Traditional Credit) may be earned through courses approved for transfer from other institutions, Advanced Placement Tests, International Baccalaureate Exams, the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSST), military experience, and prior work or life experience (portfolio).

Limitations on credit earned through Credit for Prior Learning are as follows: (1) the credit must be useful in a student's program of study; (2) duplicate credit in the same course is not awarded in any case; (3) credit is only awarded in academic subjects with a corresponding Temple department.

Credit for Prior Learning will not be awarded for a course in which a student is currently enrolled and/or have previously received a letter grade for the course (including, but not limited to, an F, W, AU, or I).

Official transcripts for courses from other institutions, military transcripts and official score reports should be sent directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. The Undergraduate Admissions office determines which credits will transfer to the University (See Admissions: Transfer Credit), whereas the academic unit to which the student has been admitted determines how credits will be used to fulfill degree requirements in a student's program of study. Evaluation of Credit for Prior Learning is based on a student's major; transfer evaluations may change for students who change majors.

If Credit for Prior Learning is awarded, a student's university record will carry notation of credit, but no grade will be recorded. Credit awarded will not affect a student's grade point average at Temple University. Credits are expressed in semester hours. Courses evaluated for transfer from colleges and universities with different credit systems (quarter hours, units) are converted to semester hours (i.e., 2 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 1.5 semester hour credits; 3 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 2.0 semester hour credits; 4 quarter hour credits are equivalent to 2.5 semester hour credits).

Credit for Prior Learning does not apply to the minimum number of credits (60) required to earn Latin Honors at graduation. Credit for Prior Learning credits are not counted toward Academic Residency.

Credit for Prior Learning can be counted toward eligibility for the 45+ Transfer GenEd. See General Education Curriculum: GenEd Transfer Programs for more information.

A student seeking credit for CLEP or prior work or life experience should discuss options with their academic advising unit in their first year of matriculation at Temple. The student is responsible for any fees related to the assessment and posting of these Prior Learning credits.

Colleges and Schools may have limitations on the type and number of Prior Learning credits that can be applied to a degree. Please see link in each category for additional school and college specific details.

Advanced Placement Tests

Temple awards college credits to students who in high school participated in the Advanced Placement program sponsored by the College Examination Board as based on the score and the exam subject. For a detailed listing of AP equivalencies, required scores, and School or College specific details, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/CPL.htm#AP.

Students should have taken these tests in high school and should have their scores sent directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. AP credits will not be taken from college transcripts. Transfer students must request Educational Testing Services to send their official Advanced Placement Test scores to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

Advanced Placement equivalencies will be reviewed periodically and are subject to change. Students will receive the equivalency that is in effect at Temple at the time of their matriculation.

International Baccalaureate

Temple awards college credits to students who in high school participated in the International Baccalaureate Program. Credit is awarded based on the score and the exam subject. For a detailed listing of IB equivalencies, required scores, and School or College specific details, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/CPL.htm#IB.

Additionally, students who have earned the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma and meet minimum eligibility requirements complete the International Baccalaureate General Education Program (IB GenEd Program) in place of the Full GenEd requirements. See www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/TransferGenEd.htm#ibgened for details.

Students should have taken these tests in high school and should have their scores sent directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions; IB credits will not be taken from college transcripts. Transfer students must request a copy of their official International Baccalaureate exam scores be sent to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP)

CLEP provides a mechanism for students to meet the requirements of a class through examination. Temple recognizes students' prior learning by accepting the CLEP tests indicated in the CLEP equivalencies chart. For a detailed listing of CLEP equivalencies, required scores, and School or College specific details, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/CPL.htm#CLEP.

All literature, history, and political science examinations require an essay in order to receive credit at Temple. Students planning to take CLEP tests are urged to do so no later than the semester before they expect to graduate. Information about test dates, fees, and the application process may be obtained from the Measurement and Research Center, 12th Floor, Carnell Hall, Main Campus, 215-204-8611.

Transfer students can earn credit through prior CLEP exams if their scores meet the Temple credit-granting standards. They should have their CLEP scores sent directly to their academic advising center. If that college approves the granting of CLEP credit, it is posted to the student's record by the Office of the University Registrar.

DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSST)

DSST exams provide a mechanism for students to meet the requirements of a class through examination. Temple recognizes students' prior learning by accepting the DSST exams completed prior to matriculation according to the ACE (American Council on Education) guide recommendations. For credit to be awarded, the credit must be useful in a student's program of study. Credit is only awarded in the academic subjects with a corresponding Temple department. For school or college specific details, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/CPL.htm#DANTES.

Military Experience

Temple awards college credit for documented military experience according to the ACE (American Council on Education) guide recommendations. Examples of acceptable documentation for military experience include, but are not limited to: AARTS (Army/ACE Registry Transcript System), SMART (Sailor/Marine/ACE Registry Transcript), or Community College of the Air Force Transcript. For credit to be awarded, the credit must be useful in a student's program of study. Credit is only awarded in the academic subjects with a corresponding Temple department. Colleges and schools may have limitations on the type and number of Military Experience credits that can be applied to a degree. For school or college specific details, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/CPL.htm#MilExp.

Assessment of Prior Learning Outside of the Academic Classroom

Decisions to assess prior learning experiences outside of the academic classroom are made by the individual schools and colleges. An evaluation of work experience for a specific subject area may be based on the submission of papers, presentation of a portfolio of completed work, and/or a demonstration of acquired skills.

Credit so granted is based on a faculty evaluation of the respective learning experiences in terms of their identified relationship to the knowledge and skills required, either in the pursuit of educational programs in the college or in the performance of tasks related to the substance of study. Semester hours credited toward the minimum number for a degree are always granted relevant to a specific program. If students change their programs of study, semester hours credited toward an earlier program of study may not be recognized in the new program.

Credit for relevant prior learning outside of the academic classroom, if approved, will be posted only after the completion of a minimum of 30 credits of formal coursework at the university.

Approval of relevant prior learning credit must be in writing over the signature of at least one sponsoring faculty member, the appropriate department or committee chairperson, and the dean of the college that is granting the credit.

The total number of semester hours granted through non-traditional means varies according to the individual colleges or programs, and individual colleges or programs may choose not to grant any credit for prior learning outside of the academic classroom. A per-credit fee is charged, regardless of the final outcome.

Grades are not assigned for credits earned through prior learning outside of the academic classroom.

Each college engaged in the assessment of academic and work experiences determines its own procedures for review and testing; students should contact the appropriate advising office for information about the procedures for assessment. For school or college specific details, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/CPL.htm#PWEx.

Dean's List

Dean's List eligibility is determined by the semester grade point average (GPA) corresponding to cut-off points that will yield the top 16% of GPAs based on the five previous fall and spring semesters for each school or college. Students must have 12 graded credits (A to F grades) in order to be eligible for dean's list for the fall or the spring semesters.

Students who begin in the fall as part-time (i.e., registered for fewer than 12 credits) and continue as part-time in the spring will be eligible for dean's list in the spring if they accumulate at least 12 graded credits (A to F grades) over the fall and spring semesters and meet the GPA criteria listed on the chart for the school or college. If a student is enrolled part-time in the fall but full-time in the spring, eligibility for dean's list will be based on spring semester grades.

For fall 2012 and spring 2013, the cut-offs for dean's list eligibility are:

College	GPA Cut-off

Center for the Arts (Division of Theater, Film & Media Arts)	3.73

Declaration of Major

Students admitted to Temple for fall 2002 and after must be enrolled as a major in a degree-granting program in a school or college by the time they have completed 60 credits, including any credits transferred from another institution.

Students admitted to Temple with 60 or more transfer credits will be matriculated directly into a degree-granting program, rather than as “undeclared” in a school or college or the Division of University Studies.

Students declare a major either by completing their school’s or college’s declaration of major process (see specific school or college section in this Bulletin) or by completing an intra-university transfer to another Temple school or college (see the policy on Transfer between Colleges within the University).

Individual schools and colleges may require students to declare a major earlier than 60 credits. Students should consult the policies and regulations of their own school/college for any additional guidelines regarding declaration of major.

Disciplinary Action

The Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards, located in Room 318 in the Howard Gittis Student Center, is responsible for administering the Student Conduct Code. Violations of the university's Conduct Code, including among other things, stealing, cheating, disorderly conduct, plagiarism, and illegal possession/use of alcohol and other drugs, may result in a student being brought before one of the Student Conduct Boards, as outlined in the Student Conduct Code. Student Conduct and Community Standards facilitates the student conduct process striving to create a campus environment conducive to learning. The process is designed to help students realize their role in maintaining campus civility through educational programming and sanctioning as well as through the participants on the student conduct boards.

The Student Conduct Code can be found online at the Temple University’s Policies web site: http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=03.70.12.

Double Major Across Colleges

A student who meets the major requirements of two departments may declare, and have recorded on his or her transcript, a double major. Students who graduate with a double major across two colleges are required to complete all university requirements (General Education) and the requirements of both majors (including two Writing Intensive courses for each major), but only one set of college graduation requirements. The student must obtain prior approval from both schools or colleges. One department must be declared the primary department for the purpose of registration and college graduation requirements. (Students considering a double major across colleges should ask academic advisors in both colleges about college policies related to choosing the primary department.)

Final Examinations

University policies require that final examinations be given only during the university-approved final examination days as noted on the academic calendar, which is available at www.temple.edu/registrar.

For day classes on Main and Ambler campuses, a detailed examination schedule, by day and time, is available at www.temple.edu/registrar; this information is also circulated at the beginning of each semester.

Final examinations for evening classes on Main and Ambler campuses, TUCC classes, and Health Sciences Center classes are given at the regular class time during final examination week.

For both day and evening Ambler classes, a detailed examination schedule, by day and time, is circulated to the faculty and posted to the Ambler web site at www.temple.edu/ambler/ac_services/registration.htm.

Some courses have common final examination times. (Consult the registrar's final examination schedule for a complete list.)

Instructors are encouraged to make individual accommodations with students who have more than two (2) examinations scheduled on one day.

Grade Change

No change of final grade for a completed course will be made without the approval of the instructor's dean or designee. Deans will consider the grade change upon receipt of the instructor's written explanation. No grade will be changed after the baccalaureate degree is awarded.

Grade Point Average (GPA)

Each student's transcript indicates the credit hours completed and passed, grade points, and grade point average (GPA).

The GPA also appears on a student's DARS reports or the academic advising document as well as the Self-Service Banner (SSB) and official transcripts.

A student's GPA may be useful in assessing academic progress, in determining eligibility for specific programs, or in determining eligibility for Honors or other awards.

No change in a student's GPA is made after the baccalaureate degree is awarded.

To Compute Semester Grade Point Average:

1. Multiply the value of the grade (see policy on Grades and Grading below) by the course's number of credit hours to get quality points (QPs).
2. Add the total quality points.
3. Divide total number of quality points by the total number of GPA hours completed in courses that yield quality points.

Note: Not included in GPA computations: AU, CR, NC, HC, I, IC, IP, MG, NR, P, PI, R, S, W, WE, WF, WS. Also see policy on Repeating a Course.

To Compute Cumulative Grade Point Average:

Divide the total number of quality points by the total number of GPA hours completed in courses that yield quality points.

Note: Not included in GPA computations: I, IC, IP, MG, NR, CR, NC, R, P, AU, W, WE, WS, PI. Also see policy on Repeating a Course.

For credit transferred from other institutions, no grade points are allowed. See also Repeating a Course.

Grades and Grading

Semester Grades

The work of all undergraduate students is graded and reported at the end of each semester. Students may access their semester grades on Self Service Banner within 48 hours of the end of the examination period for that semester.

Three systems are in use for grading and reporting students' work:

1. Letter grades and points
A	4.00 Excellent
A–	3.67
B+	3.33
B	3.00 Good
B–	2.67
C+	2.33
C	2.00 Fair
C–	1.67
D+	1.33
D	1.00
D–	.67 Passing
F	.00 Failed
Note: Although D- is a passing grade, a minimum grade of C- is required in General Education courses and, in many programs, courses required by the major.
2. Credit/No Credit
CR	Equivalent to A, A–, B+, B, B–, C+, C, C–, D+, D or D–
NC	Equivalent to F
Note: In the Credit/No Credit system, no grade points are assigned, but a limited number of credits in courses in which students earn the CR designation counts toward the total credit hours completed. See Credit/No Credit Courses .
3. Other transcript notations
AU	Audit
I	Incomplete
IC	Incomplete in a Credit/No Credit course
IP	Incomplete pass/fail course
MG	Grade temporarily missing
NR	Grade not reported
P	Passed grade
PI	Permanent incomplete
W	Withdrawal from course
WE	Withdrawal with approved excuse
WS	Withdrawal from the semester (historical)

For more information, see the policies on Audit, Credit/No Credit Courses, Incomplete Coursework, and Withdrawal Policies in this Bulletin.

Academic Progress in Lower-Division Courses

Students in lower-level courses (numbered below 2000) receive a mid-semester rating report indicating that their work to date is satisfactory or unsatisfactory or that they have not been attending the course. This report is available on Self Service Banner by the end of the sixth week of fall and spring semesters.

Graduation Procedures

As students approach the end of their undergraduate careers, they must make sure that they are eligible for, and can participate in, graduation ceremonies.

In their junior year, or when 80 semester hours have been completed, students should begin an ongoing graduation check with their academic advisors in order to determine that they are meeting the university, college, departmental, and program requirements for their degree and for graduation.

Early in the semester in which graduation requirements will be completed, students complete an Application for Graduation.

Questions about this process or graduation status should be directed to the student's Advising Office or Academic Dean's Office.

Application deadlines are:

- February 16 for May graduation
- June 1 for August graduation
- October 15 for January graduation

Earlier deadlines may be in effect in some academic units.

The Application for Graduation must be properly completed, particularly the areas relating to the resolution of incompletes and diploma instructions. Information concerning commencement activities (such as time, place, invitations, rental of academic regalia) is available to students once they have submitted their completed Application for Graduation. Students will not have their degree awarded or diploma or transcript released until all university tuition and fees have been paid.

Grievances

See Grievances in the Student Rights section of the Bulletin.

Honors for Academic Achievement

Temple University recognizes academic achievement in several ways.

Dean's Lists

Dean's Lists record the names of those full-time students in each school or college who completed a semester's work with 12 graded credits and meet the GPA criteria as outlined in the Dean's List policy. In addition, part-time students who have accumulated at least 12 graded credits across an academic year (fall and spring semesters) are eligible to be considered for Dean's List recognition in the spring.

For further information, see the Dean's List policy in the Academic Policies section of the Bulletin, check under your school or college listing in the Bulletin, or contact your school or college Advising Center.

Graduation (Latin) Honors

Latin Honors are awarded based on estimation procedures that are intended to yield 2% Summa, 5% Magna, and 9% Cum Laude awards for baccalaureate recipients from each Temple school and college. Graduates who have completed at least 60 credits at Temple are eligible for the appropriate honor if their cumulative grade point average (CGPA) is equal to or greater than the cut-off value established for the honor. (Students returning to the university following Academic Forgiveness may qualify for Latin Honors if they have a minimum of 60 earned hours in addition to the approved earned hours allowed at the time of Academic Forgiveness.)

Awards for August 2012, January 2013 and May 2013 graduates are based on cutoff scores computed from CGPAs earned by August 2007 through May 2012 graduates. In July of each year, the cut-off values will be updated to include the most recent five-year cycle of CGPAs.

The cut-off values for calculating eligibility for Summa, Magna, and Cum Laude Honors for August 2012, January 2013, and May 2013 graduates are listed in the table below along with the schedule for updating the cut-off values.

Incomplete Coursework

An instructor will file an "I" (Incomplete) only if the student has completed the majority of the work of the course at a passing level, and only for reasons beyond the student's control.

An instructor may file an "I" when a student has not completed the work of a course by the time grades must be submitted, but has completed the majority of the work at a passing level and has a written agreement with the instructor and the department regarding completion of the work, including the nature of the work to be completed, the means by which the final grade will be determined, and the date by which the work must be completed. The completion date may be no later than one year from the end of the semester in which the student took the course. The agreement shall also specify a default grade to be received if the work is not completed by the date indicated. One copy of the agreement shall be retained by the instructor, one shall be given to the student, and one shall be filed with the department office or, in colleges or schools without departments, the Dean's office.

When reporting the grade of "I" for a student, the instructor shall also file a report of the default grade in the electronic grading system. If the instructor does not change the grade of "I", pursuant to the agreement with the student, by the end of one year from the time the grade of "I" was awarded, the appropriate University official shall automatically change the grade of "I" to the reported default grade, and the default grade shall appear on the transcript and be used for all other grading purposes as the actual grade received in the course.

Faculty advisors and staff advisors have the option of not permitting a student to register for an "overload" if the student is carrying one or more active incomplete courses, or for a "full load" if the student is carrying two or more active incompletes.

(policy # 02.10.13)

Leave of Absence

Students may apply for a Leave of Absence (LOA) through the end of the drop/add period of any given semester. An LOA may be granted for one or two consecutive semesters, excluding summer sessions. Under special circumstances, an extension to an approved LOA may be considered, but some of the privileges listed below may not apply.

Students granted an LOA retain their admitted student status and remain eligible for the following privileges:

- Retain the university requirements in place for their academic programs at the time of their first semester at Temple and the requirements in place for their major, concentration, minor or certificate at the time they declared them.
- Temple e-mail access.
- Priority and self registration for the approved semester of return.
- Library access and borrowing privileges.

Students granted LOA are not considered registered students and as non-enrolled students are not eligible for:

- Financial aid disbursements during the semesters while on LOA. Students on an LOA are reported to lenders and loan service agencies as "not enrolled" and need to contact lenders for information on possible repayment requirements.
- Enrollment verification since they are reported as "not enrolled," which could affect eligibility for health insurance, etc.
- Use of Student Health Services during the semesters while on LOA or any other university services not listed in the previous section.
- Campus Housing during their LOA.

Students may return earlier than the original agreed return date by providing notice to their schools/colleges as soon as possible, keeping in mind applicable deadlines for registration, financial aid, etc.

Students who do not return following the approved term for their LOA, or those students who did not apply for LOA, need to apply for re-enrollment to their schools/colleges if they wish to continue their coursework. Re-enrolled students do not retain their original bulletin year nor major declaration requirements and must follow the most current requirements for their schools/colleges and majors.

Students taking an approved medical withdrawal (WE) in a current semester are not considered to be on LOA.

To obtain the Undergraduate Leave of Absence Petition form, visit the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies web site (www.temple.edu/vpus) and click on "Advising Forms."

Lower Division Student Academic Progress

Instructors in lower-division freshman and sophomore courses will provide evaluations of student progress by the end of the fifth week of class. It is the course instructor's responsibility to complete and return an early report indicating satisfactory or unsatisfactory progress for each student. Students will receive mid-semester ratings in Self Service Banner for each lower-division course taken.

(policy # 02.10.15)

Continuing Degree Seeking (Matriculated) Students

Beginning in academic year 2011-2012, the term "matriculated student" has been replaced by "continuing degree seeking student." Continuing degree seeking students are those who have applied, been accepted, and enrolled in a degree program of the university during the semester for which they were admitted.

Completion of course credits before becoming a continuing degree seeking student does not assure the acceptance of those credits into the program of study.

Non-Degree Seeking Students

Non-degree seeking students are those who have not been admitted formally to a degree program. For information and academic advising for non-degree seeking students, see Programs with Academic Credit in the Special Programs section of the Bulletin and the Office of Continuing Studies web site.

Non-degree seeking undergraduate students who wish to pursue a degree are required to apply for admission to a degree program before they complete 30 credits in Continuing Studies. To enroll in undergraduate courses, students must have earned a high school diploma or a G.E.D. certificate. Students who have attended another college or university must have earned at least a 2.00 GPA and provide a transcript (official or unofficial) of their previous academic work.

Prior to their enrollment, non-degree seeking students who wish to pursue a degree are required to take one or more University placement tests. (Some transfer students may be exempt from this requirement. To find out if they are exempt or not, transfer students are strongly encouraged to seek guidance from a Continuing Studies academic advisor prior to taking this test.)

Non-degree seeking undergraduate students are not permitted to take more than 11 credits during their first semester.

Non-degree seeking undergraduate students who are accepted into an undergraduate degree program may count their Temple, non-degree credits toward their residency requirements.

Permission to Complete a Course at Another Institution After Matriculation

The university expects that undergraduate students who are earning a Temple degree take all (or almost all) of their courses at Temple. However, once at Temple, students in good academic standing who meet all student and course eligibility criteria are allowed to transfer credit for two summer or special session courses (up to a maximum of 8 credits) taken elsewhere toward their Temple baccalaureate degree. Students will not receive credit for courses taken at another institution while matriculated at Temple, unless prior permission is received from their school or college through their advising center. (For information on the approval process for students studying abroad, go to: www.temple.edu/studyabroad/transfer_approval.html).

To be eligible to complete the Petition to Complete a Course(s) at Another Institution After Matriculation the following criteria must be met:

- The student's cumulative grade point average must be 2.00 or above at the time of this petition.
- At the time of admission or reenrollment the student had fewer than 60 credits in transfer.
- The student has met the prerequisites for the course(s).
- The course cannot be available through Temple's distance learning program.
- The course cannot be a duplicate of a course for which the student has already received credit.
- The course cannot be a duplicate of a course previously attempted (earned a letter grade, failed, withdrawn or incomplete) at Temple.

Students must apply during the semester prior to the one in which they wish to take the course(s) elsewhere.

Students must complete a "Petition to Complete a Course(s) at Another Institution After Matriculation" form obtained either from their advising center or at www.temple.edu/vpus/forms/index.htm.

- If the course(s) equivalency is not listed in the Transfer Articulation system, the course must be evaluated by the relevant Department's designee/representative. The Department designee/representative must note the approved evaluation on the petition and return the form to the student so it can be filed in his/her advising records. (Transfer credits cannot be added without a completed form.)
- Students will not receive credit for courses taken at another institution while matriculated at Temple, unless prior permission is received from their school or college through their advising center.

Students should note that:

- Credits will be transferred to Temple only upon the completion of the course(s) with a grade of "C-" or better. See Admissions: Transfer Credit.
- Some Temple schools and colleges have additional limitations on the kind or number of transfer credits accepted.

- Once matriculated at Temple, it is expected that General Education courses be completed at Temple.
- Transfer credit is not awarded for internships, practical, field studies or independent studies not supervised by Temple University faculty. Students should check with their School/College academic advisor for exceptions.
- Students may also receive transfer credit for courses taken through a pre-approved study abroad program. However, students planning to receive transfer credit for courses completed on a non-Temple program must complete the form "Request for Approval to Study Abroad on a non-Temple Program" for course equivalency approvals. For information about Temple study abroad programs, see Education Abroad. For information about receiving permission to study abroad through another institution, see Study Abroad Approval Procedures for External Programs.
- Transfer credits do not affect a student's Temple grade point average.
- A student cannot receive credit for the same course twice.
- Grades earned in transfer courses cannot be used to replace grades earned in the Temple equivalent courses.
- A student will not be approved to take a course(s) at another institution if it is the third time that the student will have taken the course(s).
- Thirty (30) of a student's last 45 credits must be taken at Temple University. (Some majors have additional residency requirements.) See Academic Residency Requirements.
- To be eligible for Latin Honors at graduation, a student must complete a minimum of 60 semester hours of the program while matriculated at Temple.

Once a student has received prior permission and taken a course elsewhere, the student must have an official transcript from that institution sent to the Admissions Office as soon the transcript is available.

Go to the Measurement and Research Center web site at www.temple.edu/marc/placements for details.

Prerequisites and Co-requisites

A course prerequisite is any requirement an academic department identifies as essential for a student to complete before taking a course. The university is responsible for publishing prerequisite requirements. All prerequisites, whether they apply to an individual course or to all courses in a department, should be stated in the electronic version of the university's Course Catalog. They should also be stated in the course syllabus.

Course prerequisites consist of one or more of the following: completion of placement or proficiency tests or other assessments; achievement of specified scores on placement or proficiency tests or other assessments; possession of specified knowledge or skills; approval after audition; approval of portfolio; declaration of major or admission to restricted program; completion of specific courses, sets of courses, and/or kinds of courses; completion of a specified number of semester hours or achievement of a specified class level; achievement of specified grades in prerequisite courses or sets of courses; achievement of a specified GPA; approval of an application or proposal; permission of the instructor, department, or other person or office; satisfaction of other specified requirements.

Students are responsible for knowing and completing all published prerequisite requirements for a course before taking that course. The university has the obligation to inform students of prerequisite requirements. It has the right to cancel a student's registration in a course if the student has not satisfied the published prerequisite requirements for that course.

A course co-requisite is a requirement that must be completed at the same time as the course for which it is required. The university is responsible for publishing co-requisite requirements. All co-requisites, whether they apply to an individual course or to all courses in a department, should be stated in the electronic version of the university's Course Catalog. They should also be stated in the course syllabus. Co-requisites may be specified courses, permissions, admission to programs, and/or other requirements. Students are responsible for knowing and completing all published co-requisite requirements for a course. The university has the obligation to inform students of co-requisite requirements and the right to cancel a student's registration in a course if the student has not arranged to satisfy the co-requisite requirements for that course.

Probation and Dismissal

Registration

See the Registration section of the Bulletin.

Repeating a Course

Undergraduate and graduate students may repeat a course to earn a higher grade; only the highest grade earned will be used in calculating the grade point average. Undergraduate and graduate students will not be permitted to repeat a course more than twice.

Definitions

The term "repeat" is applied when a student retakes a course. Except for courses designated to be taken multiple times, such as independent study, research, or other courses, credit for a given course will be granted only once.

Policy Statement

All students are permitted to repeat a course one time. Students who need to repeat a course a second time must obtain the approval of the dean/designee of their home school or college and be registered with assistance. No students may repeat a course a third time.

If a course was taken previously with a standard grading option, it cannot be repeated with a credit/no credit grading option. Students are responsible for ensuring registration carries the appropriate grading option. All occurrences of a course where a grade is earned, including withdrawals (W) and withdrawals excused (WE), appear on the transcript, but only the highest grade earned is used in calculating the grade point average. Since credits are awarded only once for a course, repeats can affect athletic eligibility, academic standing and financial aid status.

All course withdrawals, with the exception of "withdrawal with approved excuse (WE)" are included in the course repeat count (see policy # 02.10.14 Withdrawal from Classes).

First repeat: Undergraduate students are strongly encouraged to meet with an academic advisor prior to registration to discuss academic and financial implications.

Graduate students seeking to repeat a course are required to meet with an academic advisor to register.

Second repeat: Undergraduate and graduate students must obtain the approval of the dean/designee of their home school or college and be registered with assistance.

If in the allotted number of repeats, students are unable to successfully complete the following university requirements (including their course equivalencies), they will be dismissed from the university:

- English 0701: Introduction to Academic Discourse
- English 0802: Analytical Reading and Writing
- IH 0851: Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I
- IH 0852: Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II
- Math 0701: Elementary Algebra

Students unable to successfully complete courses that are required for their majors or school/college requirements in the allotted number of repeats must meet with their academic advisors to discuss alternate graduation plans. Students who have exhausted course attempts for course(s) required for their major will be required to change majors. If the selected new major does not require the course in question, it is possible that the new major may be in the same school or college. Students who have exhausted allowable course attempts in course(s) required for their degree program (school/college requirements) will be required to transfer internally (IUT) within the university from their current school or college to a school or college degree program that does not require the course in question.

Following the awarding of a degree, no changes in the grade point average will be made, even through the repeat process.

Notes

1. Dates of official enactment and amendments

Adopted by the president on November 13, 2002. First effective on September 1, 2003.
Amended by the president on February 8, 2011. Effective May 2011 (for Summer Session I)--GPA calculation with highest grade. Effective March 2012 (for Summer I, II and Fall 2012 registrations)--maximum number of course repeats including their course equivalencies.

2. History

The February 8, 2011 amendment added the limit on the number of repeats.
The May 18, 2012 amendment clarified that students who have exhausted allowable course attempts in courses required for the major or school/college degree requirements may be required to change majors or transfer internally within Temple to another school or college.

Supersedes

This policy supersedes all other policies and procedures related to repeating a course.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Satisfactory academic progress is determined by a number of factors, including a student's semester grade point average, cumulative grade point average, and the number of semester hours attempted and completed. A student's progress is reviewed at the end of each semester by the student's Temple school or college and may affect the student's ability to continue in a program or major and eligibility for financial aid. Students should be advised that course withdrawals and incompletes will affect their progress and thus their academic standing. See Academic Standing and Grade Point Average.

Schedule Revision (Drop/Add)

See Schedule Revision \(Drop/Add\) in the Registration section of the Bulletin.

Second Degrees

Generally, students having already completed a bachelor's degree experience would be encouraged in the first instance to begin graduate-level academic work in the new discipline. Students who already hold a bachelor's degree, however, may earn a second bachelor's degree in some schools and colleges of Temple University when the second degree sought is in a sufficiently different field of study. Students interested in earning a second degree should consult with the Office of the Dean of the school or college offering the desired degree.

Students at the undergraduate level may not be enrolled in concurrent undergraduate degree programs, but may regularly have second majors, or might consider an approved accelerated or joint program with a Temple graduate or professional school, if they meet admissions qualifications. See the list of accelerated programs and requirements.

Currently, the requirements for students pursuing a second degree are under review. The revisions, if approved, will minimally require that students complete a minimum of 30 semester hours in residence at Temple beyond those required for the first degree.

Simultaneous Enrollment

Matriculated students at Temple University may not be enrolled simultaneously at another institution in the same semester or summer session and receive permission to transfer those credits to Temple. Certain exceptions are allowed, if permission is given in advance, for courses unavailable at Temple but needed to complete degree requirements for the next scheduled awarding of degrees; or for specialized study where alternatives are not available at Temple; or as part of established programs. Students taking a Temple online course during the summer and living well beyond commuting distance of a Temple campus may also be approved for simultaneous enrollment at another institution. See Permission to Take Courses at Another Institution.

Study Abroad Approval Procedures for External Programs

To receive credit for courses taken on an external study abroad program, students are required to complete Temple's External Program Approval form, which includes seeking permission from an advisor in Education Abroad, having any anticipated courses evaluated and approved by appropriate academic departments, and receiving academic approval from their Temple school/college academic advising office. To explore external program opportunities, or to initiate the approval process, students should contact or visit Education Abroad.

Students should discuss their study abroad plans with their academic advisor. Permission to study abroad is rescinded if the student's GPA falls below 2.5, or the student is placed on academic warning or probation. As with all courses accepted in transfer, only a grade of C- or higher is acceptable.

See Education Abroad in the Academic Opportunities section.

Transcripts

A student's academic history is contained in a transcript, which is maintained by the Office of the University Registrar.

Official transcripts are issued upon the written request of the student, carry the seal of the Office of the University Registrar, and are usually sent directly to another educational institution, a potential employer or other approved third party. The fee for each transcript is $8.25 ($6.00 transcript fee + $2.25 Clearinghouse processing fee). Additional fees apply for expedited processing and shipping.

Official transcripts may also be issued directly to the student but will be identified with information that will indicate to the reader (whether a potential employer or another educational institution) that it was so issued.

A transcript is considered correct and final one calendar year after it is issued. If a student identifies an error, the Office of the University Registrar must be notified in writing within one calendar year.

Transfer Between Colleges Within the University

Intra-University Transfer (IUT) denotes a student's movement from one academic unit within the university to another and/or from one campus to another.

Transfer between academic units is not automatic. If students decide to earn their degrees in an academic unit other than the one in which they are matriculated, they must make application for the transfer and can do so at anytime except the months of January and August.

The Intra-University Transfer form can be picked up at any advising center or dean's office. Students then submit the form to the college to which they wish to transfer. The student will be notified of the decision by the office of the dean of the proposed college.

Students may initiate transfer from one college of the university to another if they are in good academic standing and have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. Higher averages are required by a number of schools and colleges, and students should consult the individual school or college policy section of the Bulletin for IUT GPA requirements. In addition to GPA requirements, the Tyler School of Art has portfolio requirements and the Esther Boyer College of Music and Dance has audition requirements.

Transfer Credit

See Admissions: Transfer Credit.

Undergraduate Credit for Graduate Level Courses

Undergraduate students may take 5000-level graduate courses with the permission of the instructor and the dean's designee for undergraduate degree credit. Undergraduates who wish to take higher level graduate courses must have the permission of the dean, the Graduate School and Undergraduate Studies.

Undergraduate students taking graduate level courses for partial fulfillment of undergraduate degree requirements may not use these credits to fulfill graduate-level degree requirements unless formally accepted into an accelerated, undergraduate/graduate/professional program.

Withdrawal Policies

WITHDRAWAL FROM CLASSES (policy 02.10.14)

During the first two weeks of the fall or spring semester or summer sessions, students may drop one or more courses with no record of the class appearing on the transcript. In weeks three through nine of the fall or spring semester, or during weeks three and four of summer sessions, students may withdraw with the assistance of an academic advisor--or by using the withdrawal function in Self-Service Banner (SSB). The course will be recorded on the transcript with the notation of "W," indicating that the student withdrew. After week nine of the fall or spring semester, or week four of summer sessions, students may not withdraw from courses. Withdrawing from courses during the prescribed period may have serious consequences for academic progress to the degree, for financial aid eligibility, (for international students) visa requirements, and (for student athletes) NCAA eligibility for competition. Students should consult carefully with their instructors and academic advisors before withdrawing from classes. Drop and Withdrawal deadlines are published for each semester and summer session on the following web site: www.temple.edu/registrar/documents/calendars/.

Withdrawal Grades and Transcript Notations
Withdrawal Grade	Action	Transcript Notation
W	Withdrawal from course	Displayed on transcript; not included in GPA calculations; counts as a course attempt under the provisions of the course repeat policy.
WE	Withdrawal with approved excuse	Approved by student's Dean's Office or the Provost's office for excused withdrawals due to medical, catastrophic or other circumstances beyond the student's control; not counted as a course attempt under the provisions of the Repeat policy; not included in GPA calculations.

WF	Withdrawal with a failing grade	This is an historical grade used prior to September 2003; included in GPA calculations with 0.00 points. The WF is no longer a grading option.
WS	Withdrawal from the semester	This is an historical grade used prior to June 2011; denotes withdrawal from all courses in the term.

COMPLETE WITHDRAWAL POLICY

A student may withdraw from the semester's courses by notifying the advising office of his/her college. The dean/dean's representative shall determine whether there is legitimate reason for withdrawal with symbol WE (excused approval authorized by the dean) in all courses in which the student is enrolled, consulting with the instructors when necessary and verifying confirming documentation. Course withdrawals ('W') count as course attempts under the provisions of the repeat policy (02.10.12). Excused withdrawals ('WE') do not count.

REFUNDS FOR WITHDRAWALS

Complete refund of tuition or cancellation of tuition charges will be made only if the drop form or student's SSB entry is processed by the end of the second week of classes of the fall and spring semesters or summer sessions.

Students withdrawing after these periods are responsible for payment of all charges incurred. No refund or adjustments of charges will be made for withdrawals after the second week unless specified under the university's refund policy. See the bottom of the Tuition and Fees section for the Refund Policy.

Academic Opportunities

Experiential Learning

Internships

Internships give students the opportunity to capitalize on what they are learning in the classroom and apply it in a work setting. Internships help students to build and enhance their skills, provide practical experience so often sought by employers, and offer excellent opportunities to establish contacts in their career field. Professional internships are available both on- and off-campus, and may be paid, unpaid and completed for academic credit in many majors. Internships for all academic majors are posted in the OwlNetwork, the university-wide internship posting system managed by the Career Center. To access the OwlNetwork, go to www.temple.edu/careercenter. To obtain information about receiving academic credit for an internship, students should contact their respective school or college.

The Office of the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies also provides information about internship opportunities. For more information, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/index.htm.

University Seminar Series

First-Year (Freshman) Student Seminars

First-Year \(Freshman\) Student Seminars are academic courses designed to support student learning and development in the critical first semester of college. University Seminar 1001, First Year Seminar I, can be taken as part of a Learning Community or as a stand-alone course. College-specific seminars are offered by the College of Science and Technology and the School of Communications and Theater.

University Seminar 1001, First Year Seminar I, is a 1-credit academic course that introduces first-year students to the opportunities and rigors of higher education, as well as to the skills needed to use academic resources successfully in college. The topics covered in the seminar help first year students articulate and reach their academic goals.

University Seminar 1002, First Year Seminar II, is a 1-credit academic course that introduces first-year students to the opportunities to discover major interests through applied learning and other career-oriented experiences. The course exposes students to career paths and encourages major exploration through discussions with faculty, informational interviews, readings, and opportunities to practice skills needed to be a more effective student.

University Seminar 1003, Academic Bridge for International Students, is a 3-credit course that includes instruction in all four language skills (reading, writing, and listening). It also focuses on additional academic skills and strategies necessary for students to succeed in undergraduate courses. Emphasis will be on critical thinking and independent research along with the introduction to technologies that support course requirements.

Sophomore Seminar

University Seminar 2001, Sophomore Seminar: Planning for Success, is a 1-credit academic course that provides sophomores opportunities to work on professional planning and development. Topics will include individual strengths exploration, academic majors, potential career paths, internship preparation, research opportunities, campus involvement, graduate school preparation, and career transition preparation.

Transfer Seminar

University Seminar 2002, Transfer Seminar: Planning for Success is a 1-credit academic course that introduces new transfer students to the opportunities and resources at Temple University. The course is designed to assist students in their transition as well as assist in preparing them for their future career/educational plans.

Global Citizenship Seminar

University Seminar 2003, Global Citizenship, is a 1-credit academic course that assists students in their development of global perspectives and competencies that are important for successful navigation of the world. This course explores topics and themes related to helping students prepare to move forward as global citizens.

Junior Seminar

University Seminar 3001, Junior Seminar: Pre-Professional Preparation, is a 1-credit academic course that provides junior-level students with an opportunity to work on pre-professional planning and development. It will focus specifically on preparation for post-graduate educational opportunities and entrance exams for graduate and professional programs.

Peer Mentor Development Seminar

University Seminar 3002, Peer Mentor Development, is a variable credit course (0 to 1 credit) that introduces students to content and communication skills identified as integral to serving as a peer mentor in the college setting. Through this course, students become proficient guides to Temple and community resources, well-versed in college and academic success strategies, and equipped with effective interpersonal communication skills.

Resident Assistant Development Seminar

University Seminar 3003, Resident Assistant Development, is a 1-credit course that introduces students to topics and issues pertaining to the Resident Assistant (RA) position. Students in this course will be exposed to leadership and student development theories, practical strategies related to community building, crisis management and conflict resolution, and inclusivity concepts. This class examines a theoretical exploration of residential life and will not encompass the entire resident assistant role. Course material will be grounded in student development theory as well as experiential learning. Students will discuss experiences using their first few months as a Resident Assistant to learn from each other and develop best practices.

Learning Communities

A Learning Community consists of two or more linked courses designed to provide students with a more integrated and meaningful learning experience. Learning Communities foster an intellectual environment where learning can flourish and help smooth the transition to college by providing an opportunity for students to form bonds with fellow first-semester students who are in these same classes.

Many learning communities include a section of University Seminar 1001, First Year Seminar I. Learning Communities meet General Education, foundational, or academic requirements.

Learning Communities are designed primarily for the special student populations. During New Student Orientation, an academic advisor will help students select the learning communities which best meet their academic interests and needs.

Transfer Student Newsletter

The newsletter, TRANSITIONS, is available for new transfer students at the start of each semester. The newsletter provides an overview of policies, procedures, programs and academic opportunities that are available to all Temple students.

Through a curriculum offered by the Temple Department of Military Science, qualified full-time students can earn a commission as an Active Duty, Reserve, or National Guard Officer, while concurrently satisfying academic requirements for a baccalaureate or graduate degree. Interested students not convinced that a career in the military is right for them can also learn more about how The Army of the United States selects and trains its future leaders and conducts operations on a day-to-day basis.

Military Science courses are open to all Temple students. There is no requirement for students taking Military Science courses to enroll in the commissioning program. Students taking Military Science courses are under no military service obligation of any kind if not enrolled in the commissioning program.

Students enrolled in the commissioning program incur either an active duty or reserve forces duty commitment commencing upon successful completion of the ROTC Advanced Course program and graduation from college. Temple's Department of Military Science offers both two-year and four-year curricula leading to a commission in the United States Army.

Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (AROTC) Four-Year Commissioning Program

The Four-Year Program consists of two phases: the Basic Course and the Advanced Course.

In the Basic Course, the student takes one Military Science course each semester during the freshman and sophomore years. This instruction orients the student to activities frequently encountered during military service. Though students may voluntarily participate in weekend exercises and ROTC-sponsored events, they are under no obligation to do so. Additionally, students enrolled in the Basic Course are under no obligation for present or future military duty.

During the Advanced Course (normally the junior and senior years), the student receives instruction designed to enhance leadership abilities; reinforce managerial, supervisory, and accountability skills; and further develop the individual's foundation of military knowledge. The highlight of this instruction is the student's attendance at the five-week ROTC National Advance Leadership Course, usually during the summer between the junior and senior years. The camp is a series of rigorous leadership challenges in which the Temple student competes against students from 272 other colleges and universities. Advanced Course students (enrolled in the commissioning program) receive a tax-free stipend (juniors - $450.00 per month and seniors - $500 per month) each year of the Advanced Course. When students complete the Advanced Course, they are obligated to accept a commission as a Second Lieutenant and upon graduation from college, incur either an active duty or reserve forces duty service commitment in the United States Army.

Two-Year Commissioning Program

The Two-Year Program consists of the Advanced Course and is open to any qualified full-time graduate or undergraduate student who has at least two years of academic study remaining at Temple University and has completed the Basic Course or its equivalent. Basic Course equivalency can be granted for prior active or reserve military service. Additionally, Temple students can receive this equivalency by attending a five-week ROTC Leadership Training Camp at Fort Knox, Kentucky, during the summer. Following successful completion of this challenging program, the student is eligible to enter the ROTC Advanced Course. Students attending the Leadership Training Camp incur a military obligation, and they are required to enroll in the ROTC Advanced Course. Students of exceptional academic accomplishment may qualify for Basic Course Placement Credit without being required to attend Leader Training Camp. If you are a sophomore or junior with between 54-65 credit hours complete, please contact us for additional information at 215-204-7480/4453/2482.

Scholarships

The Military Science Department administers the Army Scholarship Program, which includes numerous options. The scholarships are awarded based on local and national competitions and are for four, three, and two years. The scholarships pay tuition or room and board, a $1200 annual allowance for books and lab fees, and a monthly stipend that varies between $350 to $500 a month. The scholarships are awarded based on academic merit, and a student need not be enrolled in Army ROTC to apply. Inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Jackie Hankins-Kent, Administrative Officer, Department of Military Science/ROTC, Ritter Hall - Lower Level, Room 4A, 215-204-7480/9622.

Students are eligible to participate in the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) through an agreement with Saint Joseph's University. All aerospace studies courses will be held on the Saint Joseph's University campus, although students register through Temple's Self Service Banner system for their AFROTC courses. The AFROTC program enables highly qualified college students to earn a commission as an Air Force officer while concurrently satisfying requirements for his or her baccalaureate degree.

AFROTC offers three- and four-year curricula leading to a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force. (Two-year accommodations are available for nursing and law students.) In the four-year curriculum, a student takes the General Military Course (GMC) during the freshman and sophomore years, attends a four-week summer training program, and then takes the Professional Officer Course (POC) in the junior and senior years. In the three-year curriculum, a student attends both the freshman and sophomore GMC courses. A student is under no contractual obligation to the Air Force until entering the POC or accepting an Air Force scholarship.

The subject matter of the freshman and sophomore years is developed from an historical perspective and focuses on the scope, structure, and history of military application emphasizing the development of air power and its relationship to current events. During the junior and senior years, the curriculum concentrates on the concepts and practices of leadership and management, and the role of national security forces in contemporary American society.

In addition to the academic portion of the curricula, each cadet participates in group physical training and a two-hour Leadership Laboratory each week. During this period, the day-to-day skills and working environment of the Air Force are discussed and explained. The Leadership Lab utilizes a student organization designed for the practice of leadership and management techniques.

Air Force ROTC offers scholarships for two, three, and four years on a competitive basis to the best qualified applicants. All scholarships are applied to tuition and lab fees, and include a textbook allowance and a tax-free monthly stipend which varies from $300 to $500, depending on graduation date.

International education takes many forms at Temple: learning other languages; spending a summer, semester or year studying abroad; building an international concentration into a major; or enrolling in special programs such as the Latin American Studies Semester. Students are encouraged to consult their school/college and course descriptions for further information on international and language studies at Temple's Philadelphia campuses.

Study abroad is one of the most rewarding and beneficial experiences available to Temple students. The opportunity to gain firsthand understanding of other cultures and languages through study abroad is personally enriching, and adding an international dimension to one's education enables students to better understand and contextualize global issues and international events. Temple students have almost limitless options when it comes to studying abroad. Students may spend a semester, academic year or summer participating on one of Temple's numerous programs abroad, or they may choose to participate on an accredited external program through another university or study abroad provider. Students receiving financial aid can usually apply most, if not all, sources of aid to their study abroad fees. Education Abroad can provide students with further information about study abroad, as well as resources and guidance on choosing a program that is best suited to their academic needs and interests.

Scholarships for semester, academic year, and summer study abroad are available for qualified Temple students. A number of external scholarships, such as Fulbright and Vira Heinz, are also administered by Education Abroad. In addition, advising is available concerning a variety of other options for financing study abroad.

Students interested in receiving more information about study abroad should visit the Education Abroad web site at www.temple.edu/studyabroad or contact the office at 215-204-0720 or study.abroad@temple.edu.

With an enrollment of 3,150 students and a faculty of 173, TUI offers B.A. degrees with majors in American studies, art, Asian studies, business management, communications, economics, general studies, international affairs, political science, psychological studies, and tourism and hospitality management. TUI also offers A.A. degrees, a B.S. in International Business, an M.B.A., a Master of Science in Education, a Doctor of Education in TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages), and a Master of Laws.

American undergraduate students may study at Temple Japan for a semester, year and/or summer, choosing from a broad range of courses in Liberal Arts, Asian Studies, and Japanese language. Internships are also available. Temple faculty, on assignment from Philadelphia, teach in the program along with visiting professors from other universities and special faculty hired in Japan. All coursework, with the exception of Japanese language courses, is conducted in English.

To enrich the students' exposure to Tokyo and enhance their understanding of Japanese culture, TUI organizes several optional field trips and excursions each semester. These include half-day excursions to sites in and around Tokyo, as well as day and overnight excursions to various locations throughout Japan.

TUI is ideally located in central Tokyo in Minato-ku. Just 20 minutes walking distance from Roppongi, one of Tokyo's major entertainment districts, Minato-ku is home to several embassies, shops, and restaurants. Students have the option of securing their own housing or of taking advantage of housing offered by TUI. A limited number of homestays with Japanese families are also available for students interested in complete linguistic and cultural immersion.

Information on application, costs, and financial aid can be obtained from Education Abroad. Temple charges regular tuition rates for the Japan program; additional costs include airfare, living expenses, medical insurance, and program expenses.

Kim D. Strommen, Dean

Temple's campus in Rome offers courses in architecture, landscape architecture, international business, liberal arts, and visual arts. Each semester, students from Temple and other universities around the U.S. study in Rome and take courses designed to take advantage of the city's rich resources.

The Temple University Rome dean oversees the academic program and arranges for student support services. A distinguished teaching faculty, both European and American, provide a first-rate educational experience. All courses are part of Temple's undergraduate and graduate curricula and carry full academic credit. Students who have not studied Italian previously must enroll in an elementary Italian language course while in the program in order to take best advantage of their stay in Italy.

An extensive field study program complements the traditional classroom and studio curricula. Classes make regular trips to museums, architectural sites, and other points of interest in Rome, and many courses include field trips to other parts of Italy and Europe. The Villa Caproni, located in the heart of Rome on the Tiber River, houses the Temple Rome program. The facilities at the Villa Caproni include a library with 15,000 volumes, classrooms, art and architecture studios, an art gallery, and complete technical facilities. Students have the option of securing their own housing or choosing Temple-arranged accommodations in the residence. Temple University in Spain

Dr. Jamie Durán, Program Director

Temple University's spring semester program in Spain was developed in response to the success of its existing summer session in Oviedo. Based at the University of Oviedo, the semester program is designed for students with at least four semesters of college level Spanish, or the equivalent, and who are committed to furthering their Spanish language skills.

Spain program participants are enrolled in the Cursos de Lengua y Cultura Españolas para Extranjeros program at the University of Oviedo's humanities campus, El Milán. All students enroll in one of two tracks, Intermediate or Advanced, depending on their Spanish language background, and choose from coursework in Spanish language, literature, translation, history and art. Courses are taught by native Spanish-speaking professors of the University of Oviedo, and by Temple University faculty member, Dr. Jaime Durán.

As a complement to academic courses, cultural programming opportunities and organized leisure activities are arranged throughout the semester to help students acquire in-depth knowledge of various aspects of Spanish and Asturian culture, as well as to strengthen students' Spanish language proficiency outside of a formal classroom setting. Additionally, for one week during the program, students participate in a non-credit enrichment workshop which, in the past, has included themes such as dance, short story, photography, cartoons and journalism. The university also hosts cultural activities, including film series, short story and photography competitions, and organized visits to sites of interest studied in class. Programs which facilitate connections between international and Spanish students, including a language partner conversation exchange, are also offered and organized by the university.

Accommodations are arranged with a local Spanish host family. Students are provided with three meals a day and laundry service. This living arrangement offers the best opportunity to practice the language in a natural setting and have direct access to local lifestyle, gastronomy and social life.

Information on application, costs, and financial aid can be obtained from Education Abroad. Temple charges regular tuition rates for the Spain program; additional costs include airfare, living expenses, medical insurance, and program expenses.

Exchange Programs

Temple University students may participate in any of Temple's university-wide exchange programs. Currently, exchange partnerships exist with universities in Germany, Puerto Rico, England, China, Taiwan, and Korea. Students selected for these programs must qualify academically and be fluent in Spanish or German, respectively, for study in Puerto Rico and Germany.

Applications to participate in these programs are due in the early spring. For further information, contact Temple's Education Abroad. Each exchange program can accommodate only a small number of students annually. Specialized exchange programs are also available through some schools and colleges. Check with your school or college advising office for a list of these programs.

Summer Programs Abroad

Each year, a number of Temple faculty members direct summer programs abroad for academic credit. Some programs change on an annual basis; others have been part of Temple's summer curriculum for many years. The programs generally last four to six weeks, admit qualified students from Temple as well as other universities, and charge Temple's regular tuition rates for summer programs abroad. In recent years, summer programs have been conducted in Costa Rica, France, Germany, Ghana, India, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, and Spain.

University Honors Program

Ruth Ost, Director
204 Tuttleman Learning Center
215-204-0710
honors@temple.edu
www.temple.edu/honors/

The University Honors Program, a dynamic and inclusive community, is a comprehensive, four-year program designed to challenge boundaries, expand possibilities and prepare high-achieving students for the world ahead. At the core of the program are classes taught by faculty highly regarded for their scholarship and well-loved for their teaching. Honors classes are typically small seminars in which students and faculty have a chance to engage deeply with each other on the topics at hand.

Overseeing the program is a dedicated staff that provides holistic support services. They advise students on major choices, graduate and professional school applications, scholarship and fellowship opportunities, and career decisions.

The University Honors Program is open to students enrolled in every undergraduate school and college. No special application is required for incoming first-year students. (All applications are screened for Honors.) Current Temple students or transfer students who would like to be considered for the program must apply through the Honors web site. Applications are reviewed at the end of each semester after grades have been posted.

Benefits of the program include, among others: exclusive access to Honors courses; the option to live in the Honors Living-Learning Community in 1300 for four years; community service and leadership opportunities; priority registration; and Honors transcript notation.

To earn the Honors transcript notation, incoming first-year students and transfer students with fewer than 45 credits must complete ten Honors courses, including the English 0902, Mosaic I, and Mosaic II sequence in Honors unless they have placed out of one or more of those courses through placement test scores and/or transfer credit. Additionally, four of the ten must be at or above the 2000 level. Students admitted to Honors who have accrued between 45 and 59 credits complete eight Honors courses (four of which must be at or above the 2000 level); students admitted to Honors with 60 or more credits need to complete only six Honors courses (four of which must be at or above the 2000 level).

Students may contract a limited number of upper level non-Honors courses and graduate courses for Honors credit with Honors and faculty approval.

All students must show evidence of continued progress in completing course requirements or will be dismissed from the program.

To be in Honors good standing, students must maintain a 3.25 cumulative GPA. If students' cumulative GPA drops below a 3.25, they will be on Honors probation. They are eligible to stay on probation so long as the subsequent semester GPAs are 3.25 or above. Should their semester GPA drop below a 3.25 while on probation, they will be dismissed from the program. As a condition of completing the Honors Program, students must graduate with at least a 3.25 cumulative GPA.

One exception: Students admitted to Honors as incoming first-year students will not be dismissed due to GPA until after their first semester sophomore year.

Students are strongly encouraged to complete an Honors Scholar Project during their senior year. Project proposals (which can be a research thesis, creative work, or other appropriate project in the major or a related field) are submitted to the Honors Program, preferably during or immediately after junior year. When the project is finished, it must be approved by the Honors Program and two faculty members in the appropriate field(s) of study (a project mentor and a second reader). Further, students are required to present their work (or work-in-progress) in a Temple, regional or national venue. This achievement will be indicated by an additional transcript notation, reading: Honors Scholar Thesis, followed by the title.

Students may visit the Honors Program Office in Tuttleman Learning Center, Room 204, to meet with an advisor if they have any questions about requirements - or for advising. Further information can be found on the Honors web site: www.temple.edu/honors.

Creative Arts, Research and Scholarship Program

The Creative Arts, Research And Scholarship (CARAS) Program provides funding to encourage and support undergraduate and professional students engaged in scholarly, creative, and research projects that contribute to advancing their field of study. Two types of grants are made through the CARAS Program: Research/Creative Project Grants provide undergraduate and professional students support for scholarly, research or creative arts projects undertaken with the supervision of a faculty mentor. Travel Grants provide funds for undergraduate travel to present research or creative work at professional conferences or travel to conduct on-site research. For more information, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/CARAS.htm.

Diamond Peer Teachers Program

The Diamond Peer Teachers Program provides upper-level undergraduates at Temple University the opportunity to experience the challenges and rewards of college-level teaching, to work with faculty mentors to develop their own pedagogical skills, and to provide supplemental instruction in lower-level courses. Peer Teachers earn a stipend and one (1) internship credit. For more information, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/index.htm#peer.

Diamond Research Scholars Program

The Diamond Research Scholars Program offers a seven-month long funded research experience under the direction of a faculty mentor. Participants receive a summer stipend and tuition remission for up to three (3) hours of research or independent study for their research or creative arts project. Scholars are expected to participate in the annual undergraduate research conference, TURF-CreWS. For more information on the Diamond Research Scholars Program, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/ResearchScholars.htm.

Temple Undergraduate Research Forum - Creative Works Symposium

The Temple Undergraduate Research Forum - Creative Works Symposium (TURF-CreWS) provides ambitious, intellectually-motivated undergraduate students the opportunity to present and defend their original research or creative work among colleagues, faculty, family, and friends. TURF-CreWS is open to all departments and all colleges. Through its emphasis on original research or creative work, from theory-driven critical analysis of significant social issues to the development of unique individual artistic talents, TURF-CreWS seeks to inspire undergraduate students to engage, analyze, critique, and advise the world around them, beginning with their own social, ideological or cultural communities, so that they may contribute ideas that make for a better society and world. For more information on TURF-CreWS, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/TURF.htm.

Accelerated Degree Programs

Temple University offers several Accelerated Degree Programs arranged between undergraduate and graduate or professional schools and colleges. Students apply separately to and must be accepted by both programs. The curricula of accelerated degree programs are not integrated, thus students must complete all curricular requirements of each program. However, the programs may allow special coordination of scheduling or allocation of electives. Upon successful completion of each component of the accelerated program, the student will receive the degree specific to that component.

Students interested in the dental, medical, pharmacy, physical therapy or podiatry programs should contact Neida Perez in the Office of Pre-Professional Health Studies (www.temple.edu/healthadvising; e-mail: healthadvising@temple.edu; phone: 215-204-2513) as early in their academic career as possible to discuss eligibility, professional school applications and requirements to fulfill both the undergraduate and professional program requirements.

Below is a list of accelerated programs. Click on the program you are interested in to find more information.

4+1 Undergraduate/Graduate Accelerated Programs:

Eligible undergraduate students use up to 12 specified graduate credits approved by the school/college to fulfill requirements for their undergraduate degree. Upon graduation from their undergraduate program, students move seamlessly into their graduate program, which they complete in one additional year.

Philadelphia, PA 19122
www.temple.edu/studentaffairs/leadership/index.htm

The Office of Leadership Development works to create future generations of leaders who live and lead with integrity and meaning. We encourage the development of honesty, character and self-awareness by providing avenues for students to impact their own lives as well as create an environment to change communities on local and global levels.

The department's three initiatives are:

- Academic Connections - education and development are most transformational when in and out of classroom learning is intricately linked. Therefore, the office works to create and instruct leadership courses and build connections amongst the various schools, colleges, and faculty that offer existing leadership-related curricular content.
- Diamond Leaders - Diamond Leaders prepare to become impactful leaders in their community through their active roles on campus and their participation on Lead Teams dedicated to programming, service, and peer facilitation.
- Student Leadership Challenge - Service as Temple's signature leadership development program for all students, the Student Leadership Challenge provides dynamic and comprehensive programs that give students access to a rich variety of interactive leadership development opportunities. Students may earn their way to becoming a Diamond Leader by participating in these programs throughout the year and earning Leadership Diamond Points.

In addition to the events in the Student leadership Challenge, the office sponsors the LeaderShape Institute and hosts the Leadership Living Learning Community through University Housing and Residential Life.

Looking for something to do on campus? You are in the right place! Student Activities enhances the student experience by developing and empowering students, creating opportunities for meaningful interpersonal relationships, supporting student organizations, and providing fun, engaging programs for the diverse campus community.

One of the best ways to get involved is to become a member of our registered organizations!

Student Organizations

Student Activities works to support and empower student organizations as they enhance campus culture with their events, ideas and leadership. The staff aims to serve as a resource, and provide a path of development for students outside the classroom. With groups devoted to everything from cultural groups to competitive dance to community involvement, chances are we have a registered organization for you. Our office provides these organizations with meeting spaces, financial management, programming assistance, and anything else they need to contribute to student life at Temple University.

Greek Life

Student Activities supports fraternities and sororities as they provide a focus on leadership, academics and service. These groups foster lifetime relationships both between members and to the University and contribute to the diversity of campus. We have thirty-five fraternities and sororities recognized on campus.

Main Campus Program Board (MCPB)

MCPB is a student-led organization that plans the largest events on campus. From road trips to Broadway shows to Temple's "Deal or No Deal" to campus concerts, you can help us plan any event you would like to see on campus. Follow us on Twitter @TemplesMCPB to learn more about the events that will become the highlight of every Temple student's college experience! Along with Student Activities, we help plan and implement the following University events:

- Welcome Week: The entire campus joins together to welcome all new and returning students to campus. A FREE concert, hypnotist and a 100-foot banana split have been highlights from past years!
- Homecoming: Enjoy pep rallies, speakers, and great sporting events.

Temple Student Government (TSG)

TSG serves the student body by advocating and representing their voice for the benefit of the university community while providing access to resources. All students are welcome to explore their interests through TSG and are asked to create a progressive environment by participating in university life. For more information, visit the TSG web site at www.temple.edu/tsg or follow TSG on Twitter @TempleTSG.

Temple University Ambler Student Government Association (ASGA) is an active student government association that oversees student concerns, policies, interests and activities. The officers of ASGA serve as a liaison between students at Ambler and the administration. Elections are held in the spring for various offices, giving students the opportunity to participate in election campaigns and promotions. For more information about ASGA, visit the Student Activities Office in Bright Hall Lounge, visit www.temple.edu/ambler/student_life or call 267-468-8429.

The Tyler Student Alliance addresses the needs of the Tyler student body. The Tyler Student Alliance consists of several student committees that work in conjunction with the Temple University Student Government. The officers of the student government serve as a liaison between the students in the Tyler School of Art and the Temple University administration. Elections for officers are held in the spring. For more information about the Tyler Student Alliance, visit www.temple.edu/tylerstudentlife, or contact Tyler's Student Life Office at 215-777-9194, or visit room 210 in the new Tyler building located at 2001 North 13th Street, Philadelphia, PA 19122

Spring Fling

Spring Fling is an exciting celebration of the commencement of Spring, and the ensuing end of the semester. This day in April highlights student organizations, promotes the Temple community and showcases student talent. Office of Student Media

Howard Gittis Student Center
1755 N. 13th Street, Room 304
Philadelphia, PA 19122

Students on the Main Campus produce their own editorially-independent newspaper, The Temple News, during the academic year and distribute it to all campuses. The Temple News is published weekly in print (each Tuesday during the fall and spring semesters) and provides daily updated content, which also includes photo slide shows and video pieces, online at www.temple-news.com and on its blog, Broad&Cecil, at <http://broadandcecil.temple-news.com>. The Temple News was one of 10 non-daily newspapers to win the prestigious Pacemaker Award from the Associated Collegiate Press in 2006 and was named a finalist for the award in 2007 for its print and online product. In 2008, The Temple News won an Online Pacemaker award for its web site and followed that up by winning the prestigious EPPY award from Editor&Publisher in 2009 for having the nation's best college newspaper web site. In 2012, the paper won four Keystone Press awards from the Pennsylvania Newspaper Association. Readers can follow The Temple News on Twitter @TheTempleNews.

Students also produce and publish Templar, Temple's undergraduate annual yearbook. Templar is a three-time winner of the American Scholastic Press Association's first place award as one of the top college yearbooks in the country, having won the award in 2006, 2007 and 2008. Readers can follow Templar on Twitter @TemplarYearbook.

The Office of Student Media now advises WHIP, Temple's student-run internet radio station that broadcasts out of its studio in room 108 of the TECH Center. WHIP is an acronym that stands for "We Have Infinite Potential." The station broadcasts a wide array of programming, from news to sports to a diverse musical format, and is now one of just 14 stations nationally to be featured through Clear Channel's iHeart Radio College Radio category. Academic Support

Academic Computer Services

Students can take advantage of a number of first-class technology resources available at Temple University, including the TECH (Teaching, Education, Collaboration and Help) Center, a 75,000-square-foot, state-of-the-art technology facility located on Main Campus at 12th Street and Montgomery Avenue. The TECH Center contains 700 computers available for student use; several breakout rooms for collaboration and group study; specialized labs for video editing, recording, music composition, and graphic design; social space with lounge areas and plasma televisions, and a Starbucks café. In addition, for the convenience of students, there is 24-hour access to the center. For more information on the TECH Center, go to <http://techcenter.temple.edu>.

The Computer Services Help Desk is also located in the TECH Center. At the help desk, professional consultants offer technical assistance on a wide range of computer topics. To obtain assistance, students can stop by the Help Desk on the first floor of the TECH Center, call 215-204-8000, or send an e-mail to help@temple.edu.

In order to use the computer resources at the TECH Center as well as Temple's numerous applications and systems available online, you will need your AccessNet username and password. With this login information, you can gain entry to the TUportal web site (<http://tuportal.temple.edu>), a single gateway to the university's most popular services, including TUmial, Blackboard, Self Service Banner, Diamond Dollars, the Cherry & White Pages, My Backpack, and My Housing.

TUmial is an integrated e-mail system accessible anywhere on the internet to students using a web browser or software such as Microsoft Outlook or Netscape Mail. The Blackboard system enables faculty and students to share coursework materials and discuss topics online. Self Service Banner allows students to view course prerequisites and register for classes, view rosters, check grades, view account balances and financial aid information, and pay bills, all on the web.

For up-to-date information on the rapidly-changing nature of technology at Temple, including wireless access and security awareness initiatives, go to the Computer Services web site at www.temple.edu/cs.

For the locations of Computer Services Help Desks at Ambler, Fort Washington, TUCC and the Health Sciences Center, go to the Walk-In Support section of the Computer Services web site (www.temple.edu/cs/helpdesk/contact/walkin.htm).

The Ambler Learning Center on Ambler Campus is a state-of-the-art facility incorporating smart classrooms, wireless technology, new computer labs/classrooms, breakout room and study lounges.

Academic Resource Center

The Academic Resource Center was created to serve the needs of Temple University students who have not yet decided on a school/college or major. The team of professionally trained and dedicated academic advisors will assist students in navigating the transition to campus life as well as provide academic and career exploration assistance to our students. Services include individual and group advising appointments, academic success workshops, and major exploration programs all tailored to support personal growth and to promote scholastic achievement.

Academic advisors are available 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. on a walk-in basis on Monday, walk-in or appointment basis Tuesday through Thursday, and by appointment on Friday. Please call 215-204-2500, visit www.temple.edu/vpus/arc, or stop by our office for assistance.

Advising

It is recommended, and in some cases required, that students consult with an advisor prior to registration. The advisor reviews the proposed coursework and attempts to keep students informed of the requirements for graduation. In addition, the advisor helps the students achieve breadth in the curriculum and provides other assistance as needed.

Academic advisors strive to avoid errors when advising students about program requirements, although the college cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Students must, therefore, assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status.

Students are required to meet with an advisor when they do not meet the academic standards set by their college. See the Academic Policies section of the Bulletin, called Academic Standing, for detailed information.

Each school, college, and campus of the university offers a range of academic advising for students. Professional advisors and/or faculty advisors help students plan curriculum, choose majors, make vocational and post-graduate plans, and resolve a variety of academic issues. Students should consult the specific advising unit in their colleges and schools for services and policies that apply to them. Please refer to your school or college section of this Bulletin for locations and specific information about these units.

Some of the services offered by the advising centers are:

- New Student Orientation for freshmen and first semester transfer students.
- Curriculum advising for continuing students who have completed fewer than 30 credit hours. Students with a declared major and more than 30 credits should see their school or college Advising section of this Bulletin to determine advising policies that apply.
- Students enrolled in the University Honors Program may also be advised in the Honors Office in Tuttleman Learning Center until they have completed 60 semester hours, with the exception of the Fox School of Business and Management. All other students are advised in their departments.
- Registration Assistance for students. This includes online processing of original registrations and/or schedule revisions, and course withdrawals through the ninth week of the spring/fall semester and the third day of the summer sessions.
- Academic counseling for students to develop a meaningful education plan compatible with life goals. Through contact with departmental faculty, students gain an in-depth appreciation of a specific discipline and discover opportunities associated with their field of interest. Students can also meet with advisors to discuss a variety of academic concerns and develop some possible solutions. Students experiencing academic difficulty work with advisors to learn strategies for overcoming the obstacles to success.

- The advising centers help students understand the policies and procedures that are integral to achieving a successful and fluid transition through university life. This includes such things as Academic Progress Reports, Academic Good Standing, Grievance procedures, and registration policies.
- Intra-University Transfer (IUT) Advising for students changing programs or campuses at Temple.
- Withdrawal and Readmission interviews.
- Graduation Reviews for students entering their senior year.
- Petition Requests are initiated by the advising center on behalf of the student and include: attending another university for a semester or summer course, grading in one course on a credit/no credit system, registering for an overload, evaluating life experience credit and credit by examination, reviewing of transfer credit evaluation, considering DARS exceptions, and receiving approval for an exception to policy.
- Referral to other services. Advisors make referrals to such services as financial aid, career development, counseling, tutoring, disability services, and testing.
- Preparation for Registration. Advisors aid students in the period during the fall and spring semesters when currently-enrolled students register. Prior to the processing of their registrations, students should meet with advisors to review their DARS documents and discuss course selections for the upcoming semester. DARS for all students are available on the web through the TUportal.

Degree Audit Reporting System (DARS)

Debbie Bennett-Kenney, DARS and Transfer Systems Coordinator

Sheila Brogden, DARS Sr. Encoder

dars@temple.edu

www.temple.edu/vpus/resources/dars.htm

DARS stands for the Degree Audit Reporting System. Students and advisors can use DARS both to track and plan students' academic progress toward completion of an undergraduate degree in their declared or proposed major. DARS shows students how their Temple University courses, transfer courses, and courses in progress apply toward degree requirements. It enables a student to explore alternative academic programs and gives detailed and accurate information about the student's academic record.

The information on the audit now comes from the Banner Student information system. This is the same system students use to register for classes and to check their grades at the end of the term. Since DARS accesses the actual database where student's information is stored, it is current as of the moment an audit is processed.

Using the new interactive audit, students can view and run degree audits online, and project how future courses might apply towards their degree. A new feature allows students to view details of the courses required, such as the description and its attribute(s). This function is easily activated by clicking on a course link within the audit. Audits are web-based, secured, highly-interactive, and compatible with major modern browsers.

Students can request a degree audit by clicking on the Student Tools tab in TUportal and then, in the Records channel, clicking on Degree Audit.

Students can learn more about DARS at the DARS web site, including information about how to interpret the DARS, general resources available in the DARS office, and general information about the system.

Post-Baccalaureate Program in Health Professions

As of February 1, 2008, the Temple Post-Baccalaureate Program is being administered by Temple University School of Medicine and is designed to meet the needs of students with non-science backgrounds, as well as individuals wishing to improve their academic credentials. The newly-revised program offers unique options for students focused on the pursuit of a career in medicine and will offer two tracks to meet the needs of these two different groups of students. The two tracks will be known as The Basic Core in Medical Science (BCMS) and The Advanced Core in Medical Science (ACMS), respectively. For more information, please visit the Temple University School of Medicine web site at:

www.temple.edu/medicine/education/post_bac_programs.htm.

The Health Scholars Program

The Health Scholars Program is designed to recruit exceptional students to Temple University by offering a challenging academic and experiential learning experience that will help them prepare for leadership roles in their professional careers. In doing so, the program provides a distinctive quality for Temple students seeking admission to health professional programs.

Offering specific tracks for Medical Scholars, Dental Scholars, Pharmacy Scholars, Physical Therapy Scholars, and Podiatry Scholars, the Health Scholars Program provides undergraduates pursuing careers in the health professions with academic and experiential learning opportunities that will prepare them to take leadership, including:

- a certificate program (seminars, courses, practicums, and a senior project),
- individual mentoring with a faculty member or professional from the student's intended field, and
- conditional acceptance to the appropriate Temple University professional school.

In addition, scholars are eligible for the accelerated programs that allow them to complete their undergraduate degree with the coursework required in the first year of their professional school program.

The University Libraries

<http://library.temple.edu/>

The Temple University Libraries form an extensive network of services and resources to support the educational and research needs of the university's students and faculty.

The combined collections include more than 3 million volumes and 27,000 current serial subscriptions, and over 600 research databases, as well as extensive collections of microforms, maps, photographs, and audiovisual materials.

Special collections include the Urban Archives, which document the development of the Philadelphia metropolitan area since the mid-19th century; the Blockson Afro-American Historical Collection; the Rare Books and Manuscripts Collection; the Contemporary Culture Collection; the Science Fiction and Fantasy collections; the Philadelphia Dance Collection; the CBS3 (KYW-TV) Video Archives; and the University Archives. As a participant in the Federal Depository Library Program, the library receives 68% of the publications issued by the U.S. Government Printing Office. It is also a depository for all official publications of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Information retrieval: Research databases, full-text resources, the online catalog, electronic references, and other information and services are at <http://library.temple.edu/>. The online catalog (diamond.temple.edu) lists library holdings and course reserves and their circulation status, and links directly to selected electronic course reserve materials. The Paley Library offers a computing commons and hundreds of seats for study. A media services center provides access to audio-visual resources, and offers specialized viewing/listening stations and study rooms.

Expert assistance in using the library resources is provided by reference staff. Students are introduced to basic information literacy skills through the University General Education program. Librarians collaborate with faculty to integrate research skills development into general education courses, such as the freshman Analytical Reading and Writing course. Librarians also provide user education classes tailored to individual courses. Individual questions are answered in person, as well as by phone, e-mail, text message, online chat, and IM.

Go to the Ask A Librarian web site at <http://ask.library.temple.edu/> to ask questions and retrieve information.

When local resources do not supply needed material, Temple students and faculty may directly request books from other universities and colleges through the E-Z Borrow Program, or request article copies and books through the Temple Libraries' interlibrary loan service.

The Math and Science Resource Center's (MSRC) mission is to create a dynamic, effective learning environment for Temple undergraduate students. The MSRC provides academic services and resources for a range of courses from mathematics and statistics to biology, chemistry and physics. The services and resources are available to all students: from those who are experiencing difficulties in a course to those already excelling academically.

To help students learn and master math and science course content, the MSRC offers individual/group drop-in tutoring in its Main and Ambler locations, as well as online tutoring for Ambler and TUCC students. MSRC tutors are Temple students majoring in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, Statistics and related fields. These tutors receive special training to develop effective tutoring strategies in their specific field of study. This training prepares tutors to help students, especially those new to university-level courses, overcome their difficulties.

In addition to tutoring services, the MSRC provides an array of resources to help Temple students achieve their academic goals. Tutors use sample problem sets approved by academic departments to conduct exam review sessions that emphasize fundamental principles introduced in the classroom. At the end of each semester, final exam review sessions are provided for classes with high enrollments. During these sessions, tutors reinforce material presented during the course and address specific questions students may have. Workshops for specific courses are offered per an instructor's or special program's request.

The MSRC has a fully-equipped computer laboratory/classroom designed for working in mathematics and science, and for assisting other students who are working on web-based assignments or need to use specialized software such as Matlab or Maple. The workstations have both color and laser printers to produce finished, high-quality assignments. The MSRC also has a Laptop Loaner Program in the tutoring lab so that students can access online assignments and software while working with a tutor. In addition to the computer laboratory, the MSRC also has a resource library where students may borrow materials, such as textbooks, student solutions manuals, reference books, and calculators.

A valid Temple student ID is all that is needed to use any of the MSRC's resources or services. Visit the MSRC office or web site (www.temple.edu/msrc) for up-to-date announcements and resources.

The Russell Conwell Educational Services Center

The Russell Conwell Center is a University Learning Center designed to help you become a more effective learner. If you want to perform better academically, get higher grades, review/prepare for a class, enhance your leadership skills, or chart a career path come to the Russell Conwell Center (RCC). The RCC is comprised of a network of programs providing comprehensive academic support, professional development, and leadership training to facilitate student retention and graduation and to help students prepare for their future careers. The RCC provides individualized services to students and fosters a supportive community where students can explore their interests, build skills, and receive the assistance they need to achieve their goals. Throughout the academic year, specialized assessments, educational workshops, tutorial services, certificate skill proficiency programs, professional development seminars, peer mentoring, leadership enrichment, and academic counseling are offered to students. The RCC also has six computer labs and a laptop loan program for student use. The RCC employment program hires over 100 students each year as tutors, classroom assistants, instructors and office assistants. Furthermore, the RCC serves as the home of the Supplement Scholarship Committee, providing annual scholarships to over 100 Temple University students. In addition to serving students during the academic year, the RCC offers a six-week Summer Bridge Program for entering freshmen through its "Freshmen Admission Programs" described below. The RCC also serves Philadelphia high school students who aspire to attend college through two Temple University Upward Bound Programs. The RCC offers a wide range of services and support to students in high school and undergraduate education and preparation for graduate school. Stop by and see how we can assist you.

Undergraduate Support Programs and RCC Freshman Admission Programs [Act 101, Educational Services Component, Classic Student Support Services, STEM Student Support Services, and Emerging Scholars Program]:

These five RCC programs provide academic support and retention services for freshmen or current students who seek to achieve academic success, build leadership, join a supportive community, or participate in educational and cultural programs. The RCC programs offer extensive leadership opportunities and internships for students to strengthen their skills and learn strategies and concepts, while applying their skills in various leadership experiences. Students can arrange individual tutoring or join a study group for those courses that are most challenging. If a study group is not available in your desired course, you can form one with the assistance of RCC staff. Staff will also provide an individual review of your study skills and strategies to develop the optimum plan for you. Moreover, online and in-person workshops are available for students, covering academic, career, leadership, cultural and professional development topics.

The mission, objectives and services of the five programs are essentially the same, with the primary distinctions established by state or federal requirements as outlined by the different funding sources. Students admitted by the Temple Office of Undergraduate Admissions and assigned to the RCC begin their university experience during a six-week Summer Bridge Program prior to their fall enrollment. Upon successful completion of the Summer Bridge Program, students matriculate as Temple University freshmen in the fall semester and receive advisement, academic support and service from the RCC throughout their undergraduate career. The Summer Bridge Programs are an excellent opportunity to get a "jump start" on your Temple education. The program is designed to improve student's academic skills in mathematics, writing, English, and research and library skills. Students complete various academic assessments and develop a four-year academic plan to keep them on track toward graduation. Students also receive academic and educational counseling to facilitate their successful transition into the collegiate academic, social, and cultural milieu, creating a foundation for academic excellence. Students currently attending Temple can join the RCC by contacting Michael Stokes at 215-204-5544 or by visiting the office at 1700 N. Broad St., Room 202.

Pre-College Programs [Upward Bound and Math Science Upward Bound Programs, both funded by the U.S. Department of Education]:

The Upward Bound and Math Science Upward Bound Programs prepare Philadelphia high school students for successful entry into, and graduation from, college. During the academic year and six-week summer program, students participate in academic enrichment; enroll in mathematics, English and science classes; attend workshops; and receive tutorial services and leadership development. A full range of academic assessment and counseling is also provided with a focus on academic, career, financial and personal development. Students are guided through the career development process to understand and select appropriate majors, leading to a career that matches their interests, skills, and abilities. Students also receive SAT preparation throughout the program. During the summer program, students reside on campus at Temple University during the week to gain insight into, and experience the nuances of, college life. In addition, the programs assist students in developing their leadership and public speaking skills, while sponsoring field trips, college tours and site-visits to educational, cultural, and science-related institutions. While students in the Math Science Upward Bound Program receive the same programmatic services, they also spend their summer preparing a biological, mathematical or technological research proposal that is presented at the Summer Science Symposium. This research proposal is then conducted during the academic year and presented at the city-wide George Washington Carver Science Fair. For more information contact Michael Stokes at 215-204-5544 or Vanessa Atkins at 215-204-7653 or stop by the office at 1700 N. Broad St., Room 202.

The University Writing Center provides services to students and faculty across the university. These services include tutoring, workshops, and seminars, as well as a computer classroom. Many of these services, including tutoring, are accessible online through the center's web site. All services are free-of-charge to Temple students and faculty. Tutoring services are offered on a drop-in basis or by appointment.

Center staff include faculty, graduate students, and advanced undergraduates from a variety of fields and disciplines, including history, English, philosophy, education, and honors. All are selected based on their demonstrated writing ability and teaching aptitude. Staff participate in regular professional development sessions.

Services for Students

Students can work one-on-one or in small groups with center staff on writing being done for any course. They may also bring writing being done outside of course work. Tutors work with students at any stage of a writing project, from planning and drafting to revising and editing. They encourage students to focus on specific aspects of their writing, such as organization, sentence clarity, or paragraph structure. Writing Center staff cannot edit students' papers for them.

Students who come to the center for tutoring can also make use of the center's computer lab. They can use desktop publishing software to write and print papers; plan, outline, revise, edit, and proofread; and format and generate bibliographies and citations. The lab is connected to the internet; students may access the web and all library research facilities. Help is available for using these technologies. The lab also includes hardware and software designed to assist students with disabilities.

The center maintains an interactive web site. Students can access and download resources and handouts, and they can also access online tutoring. Students can submit papers or questions to the e-mail tutoring service, and they will receive a reply from a tutor within 24-36 hours.

Services for Faculty

Faculty teaching a writing or writing-intensive course can request an in-class writing workshop on a wide variety of topics. The writing workshops are interactive, and they are tailored to specific courses and assignments. To request a workshop, faculty can call the center or access the center's web site.

Faculty can also request a writing fellow to support their teaching in writing-intensive courses. Writing Fellows are specially-selected graduate and upper-division undergraduate students who are carefully trained to work as peer tutors. Fellows are paired with writing-intensive courses in the disciplines, and they provide tutoring for all students in those classes.

The center maintains an extensive library of resource materials. Faculty can request books and articles related to the teaching of writing in the disciplines. The center's web site offers resources organized by course.

Faculty teaching writing-intensive courses are invited to request use of the center's state of the art computer classroom. This 27-station classroom is organized in a seminar style, with access to projection and to the internet. Technical support for faculty using this facility is also available.

Tuttleman Counseling Services (TCS) is a comprehensive provider of mental health services to Temple's student population. Our mission is to support and enhance the psychological functioning of our students and thereby support the academic mission of the university. It is recognized that our students are dealing with a variety of major life issues as they pursue their education. These include separation and individuation, identity formation, relationships, affiliation, and career choices. In addition, some students come to us with prior mental health histories and medication needs.

TCS is first and foremost a provider of individual and group counseling services. Couple and occasionally family counseling is available as well at the student's request. This foundation provides students with support and guidance for a wide variety of problems, from adjustment issues and transitory difficulties to more serious psychological problems and even severe mental illness. Whenever possible, we seek to help students avoid or reduce self-harm that may stem from making poor choices. TCS provides services in the following areas:

Psychological Services: Psychological Services is staffed by licensed psychologists who provide brief individual, couple, and group counseling, as well as referral, consultation, and educational workshops. Some common issues that are addressed, either individually or in groups, include:

- relationship problems
- stress, depression, anxiety
- eating disorders
- loss and/or grief
- procrastination
- shyness
- academic performance
- career decisions
- family problems
- sexuality and sexually-transmitted diseases
- gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender issues
- racism
- sexism
- vocational counseling

The Psychological Services staff will also assist students in locating resources and other services available on campus or in the city that are specific to their needs.

Psychiatric Services: Psychiatric Services is committed to caring for the mental health needs of Temple University students by providing psychiatric evaluations, medication consultations, and short-term individual psychotherapy. The psychiatrist also responds to referrals from other TCS units and serves as a liaison to the Health Sciences Center. Students are seen by appointment, except in emergency situations when immediate care is required.

CASA (Campus Alcohol and Substance Awareness): The Campus Alcohol and Substance Awareness (CASA) program is a comprehensive program focusing on all aspects of alcohol and other drug use and abuse. The CASA program is staffed by certified addictions counselors who work with students individually and in groups.

SACE (Sexual Assault Counseling and Education): Recognizing that college students are often at risk for sexual assault, harassment, and other forms of interpersonal violence, the SACE program plays a pivotal role in changing attitudes and myths about violence through education within the university community. In addition, the program provides resources for workshops, participation in curriculum development, and coordination of services for survivors of assault. The SACE staff provides crisis intervention, survivor advocacy, individual counseling, and groups for survivors of assault, child sexual abuse, domestic violence, and sexual harassment.

Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday - Friday. Walk-in Clinic hours for accessing services are 10:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, and 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon on Wednesday. Bookstore

There are five Temple University Bookstore locations. Each store stocks all required books and supplies for the campus it serves. Course materials may be purchased online for home delivery or pick-up in store. A student's booklist is accessible via a link on the Student Roster in Self-Service Banner. Select textbooks may also be rented instead of purchased. Please contact the store for more details. In order to maximize the number of used books available to students, the bookstore buys back from students books at the highest possible prices throughout the year. In addition to housing required course materials, all stores feature clothing, souvenirs, and giftware imprinted with the Temple name. Graduation rings can be ordered at any time. Academic regalia are available in the months preceding graduation.

The Main Campus store features the Book Corner, where non-required books, including best-sellers, Temple authors, literature, reference, and bargain books are available. Any book not on hand can be special ordered.

You will also find a large selection of magazines, snacks, soft drinks, greeting cards, gift-wrap, posters, and health and beauty aids.

During the first weeks of classes, store hours are extended at all locations. See signs posted at each location for specific hours during rush periods and semester breaks.

During the summer and semester breaks, store hours may vary. Visit the individual store web sites for more details.

Campus Safety Services is a multi-faceted department that is committed to serving the students, faculty, employees, visitors, families and vendors, who work for, study at and visit our campuses. The department services a diverse community, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The two divisions are Police Officers and Security Officers. The Campus Police division currently has 124 campus police officers who patrol our area campuses by foot, by bike and in patrol cars. They are police professionals who receive state-mandated training at an accredited police academy. The Security division officers work inside various buildings, checking IDs and assisting staff and visitors.

During the academic year, members of the Temple Community are free to use the OWLoop shuttle and TUr Door service on the Main Campus from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. All services are operated by Facilities Management and information is available on their web site at www.temple.edu/facilities/index.html.

The department also offers a variety of Crime Prevention programs, including self-defense, street smarts, and big-city living programs. For further information call 215-204-5870.

Parking Services & Inter Campus Bus Service

Parking:

Office of Parking Services

Lower Level, Student Center (Main Campus)

1755 North 13th Street

215-204-5301

parking@temple.edu

www.temple.edu/parking

Temple University has eight (8) surface parking areas and two (2) parking garages on the Main Campus. Parking areas are also available at Ambler and the Health Sciences campuses. Temple University Center City (TUCC) has negotiated parking discounts with nearby parking garages.

Debit card parking permits you to park in an assigned area when space is available. A hangtag/decal must be purchased, and it is valid for one academic year (September through August). In addition, a minimum of twenty-five (25) parking entries must be purchased on your debit card at a cost of $135 (fifty [50] parking entries when entering after 3:00 PM). The rates are subject to change in the fall. Your hangtag/decal and your current Temple ID card are the mechanisms that control your entrance into the parking area or garage. Parkers may conveniently purchase additional parking entries at the Office of Parking Services, located on the lower level of the Student Center.

Besides the fee for purchasing a hangtag/decal, there is no additional charge for daily parking at the Ambler Campus.

Note: Availability of areas is subject to change during summer and holidays and for a few special events. Having a parking hangtag/decal does not ensure space in a particular area.

Special parking is available for guaranteed access, students with disabilities, and motorcycles.

Inter/Intra Campus Bus Service:

Temple University offers the free OWLoop shuttle service around the Main Campus. In the evenings during the fall and spring semesters, students have the option of using the TUr Door service, which is free and operates from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 a.m., Monday through Sunday. A map of the OWLoop bus route and the TUr Door service area can be found at www.temple.edu/facilities/pdf/owlloop.pdf.

Temple University also provides a free shuttle bus service to and from the Main, Ambler, and Health Science campuses during the fall and spring semesters. In addition, there is free shuttle bus service on a regular schedule between the Ambler SEPTA station and the Ambler Campus during the fall and spring semesters. Please check the Office of Facilities Management web site at www.temple.edu/facilities/shuttles.html for a schedule of shuttle services. Information on these schedules may also be obtained at the Office of Parking Services or Campus Safety. (Note: There is no bus service in the summer from the Ambler Campus.)

Retail Operations

Bookstores are located at each campus. (See above for locations.) In addition to textbooks, these stores also feature a variety of products that will meet students' needs on campus. Students may also find retail and food outlets on Main Campus along Liacouras Walk, on Broad Street at the Shops at Avenue North, on 12th Street (next to the TECH Center), and on Cecil B. Moore Avenue, west of Broad Street.

Academic Programs

This section of the Bulletin provides information on academic programs in the university, including individual schools and colleges, as well as their academic departments. Other academic programs and requirements that can be found in this section include a listing of Programs of Study, University General Education requirements, University College, University Studies, Intercollegial Programs, and Temple University Japan Campus programs.

Attention New Freshmen and Transfer Students:

All new undergraduate students are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

New freshmen starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the GenEd curriculum. Students who have fewer than 15 transferrable credits are considered freshmen. Additionally, students whose transfer credits were earned while in high school, regardless of the number of transfer credits, are considered freshmen.

New transfer students starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the GenEd curriculum. Students who attempted 15 or more transferrable credits after high school and prior to being admitted to Temple University are considered transfer students.

Chart of Degrees

The Chart of Degrees lists Temple University's degree programs alphabetically, showing the name of the degree; which school or college grants the degree; and the campus or campuses on which all or most of the course work for the degree may be completed.

Information regarding the abbreviations found within the Chart of Degrees is provided in the key chart listed on this page.

Students should be aware that, while all programs cannot be completed on all campuses, courses in many programs are offered on multiple campuses. To learn what specific courses are offered on which campuses in a given semester, refer to the Class Schedule.

Program Names and Degrees Offered

This is a general summary of programs available for incoming students.

Note: The link in the Program Name column goes to the page describing the program within the Undergraduate Bulletin.

Major	A cohesive combination of courses including introductory, intermediate, and advanced coursework that designates a student's primary area of undergraduate study. Majors can be established or restructured to include required or optional tracks/concentrations. A major is typically 36-76 credit hours. Majors are designated on University transcripts at the time the degree is awarded.
Minor	A designated sequence of courses in a discipline or area of undergraduate study. Like the major, it is expected to have coherence and increasing sophistication. A minor is typically 18-24 credit hours (or approximately half of the major) and is independent of the student's major. Minors are designated on University transcripts when the degree is awarded.
Track / Concentration	A coordinated grouping of courses, typically one-third of a major, representing a sub-specialization or emphasis within a major field available for students majoring in that discipline. Track/Concentrations may be offered at the undergraduate, graduate, or professional level. Majors with track/concentration are designated on University transcripts when the degree is awarded.
Certificate	An academic program in which the student completes a prescribed course of study, typically 12 or more credit hours. This may be at the undergraduate, graduate or professional level.

 offered internationally; initially to be offered in Singapore.

GENERAL EDUCATION

The General Education (GenEd) Program serves as Temple University's liberal education requirements for all undergraduate students and provides a foundation for learning and development practices that help students succeed academically and professionally.

A recent survey of more than 300 employers nationwide conducted by the Association of American Colleges and Universities indicated that the majority of employers seek graduates with 4-year degrees with a mix of deep disciplinary skills and knowledge and a broad base of skills and abilities. Skills and abilities which employers ranked most important for schools and colleges to develop included communication skills, critical thinking skills, the ability to apply abstract theories and ideas to concrete experiences and practices, and problem-solving skills.

The GenEd program attempts to foster the development of such skills through its curriculum by providing students multiple opportunities to exercise, in multiple contexts and settings, their communication, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills and we attempt to do so by helping students make connections from academic knowledge to experience.

“The Philadelphia Experience” has become a hallmark of the new GenEd, with many courses taking students into the city for direct encounters connected to their studies. A science course takes students to the Waterworks to study 19th century sewage treatment. A course in educational policy takes students into schools and community centers. A course in sustainability challenges them to design a solution for storm-water run-off. A course in creativity assigns them to go to First Friday to interview an artist.

These and other modes of stretching and contextualizing traditional disciplinary content prepare students to deal with a rapidly globalizing world, in which the resolution of complicated issues increasingly calls upon the ability to see a problem from many angles and to synthesize divergent perspectives.

Ultimately, GenEd is about equipping our students to make connections between what they learn, their lives and their communities.

Find out more about General Education at <http://gened.temple.edu>.

Program Framework

The General Education curriculum introduces students to nine areas of learning and a total of eleven courses, divided into Foundation courses and Breadth courses.

Foundation Courses

General Education Attribute	Area	Requirement
GW	Analytical Reading & Writing	1 course, 4 credit hours
GQ	Quantitative Literacy	1 course, 4 credit hours
GY	Mosaic I	1 course, 3 credit hours
GZ	Mosaic II	1 course, 3 credit hours

Course Sequencing

Students are advised to take the three-semester sequence formed by Analytical Reading & Writing, Mosaic I and Mosaic II as soon as possible after entering Temple in order and in successive semesters.

GenEd also considers Quantitative Literacy a foundational course. Accordingly, students are advised to take a GenEd Quantitative Literacy course as soon as possible after entering Temple and before enrolling in Science & Technology courses.

Breadth Courses

General Education Attribute	Area	Requirement
GA	Arts	1 course, 3 or 4 credit hours
GB	Human Behavior	1 course, 3 credit hours
GD	Race & Diversity	1 course, 3 credit hours
GG	World Society	1 course, 3 credit hours
GS	Science & Technology	2 courses, 3 credit hours each
GU	U.S. Society	1 course, 3 credit hours

Finding GenEd Courses

Each General Education area has a list of courses that satisfy the requirements for that area. Descriptions of the areas and their approved courses can be found by clicking on the links under the GenEd Areas heading on the left side of this web page, and at <http://gened.temple.edu> (select "Students", then "Courses"). Students may also download a 2012-2013 orientation booklet with course descriptions here.

To find GenEd courses offered in a given semester or term, students may locate the information in two primary ways:

- Go directly to the Class Schedule Search page on the university's web site.
- Go to Self-Service Banner (SSB), which is available on the TUportal.

Students must log onto the TUportal with their username and password. Select the Student tab from the SSB page. Clicking the Registration button will allow users to select and Look Up Classes.

Select the relevant term or semester from the drop down box to begin a search.

Students may select one or many criteria in searching for specific classes; however the more criteria selected, the fewer the number of courses returned.

To get all of the courses fulfilling a GenEd area, in the Subject box, select Accounting and hold the SHIFT key and select Women's Studies to highlight all subject areas. Scroll to the bottom of the page to the General Education or Core Attributes box to select the relevant GenEd area, and hit the Class Search button at the bottom of the page. The results will list all relevant courses in the selected GenEd area for the selected term.

General Education Policies and Requirements

In general, students should be aware of the following:

Every Temple undergraduate fulfills the requirements of the General Education Curriculum in some way.

- Students entering Temple with fewer than 45 transfer credits complete the full General Education Curriculum.
- Students with 45 or more transferable credits satisfy the 45+ GenEd Curriculum. (See GenEd Transfer Programs.)
- Students with an Associate degree approved for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd, or Core-to-Core Transfer meet most GenEd requirements with the general education courses taken for the Associate degree. Associate degrees are approved for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd, and Core-to-Core Transfer by two university-wide faculty committees. See GenEd Transfer Programs for information on the policy and a list of approved community college Associate degrees.

A GenEd course counts in one GenEd area only.

A student may use no more than two courses from a single department to satisfy GenEd requirements. (Foundation and transfer courses are excluded.)

All GenEd courses must be completed with a grade of C- or higher to satisfy a GenEd requirement.

All GenEd course numbers begin with "08XX." GenEd Honors courses begin with "09XX." Students may use only Temple University courses at the 0800- and 0900-levels or specified waiver courses to satisfy General Education requirements. See the GenEd Transfer Programs section of this Bulletin for information on completing GenEd requirements with transfer credits.

In GenEd, courses may be offered in multiple departments. These courses, regardless of the sponsoring department, are the same course and will have the same number and course title.

Repeat & Withdraw Policy

Students should be aware that opportunities are limited for repeating a course to replace a failing grade under University policy. Repeating a Course \(#0.2.10.12\) prohibits students from retaking a course more than twice unless the course is specifically designated as a course that may be taken for credit multiple times.

If, after a third attempt, students are unable to complete the following General Education requirements with a C- or better, they will be dismissed from the university. These course requirements include:

- GW Analytical Reading & Writing
- GY Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I
- GZ Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II

If a student drops a class after the official drop/add period, a "W" will appear on the student's transcript to indicate the student withdrew from the course. A course withdrawal or a "W" is counted as an attempted repeat.

Departments, Majors, Minors and GenEd

GenEd courses may not be required introductions to a specific major or minor. A GenEd course may be accepted by a major or minor to fulfill elective requirements.

Departments and colleges may not single out a specific GenEd course as a requirement.

A curriculum or degree program may identify a GenEd course as part of an array for its majors or minors. (An array is defined as a set of options from which the student may choose. The array must present at least three options for any one course chosen.)

A student may use no more than two courses from a single department to satisfy GenEd requirements. (Foundation and transfer courses are excluded.)

Early Progress Reports

All GenEd course instructors will submit Academic Progress Reports.

Credit/No Credit

Students may not take GenEd courses for credit/no credit.

General Education Waivers

Select waivers have been adopted in recognition of repetitive and substantial exposure to key habits of mind, skills, and/or bodies of knowledge and for which programs have submitted requests.

Once a student fulfills a GenEd requirement with an approved waiver – a placement test, course or series of courses – the waiver follows the student. Advisors will need to process DARS exceptions for students who complete a waiver identified with a particular major/school/college but are not in the identified major/school/college.

If a waiver for a GenEd requirement is comprised of a series of courses, students must successfully complete all courses to receive the waiver. Courses must be completed with a C- or better to satisfy GenEd waiver requirements. Departments, schools and/or colleges may stipulate a higher grade to satisfy its own requirements.

Quantitative Literacy (GQ)

Students considering undergraduate degrees with advanced mathematical or statistical requirements may satisfy the GenEd Quantitative Literacy requirement through alternative coursework.

A student successfully satisfies the GenEd Quantitative Literacy requirement upon earning a C- or better in any of the following:

- Any General Education Quantitative Literacy course.
- Mathematics 1031, 1041, 1042, 1941, 1942, or 2043.
- Statistics 2101, 2910 or 2103, 2903 or an equivalent transfer course (primarily for FSBM and STHM majors and FSBM minors).
- Completion of a three-course sequence to include Math 1015, Math 1021, and Early Childhood Education 3107. All courses must be completed to receive the waiver (primarily for Early Childhood Elementary Education majors).

- Completion of a four-course sequence to include Math 1015, Math 1021, Math 1022 and Math Education (Secondary) 3145. All courses must be completed to receive the waiver (primarily for Middle Grades Education majors concentrating in Science and Language Arts).
- Completion of a four-course sequence to include Math 1021, Psychology 1167 (or Sociology 1167 or Sociology 3201), Nursing 3261, and Nursing 3262 (primarily for Nursing majors)

Consult an academic advisor for more information.

Arts (GA)

Students pursuing undergraduate degrees in the Boyer College of Music and Dance and the Tyler School of Art may be exempted from the GenEd Arts requirement upon completion of collegiate requirements.

A student successfully satisfies the GenEd Arts requirement upon completion of one of the following multi-course sequences:

- Dance 1811, Dance 2813, Dance 2814 and Dance 3812. All courses must be completed with a C- or better to receive waiver.
- Music Studies 1711, Music Studies 1712, Music Studies 2711, and Music Studies 2712. All courses must be completed with a C- or better to receive waiver.
- Art History 1156 and Foundation Program 1511. All courses must be completed with a C- or better to receive waiver.
- Art History 1156 and Visual Studies 1151. All courses must be completed with a C- or better to receive waiver.
- Art 1101, Art 1201, Art 1401 (or 1496 or 1996) and Art 1501. All courses must be completed with a C- or better to receive waiver.

Consult an academic advisor for more information.

Human Behavior (GB)

Students pursuing undergraduate and/or professional degrees in Education may be exempted from the GenEd Human Behavior requirement upon completion of collegiate and/or degree requirements.

A student successfully satisfies the GenEd Human Behavior requirement upon completion of one of the following multi-course sequence:

- Education 2109: Adolescent Development for Educators, Special Education 2231: Introduction to Inclusive Education, and English Education (Secondary) 3338: Foundations of Language Teaching: Teaching English Language Learners in Grades 4 to 12. All courses must be completed with a C- or better to receive waiver.

Consult an academic advisor for more information.

Science & Technology (GS)

Many majors and programs of study require substantive studies of science to develop the expertise necessary in their fields. The sciences include studies of anatomy and physiology in human health, chemistry as the basis of human health, matter and motion, and natural phenomena. General Education would like to accommodate those students interested in pursuing such studies and have developed, in conjunction with the College of Science & Technology, a number of two-semester course sequences that would exempt students from the GenEd Science & Technology requirement.

Therefore, students considering undergraduate degrees with scientific, engineering or technical components may satisfy the GenEd Science & Technology requirement through alternative coursework. (See waiver information below.)

A student successfully satisfies the GenEd Science & Technology requirement upon completing with a C- or better any of the following two course sequences:

- Botany 1111 – Horticulture 2114

General Education Transfer Programs

In general, new transfer students beginning their degree program at Temple should be aware of the following:

- Every Temple undergraduate fulfills the requirements of the General Education Curriculum in some way.
- GenEd policies for transfer students relate only to the university General Education requirements. All requirements of Temple's schools and colleges and major programs of study remain in force. Students should consult the appropriate sections of this Bulletin and their academic advisors about school/college and major requirements.
- The Analytical Reading and Writing requirement may be met by placing out of Temple's Analytical Reading and Writing through a placement test or by transferring in the equivalent of Temple's Analytical Reading and Writing course. Transfer students who completed an English placement test at their previous institution and tested out of their previous institution's English Composition or comparable requirement can be waived from the Analytical Reading and Writing requirement if they have documentation of their placement and have successfully completed a higher-level English/Writing course. Acceptable documentation includes an official letter from the university's registrar, advising unit, a faculty member, or other appropriate university official. In these instances, students will need to meet with an advisor for official approval. Once approval is granted, advisors will complete a DARS exception. Students should check with their advisor if they are unsure whether they have met this requirement.
- The World Society requirement also may be met by participating in an approved Study Abroad program. Transfer students who completed a study abroad at their previous institution should check with their advisor for additional information.

Completing GenEd Requirements with Transfer Credits

- In addition to the approved GenEd course lists, students required to complete any version of General Education (GenEd) may be able to use their transfer credits to satisfy General Education requirements. Students cannot use the same course to fulfill a General Education and a major or minor requirement.
 - Initial evaluation of transfer credits will be made in the Temple Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Re-evaluation of credits will be done by the Temple Admissions Office and academic advisors, in consultation with the General Education Program when necessary, according to standard Temple policies and procedures.
- Transfer courses will be applied to major and minor requirements first and then to GenEd.
- All students are required to take two Writing Intensive courses at Temple University in addition to completing the GenEd requirements. Writing Intensive courses in transfer cannot be used to fulfill this school/college requirement. The two Writing Intensive courses will be designated by the student's major.
- Credit for Prior Learning such as Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB) and College Level Examination Program (CLEP) will satisfy general education requirements according to current practice, i.e. using course attributes/core equivalents. (See Academic Policies: Credit for Prior Learning for more information.)

Full GenEd Curriculum

Requirements for students with fewer than 45 Transfer credits:

Transfer students admitted to Temple with fewer than 45 transfer credits complete the full GenEd Curriculum. All of the requirements in this version of the GenEd may be met either with equivalent transfer courses as described in the table below or with GenEd courses taken at Temple. Please note the above policies regarding completing GenEd requirements with transfer credits.

Transfer students admitted to Temple with 45 or more transfer credits (and without an Associate's degree approved for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd or Core-to-Core Transfer) complete the 45+ Transfer GenEd. All of the requirements in this version of the GenEd may be met either with equivalent transfer courses or with GenEd courses taken at Temple. Please note the above policies regarding completing GenEd requirements with transfer credits.

Eligibility for 45+

The 45+ Transfer GenEd is designed for students who have taken a significant number of courses elsewhere before entering Temple. All college-level courses considered transferable by the Temple Office of Undergraduate Admissions, including those for which evaluation is not complete until after the student begins at Temple, will be counted toward the 45 credit minimum, when they meet either of the following sets of conditions.

1. For students new to Temple: The courses have been taken elsewhere before the student matriculates at Temple.
2. For readmitted students: 45 or more transferable credits have been taken elsewhere since the student's last date of enrollment at Temple and before the date of the student's return to Temple.
3. For both groups of students:
 - Credit for Prior Learning, including Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate and College Level Examination Program (CLEP) credits are counted toward eligibility for the 45+ Transfer GenEd if completed prior to matriculation. Scores must meet the Temple credit-granting standards and be approved by the Temple school or college that offers the equivalent course (see Credit for Prior Learning).
 - Courses taken at Temple as a non-matriculated student are not counted toward eligibility for the 45+ Transfer GenEd.
 - Courses taken elsewhere by students once they are at Temple, with the permission of the student's Temple school or college, are not counted toward eligibility for the 45+ Transfer GenEd.
 - Credit for Prior Learning credits completed by students once they are at Temple, are not counted toward eligibility for the 45+ Transfer GenEd.

45+ Transfer GenEd Policies

Transfer students should be aware that this GenEd policy relates only to university General Education (GenEd) requirements. All requirements of Temple's schools and colleges and major programs of study remain in force. Students should consult the appropriate sections of this Bulletin and their academic advisors about school/college and major requirements.

A 45+ Transfer GenEd version of the Degree Audit Reporting System (DARS) document is produced automatically for eligible students who are entering Temple for the first time. For eligible readmitted students to receive a 45+ Transfer GenEd DARS document, a Temple academic advisor must post the 45+ event in the student's record.

IB GenEd

Requirements for the International Baccalaureate General Education Program:

Students who have earned the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma and meet minimum eligibility requirements complete the International Baccalaureate General Education Program (IB GenEd Program).

Students accepted into the program will still complete the required number of credits needed for their selected baccalaureate degree – usually between 120-124 credits and will need to complete up to 18-19 credits of the full GenEd Program (35-36 credits).

Eligibility for IB GenEd Program:

To be eligible for the IB GenEd program, students must be admitted to the University, have earned the IB Diploma with a minimum score of 5 (five) on each exam, and English must be completed at the A1 level. Students must send an official copy of their IB Diploma and Scores to Temple Admissions when available.

Students who completed the IB Diploma, but do not meet the eligibility requirements for the IB GenEd program, will complete the full GenEd Program. However, individual exams may fulfill requirements at Temple. For a complete list of individual IB exams, qualifying scores, and how the exams would be used to fulfill GenEd, major, or minor requirements, see www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/equivalencies.htm#IB.

IB GenEd Program:

Students accepted to the IB GenEd program will need to complete up to 18-19 credits of the full GenEd Program (35-36 credits):

- Required Areas Mosaic I and Mosaic II, U.S. Society, Arts, Race & Diversity, and one Science & Technology requirement (five categories/six courses; 18-19 credits) will be need to be completed through coursework at Temple and/or through credit for individual IB exams – if applicable.

- o For example, if a qualifying student earned exam scores of five (5) on American History, Theater Arts, and Biology HL and these course equivalents were not required by the student's major or minor at Temple, the student's U.S. Society, Arts, and Science & Technology requirements for the IB GenEd Program would be fulfilled. As a result, this student would only take three courses at Temple to complete the remaining requirements for the IB GenEd Program: Mosaic I, Mosaic II and a Race & Diversity course, i.e. nine credits.
- o Please see the table below for additional equivalencies:

Remaining General Education Requirements for IB GenEd students

General Education Area	Credits	IB exams which may fulfill remaining GenEd requirements*
Mosaic I (GY)	3	No IB Equivalent
Mosaic II (GZ)	3	No IB Equivalent
U.S. Society (GU)	3	AMERICAN HISTORY
Arts (GA)	3-4	DESIGN VISUAL ARTS (HL) MUSIC THEATRE ARTS
Race and Diversity (GD)	3	No IB Equivalent

Science and Technology (GS)	3	BIOLOGY (HL) BIOLOGY (SL) CHEMISTRY (HL) CHEMISTRY (SL) PHYSICS (HL) PHYSICS (SL)
Total Credits	18-19	Total Credits

* IB equivalencies will be applied to major or minor requirements first and then to GenEd; they cannot be double counted.

• Waived Areas Analytical Reading and Writing (GW), Human Behavior (GB), World Society (GG), Quantitative Literacy (GQ), and one Science and Technology (GS) requirement will be waived, since the learning experiences acquired during the IB program fulfill many of the required outcomes for these areas. In addition to the waiver, credit for exams in these areas will be added to the student's academic history.

GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd & Core-to-Core (GenEd Transfer Agreement):

Requirements for GenEd Transfer Agreement Students

Students entering Temple with an approved Associate degree from a GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd and/or Core-to-Core partner institution have met all of the General Education requirements. These students are identified upon admission to or enrollment in the University and their fulfillment of the General Education by a GenEd Transfer Agreement is noted on pertinent student records.

Eligibility for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd and Core-to-Core

The below institutions have Transfer Agreements with Temple University. Not all Associate degrees from these institutions have been approved for GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd and/or Core-to-Core. To review the agreements and which degrees are eligible go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements.htm. You can also consult with your academic advisor to determine if you are a GenEd-to-GenEd, Core-to-GenEd or Core-to-Core student.

Your official transcript must note the receipt of your degree for an advisor to update the system.

Analytical Reading & Writing (GW)

Requirement: One 4-credit hour course.

Writing Placement Exam. The Writing Placement Exam is required for all first-year students, transfer and non-matriculating students who have not successfully completed a credit-bearing, college-level composition course with a grade of C- or better.

The placement exam will indicate if the student should register for English 0701: Introduction to Academic Discourse, English 0802: Analytical Reading & Writing, or be exempted from the course.

This course should be taken as soon as possible—ideally in the first semester, but certainly in the first year.

Analytical Reading & Writing is intended to teach students how to:

- Organize ideas in a coherent and logical manner;
- Connect multiple texts through an issue or an idea;
- Identify authors' key arguments;
- Create and defend arguments of one's own; and
- Demonstrate correct grammar, syntax and acknowledgment of sources.

Analytical Reading & Writing Courses

- Analytical Reading & Writing
- English as a Second Language (ESL) Analytical Reading & Writing

Arts (GA)

Requirement: One 3-credit or 4-credit hour course.

GenEd Arts courses develop artistic literacy. Courses may be centered on one of the arts (e.g. dance, fine arts, music), may be interdisciplinary in nature (e.g. creative writing and theater, film and dance), or may address larger themes (e.g. creativity, the arts and political statement, technology and the arts), but all Arts courses make some connection to other perspectives, disciplines, or subject areas.

GenEd Arts courses are intended to teach students how to:

- Experience and respond to a work of art or creative process;
- Recognize or interpret a work of art or creative process in its social, historical and cultural context;
- Describe or evaluate a work of art or creative process using appropriate terminology;
- Demonstrate an "appreciation" for the value of art in our lives and in society; and
- Function as a member of an audience.

A student may not take the same course from multiple departments and earn credit toward graduation. However, if a student wishes to replace her/his grade in a GenEd course, s/he may replace the grade with any course bearing the same course number and the same course title regardless of department.

Others investigate globalization and its effects across nations and regions.

World Society courses are intended to teach students how to:

- Understand the influences (e.g. political, social, historical, cultural, artistic, literary, geographic, economic) on world societies or processes (e.g. globalization) linking world societies;

GenEd Human Behavior courses address the relationships between individuals and communities. Courses may focus on the relationship between individuals and communities in general or may engage those relationships from specific perspectives (such as art, music, education, religion, economics, politics or education), or look at them within specific themes (such as food & eating, crime, crisis, sexuality, or adolescence).

Human Behavior courses are intended to teach students how to:

- Understand relationships between individuals and communities;
- Understand theories or explanations of human behavior used to describe social phenomena;
- Examine the development of individuals' beliefs, behaviors, and assumptions and how these affect individuals and communities;
- Apply one disciplinary method to understand human behavior or explain social phenomena;
- Access and analyze materials related to individuals, communities or social phenomena; and

- Compare and contrast similar social phenomena across individuals or communities.

Consult an academic advisor for more information.

Mosaic (GY & GZ)

Requirement: Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I (3 credits) and Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II (3 credits). Students normally should take Mosaic I in the semester immediately following the completion of Analytical Reading & Writing, and Mosaic II immediately after completing Mosaic I.

In these small discussion-based classes, students will be guided through a thematic approach to primary texts from great world cultural and intellectual traditions. Themes such as "journeys," or "faith" or "money" are the basis for reading and understanding a set of important texts from different time periods and different cultures. For example, as students explore the theme of "power," they will start with Homer's Iliad and the Declaration of Independence. Expanding on this theme, they will read 18th-century political philosopher John Locke and 20th-century American civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., while weaving in important texts from China and the Middle East. As students interrogate the theme of "power," they will be making connections across different time periods, cultures, and types of writing.

The Mosaic sequence will be enhanced by the addition of "texts" from great world musical, artistic and architectural traditions, allowing students to grapple with important themes in a richer multidisciplinary and multicultural fashion.

Mosaic courses build upon the communication and critical thinking skills students developed in the Analytical Reading & Writing course, particularly the ability to make connections and arguments across different texts. That is why it is so important to take the Analytical Reading & Writing course before taking Mosaic.

Upon completion of the Mosaic sequence, students will be able to:

- Read in its entirety an unfamiliar and problematic written text (theoretically, historically, or culturally challenging);
- Recognize abstractions, large ideas, and implications associated with difficult written texts;
- Make connections across disciplines, history and cultural boundaries;
- Construct positions, arguments, and interpretations through textual analysis and evaluation; and
- Produce thoughtful writing that reflects persuasive position and the conventions of academic discourse.

- Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II
- Honors Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I
- Honors Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II

Quantitative Literacy (GQ)

Requirement: One 4-credit hour course.

Math Placement Exam. The Mathematics Placement Exam is required for all first-year students, transfer and non-matriculating students who have not successfully completed a credit-bearing, college-level Math course with a grade of C- or better. The placement exam will indicate if the student may register for either a Quantitative Literacy course or a higher-level math course.

A student placed in Math 0701 is required to complete successfully Math 0701 before enrolling in a GenEd Quantitative Literacy course or GenEd Science & Technology courses, as these courses require students to understand and perform basic computational skills.

GenEd Quantitative Literacy courses present mathematical thinking as a tool for solving everyday problems and as a way of understanding how to represent aspects of a complex world. They are designed to prepare students as citizens and voters to have the ability to think critically about quantitative statements, to recognize when they are misleading or false, and to appreciate how they relate to significant social or political issues. While computation may be part of a Quantitative Literacy course, the primary focus is not computational skills.

Quantitative Literacy courses are intended to teach students how to:

- Understand quantitative models that describe real world phenomena and recognize limitations of those models;
- Perform simple mathematical computations associated with a quantitative model and make conclusions based on the results;
- Recognize, use, and appreciate mathematical thinking for solving problems that are part of everyday life;
- Understand the various sources of uncertainty and error in empirical data;
- Retrieve, organize, and analyze data associated with a quantitative model; and
- Communicate logical arguments and their conclusions.

Writing Intensive Courses

For most professionals - doctors, accountants, social workers, educators, policy-makers, performers, etc. - writing is an important part of work-life, and writing well often paves the way to professional success. But the kinds of writing that are valued in the professions are typically different from the kinds of writing that students use in school. The writing-intensive course program at Temple University is designed to provide students with a window into the types of writing they may be expected to produce after graduation. To this end, departments and programs have designated specific writing-intensive courses that are part of the major; in these writing courses, students study, write and revise texts that are similar to what they will encounter in their post-Temple careers.

All undergraduate students must complete at least two writing-intensive courses for a total of at least six credits. The writing-intensive course credits are counted as part of the major; they are not General Education (GenEd) or elective credits.*

The specific courses that are required for particular majors can be found within this Bulletin (see Academic Programs for approved courses). Writing-intensive courses are identified by the last two digits of the course number: courses numbered xx96, xx97, and xx98 are writing-intensive. These courses can also be identified by the Course Attribute of "WI."

The writing-intensive courses must be completed at Temple University. Students may not transfer in credits to satisfy this requirement. Students who have problems completing their writing-intensive course requirements should contact their advisors.

A complete list of all approved writing-intensive courses appears on the web site of the Office of the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies. To view the list, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/resources/core/writingintensive.html. Not all courses are offered every semester. Students must complete the writing-intensive courses that are specified by their major. For more information about the writing-intensive course program, please visit the program web site: www.temple.edu/wi

(*Go to www.temple.edu/vpus/resources/core/writingintensive.html for information on writing-intensive courses for the Core Curriculum.)

- Certificate in Sustainability
- ProRanger Philadelphia Program

For more information about the certificate and program, click on the links to the left.

ProRanger Philadelphia Program

The ProRanger Philadelphia program is an academic and technical skills training and paid internship program that is cooperatively administered by the National Park Service and Temple University. The program was established to recruit, train and employ law enforcement park rangers for the National Park Service. Upon graduating from Temple University and successfully completing the ProRanger Philadelphia program, participants are placed in a permanent career tenure law enforcement park ranger position with the National Park Service.

Upon acceptance into the ProRanger Philadelphia program, a ProRanger trainee will become part of an experiential learning cohort made up of at least 12 and no more than 20 fellow trainees. During the summer periods between the freshman/sophomore and sophomore/junior years, the ProRanger Philadelphia trainee will be assigned to a National Park area and will be employed as a seasonal National Park Service employee. Trainees will also participate in a three-credit academic course that accompanies the internship and includes reflective experiences of the cohort group. During the period between the junior/senior year, the ProRanger trainee will be enrolled in the Seasonal Law Enforcement Training Program (SLETP) at Temple University.

In addition to the experiential components, students will complete four academic courses that include: 1) a three-credit course that studies the mission and functions of the National Park Service and the role of law enforcement in National Parks; 2) a communications/leadership course chosen from an array of options; 3) an ethics course chosen from an array of options; 4) a content area course chosen from an array of options.

While the primary duties of the ProRanger Philadelphia graduate is protecting people and property, ProRanger Philadelphia trainees do not have to be Criminal Justice majors, and students from any academic major or background may apply. More importantly, a ProRanger Philadelphia trainee will have an aptitude for working with people with diverse backgrounds, have an interest in the outdoors, history and the environment, and has a high standard of ethical behavior.

Please see www.temple.edu/proranger for more information about becoming a ProRanger.

Certificate in National Park Service Management

The University College, in consultation with the National Park Service, has developed a certificate program in National Park Service Management that will provide extensive opportunities for academic study, training and development, and for internship placement as preparation for a career in National Park Service (NPS) law enforcement and in other areas related to park service management, as well as other related careers. The certificate program is open to students enrolled in bachelor's degree programs who are part of the ProRanger Philadelphia program. The certificate requires a minimum of 21 credits. In addition to the experiential and internship components that require reflective essays, students will complete other academic courses that explore the mission and functions of the NPS, communications and leadership, and ethics.

Certificate in Sustainability

sustainabilitycertificate@temple.edu

The University College is offering an undergraduate Certificate in Sustainability. This twelve credit interdisciplinary certificate will provide an opportunity for students to further their knowledge and skills to contribute to sustainable systems from the viewpoint of different disciplines, to help them become effective leaders and agents of change for sustainability, and to make them more competitive in the changing job market as some sectors move to a green collar economy.

The certificate is available to all undergraduate degree seeking students to complete as part of their studies. Consult a school academic advisor about how the required classes fit into academic and career plans. This credit certificate may be conferred upon a student upon satisfactory completion of the required credits with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0.

Certificate Requirements

1. The undergraduate Certificate in Sustainability will require four (4) courses and a minimum of twelve (12) credit hours.

2. The courses will be selected among courses in four different departments in at least three different schools and must be outside of the student's own major.
3. General Education courses can be included in the array of courses, but can constitute no more than one of the four courses toward the certificate. If a student chooses a General Education course to count toward the certificate, this same course cannot count toward the General Education requirement in a specific category.
4. The certificate requires that three of the four courses be at the 2000 level or higher.
5. The certificate courses in sustainability can satisfy other minors and/or certificates.

Approved Courses

Students will select courses from an existing array of courses in various disciplines. The symbol (F) or (S) after the course number indicates that the class is offered ONLY in the semester indicated: (F) = offered only in fall semester; (S) = offered only in spring semester.

Introductory Information

Recognizing that not all students can or should declare an academic major upon entering college, University Studies is the academic home for students who have not yet decided on a major and students in transition between majors.

Goals and Objectives

University Studies, formed in 1998, serves any Temple student who has not chosen a collegiate home or declared a major or who needs assistance while changing from one college to another.

University Studies is not a degree-granting college. Rather it is an academic unit that exists to help students explore academic options and to gain admission to a degree-granting school or college at Temple. Students can remain in University Studies until completion of 60 credits, or approximately their first two years at the university.

Transfer students with more than 60 credits cannot be admitted to Temple as an undeclared student in the Division of University Studies. Students admitted to Temple as a University Studies student can remain in the division until they select a school/college major or upon completion of 60 credits.

Financial Aid and Scholarships

Division of University Studies Sophomore Scholarship - The DUS Sophomore Scholarship is awarded each fall to a current or former University Studies student who will be entering the sophomore year with a declared major. Students should be rising sophomores with a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher and a minimum of 30 completed credits. For more information and for an application, go to www.temple.edu/arc.

Special Programs

The Deciding Student Wing is a living/learning community for students who want to live in an environment promoting academic and career exploration. Undeclared students in University Studies are eligible to reside on the Deciding Student Wing, a floor with suite-style housing. Benefits include a resident peer mentor, freshman seminar, workshops and social events.

Honor Societies, Awards for Achievement

Academic Distinctions

Eligibility for the University Studies' Distinguished Honors list is determined by the semester grade point average (GPA) corresponding to cut-off points that will yield the top 16% of GPAs based on the five previous fall and spring semesters for each school or college. Students must have 12 graded credits (A to F grades) in order to be eligible for dean's list for the fall or the spring semesters.

Students who begin in the fall as part-time (i.e., registered for fewer than 12 credits) and continue as part-time in the spring will be eligible for dean's list in the spring if they accumulate at least 12 graded credits (A to F grades) over the fall and spring semesters and meet the GPA criteria listed on the chart for the school or college. If a student is enrolled part-time in the fall but full-time in the spring, eligibility for dean's list will be based on spring semester grades.

The cut-offs for 2012-13 are calculated and published in the summer at the below web site:
http://www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_policies/policies_part2/policies_part2.shtm#dean

Special Facilities

The Academic Resource Center houses a computer lab where students can access major and career oriented online resources as well as Self-Service Banner.

Academic Advising

The Academic Resource Center
1810 Liacouras Walk, Suite 101
215-204-2500
dus@temple.edu

Goal and Objectives

Students enrolled in University Studies use the advising services of the Academic Resource Center, an academic support program established in 1997 to meet the needs of deciding students. Any student at Temple, whether enrolled in University Studies or not, is welcome and encouraged to use the services of the Academic Resource Center.

Academic advisors are important sources of information on University policies and procedures, the General Education curriculum (GenEd) requirements, and degree programs. While students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring information about their academic status, academic advisors are a valuable resource. Advisors introduce students to the various sources of information available on academic programs, enabling students to be well-informed partners in their own education.

At the Academic Resource Center, a staff of professional and peer advisors works closely with students from the time they arrive at Temple through their successful transitions into schools/colleges and declared majors. Advisors meet with students on walk-in and appointment bases in both individual and group advising sessions.

Students are strongly encouraged to meet regularly with academic advisors to discuss academic plans, course selection, and registration. Students not eligible for online registration are required to see an advisor for course selection and registration.

Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements, but schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Therefore, students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status.

Services Provided through the Advising Office:

- Individualized advising geared towards helping students declare majors and complete the intra-university transfer process (transferring from one Temple school/college to another)
- Making Major Decisions, a self-directed Blackboard course focused on major exploration and decision making

- The Major Exploration Academy, a four-step, non-credit program in which a dedicated academic advisor helps guide students toward selecting a major through self-reflection activities, the completion of major and career worksheets, and investigating career options
- University Seminar 1002: First Year Seminar II, a one-credit course designed to help undeclared students explore possible career and major paths at Temple
- Workshops on academic planning and choosing a major
- Assistance with accessing online information regarding Temple schools/colleges and majors

Special Advising Policies and Procedures

Enrollment in the Division of University Studies: Beginning fall 2002 and after, undergraduates matriculated in the Division of University Studies as undeclared majors and who entered University Studies as either freshmen, transfer students, or intra-university transfers from another Temple school or college prior to the completion of 45 credits, can remain in University Studies up to the completion of 60 credits. Students entering University Studies having completed between 45-59 credits can remain in University Studies up to two academic-year semesters if enrolled full-time or until completion of 60 credits if attending part-time.

University Studies students can declare majors throughout the year in accordance with the declaration of major standards set forth by the individual schools and colleges and the intra-university transfer guidelines established by the University. University Studies students can also request a change in status from undecided to an academic program within a college during their New Student Orientation visit.

Note: University Studies students must meet the University's minimum standard for academic progress to remain enrolled in the Division of University Studies.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see the Undergraduate Bulletin's Academic Policies section. Students are responsible for complying with all University-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status. Additional and unique policies or exceptions for the Division of University Studies appear below.

Academic Course Load - Academic overloads during the fall and spring semesters, students who want to take 19 or more semester hours, need special approval of the Director of Student Services.

Dean's List - Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria are placed on the Distinguished Honors list. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Program Performance - Students who are placed on Academic Warning or Probation will be enrolled in the online Back on Track course and will be required to complete this intervention before registering for the upcoming semester. These students will also be required to meet with their advisor to discuss and develop alternative academic plans as well as discuss strategies for improving their academic performance.

Transfer between Colleges within the University: Intra-University Transfer into the Division of University Studies - Students currently enrolled in other schools or colleges who are reconsidering their choice of major or who wish to explore other academic options may process an intra-university transfer request to enter University Studies as an undeclared major. All students interested in transferring into the Division of University Studies must meet with an academic advisor to discuss this transfer.

Grievances - Students can bring grievances to the Director of Academic Advising. Grievances regarding instructors and grades are referred to the grievance protocol for the school/college offering the course.

General College Graduation Requirements

The Division of University Studies is not a degree-granting college. It is an academic unit which exists to help students explore academic programs.

Individual Program Requirements

- The total number of credit hours needed to graduate may be greater for some students based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices (including declaration of major and students credit totals at time major is declared), and academic progress.
- Certain courses fulfill multiple requirements. Consult your advisor to plan your curriculum more effectively.
- Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisite and Co-requisite Policy in the University-wide Academic Policies section of this Bulletin.

Recognizing that not all students can or should declare an academic major upon entering college, Temple University established University Studies — the academic home for students who have not yet decided on a school/college or major. University Studies is not a degree-granting college.

Rather, it is an academic unit that exists to help students explore academic options. All students must declare a major in one of Temple's degree-granting undergraduate schools and colleges upon completion of 60 credits, including any credits transferred from other institutions.

University Studies offers undeclared students a variety of services and programs to help them select an appropriate major. Students can use online resources in our Academic Information Center to research majors and careers and can participate in student success and academic exploration workshops held throughout the year. Upon declaring a major, students are required to fulfill the school/college and department requirements of that program.

University Studies does not grant degrees and students cannot graduate with an "undeclared" curriculum designation.

INTERCOLLEGIAL PROGRAMS

Intercollegial programs at Temple University include a national honor society and a growing number of interdisciplinary academic programs that involve students and departments in more than one of the university's schools and colleges. These programs provide students with opportunities to cross the boundaries of traditional academic disciplines, combine a variety of perspectives, and take advantage of faculty expertise in different departments and colleges. They are designed to accommodate students' interests and prepare students for success in a variety of career fields. The schools and colleges collaborating in these societies and programs are indicated in each description. Each college's degree requirements are described in the college sections of this Bulletin. Students should consult the contact person for an intercollegial society or program for more information about both collegial policies and requirements, and the society or program itself.

The Digital Media Technologies Minor is a 21-23 semester hour interdisciplinary minor offered through the Department of Media Studies and Production (MSP) within the School of Media and Communication and the Computer and Information Sciences (CIS) Department within the College of Science and Technology. It is designed to expand students' knowledge of the information age and to empower them to understand how to communicate using emerging media and computer technologies. The ability to tell stories through emerging digital media technologies will be critically and analytically explored as students examine the science of those technologies. The algorithms of communicating via emergent technologies will be at the core of this minor. This program addresses serious gaps in the current curriculum because current students of media have little understanding of the science of digital media and fast evolving interactive web-based information sharing technologies.

The minor is available to undergraduate students in Media Studies and Production, Computer & Information Science, as well as other departments and colleges. Upon completion of the minor, students should be able to demonstrate the following competencies:

1. Utilization of the hardware, software and technologies for integrating content for computers, the Internet, and mobile devices;
2. Critical analysis of decisions made regarding the use of technology specifically in the social and ethical arenas;
3. Understand the impact of current and emerging technologies locally and globally;
4. Design and implementation of content for various media digitally;
5. Ability to evaluate the science of technology as it impacts communications;
6. Develop and refine presentation, analytical, problem solving and writing skills.

Transfer credits are not accepted for credit for the minor.

Students must receive the permission of their advisor before starting in this program. Minor credit is not given for BTMM grades below C. Students must maintain at least a 2.00 grade point average in the program for successful completion of the minor. Students with averages under 2.00 for more than two semesters will be dropped from the program. Students with averages under 2.00 may not begin the program.

Requirements for the minor in Digital Media Technologies are as follows:

Required (14 credits)
Subject	Course #	Course Title	Hours
BTMM	1701	Introduction to Media Technology	3
CIS	1052	Introduction to Web Technology and Programming	4
CIS	1056	Advanced Web Technology and Programming	4
BTMM	2741	Introduction to Internet Studies and Web Authoring	3
Electives: Select Two (7 credits)*
Subject	Course #	Course Title	Hours
BTMM	4741	Cybermedia Workshop	4
BTMM	4221	Information Technology Policy	3

Other requirements:

- For MSP students, at least one (1) CIS elective is required.
- For CIS students, at least one (1) BTMM elective is required.
- For students of other backgrounds, at least one (1) BTMM and one (1) CIS elective are required.
- All prerequisites must be completed or permission by instructor received to enroll in minor courses.

- Permitted Substitute Elective: Biology 3333
- For students taking the Digital Media Technologies minor, 5 courses applied toward completion of minor requirements must be distinct from the major requirements. As such, additional electives will be accepted in place of courses that are listed for both the major and the minor. For MSP majors taking this minor, BTMM 2701 or 2751 will be accepted in place of the required BTMM 1701.

Students will be equipped with the scholarly background and intellectual skills to understand a wide range of pressing environmental issues, and they will come to appreciate the physical, economic, political, demographic, and ethical factors that define those issues. Among the many environmental problems central to our program are groundwater contamination, suburban sprawl, river basin management, environmental justice, and the greening of abandoned urban spaces. Our graduates find employment with government environmental agencies, citizens' organizations, consulting firms, and corporate environmental affairs departments.

The College of Liberal Arts offers the Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies and the College of Science and Technology offers the Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science. A minor also is offered through the College of Liberal Arts.

The Departments of Economics and Mathematics offer the Mathematical Economics program as a platform for systematic concentration in the mathematical approach to economics. Economics has progressed in the last several decades by making extensive use of mathematical techniques. As a result, students who wish to pursue graduate study in economics, finance, accounting and other disciplines that make an extensive use of economics need a thorough grounding in both economics and mathematics. The Mathematical Economics curriculum provides this grounding with a broad selection of courses that cover all important areas of economics and the mathematical tools required for a critical, deep mastery of these areas. This program is especially recommended for those students who intend to pursue graduate studies in Economics.

International Business Studies (College of Liberal Arts)

Temple University, Japan Campus (TUJ), located in Tokyo, offers a Bachelor of Science in International Business Studies (IBS). TUJ offers a truly international experience - inside and outside the classroom, as well as among students and faculty. This program will prepare students for a challenging career anywhere in the world.

The IBS program challenges students to integrate international business with language studies, an understanding of world affairs and hands-on internship experience. Students develop the global mindset that multinational firms need in the 21st century.

IBS students work on teams with people of similar backgrounds and with those who are often quite different in how they approach life and their studies. TUJ encourages students not only to be multilingual, but also to understand how to navigate across cultures and borders. The IBS program teaches them to think critically, form a well-reasoned opinion, and then capably express that opinion. This is accomplished through class participation, visits to local businesses, and by bringing savvy international business people in the classroom. With those tools, TUJ graduates move confidently into the world of international business and launch productive, fulfilling and viable global careers.

As part of the student's overall professional development, all Fox students are strongly encouraged to participate in student organizations, professional associations, and academic fraternities. All major areas of concentration in the undergraduate curriculum have an associated organization. Freshmen and sophomores can utilize the organizations to find out more about the major fields of study available to them. The student organizations provide an opportunity for students to meet one another outside the classroom as well as to meet practicing professionals from industry and government. Many organizations have an array of social activities that range from fund raising and community service projects to evening gatherings.

The Fox School of Business and Management has the following student professional organizations: Accounting Professional Society, Ascend, Association of Computing Machinery, American Marketing Association, Association of Management Information Systems, Beta Alpha Psi, Business Honors Student Association, Entrepreneurial Student Association/SIFE, Financial Management Association/National Honor Society, Gamma Iota Sigma, International Business Association, National Association for Black Accountants, Omicron Delta Epsilon, Phi Alpha Delta Pre-Law Fraternity, Phi Beta Lambda Business Fraternity, Rho Epsilon, the Society for Human Resource Management, Students for Responsible Business, Temple Economics Society, Toastmasters, and Upsilon Pi Epsilon.

Fox School of Business & Management College Council (FSBMCC)

The college council is comprised of the presidents from each of the recognized Fox student organizations, associations, and fraternities. The council's role is to assist the individual student organizations in recruiting members, obtaining funding, sponsoring activities, identifying outside speakers, and communicating with students. The college council sponsors volunteer opportunities, student organization fairs, Spring Fling activities, and social events for all Fox students. The council also works closely with the dean's office and the Center for Student Professional Development to identify issues that are of concern to students and the student organizations. Center for Undergraduate Advising

The Center for Undergraduate Advising provides advising at three campuses: Main, Ambler, and TUCC. Beginning Fall 2012 the Center for Undergraduate Advising at Main Campus transitioned to a new advising structure that seeks to improve the overall quality of academic advising services to Fox students.

Main Campus advising includes an intentional focus on the developmental trajectory of underclassmen through the newly established Freshman/Sophomore unit. This unit focuses on the transition to college life, major exploration within Fox, successful completion of the lower-division foundation requirements, and retention. Main Campus upperclassmen will be assigned to an academic advisor based on their declared major. The Junior/Senior unit assists students in preparing for graduation and the transition to the business world by articulating curriculum requirements and departmental expectations.

The Main Campus and Ambler offices are open every weekday. The Center City office is open on selected days and evenings. Please see our web site for current office hours and staff: www.fox.temple.edu/advising. Students are expected to know University Policies and their program requirements as defined in their Bulletin and on their DARS report available in the Student Tools section of the TUportal. Advisors will help students with program questions and will provide information to help students define their academic goals and plan the academic course sequence to meet these goals. They may also refer students to additional academic resources and university support services as needed. Students will find additional resources for planning their program in the Fox Undergraduate Advising website: www.fox.temple.edu/advising

Peer Advising

The Center for Undergraduate Advising at the Fox School of Business and Management provides peer advising on Main Campus to Fox students. Peer advisors are an integral part of the Center for Undergraduate Advising. They provide the perspective of an upper class student in the college and assist business students in making the transition into Temple by sharing their strategies for academic success and knowledge of campus resources. To learn more about peer advising, please visit our website: <http://community.mis.temple.edu/peeradvisors/>.

Office of the Ombudsperson

The Fox School of Business and Management Ombudsperson will assist students in resolving problems that might arise from the classroom, acting as mediator between faculty and students when problems arise. The grievance procedures can be reviewed online at www.fox.temple.edu/advising/ombuds or contact the Center for Undergraduate Advising at 215-204-4560 for further information.

Academic Policies & Regulations

The university policies and regulations apply to all undergraduate students and provide a framework within which schools and colleges may specify further conditions or variations appropriate to students in their courses or programs. Policies specific to FSBM are as follows:

Anticipation of Graduation

Students must submit an application for graduation using the University online graduation application in Self Service Banner prior to the Continuing Student Registration period for their final semester. The Fox School of Business and Management requires students submit an electronic "Intent to Graduate" prior to registration for their final semester. Current graduation information is available from the advising web site at www.fox.temple.edu/advising/graduation

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation Requirements

Semester hours earned in SRAP or ELECT, Preparatory Mathematics (formerly Mathematics 0001 or 0015), and lower-division (under 3000) Military Science courses do not yield academic credit toward the minimum total of 124.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Probation and Drop

Students in the Fox School of Business and Management are bound by the university policy on Academic Standing. The university policy can be found at http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=02.10.11.

Grade Point Average Requirement for Graduation

Fox students are required to attain a 2.0 (2.0=C) average in all of their Temple coursework and in their major in order to graduate from the Fox School of Business and Management. Some courses may have specific higher minimum grade requirements for degree applicability. Please check current course descriptions and the section pertaining to your major for this information. Major GPA calculators are available at www.fox.temple.edu/advising.

Life Experience

The Fox School of Business and Management does not offer credits for life experiences. Please see Credit for Prior Learning under the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin for information about advanced placement or CLEP examinations.

Leave of Absence/Re-enrollment/Reinstatement

Fox students who wish to voluntarily withdraw from the university for one or two semesters (fall and/or spring) are strongly encouraged to apply for a Leave of Absence (LOA). If approved, these students remain eligible for the same requirements as when they declared their major and will have access to Temple e-mail, university library systems, and priority and self registration for the approved semester of return. By contrast, students who leave the university without any notice and without an approved LOA must apply to be re-enrolled and, if allowed to return, must follow the most recent university curricular requirements in place for the semester of their return. If no LOA was filed, before students return, they must indicate any course(s) taken since leaving Temple and provide a copy of an official transcript from each institution attended. Students who received a medical withdrawal may be asked to provide medical documentation clearing them to return to school and to schedule an interview with an advisor before a re-enrollment decision can be made. Any existing holds must be cleared prior to re-enrollment.

Leave of Absence and Re-enrollment forms are available online: www.fox.temple.edu/cms_academics/dept/advising/forms/. Further details can be viewed at: http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=02.10.16

Students who were dismissed for academic reasons should see the university policy on Academic Standing.

Repeating Courses

University policy restricts the number of times students can enroll in the same course to three times. Permission is required to register for the third attempt of the same course. Students should work closely with an academic advisor to review their options when required to repeat a course. Students who fail to complete a "College Graduation Requirement" in three attempts will be required to change their program to one outside the Fox School of Business and Management. Students who fail to complete a required major course listed in the Programs of Study will be required to change to a different major. Please see Repeating a Course under the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin for more information.

Residence Requirement

A minimum of 30 of the last 45 semester hours, including the majority of the requirements of a major, must be completed in the Fox School of Business and Management at Temple University in order to receive a degree. In addition, a minimum of 50% of the business courses must be completed at Temple University. See the Academic Residency Requirements policy at www.temple.edu/bulletin/policies/policies_part1.htm#acad_res_req.

Transfer Credits

Business courses taken at colleges or universities which are not members of The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) will be accepted for transfer business credits only if they are equivalent to Economics 1101, Economics 1102, Accounting 2101, Accounting 2102, Risk Management & Insurance 2101, Legal Studies 1101, Legal Studies 1102, Management Information Systems 2101, Statistics 1001, 1102, 2101, 2102, 2103. Human Resource Management 2501 will be accepted for transfer if taken during the spring 2005 semester or later. Specific articulation agreements with local colleges may expand on this list. Current articulation agreements can be viewed at www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements.htm.

It should be understood that it is possible for a student to transfer in a large number of credits, which, while accepted by the university, may exceed the maximum number of elective credits applicable to the degree.

Permission to take Courses at Another Institution

Consistent with the University Policy, www.temple.edu/bulletin/policies/policies_part4.htm#another_inst, students will not receive transfer credit for courses taken at another institution while they are matriculated at Temple University unless prior permission has been obtained. Completed permission forms with supporting documentation should be submitted to the Fox School of Business and Management advising offices. Please refer to the above section on transfer credits. Students should allow approximately two weeks for processing once permission forms and documentation have been submitted.

Students who choose to pursue a dual major in business can double-count a maximum of one course toward both majors. All Fox students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses at Temple. One of these courses will be Business Administration 2196; the second will be a writing-intensive course in the major.

NOTE: Many upper-division foundation courses and major courses have prerequisites. Some prerequisites also include minimum grade requirements. Students are required to meet all prerequisites. Prerequisites will be strictly enforced and the school reserves the right to de-enroll students from courses when prerequisites have not been met. Course descriptions, including prerequisites, are found in the Course Catalog in Self-Service Banner, accessed through the TUportal.

These credits may be taken in either business or non-business courses. Students are encouraged to explore completing a minor, a certificate, or a second major for these credits. Students who choose to pursue a dual major in business can double-count a maximum of one course toward both majors. Students who choose to pursue one or more minors may not double-count courses already used to meet the requirements for a major or different minor.

Actuaries are highly-educated business executives who specialize in the evaluation of insurance and financial risks. They hold positions of responsibility with insurance companies, consulting firms, investment banks, self-insurers, government regulators, and government insurance programs. Because of their valuable talents and expertise, actuaries are generally well compensated and often rise to the highest levels of management. While undergraduates, students prepare for and take some of the professional examinations given by the Society of Actuaries and the Casualty Actuarial Society. The material in the first five actuarial exams include calculus-based probability with applications in risk management, theory of interest, actuarial mathematics, finance, and loss distributions.

Students should meet with the program director as soon as they enter the actuarial science program. In addition to their coursework and professional examinations, students are strongly encouraged to become active in the Sigma chapter of Gamma Iota Sigma, Temple's national award-winning professional student organization in Risk Management, Insurance, and Actuarial Science. The organization hosts numerous guest speakers from the industry, sponsors a variety of career development seminars, and maintains a widely-distributed résumé book. For more information, please contact the GIS President, at 215-204-9368, or visit the web site at www.sigmachapter.org.

Economics is the study of how we allocate resources among alternative uses to satisfy our wants. Virtually all of the public and personal issues which confront us today have an important economic component. For this reason, the economic way of thinking plays a valuable role in helping us make sense of the complex world in which we live. In addition, the study of economics is excellent preparation for a wide range of careers. Economics majors with bachelor's degrees are well prepared to be managers in both the public and private sectors. Training in economics also provides a solid basis for professional study in law, business, public administration, and the health sciences.

The Temple Economics Society is the student professional organization for economics majors and is open to all students interested in economics. Economics majors may also become members of Omicron Delta Epsilon (ODE), the National Honor Society, if they meet the admissions requirements of the organization. For more information, please contact Dr. William Holmes at william.holmes@temple.edu or phone 215-204-8175.

Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute (IEI)

Entrepreneurs are creative problem-solvers that are driven to have a big impact on the world. Many of Temple University's Entrepreneurship students start new businesses during or after college, but many more go on to work in exciting jobs with companies that realize the importance of innovation and the value of students that can think outside the box, recognize opportunities, and get the job done.

Temple's Entrepreneurship programs are consistently ranked among the top in the nation. Through these programs you will learn how to be more creative, to recognize and generate innovations in all their forms, to understand the ecosystems and value chains of industries in order to identify opportunities for new businesses or products, and you will be given the knowledge and tools necessary to launch and manage your own business or successfully propose new business ideas and change initiatives in any companies you work for or with.

The Entrepreneurship major is a good choice for students who:

- Would like to start a new business (both for-profit and social ventures)
- Anticipate doing consulting or doing freelance work
- Plan to assume responsibilities in a family business
- Want to be a creative and productive member of an innovative, high-growth business

The program is designed with a balance of theory and practice and our courses are taught by successful serial entrepreneurs, experienced venture capital executives, and senior innovation managers. Course work is closely tied to the applied programs of the Innovation & Entrepreneurship Institute (IEI) like the Be Your Own Boss Bowl (BYOBB) and other competitions (e.g., our capstone course focuses on coaching students on finalizing an idea for a new business and writing a business plan that can be submitted to the BYOBB for a chance to win over $100k in prizes).

We want our Entrepreneurship majors to have experience when they graduate – thus our program includes a required internship course and we expect all Entrepreneurship majors be active members in the Entrepreneurial Student Association (ESA) where they can work on a variety of interesting projects with local companies and the community.

Finance plays a central role in the operation of the economy and is at the heart of the resource allocation system. Individuals often come in contact with financial instruments (money, stocks, bonds, etc.) and financial institutions and need to understand the role of the financial system in managing their lifetime financial portfolio.

Finance majors typically have one of four career objectives: (1) a position in the finance department of a business firm; (2) a position in a financial institution such as a bank, investment bank, or mutual fund; (3) a career in the area of financial investments; and (4) a position with a government or non-profit organization.

Finance majors are encouraged to become involved in the Financial Management Association/National Honor Society (FMA/NHS). This student professional organization offers students the opportunity to meet business leaders in the financial industry, hosts career development seminars, and maintains a résumé book. The Financial Management Association is open to all business majors. To join the National Honor Society division of this organization, students must meet admission requirements. For more information, please contact the FMA executive officers at 215-204-6673.

The Human Resource Management (HRM) major prepares students for careers in human resource (HR) management and general management. Increasingly, organizations are hiring well-trained professionals to recruit, develop, manage, and retain their most valuable business asset - human capital. The Human Resource Management department prepares students with the knowledge and skills needed for the strategic and interpersonal management of company employees.

Typical first jobs for Human Resource Management majors include corporate recruiter, employee relations specialist, compensation analyst, corporate trainer, HR generalist, and management trainee. Typical jobs held five-ten years out include HR director, staffing manager, compensation manager, training manager, and employee relations director.

Human Resource Management majors are expected to become involved in the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM). Guest speakers, networking events, internships and co-ops, career development activities, and the résumé book are just a few benefits of joining. There are two student SHRM chapters, one at Main Campus and the other at Ambler. The Main Campus chapter office is located in Alter Hall 333C. For more information, contact Andrea Brooks-Lopez at 215-204-4226, ablopez@temple.edu or the SHRM office at 215-204-1626. For Ambler, contact Dasha Boguslavskaya at 215-204-3355, dasha@temple.edu, or the SHRM Main office.

In addition to SHRM, the HRM Department also invites all majors to join our Students for Responsible Business (SRB) or Student Professional Sales Organizations (PSO). For information on SRB (national affiliate is Net Impact), go to their web site (<http://srbonline.org>) or contact faculty advisor Lynne Andersson at 215-204-5088, landerss@temple.edu. Minors

Legal Studies Minor for Human Resource Managers

Human Resource Management majors only

The legal aspects of managing people at all levels of business and nonprofit organizations come into play in a wide variety of human resources policies and decisions as well as the ramifications of decisions about the business itself. Compliance with local, state and federal laws and regulations also creates the need for HR practitioners to consider the legal ramifications of hiring, training, coaching, disciplining and terminating individual employees. Larger organizational issues such as layoffs, restructuring, outsourcing, benefits and retirement programs and decisions must also be made in compliance with the law.

Requirements for this minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor.

Human Resource Minor for Legal Studies

Legal Studies majors only.

Law permeates most aspects of our business lives and few decisions lack legal repercussions. In a business setting, the law regulates such things as who businesses can hire and fire, the liability for people injured on a business premises and labor/management relations. On the other hand, organizations are hiring non-lawyer professionals to manage the most important asset of business, its human talent. Those employees are usually trained in human resource management. In practice, lawyers and human resource managers work hand in hand to deal with employee problems and statutory regulations dealing with compliance issues. A major in law with a minor in human resource management is a natural fit. Students will learn the legal repercussions of a business decision while also being exposed to management and human side of that decision with practical exposure to those issues.

Requirements for this minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor.

Certificate in Leadership

The Fox Certificate in Leadership responds to workplace demands for effective leadership development. Corporate executives and numerous studies for years indicate the need for business school graduates to move beyond their technical competence as they step into leadership roles. In today's environment, a leadership mind-set with enhanced skills in organizational communication, conflict management, and team building gives individuals and organizations a competitive advantage. Expertise and perspective developed through the Leadership Certificate courses enable graduates to think and act in ways that reflect sophisticated competencies (from interpersonal to technical) and that benefit the interests of multiple organizational stakeholders.

Requirements for this certificate must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet certificate requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor or certificate.

RMI & HRM Focus

The Risk Management and Insurance (RMI) Department and Human Resource Management Department offer several complimentary courses for students interested in a career in employee benefits and/or human resource management. These courses allow students to broaden their career options by taking advantage of the cross-training offered by these departments.

- HRM major with a RMI focus: Students take RMI 3501 (Life and Health Insurance and Employee Benefits) and RMI 3503 (Retirement Plans)
- RMI major with a HRM focus: Students take HRM 2501 (Introduction to Human Resource Management) and HRM 3511 (Compensation Management)
- Dual HRM/RMI major. Students fulfill all requirements for both majors.

The U.S. News & World Report has ranked the Fox School of Business and Management's undergraduate International Business (IB) major in the Top 10 in the nation for 5 consecutive years.

A major in International Business Administration combines coursework in international business (IB), area studies, and foreign language. This educational experience is designed to equip students with the knowledge and global perspectives required to thrive in the global workforce of the twenty-first century. The IB major prepares students to understand the different challenges businesses face when they operate in an international environment. As the world is globalizing several emerging markets such as China, India, and Brazil have become important players in the international arena in the past two decades. The IB program emphasizes learning to do business in these emerging markets through elective courses such as Fundamentals of Asian Business, Fundamentals of Latin American Business, and Special Topics in IB.

Since an understanding of language and cultural differences plays an important role in international interactions, there is additional emphasis given to learning a second language. Students are required to demonstrate proficiency in a second language at the fourth semester level through coursework or examination. In addition, a cultural, historical, and geographic area of understanding is also essential. Students are encouraged to acquire this background through completion of a Certificate of Specialization in Spanish and Latin American Studies for Business, or Asian Business and Society facilitated by IGMS/CIBER, or elective courses offered by the College of Liberal Arts. See Temple CIBER, Spanish and Latin American Studies for Business and Temple CIBER, Asian Business and Society Certificate Program for information.

To further round out a students' education, study abroad is strongly recommended. Students are provided opportunities to spend a summer, a semester or a year abroad in various countries where the university has established business programs. See Temple CIBER, Study Abroad for information.

International Business Administration majors are strongly encouraged to study abroad, earn an Area Studies and Language Certificate, and become actively involved in the International Business Association. This student organization hosts the Global Lecture Series with guest speakers from international business disciplines, networking events, and career development activities. This organization is open to all FSBM majors. For more information, contact the International Business Association officers at 215-204-8185.

The Legal Studies curriculum is designed to acquaint students with the broad spectrum of the economic, political, and sociological framework within which the law functions. It also may be pursued as a pre-law major in preparation for law school. Majors will be exposed to a curriculum that will challenge their thinking process and reasoning abilities through the use of actual court cases, trial simulations, negotiations and other advocacy skills that stress written and oral communication. All faculty are law trained, and the courses offer an interesting blend of theory and practice.

Students pursuing this curriculum in preparation for the study of law should acquaint themselves with the content and format of the Law School Admissions Test. Information about the test and the Law School admission's process may be accessed by visiting our web site.

Legal Studies majors are encouraged to become involved in Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International. This organization hosts guest speakers, sponsors law-related field trips, and assists students in gaining internships within the legal field.

Online BBA Program

The Legal Studies major is available as an online BBA degree completion program designed for new students ready to start their junior year in a business curriculum. Please see our web site at www.fox.temple.edu/cms_academics/undergraduate-2/online-bba/ for program and admission information.

The Temple Law Scholars Program

Temple University School of Law and the Temple University Fox School of Business and Management have created a program for exceptional students who plan on attending law school. The Temple Law Scholars Program provides an opportunity for outstanding students to gain provisional admission to Temple University School of Law at the same time they are accepted into the Fox School of Business and Management. As Temple Law Scholars, students will spend their undergraduate years in Temple's Honors Program with a major in Legal Studies, after which they will enroll in Temple University School of Law, leading to the degree of Juris Doctor. While undergraduates, students may choose to add a second major or minor.

The Temple Law Scholars Program offers two options:

1. The 3/3 option offers an accelerated experience in which the student begins law school after three years of undergraduate work in the Honors program. The bachelor's degree in Business Administration with a major in Legal Studies is awarded after completion of the first year of law school, and the law degree is received after three years of law school.
2. The 4/3 program offers an enriched undergraduate experience in which the student receives the bachelor's degree in Business Administration with a major in Legal Studies after four years in the Honors Program, and the law degree after three years of law school.

Students who wish to seek additional work experience prior to matriculating in law school can also be granted a one-year deferral between college and law school.

For more information about the Department of Legal Studies and its course offerings, please visit our web site at <http://sbm.temple.edu/dept/legal/>.

Minors

Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor.

Human Resource Minor for Legal Studies

Legal Studies majors only.

Law permeates most aspects of our business lives and few decisions lack legal repercussions. In a business setting, the law regulates such things as who businesses can hire and fire, the liability for people injured on business premises and labor/management relations. On the other hand, organizations are hiring non-lawyer professionals to manage the most important asset of business, its human talent. Those employees are usually trained in human resource management. In practice, lawyers and human resource managers work hand in hand to deal with employee problems and statutory regulations dealing with compliance issues. A major in law with a minor in human resource management is a natural fit. Students will learn the legal repercussions of a business decision while also being exposed to management and human side of that decision with practical exposure to those issues.

Requirements for this minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor or certificate.

Entertainment Law Minor

Business students only.

As long as people have had free time, they have pursued leisure activities. Music, theaters, and sports have been a part of culture since ancient times. As leisure time and personal incomes have grown, so has the arts, entertainment, and recreation industry. There are about 125,500 establishments, ranging from art museums to minor league sports teams in the entertainment field. Practically any activity that occupies a person's leisure time, excluding the viewing of motion pictures and video rentals, is part of this industry. What is often overlooked by those who wish to make a career in the field is that this endeavor is still a business and requires an understanding of the business enterprise. Not only will students who pursue this minor obtain a business degree but they will also learn about the special legal issues that confront this industry that provides about 2 million jobs a year.

Requirements for this minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor or certificate.

Legal Studies Minor

Business students only

This four course, 12-credit minor is designed to expose students to a curriculum in legal studies, particularly students majoring in other disciplines such as accounting, risk management or finance who are considering law school. Students will learn how to read cases and statutes, do legal research and make a legal argument as well as identify the legal issues that will impact their business and personal decisions.

Requirements for this minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor or certificate.

Legal Studies Minor for Human Resource Managers

Human Resource Management majors only

The legal aspects of managing people at all levels of business and non profit organizations come into play in a wide variety of human resources policies and decisions as well as the ramifications of decisions about the business itself. Compliance with local, state and federal laws and regulations also creates the need for HR practitioners to consider the legal ramifications of hiring, training, coaching, disciplining and terminating individual employees. Larger organizational issues such as layoffs, restructuring, outsourcing, benefits and retirement programs and decisions must also be made in compliance with the law.

Requirements for this minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor or certificate.

Minors

MIS Minor

A minor in MIS provides undergraduate students the ability to specify, select, utilize, and apply information technology (IT) to their major field of study. The minor provides the skills and terminology needed to become an expert user of IT in the business world.

Who Should Do a Minor in MIS?

Business students will benefit from a minor in MIS, particularly majors in marketing, finance, accounting, risk management, entrepreneurship, and business management. The minor in MIS will position such students for jobs in business application areas, consulting positions, technical liaisons, and selling and acquisition of business software.

Benefits:

- Exposure to key computing technologies that are likely to be used by organizations.
- Provide the key tools that would enable business professionals to interact with the IT professionals to specify technology solutions.

- View business processes in terms of information inputs and outputs and identify how specific IT solutions can be designed and implemented to enable these business processes to make the company more effective and efficient.
- Identify information needs of the organization and methods to collect, store, analyze, and disseminate this information.

Requirements for the minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor. For more information or to declare MIS as your minor, visit:
<http://community.mis.temple.edu/minor/>

Information Technology Innovation and Entrepreneurship Minor (ITIE)

The Fox School Information Technology Innovation and Entrepreneurship (ITIE) minor integrates two of the most important elements of the Fox school: the enabling role of IT and the drive of entrepreneurial thinking. The minor will allow Fox School majors to combine the above elements by taking relevant courses in Entrepreneurship, Management Information Systems (MIS), and other related areas.

Who Should Minor in ITIE?

The minor is appropriate for all majors but particularly relevant for students in marketing, finance, human resources, and MIS who are interested in applying IT in an entrepreneurial manner. Students who minor in ITIE will be well suited to work for corporations who want to drive new IT-enabled innovative projects and for technology enabled start-ups.

The minor is a joint venture between the MIS department and the Strategic Management department.

Requirements for the minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor. For more information or to declare ITIE as your minor, visit:

Digital Marketing Minor

The Digital Marketing Minor prepares students for careers related to customer relationship management, social media, information architecture, e-commerce, search engine optimization, e-detailing, site design, Internet research, demographic and sales analytics, blogging, and media design. The Digital Marketing minor is appropriate for all BBA students in the Fox School of Business and is particularly relevant for Marketing, Human Resource Management, Business Management, and MIS students.

Requirements for the minor must be completed prior to graduation. Courses cannot be used to meet minor requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor.

Certificate

Students who wish to earn a Certificate in MIS can do so by completing the required courses. Courses cannot be used to meet certificate requirements if already used to meet the requirements for a major or a different minor or certificate. The certificate does not require the completion of the Business Minor or the Business Studies Minor. Certificates are not listed on the academic transcript.

Requirements for the certificate must be completed prior to graduation. Go to https://community.mis.temple.edu/form/?formname=mis_cert_dec_form to declare the MIS certificate.

Marketing serves critical economic functions; companies of all sizes must develop effective marketing strategies to reach customers, which require an understanding of how to innovate and develop new products, create effective promotional programs, price products and services, and distribute these in a global marketplace. The marketing curriculum at Fox provides students with occupationally-viable skills and professional development opportunities.

Contemporary marketing focuses on performance metrics and the curriculum seeks to immerse students in the quantitative methods and the behavioral sciences necessary to address marketing problems. Experiential and active learning are common in the upper division curriculum and projects are often offered in cooperation with business and government organizations.

Students are encouraged to choose specific tracks within the curriculum which offer more in-depth coverage of topics and provide job-ready skills; these tracks include: Supply Chain Management, Digital Marketing, and Consumer Insights.

Marketing majors have varied career choices, including:

- Advertising– including media planning, social media, or account management
- Direct Marketing
- Digital Marketing

- Global Marketing
- Logistics and supply chain management
- Marketing Management
- Marketing Research and consumer insights
- Non-profit organizations such as hospitals and universities
- Sales and sales management
- Wholesaling and Retail Management, including buying and allocations

Marketing majors are encouraged to become involved in the American Marketing Association (AMA), a student professional organization that offers students the opportunity to meet business leaders in marketing. The AMA hosts regular meetings and career development programs. The AMA is open to all majors. For more information, please see the AMA web site at www.temple-ama.org/ or contact Professor Craig Atwater at atwater@temple.edu (215-204-5220).

The real estate major is designed to provide an educational foundation for students interested in learning about real estate and real estate markets and/or pursuing careers in real estate. Traditional career paths include real estate investment and financial analysis, real estate financing and mortgage lending, real estate appraisal and valuation, property management, residential and commercial brokerage and marketing, and corporate real estate analysis.

Core competencies to be developed include the ability to analyze real estate investment opportunities from investor and lender perspectives, conduct asset and risk assessments and implement risk management strategies, understand the dynamics of real estate markets, and develop an understanding of the legal framework surrounding real estate ownership, title transfer, and the regulatory and legal requirements, including agency obligations, common in real estate transactions.

All real estate-interested students are encouraged to participate in Temple Real Estate Organization (TREO), the Fox School student professional organization (SPO) for real estate interested students. TREO meets regularly throughout the semester and has an active real estate speaker series. A Temple University real estate student listserv serves as a conduit for various internships and job/career opportunities from real estate companies in the local area. Temple University also hosts a chapter of Alpha Sigma Gamma, the International Real Estate Honorary Society. Alpha Sigma Gamma is the premier honorary organization for real estate students, faculty and professionals with over 30 university chapters and program affiliates. Membership in ASG is based on academic achievement. Real estate majors are eligible for a number of professional and university scholarships and financial awards, including the Fox School's E. Fred Kemner Scholarship Award, devoted exclusively to Temple real estate students. Students interested in any of the opportunities above should contact Professor Huffman for more information.

Temple University's program in Risk Management and Insurance (RMI) is nationally recognized. Located in the Department of Risk, Insurance, and Healthcare Management, the program prepares students to identify and evaluate various sources of risk, then select and implement solutions to control these risks through insurance and other mechanisms of risk transfer and distribution.

Graduates of this program often enter the risk management or employee benefit departments of large businesses and other organizations. They may also take challenging positions within insurance or benefit consulting firms, brokerage firms, agency operations, or insurance companies.

Risk management and insurance majors are strongly encouraged to become active in the Sigma chapter of Gamma Iota Sigma, Temple's national award-winning professional student organization in Risk Management, Insurance, and Actuarial Science. The organization hosts numerous guest speakers from the industry, sponsors a variety of career development seminars, and maintains a widely-distributed résumé book. For more information, please contact the GIS President, at 215-204-9368 or visit the web site at www.sigmachapter.org.

History

Stella Elkins Tyler donated her estate to Temple University in the early 1930s. With an interest in progressive education and a deep appreciation of her mentor, the sculptor Boris Blai, Mrs. Tyler offered her estate with the expressed wish that, through Boris Blai, it would become an environment for the advancement of the fine arts, scholarly study in the arts, and individual creativity.

As founding Dean of Tyler School of Art, Blai instilled within the School a commitment to progressive education, emphasizing the student's mastery of technique within the framework of a liberal arts curriculum. Dean Blai insisted upon individual attention to each student's needs as the basis of successful teaching. During his 25-year tenure Dean Blai shaped the school into one of the finest visual arts centers in the country, and his founding ideals still remain paramount to Tyler's educational philosophy.

In 1960 Dean Charles Le Clair succeeded Boris Blai. During this period the Tyler Campus was improved with construction of a residence hall and two studio/classroom buildings. In 1966 Dean Le Clair founded the Tyler Study Abroad program in Rome, Italy. Tyler's Rome Campus thrives today as one of the most respected fine arts study abroad programs in Europe. The program has expanded to include a full range of liberal arts, architecture, business, and law courses, with an emphasis on topics relating to Rome, Italy, and the European Common Market.

Throughout the 1960s and 1970s, Tyler's curriculum continued to grow in response to new definitions of art-making and the role of art in society. New programs and modern facilities in design, ceramics, glass, metals, and photography were added. During this time, Tyler developed the Art and Art Education department and the Art History department on Temple's Main Campus. Today, the curriculum at Tyler continues to address contemporary needs by incorporating digital technology, video, installation, performance, community arts, and the newest degree program, the B.A. in Visual Studies, inaugurated in fall 2011.

In January 2009, we opened our doors to the new Tyler facility on main campus. Award-winning architect Carlos Jimenez, designer of some of the country's premier art education facilities and exhibition spaces, designed Temple's new Tyler School of Art building. The new Tyler building is located adjacent to the Esther Boyer College of Music and Dance, the new Tyler Architecture Building (opened 2012) and the departments of Film and Media Arts and Theater to form a "mini arts campus" within Temple's main campus. In June 2012, the Temple University Board of Trustees voted to create the Temple University Center for the Arts, uniting the Boyer College of Music and Dance, Tyler School of Art, and the Division of Theater, Film and Media Arts under one administrative umbrella. For more information on the Arts at Temple, go to <http://arts.temple.edu>.

Easy access to the wealth of academic courses in Temple's other schools and colleges, athletics, residence halls, student parking, student organizations, and the active campus life of Temple University adds cosmopolitan breadth to Tyler's studio and academic programs.

From its modest enrollment of 12 students in the first freshman class in 1935, Tyler now boasts a student body of over 1,500. Today, Tyler is a dynamic organization, serving students at Temple's Main Campus and the Temple University Rome and Tokyo campuses. For over 70 years, the foundation of Tyler's program has been a faculty of practicing artists and scholars teaching highly-talented and motivated students.

Accreditation

Tyler School of Art, Temple University is an accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD) and the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

The Architecture Program is accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB), the sole agency authorized to accredit U.S. professional degree programs in architecture.

According to the NAAB, "In the United States, most state registration boards require a degree from an accredited professional degree program as a prerequisite for licensure. The National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB), which is the sole agency authorized to accredit U.S. professional degree programs in architecture, recognizes three types of degrees: the Bachelor of Architecture, the Master of Architecture, and the Doctor of Architecture. A program may be granted a 6-year, 3-year, or 2-year term of accreditation, depending on the extent of its conformance with established educational standards. Master's degree programs may consist of a preprofessional undergraduate degree and a professional graduate degree that, when earned sequentially, constitute an accredited professional education. However, the preprofessional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree."

General Information for Freshman and Transfer Applicants to All Programs (BA, BS, BFA)

Applicants to any Tyler program must meet the deadlines established by the Undergraduate Admissions Office. Please refer to <http://admissions.temple.edu/apply> for updated undergraduate deadline information as well as information regarding the academic requirements for admission. After the priority deadline dates listed by Temple Undergraduate Admissions, applications are accepted on a rolling admissions basis.

General Information for Intra-University Transfer students

Temple students who wish to transfer into a Tyler program or Tyler students who wish to transfer into a different Tyler program should contact the Tyler Admissions Office for policies and procedures.

Art Education and Visual Studies

Bachelor of Arts in Visual Studies and Bachelor of Science Programs

Entering undergraduates are admitted to the Tyler programs by the Director of Admissions of Temple University based on a review of the applicant's academic credentials and the results of the portfolio review. This procedure requires the applicant to file all records and test scores in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions of Temple University and to submit a portfolio. There is a specific format for the portfolio required; please review the information at the Tyler web site: www.temple.edu/tyler. Appointments for freshman portfolio reviews can be made by calling 215-777-9090.

Transfer Students to the B.A. in Visual Studies and the B.S. in Art Education Programs
Transfer applicants or freshmen with Advanced Placement or College-Level Studio Courses

All transfer applicants must complete the Temple online application and send their transcripts, etc., to the Temple University Undergraduate Admissions Office. All students are required to submit a portfolio of work for admission and evaluation.

Bachelor of Arts in Art

The B.A. in Art program on the Main campus of Temple University is no longer admitting new students. Those interested in a B.A. in Art may investigate the B.A. in Art offered through the Temple University Japan campus or consider the B.A. in Visual Studies offered through Tyler on the Main campus of Temple University. Students who were previously enrolled in the B.A. in Art who wish to re-matriculate should review the re-enrollment policy under the Academic Policies section.

Transfer Portfolio Format

The portfolio should be uploaded to www.temple.slideroom.com. SlideRoom charges a fee for this service. Transfers are reviewed by a committee, so they are not eligible for in-person reviews. You are required to submit images that represent each studio art course completed. Descriptions of each image should be included, indicating size, medium, title, the course in which the work was completed, and date completed. Applicants to the BA in Visual Studies and the BS in Art Education are required to submit the writing exercise as outlined in the portfolio requirements for these programs. Most transfer applicants should include the drawing exercise as well unless they have completed a college drawing course. For more information, refer to the Tyler web site: www.temple.edu/tyler/admissions/index.html.

Please note that the Department of Art and Art Education will only accept up to 24 credits of studio toward either the B.A. in Art or the B.S. in Art Education degree.

Tyler accepts transfer students from institutions of higher education, depending on accreditation. The transfer student will be required to complete a minimum of 30 studio credits as a full-time student at the Tyler School of Art. In order to be considered for transfer credit to the B.A. or B.S. degree, studio credits must have been completed within the last 10 years, regardless of where those credits were completed.

B.S. in Architecture, B.S. in Architectural Preservation, B.S. in Facilities Management

Admission to the university does not guarantee admission to the one of the three degrees offered by the Architecture department. The three programs all begin with the same two-year Architecture Foundations curriculum, also called the Architecture Undeclared curriculum. All freshman applicants to any of the three programs must complete the Temple online application and select "Architecture Undeclared" as their program of study. Admission will be granted to those students with strong academic credentials. Students who clearly meet the academic requirements for admission are not required to submit a portfolio. Students who are accepted into another program at Temple who do not meet the academic requirements for admissions may present a portfolio. For specific portfolio format guidelines, please go to www.temple.edu/architecture.

All students are initially admitted into the Architecture Foundation Program (Architecture Undeclared) and, if desired, apply for admission to the pre-professional Bachelor of Science in Architecture (Pre-Professional Program), or the B.S. in Facilities Management or the B.S. in Architectural Preservation during the fourth studio semester. Requirements for entrance into these programs are outlined on the Architecture web site at <http://architecture.temple.edu/admissions-2/>.

Please note that the first professional degree offered by Tyler is the Master of Architecture (M.Arch) degree. Students completing the B.S. in Architecture will have the option to apply to the two-year M.Arch program in their senior year. All admitted students are guaranteed to graduate from the program with an undergraduate degree as long as the academic requirements of the University are met, but admission into the B.S. in Architecture is limited and competitive. Students without college-level architecture studio coursework may apply for the fall semester only.

Students who are not accepted into the B.S. in Architecture may select either the B.S. in Facilities Management or the B.S. in Architectural Preservation as long as they are in good academic standing and have completed the required coursework.

For additional information, please go to www.temple.edu/architecture.

Transfer students seeking advanced placement in architecture design studio will be evaluated by portfolio and the review of the transcripts. Admitted students not presenting a portfolio of work will automatically be placed in first-year design studio, regardless of previous credits. A maximum of 12 semester hours of credit will be allowed by the Program in relevant work experience, Advanced Placement, or CLEP examination. Matriculated, enrolled students may apply for work experience through the Director of Academic Services. Portfolios must be uploaded to www.temple.slideroom.com. SlideRoom charges a fee for this service.

Architecture Portfolio Format

Admission to the architecture program is selective, and based on a review of the academic credentials. A portfolio is not required for admission. If the student is not selected for architecture but meets the general requirements for admission to Temple University and wishes to be considered for admission to architecture, he/she must submit a portfolio of artistic or creative work, as per requirements, procedures and assessment criteria specified by the Architecture Department. Portfolios must be uploaded at www.temple.slideroom.com. SlideRoom requires an additional fee for this service.

For complete portfolio format information for freshman and transfer applicants please go to www.temple.edu/architecture.

Intra-University Transfer Admission

Temple University students who apply as Intra-university transfer students are reviewed for admission to Architecture Foundation Studies based on GPA and availability of space in the program. Admission is selective. Typically, students with a 3.0 or higher GPA are considered. While a portfolio is not required, students may wish to submit a portfolio or work to enhance their application. Students with previous college credits in architecture should submit a portfolio of work that represents studio coursework taken for consideration for advanced standing. Portfolios are to be uploaded at www.temple.slideroom.com. Follow the instructions on the SlideRoom web site to do this. SlideRoom requires an additional fee for this service. All intra-university transfer students (regardless of the number of credit hours completed) must complete all architecture courses from Architecture Foundation Studies (or submit evidence of having completed equivalent courses elsewhere) before continuing into the 3rd and 4th year of the B.S. in Architecture, the B.S. in Facilities Management or the B.S. in Architectural Preservation.

Other Transfer Admission

All transfer students must submit the online Temple University application at www.temple.edu/undergrad. Admission will be based on GPA and prior education. A portfolio is not required for consideration for admission, but may be submitted to enhance the application. Transfer students with previous credits in architecture from other institutions may be considered for admission to Tyler's Architecture program with advanced standing. Students who already hold a Bachelor's degree and certain other upper-level transfer students may be eligible for consideration for participation in various options for acceleration. Placement into the program is based upon prior architectural education and a review of a portfolio representing studio coursework completed, not merely the number of credits earned at another institution. Students who do not submit a portfolio but are academically admissible will be accepted into first year studio only.

Portfolios are to be uploaded at www.temple.slideroom.com. SlideRoom requires an additional fee for this service.

Students without college-level architecture studio coursework may apply for the fall semester only.

Bachelor of Fine Arts

Entering undergraduates are admitted to Tyler by the Director of Undergraduate Admissions of Temple University after consultation with Tyler's Director of Admissions following the review of the student's academic record and art portfolio. This procedure requires the applicant to file all records and test scores in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions of Temple University. See Undergraduate Admissions for more information.

Please refer to the university deadlines on the Undergraduate Application or go to the Temple web site for deadline information. After the priority deadline dates, applications are accepted on a rolling admissions basis.

Undergraduate applicants for the B.F.A. program apply for full-time matriculation for either the Fall or Spring semester. Part-time status is not available for B.F.A. applicants.

Portfolio Review

Freshman Applicants

In addition to satisfying academic requirements, all B.F.A. freshman applicants are required to present a portfolio of fifteen to twenty pieces of original artwork for evaluation. Regularly-scheduled portfolio reviews are held on campus. Applicants living at a considerable distance from Tyler may elect to upload a portfolio at www.temple.slideroom.com. SlideRoom charges a fee for this service. Those who live in or near the Philadelphia area are expected to present a portfolio of original work during a portfolio review day. This is an occasion when applicants and their families may see the campus and discuss Tyler's educational program with faculty, staff, and students. Tyler also participates in a number of National Portfolio Day events where students can meet with staff or faculty for a portfolio critique. For a complete list of NPDA events in which Tyler will participate, please contact the Tyler Admissions Office. While the application to Tyler is being processed by Temple University, an interview by a member of the Tyler faculty or by the Admissions Staff must be arranged. All work included in the portfolio should have been completed during the previous year and should represent as broad a selection as possible: drawings from life, work in both color and black and white media, design examples, photography, prints, crafts, or sculpture. Portfolios must include five strong examples of drawing from observation regardless of the major the applicant wishes to pursue. We discourage work that is copied directly from photographs or magazines. Original work, CDs, DVDs, binders, etc., must not be sent through the mail. These are unacceptable and will not be reviewed or returned.

The freshman applicant is advised to submit work done independently as well as under instruction.

In order for the application to be completed, an 8 1/2" x 11" self-portrait, in pencil from a mirror reflection, must be sent to Tyler. The application is not considered complete without the self-portrait; it becomes a permanent part of the application and is not returned. This self-portrait should not be framed or matted. Please refer to the Tyler viewbook (available as a PDF at www.temple.edu/tyler/admissions/undergradcatalog.pdf) for more information. Tyler also requires a statement of purpose that is separate from the undergraduate application essay as well as a completed B.F.A. information form. For more information on the statement and the self-portrait, contact the Tyler Admissions Office.

To make a portfolio review appointment, please call the Tyler Admissions Office 215-777-9090.

Transfer Students to the BFA program

To enroll with advanced standing, applicants must fulfill the admission requirements of Temple University as well as the special requirements of the Tyler School of Art. Applicants should demonstrate a level of art performance appropriate to the year for which they are applying. Usually this requires completion of a proportion of studio and academic courses comparable to that taken by Tyler students, as well as a comparable portfolio of at least twenty (20) images of work uploaded to www.temple.slideroom.com. SlideRoom charges a fee for this service. The images must represent all studio coursework taken, as well as work towards a specific major. The portfolio must also include five (5) strong examples of drawing from observation, regardless of the major the applicant wishes to pursue. Drawings should be complete, sustained works, not sketches.

A transfer committee comprised of Tyler faculty and the Admissions staff will review the portfolios and academic records of each application to determine the best placement level possible. We encourage all transfer applicants to schedule a campus tour.

Tyler accepts transfer students from accredited institutions of higher education. The transfer student will be required to complete a minimum of 30 studio credits as a full-time student at the Tyler School of Art. In order to be considered for transfer credit to the B.F.A., B.A. in Visual Studies, B.S. in Art Education or B.S. in Architecture degree, studio credits must have been completed within the last 10 years.

If the transfer student has not completed the equivalent of Tyler's Foundation Program, he or she must take the deficient courses, beginning with the first semester enrolled at Tyler.

Transfer students are admitted at a specific studio level (second semester sophomore, first semester junior, etc.), which is determined by transferable courses, academic performance, and the portfolio evaluation by Tyler faculty. Students who choose to enroll do so with the understanding that they are accepting the studio placement as determined by the transfer committee.

Study Abroad

Rome

Juniors may elect a year or semester abroad. Housed in the Villa Caproni, facing the Tiber River just north of the Piazza del Popolo, the school offers courses in painting, drawing, photography, printmaking, sculpture, architecture, and art history. Facilities include a library, an art gallery, private work areas, and full equipment in studio disciplines. Art history is taught through direct observation of original works and historic sites. The student also may elect to take courses in Italian, anthropology, history, or literature. For more information about Study Abroad options, see Education Abroad. Depending on their major, students may elect to take a summer program, or spend a semester or full academic year in Rome.

Beginning in 1980, the Architecture Department initiated a program that afforded architecture majors in the upper years an opportunity to study for a semester at the Temple University Rome campus. This program had been enormously successful in providing architecture students with the opportunity to live in a non-American urban environment whose rich architectural heritage blends and layers over two thousand years of construction. In addition, majors have the opportunity to share studio space with art students from many other disciplines and many other colleges.

A maximum of fifteen students from the Architecture Department participate in this Rome Program. The Program also recruits students from other universities by mailing brochures and posters to every major architecture curriculum throughout the country.

The Rome Program has been enormously popular with Temple Architecture students. Faculty who recruit for the Architecture Department report that the existence of the Rome Program generates a great deal of positive interest among prospective incoming students. Temple Abroad in Rome enrolls approximately 140 to 180 students per semester with programs focusing on architecture, international business, and liberal arts, with topics and courses varying somewhat depending on the resident faculty. Liberal arts majors account for one third of the total enrollment and have a diversity of interests: anthropology, art history, classics, English, history, Italian, music philosophy and sociology.

Students are strongly encouraged to meet with an advisor the summer before sophomore year to determine the best time to study in Rome.

For more information visit the Education Abroad web site at www.temple.edu/studyabroad.

Scotland

In conjunction with the Glasgow School of Art, the Crafts Department of the Tyler School of Art offers an interdisciplinary summer studio program in Scotland. The program consists of four weeks of traveling and intensive studio workshops in a variety of media while exploring the art, culture, and geographic beauty of Great Britain.

Japan

Students in the Architecture programs can apply to study at Temple University Japan for a semester of study abroad, taking a variety of elective courses. Students in the Facility Management program can take business and other course requirements in Japan.

The Japan campus frequently offers summer studio-intensive workshops. The summer workshop course incorporates lectures, site visits, readings, and discussions as well as a workshop component. Temple Japan now offers a B.A. in Art degree (digital media concentration).

Students are strongly encouraged to meet with an advisor the summer before sophomore year to determine which semester and coursework would be most appropriate for their major. BFA students who plan to attend Japan should ensure that all sophomore pre-requisites for their major are met in the fall semester of their sophomore year.

For more information visit the Education Abroad web site at www.temple.edu/studyabroad.

Special Programs in the US

Yale Norfolk

Traditionally, Tyler has been invited to nominate a distinguished junior B.F.A. Painting or Sculpture major for participation in the Yale Norfolk Summer School of Art and Music in Connecticut. Nominations are made by the PDS faculty.

Black Hills/Pilchuck/Skowhegan

Tyler offers one full scholarship each summer to the Black Hills Print Symposium in South Dakota. Nominations are made by the Printmaking faculty. The Symposium brings together professional artists and students from all over the country for a serious exchange of ideas and information. One scholarship is also awarded to the summer program of the Pilchuck Glass School in Washington State. The Pilchuck School offers glassblowing, hot glass sculpture, casting, mixed media sculpture, flame working, and neon to students from around the world. The School emphasizes experimentation, investigation, teamwork, and personal growth. Nominations are made by the Glass faculty. Each year, students are nominated for a full scholarship to the nine-week Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture Summer Program in Maine. The scholarship covers full costs of room, board, and tuition. Skowhegan enrolls 60 advanced students of painting and sculpture from schools across the country who work independently under the guidance of six resident faculty members and weekly visiting artists. Students who have completed the junior year are nominated by presenting work to the PDS faculty.

Student Organizations and Appointed Positions

Student Government - Two elected Tyler representatives participate in the Temple Student Government. This organization provides an integral link between students on all campuses and assures an ongoing dialogue with the administration.

Student Run Gallery - "Produce" serves as a venue to promote both student works as well as professional exhibitors. Every year, exhibitions are chosen and curated by the student advisory board. A graduate student director manages the student advisory board and gallery budget. Students are encouraged to participate in the selection of exhibitions by becoming a part of the advisory board.

Student Program Board - Interested students organize, plan, and present culturally diverse and entertaining extracurricular programs open to the campus community as well as the general public. The General Activities Fee funds both groups.

GAF Steering Committee Representative (General Activities Fee) - Each year a student is appointed by the Director of Student Life to represent Tyler on the university's GAF Steering Committee. The committee oversees the equitable distribution of GAF money for the university/campus-wide programs, special events, and activities.

Dean's Student Advisory Committee - Students who seek leadership opportunities may join the Dean's Student Advisory Committee. Recent DSAC projects include the Philadelphia Art School Mixer reception for the Annual Student Exhibition, the creation of the TEST group (Tyler Exhibition Support Team) and "The Puppet Project", a community service event. For more information, contact Assistant Dean Carmina Cianciulli at carmina@temple.edu.

Additional information on Student Life organizations and events can be found at our Tyler Student Life web site: www.temple.edu/tylerstudentlife.

Visiting Artists Program

The school and individual departments sponsor an active program of extracurricular events both on and off campus, including public lectures through critical dialogues and arranged introductions, exhibitions, and workshops. These offer students the opportunity to meet with the artists and discuss their work. Visiting artist lectures are posted on the Tyler web site, on the plasma screens throughout the Tyler building, and in the WHAT (Week Here At Tyler) e-newsletter.

Temple Contemporary - Exhibitions and Public Programs

Robert Blackson, Director
Sarah Biemiller, Assistant Director
Tyler Building, Suite 110
templecontemporary@temple.edu
215-777-9144

Temple Contemporary provides a visual context to inform and inspire public discussion of contemporary social concern. These discussions are collaboratively developed to address issues of local purpose and international significance.

Public programs are the primary initiative of Temple Contemporary, with exhibitions as one component of this greater need. Temple Contemporary provides approximately two live events per week from September to February, which could include screenings, workshops, gallery tours, classes, student presentations, how-to-sessions, rallies, debates, symposiums, concerts, etc. The initiation and consideration of these live events result from the recommendations of members from the Department's advisory councils which represent a cross section of Temple University and cultural leaders of Philadelphia.

Through consistent collaborations with faculty members and departmental curricula, the programming of the Exhibitions and Public Programs will also provide a visual and dialogical resource to aid in the teaching of numerous disciplines.

Exhibitions of undergraduate student work are held in the Stella Elkins Tyler galleries and in the Tyler upper and lower atriums and Green hallway as well as in the Architecture building. Installations of student work may also be found throughout the campus. The student-run-exhibition program, "Produce," organizes exhibitions, performances and lectures both on-campus and at other locations. MFA exhibitions are held in the Temple Contemporary gallery space from March through May.

Funding for Temple Contemporary comes from The Andy Warhol Foundation, The Fels Foundation, The Barra Foundation, The Pennsylvania Humanities Council, The Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, Tyler School of Art and Temple University.

For BFA Students:

Advising is provided individually and in groups to full-time, degree-seeking students enrolled in Tyler School of Art. While students may make appointments at any time, the week before the start of registration is set aside each semester for advising purposes, at which time students receive their DARS and meet with an advisor. Advising about academic requirements is always provided by the academic advisors.

First-year students are advised by the advising staff and the faculty while taking FDPR 1502 and are registered for their studio courses. Foundation courses are rostered by the advising staff but students will select their own academic classes. Midway through their second semester, freshmen are advised both individually and in groups by the advising staff on policies, methods, and procedures to assist them in self-registration for their first sophomore semester.

It is critical to note that all majors have either one or two sophomore prerequisites. Students who are thinking about overseas study should consult an advisor before the beginning of the sophomore year.

Sophomores should arrange to meet with the academic advisors who will help them register for their second sophomore semester. Faculty advisors are also available for sophomore students who have questions about the majors. When sophomores register for their junior year they are assigned to a major advisor, a faculty member from the major they enter, who will continue to advise the student during his/her junior and senior years on studio matters. Faculty advisors are also available for sophomore students who have questions about the majors.

Juniors, seniors, and all transfer students should continue to consult the academic advisors for course requirements.

The Art Education staff provides additional advising for BFA students seeking the Art Education concentration as there are a number of clearances and special requirements for that program, as required by the PA Department of Education.

Additional Advising Services

The academic advising office should be contacted if there are questions concerning courses that require placement testing. The senior academic advisor meets with all students on academic warning, academic probation or designated "at-risk" by virtue of multiple mid-term deficiency notices and works with students with disabilities to ensure appropriate accommodations are made. Although the senior advisor has scheduled hours, we suggest calling 215-777-9193 for an appointment.

For Architecture, Art, Art Education, Art History and Visual Studies Students:

Advising is provided to degree-seeking students enrolled in the Architecture, Visual Studies, Art & Art Education, and Art History programs by the director of Academic Services and the major undergraduate advisors in the departments.

The week before the start of registration is set aside each semester for advising purposes, at which time students can obtain their DARS report and meet with an advisor. Faculty advisors in the student's area provide advising to most junior and seniors for their major and academic advising is provided by the academic advisors.

The Art Education staff provides additional advising for BS in Art Education students, as there are a number of clearances and special requirements for that program, as required by the PA Department of Education.

An academic advisor should be contacted if there are questions concerning English 0802 (Analytical Reading & Writing), Intellectual Heritage 0851 & 0852 (Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I and Mosaic: Humanities Seminar II), and other General Education (GenEd) requirements, or developmental courses in English and Mathematics.

Academic Policies & Regulations

The university policies and regulations generally apply to all undergraduate students and provide a framework within which schools and colleges may specify further conditions or variations appropriate to students in their courses or programs. Policies specific to Tyler School of Art are as follows:

Academic Credit

A credit hour is a measure of the amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement. A credit hour is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates: (1) not less than one hour of classroom instruction or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester of credit or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or (2) at least an equivalent amount of work for other academic activities such as studio work. For example, a three-credit studio course allows for not less than nine hours of work which can include five hours of in-class studio and at least four hours of out-of-class student work.

Additional academic credit policies may be found in the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin:

www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_policies/policies_part1/policies_part1.shtm#acad_credit.

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Credits earned in Mathematics 0015 (formerly Math 0001) and lower-level courses in Military Science are not included in the minimum number of credits required for graduation. A maximum of 4 courses or up to 12 semester hours for upper-level Military Science (Army ROTC), Naval Science (Navy ROTC), or Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC) courses will be applicable toward graduation credits. Courses transferred from other institutions or taken at Temple University that do not satisfy studio, art history, College or General Education requirements are elective and applicable toward degree completion as long as university and major requirements are met. Please see your advisor if you have questions regarding credits towards graduation.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Grievances

Please refer to the University grievance policy, located in the Responsibilities & Rights section of this Bulletin: www.temple.edu/bulletin/Responsibilities_rights/rights/rights.shtm#grievance.

The Tyler-specific policy can be found on the Tyler web site: www.temple.edu/tyler/currentstudents/grievance.html. Students are welcome to contact Assistant Dean Carmina Cianciulli, at carmina@temple.edu or 215-777-9199 to discuss grievance policies and procedures.

Independent Study Policy

The following are the guidelines and standards for "Independent Study" Undergraduate credit in Studio, Art History and Art Education for students and faculty at Tyler School of Art:

There will be a maximum of 1 student in Independent Study per full-time faculty per fall and spring semester.

The intended area of study must supplement, not supplant, existing studio, art history and art education courses, and curriculum.

An Independent Study course shall count for 1-3 credits, with a maximum of 6 credits applicable toward the degree. You may not take more than two Independent Study courses in your career.

Independent Study courses shall carry upper level numbers. Students must be classified as Juniors or Seniors. Students should have prior experience with the faculty member teaching the Independent Study course.

A written proposal must be developed and agreed upon in advance of the beginning of the semester, describing the intended area of the investigation. At the end of the Independent Study, a paper must be submitted describing the outcome of the learning experience.

Only after the student receives written permission from the faculty member and the department chair may they register for the class.

Loss or Damage

Temple University is not responsible for loss of property of any student or other individual due to fire, theft, or other cause. The university may require residence hall students to present proof of insurance against loss by fire, theft, or other cause before assignment to any university housing.

Program Performance

Matriculated BA in Art History, BA in Art, BA in Visual Studies and BFA students (with the exception of those seeking Teaching Certification) in the Tyler School of Art must maintain a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0* or may be subject to academic action including academic warning, probation, and dismissal from the university. Higher minimum GPAs are required by the Bachelor of Architecture Program (2.5), the BFA with teaching certification (3.0), and the BS in Art Education program (3.0).

*Please contact the academic advisor for updates to this policy.

Please contact the Architecture program office for updates to this policy.

Re-Enrollment Policy

All students who have attended Tyler School of Art of Temple University and wish to be considered for readmission (re-enrollment) to Tyler must fill out the request to re-enroll form available at Temple University's Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies web site: www.temple.edu/vpus/documents/request_to_reenroll.pdf.

For those students who have left Tyler in academic good standing and apply for re-enrollment into a semester within three years of the last completed semester, no portfolio review or interview is required. A portfolio uploaded to www.temple.slideroom.com is required for those BFA, BA in Art, BA in Visual Studies, or BS in Art Education students who have not attended Tyler for more than three years from the semester in which they intend to apply for re-enrollment. SlideRoom charges a fee for this service. Please note: We are no longer accepting students for re-enrollment into the BA in Art on the Main campus; the BA in Art will only be available at the Japan campus. Students previously enrolled in that program may seek admission into the BA in Visual Studies. Students who seek re-enrollment will be considered for matriculation into the current catalog year.

Students who are dismissed from Tyler or who left on academic probation must review the academic standing policy located in the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin:
www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_policies/policies_part1/policies_part1.shtm#acad_stand.

A portfolio uploaded to www.temple.slideroom.com is also required of all BFA, BA in Art, BA in Visual Studies, or BS in Art Education students who were dismissed or who left Tyler on academic probation. It must include twenty (20) images of your studio work, ten (10) completed at Tyler, and ten (10) after leaving Tyler that demonstrate studio progress.

Any student who attends another college or university and has taken studio art credits must submit a portfolio uploaded to www.temple.slideroom.com to represent completed studio coursework in order to have those credits considered for transfer credit into the Tyler BFA, BA in Visual Studies, or BS in Art Education programs or one of the Architecture programs. Academic credits will be accepted into the Tyler degree programs as determined by Temple University policy for the semester in which the student is applying for readmission.

The final decision regarding readmission will depend both on the recommendation of the transfer committee as well as the review of academic credentials by the Assistant Dean. Please note well: Any student applying for readmission must be aware that Tyler may not accept studio credits that are more than 10 years old into any Tyler curriculum from transfer or readmission applicants regardless of where those credits were completed.

Student Art Work

The school reserves the right to keep art work submitted for course credit. In practice, this privilege is exercised sparingly but, in certain studio areas, the selection of one piece by each graduating student contributes to an important instructional collection. When the student art work is reproduced in Tyler publications, either in print form or electronic form, every effort will be made to give credit to the student artist.

Tyler School of Art records images of student work for use in Tyler publications and web sites. Tyler reserves the right to reproduce without notification such images of any artwork produced by students while attending Tyler for promotional or other purposes, including in print publications, institutional web sites, e-communications, multimedia presentations, and documents about Tyler or Temple University for admission recruitment, fundraising, or institutional informational purposes.

No compensation is provided to students for such uses of images of student work.

Students wishing to show their work outside of a studio, gallery, or classroom, must complete an Outdoor/Non-Studio/Non-Gallery Art Installation Control form available in the Tyler Assistant Dean's office. All forms must be filed seven (7) business days prior to the date of the proposed installation. Forms filed less than seven (7) days will risk being denied. The Assistant Dean's Office will issue approval or denial of requests within seven (7) days after submission. Please note that approvals are not automatic, and can be denied on the basis of non-compliance with University policies.

Students who place projects without approval, or who abandon or incompletely de-install projects, or who do not properly restore sites, buildings, or other university property will be subject to fine and, potentially, disciplinary action.

General College Graduation Requirements

Students in the Tyler School of Art must meet all degree requirements mandated by Temple University, as well as requirements from individual departments and programs.

New students will follow the General Education (GenEd) program requirements.

Students are responsible for following the course requirements and department policies as listed in the Undergraduate Bulletin and in departmental handbooks, curriculum and advising publications.

Bachelor of Fine Arts

Tyler School of Art
2001 N. 13th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19122
215-777-9000
tyler@temple.edu

Tyler's curriculum is designed to give sound preparation to the future artist while at the same time avoiding narrow vocational goals. The freshman foundation program and introductory courses in each studio area develop a thorough understanding of fundamental processes and information. Advanced courses in the majors stress the development of an individual idiom and preparation for the professional world. At Tyler, art students find an atmosphere of aesthetic freedom that encourages personal experimentation and the exploration of visual concepts.

The B.F.A. with the Art Education Concentration prepares students for the PA certification in teaching art, kindergarten through twelfth grade. Students must complete B.F.A. requirements along with a three-year sequence in Education and Art Education that begins in the sophomore year. Five years are necessary to fulfill all requirements. Students who take summer session courses may complete the degree in 4.5 years. See additional information under B.F.A. with Art Education Concentration below.

Freshman Year

The Foundation Program is highly structured and intensive; it forms the base that establishes the fundamental studio practice and principles for all visual art expression. In addition to presenting traditional vocabulary, theory, media, and technique, the Foundation Program develops creative thinking and problem solving, visual thinking, and perceptual and imaginative abilities. Faculty members from all areas of the school teach the Foundation courses, assuring a broad range of experience and diverse viewpoints.

Sophomore Year

Sophomore studio electives serve as prerequisites to enter the major, of which one or two specific courses are required in each major. During the sophomore year, students are offered the opportunity to explore a wide range of studio areas. This experience gives the necessary background with which to make an informed selection of a major and adds to the overall breadth of the educational experience. Requirements are six 2000-level studio courses (18 s.h.), not to exceed three courses from any one major area and to include at least one course from three different major areas; and additional credits in Art History electives and/or General Education.

Junior and Senior Years

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree is completed after a final two-year concentration in a major studio area. Because expressive work is often achieved by synthesis of disparate media, studio work outside the major is allowed. Requirements are the specified major courses (21-24 s.h. depending on the major), with a minimum grade of C- required in each course; three studio electives which may be taken outside the major (9-12 s.h. depending on the major); one major capstone course (3 s.h.); and additional credits in Art History, General Education and elective courses.

B.F.A. Degree

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Studio Art may be conferred upon a student by recommendation of the faculty and upon the satisfactory completion of a minimum of 126 semester hours of credit with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00.

Crafts

Nicholas Kripal, Chairperson
Tyler School of Art Building
Administrative Suite Room 210N
215-777-9168
nkripal@temple.edu

The Crafts Department encompasses the media disciplines of Ceramics/Glass, Fibers and Material Studies, and Metals/Jewelry/CAD-CAM. These disciplines are rooted in a rich history, developed and refined within a contemporary context, and practiced and experienced through a series of formal presentations and evaluations. The Crafts Department faculty endeavor to refine and interpret Crafts traditions, techniques, and concepts while also pursuing the frontiers of their disciplines through their studio practice.

Students are challenged to explore the broad cultural and historical contexts in which their disciplines are made, exhibited, and experienced. They are encouraged to pursue their individual visions with an attitude of curiosity and imagination. The end goal of the curriculum is the education of a Crafts artist who will be creatively active throughout their lives, contributing to the enrichment of not only the communities in which they live and work, but the world community as well.

Upon graduation, students go on to careers in art education, design, the arena of not-for-profit and commercial galleries, and the professional practice of a studio artist. Many students go on to graduate school in order to receive further training and research for their eventual professional careers.

This program stresses the use of traditional techniques and materials in relation to their historical significance while encouraging the use of new technologies in the advanced courses. The assignments are focused on the design and creation of jewelry, functional forms, tableware, furniture, lighting, toys, and product design, to name a few. Along with teaching studio practices centered around the utilization of metal, plastics, and composite materials, the curriculum integrates the technologies of digital practices as they relate to three-dimensional form realization, and include computer-aided-design, computer-aided manufacture and 3D printing technologies.

Graphic Arts & Design

Stephanie Knopp, Department Chairperson
Tyler School of Art Building
Administrative Suite Room 210V
215-777-9145
stephanie.knopp@temple.edu

The Graphic Arts and Design Department encompasses three distinct areas of study -- Graphic and Interactive Design, Photography, and Printmaking. Our mission is to prepare students for the challenges of each discipline and to help them maximize their potential as artists.

The Graphic Arts and Design faculty is made up of practicing artists and designers who are professionally active and able to teach the fundamental principles of their disciplines while keeping abreast of innovations in their fields. During the student's two-year program of coursework in the major, conceptual thinking aimed at the development of the student's personal artistic vision is stressed; at the same time, technical skills using appropriate tools and techniques to solve creative problems are developed. Our majors are encouraged to integrate each discipline's traditional image-making techniques with rapidly-evolving 21st-century digital technologies. Upon graduation, our students are prepared to enter their respective fields as professionals and to continue their growth as artists.

Graphic Designers use creative combinations of ideas, art, and technology to inform and influence specific audiences. Graphic and Interactive Design at Tyler is a practice-based program that prepares students to work in both print and interactive media. From sophomore through senior year, students explore image making, typography, material, craft and technology--essential components of visual communication. Courses include assignments that represent different aspects of design practice such as identity and branding, packaging, publishing, poster design, advertising, signage, environmental design, illustration, and design for the web, mobile media and motion graphics. The program trains students to work on client-driven projects as well as design authorship.

The Printmaking Area is housed in large, fully-equipped modern studios where you first learn the fundamentals of the three printmaking disciplines (silkscreen, lithography, and etching) before exploring at least two of these disciplines in depth. After students master the basic technical aspects of printmaking, the faculty encourages the exploration of advanced subjects that include color and photo-etching, photo-lithography, metal engraving, mezzotint, woodcut, digital printmaking, large-scale printing, installation, and the full utilization of the computer as an image-creating tool.

The Painting, Drawing, and Sculpture Department emphasizes art making as an ongoing discipline rooted in rich history. We provide our students with a rigorous experience of the disciplines of drawing, painting, and sculpture. This experience ranges through the aesthetic, the technical, and the well-formed idea. We are committed to providing our students with the understanding of the broad cultural and historical context in which art is made and experienced.

The Painting, Drawing, and Sculpture Department has a weekly schedule of visiting lectures. Our lectures include practicing studio artists, museum curators, and critics, all of national standing.

Tyler's Painting and Drawing program provides the skills and concepts essential to artistic growth. The faculty has designed studio and seminar courses that foster the development of pictorial concepts realized in the tangible form of painting and drawing.

The courses offer a range of both genre-based courses and advanced level courses. Upper level courses cover technical, formal, topical, and theory based issues. An extensive range of approaches will be presented in the context of both historical precedent and contemporary practice. The faculty advises each student to participate in a variety of studio experiences to facilitate the integration of technique with personal vision.

About the Architecture Department

Temple University is located in Philadelphia, one of America's founding cities. It and architectural practice have been transformed by post-industrialization, global restructuring and the urgent imperative to reduce its carbon footprint. Our pedagogy and research are framed by this urban and professional condition. The city is used as a laboratory for critical engagement and architectural enquiry, and as a lens for global investigations.

The Department offers the following degrees:

- Bachelor of Science in Architecture pre-professional degree
- Bachelor of Science in Facilities Management
- Bachelor of Science in Architectural Preservation
- National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB) accredited Bachelor of Architecture degree, five-year, for students who entered through fall of 2009
- National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB) accredited Master of Architecture, two-year, for students who receive a 4-year pre-professional degree program, for students who enter beginning in fall 2010

The undergraduate architecture curricula share a common two-year Basic Studies Program. Upon successful completion of this preparatory program, students may continue in the Bachelor of Science in Architectural Preservation or the Bachelor of Science in Facilities Management, or can apply for acceptance into the Bachelor of Science in Architecture degree program. Admission to the Bachelor of Science in Architecture Program is competitive and requires a minimum GPA of 2.75 and an excellent portfolio. Completion of minimum entrance requirements does not guarantee admission.

The four-year Bachelor of Science in Architecture degree is a pre-professional program. Graduates are qualified for a variety of positions in architecture and related fields for which a professional degree and registration are not requirements for advancement. Additionally, students may utilize this degree toward the goal of architectural education at the graduate level.

The four-year Bachelor of Science in Facilities Management degree prepares students for a career in the profession of Facility Management. It is a profession that encompasses multiple disciplines to ensure functionality of the built environment by integrating people, place, process and technology. Students who choose this degree program can pursue facility management certification after entering into the profession.

The four-year Bachelor of Science in Architectural Preservation degree prepares students for a career in cultural and historic preservation focused on the built environment. Careers in the field of Architectural Preservation are those where leadership includes advocacy for places important to the underlying cultural and historical infrastructure of communities and environments.

The two-year Master of Architecture (M.Arch.) professional degree program in conjunction with a four-year pre-professional B.S. in Architecture degree prepares students for the practice of architecture in entry-level positions and is part of an intern development program that leads to professional registration. This curriculum is designed to enable students to learn theories and methodologies of architectural design as well as to understand the social, economic, political, and technological forces that shape the built environment. The principal educational component of the program is a coordinated series of studio courses in which creative design talents and management skills are developed. Holders of this degree may, upon completion of postgraduate work experience, be admitted to the architectural licensing examinations offered in each state, through which they may become registered architects.

According to the NAAB, "In the United States, most state registration boards require a degree from an accredited professional degree program as a prerequisite for licensure. The National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB), which is the sole agency authorized to accredit U.S. professional degree programs in architecture, recognizes three types of degrees: the Bachelor of Architecture, the Master of Architecture, and the Doctor of Architecture. A program may be granted a 6-year, 3-year, or 2-year term of accreditation, depending on the extent of its conformance with established educational standards. Master's degree programs may consist of a pre-professional undergraduate degree and a professional graduate degree that, when earned sequentially, constitute an accredited professional education. However, the pre-professional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree."

Bachelor of Science and Master of Architecture majors have the opportunity to study for a semester at Temple Rome or Temple Japan. Admission to these programs is competitive. Applications are made through the Temple Education Abroad Office.

For students entering our programs from Fall 2010 onwards, the Bachelor of Science in Architecture (pre-professional) and the Master of Architecture (professional) replace the Bachelor of Architecture as a National Architecture Accreditation Board (NAAB, www.naab.org) accredited professional degree.

(Note: The Bachelor of Architecture degree program is not available for students entering in Fall 2010 or after. It will be phased out by Spring 2014. Students who entered in 2009 and who have completed a substantial amount of the requirements of the Bachelor of Architecture degree program by Spring 2014 will have until Spring 2016 to finish all requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Architecture or the Bachelor of Architecture degrees offered on entry in 2009. For further information, consult the department's web site at www.temple.edu/architecture.)

The Art and Art Education Department (AAE) offers the Certificate in Arts in Community and the Bachelor of Science degree in Art Education. The B.S. in Art Education is an accredited program required for Pennsylvania Certification in Art, K-12. Newly-expanded offerings in the Community Arts have developed courses with outreach to the Philadelphia community. Graduates from our Art programs have gone on to graduate study, field work in art galleries, studios, and a wide variety of art-related occupations. We have a 92% placement rate for Art Education in K-12 schools and community sites.

The department also houses the Bachelor of Arts degree in Art with three different concentrations: the B.A. in Art, Studio Concentration; the B.A. in Art, Digital Media Concentration; and the B.A. in Art, Visual Studies Concentration. These programs are no longer accepting new students on the Main campus. The Bachelor of Arts degree in Art with a Digital Media Concentration and the Minor in Art are available on the Temple University Japan (TJ) campus.

Bachelor of Arts in Art, Digital Media Concentration (Japan campus only)

The Bachelor of Arts in Art with a Digital Media concentration is a fine-art oriented course of study focusing on the use of the computer as a creative tool. This concentration helps students develop their artistic vision using new technology to focus on personal expression; it is not graphic design. Students in this concentration pursue a variety of projects designed to help them explore the boundaries between technology and studio art processes. Students interested in graphic design should investigate the B.F.A. in Graphic and Interactive Design.

New students are required to complete the General Education (GenEd) curriculum. In addition to the GenEd World Society requirement, B.A. candidates in Art under the GenEd curriculum are required by their department to complete successfully the second semester of a foreign language. Study abroad for a summer or semester will satisfy the World Society requirement.

There will be no requirement to take the GenEd Arts course if all of the following courses are completed with a C- or better: Art 1101, Art 1201, Art 1401 (or 1496 or 1996), and Art 1501. If the student changes majors before completing all four courses, s/he must complete a GenEd Arts course to satisfy the requirement for General Education.

Students must complete at least 15 semester hours in upper-level Liberal Arts courses.

The Bachelor of Arts degree may be conferred upon a student by recommendation of the faculty and upon the satisfactory completion of a minimum of 123 semester hours of credit with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00.

Students who are seeking admission into the B.A. in Art degree program must review the requirements and procedures outlined on the TUJ web site:

www.tuj.ac.jp/admissions/index.html.

Certificate in Arts in Community

The Arts in Community Program (ACP) was started as a commitment to the many and varied communities in Philadelphia and to Tyler students' education as artists to combine artistic disciplines with skills and knowledge in community organizing, positioning them for an expanded civic role in the 21st century. ACP develops and delivers university courses, after-school workshops, intergenerational forums, inter-disciplinary performances and site-specific installations. At the heart of the program are community partnerships and internships that enable Tyler/Temple students to expand their art disciplines as community collaborators. During the last several years ACP has created a body of community-based arts works, establishing a network of relationships and ongoing presence in neighborhoods that translates into continued projects. During this time, we have worked with youth and adults, organizations and families, in North Philadelphia neighborhoods and beyond, building a broad range of community arts partnerships that stimulate dialogue and share history to create exhibitions and interdisciplinary performances based on community lives and stories and shared student experiences.

As part of this program, Tyler offers an undergraduate Certificate in Arts in Community on the Main Campus only. The undergraduate certificate consists of a four-course, 12-credit sequence. Both matriculated and non-matriculated students may register for these courses. The required courses for the undergraduate certificate are:

The Department of Art History offers broad-ranging introductory surveys of art, from prehistoric times to the present, and more closely focused courses, treating limited segments of the vast historic panorama in both western and non-western art. Approximately sixty courses are offered over the span of a four-year period. Students majoring in art history should graduate with a thorough knowledge of the art historical traditions of each major period from ancient through postmodern art.

Students majoring in art history, especially those pursuing the advanced degree, should be qualified to teach at all levels of lower and higher education. They can also obtain jobs as museum curators, gallery directors, corporate art employees, researchers, and work in a variety of capacities for cultural associations.

The Graduate Student Art History Association sponsors lectures and exhibition visits throughout the year.

The Bachelor of Arts in Visual Studies enables students to develop an interdisciplinary studio practice. The curriculum organizes multiple approaches to visual thinking that cut across various disciplines into a logical whole. Students in this major develop studio practices from a variety of aesthetic, theoretical, scientific, sociological, and historical viewpoints. Students learn to consider medium, its impact on the image and message of a piece, and the work's social and cultural context. The major is comprised of a stimulating blend of studio and academic courses that provide graduates with a sound basis for pursuing graduate study in studio art, art history, art theory and criticism, or visual anthropology.

BOYER COLLEGE OF MUSIC & DANCE

Mission

The Boyer College of Music and Dance is committed to nurturing and advancing music as a form of human expression, as an art, and as a subject for intellectual inquiry. Recognizing that music possesses unique powers -- to move the spirit, to excite the mind, to reveal the past, to chart the future, to instruct, to heal, and to foster communication -- the college seeks to perpetuate music in its myriad forms through creative and scholarly work, teaching, and service, according to the highest artistic and academic standards.

As an integral part of Temple University, the Boyer College shares the ideals of Russell Conwell upon which Temple was founded: to recognize talent and personal potential wherever they may be found; to provide educational opportunities for meritorious students of limited financial means; and to serve as a constructive presence in the wider Philadelphia community.

In carrying out its mission, the Boyer College seeks both to continue the long tradition of artistry and scholarship that we have inherited and to develop new insights, perspectives, and practices. This dual objective -- to explore both past and future, old and new -- should be broadly reflected in the life of the college: in curricula and instruction; institutional policy; professional activities of faculty; advisement of students; and musical performances.

For the art of music to remain vital, our culture must develop both highly-trained, professional musicians and informed, perceptive listeners. Accordingly, the college recognizes its responsibility to administer professional education to the student seeking a career in music, provide opportunities for the general university student to study and experience music, and share its musical life with the public.

The Boyer College provides a distinctive union of the best conservatory-type training with intense academically-oriented classroom teaching. Coupled with the performance opportunities of the university and the culturally-rich Philadelphia area, the Boyer College offers students the competitive edge in complete, comprehensive musical preparation. Many programs throughout the university offer minors. Students who wish to pursue a minor outside of music should contact the appropriate department.

Accreditation

National Association of Schools of Music, National Association of Schools of Dance, Middle States Association, National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, Pennsylvania Department of Education, and American Music Therapy Association.

Music Admission

The following requirements for admission to the college are to be considered minimal. Applicants who pass the following examinations may be recommended to the Director of Admissions as eligible for admission to the college. In addition, candidates must meet general requirements set by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

- An audition in the major performing medium and a series of tests must be completed before an applicant can be accepted into the Boyer College of Music and Dance.
- After submitting the completed application, the applicant is responsible for scheduling his/her audition and the theory test date that is most convenient. Call 215-204-6810 or e-mail music@temple.edu to schedule your audition.
- Entrance examinations are given in the Boyer College, Presser Hall, which is located on the northeast corner of 13th and Norris Streets. The examinations are given to all entering freshmen and transfer students planning to pursue any of the various music curricula at Temple University. The primary objective of the tests is to determine potential and achievement in music. Students will be tested on fundamentals (scales, key signatures, intervals, triads, etc.) and ability to read and notate music; these exams are used primarily for placement but are sometimes considered in the admission process.
- The freshman and transfer application deadline is March 1. Applicants for admission to the spring semester must take the tests in December, and applications must be received no later than November 1. Call 215-204-6810, e-mail music@temple.edu or visit the Boyer College web site for specific audition dates.
- If the applicant is unable to be present because of distance, a national or a recorded audition may be acceptable. Please refer to the Boyer College web site for specific cities and dates. Please clearly mark the recording (CD or DVD) with your name, instrument, contact information, degree program, and repertoire. Students must have an application on file before audition recordings are reviewed. Recordings should be sent to:

Kristi Morgridge
Temple University
Boyer College of Music and Dance
Presser Hall
2001 N. 13th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19122

- Prospective composition majors should submit three (3) representative scores at the time of their interview and diagnostic testing.
- Prospective theory majors should arrange for an interview with the Chair of the Theory Department.

Transfer Credits

In addition to the university's statement regarding transfer credit (see Undergraduate Admissions), the Boyer College of Music and Dance will, during New Student Orientation, determine all transferred music credits through placement exams. Where deemed necessary, students may be tested in music theory, music history, and secondary piano. Tests in other music areas may be arranged through individual departments.

Financial Aid

Financial aid is available to full-time undergraduates in the form of music grants, academic scholarships, loans, grants, music grants-in-aid, and work-study programs. Also see Financial Aid in this Bulletin.

Financial aid awards are made after the student has been admitted as a fully-matriculated student. Students are to be enrolled full-time, unless prior permission is granted to do otherwise by the Associate Dean.

Music Grants are awarded based on merit. No separate application is required. The Boyer College has application and audition deadlines for priority music scholarship consideration. Contact the Boyer College at 215-204-6810, or consult the Boyer College web site for current deadlines.

Special Programs

Music Technology Component

In addition to coursework leading to Bachelor's degrees in Music, the Boyer College of Music and Dance offers a 36-credit component in Music Technology to qualified music majors. This component, which is distributed over a student's freshman through senior years, normally results in a five-year program.

The music technology component provides a structured sequence of courses for those students who desire to use new technologies to enhance their skills as performers, composers, teachers, and scholars. Courses focus on the creative, performance, and pedagogical aspects of music technology. See Music Technology Component under Programs and Music Education.

Music Preparatory Division and Community Music Scholars Program of the Boyer College of Music and Dance

www.temple.edu/boyer/community/music-prep/index.asp

215-204-1512

Temple Music Prep provides lifelong, non-credit learning opportunities in music and dance to the Greater Philadelphia community. As a division of Temple University's Boyer College of Music and Dance, Music Prep is uniquely able to combine university expertise with Philadelphia's outstanding cultural assets, assuring excellence in experience and results.

Programming includes Early Childhood Music Foundations beginning with newborns, Movement and Dance Classes for children through teens, individual instruction in all instruments and voice, and classes specially designed for adults. Music Prep is also an authorized provider of Act 48 credits for Pennsylvania educators.

A major component is the Center for Gifted Young Musicians, which serves those students with exceptional ability and motivation. The Community Music Scholars Program serves students with need from over fifty public schools, allowing access to affordable quality instruction.

Temple Music Prep is a member of the National Guild for Community Arts Education and the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance.

Key Program Components:

- Individual lessons from an outstanding faculty in orchestral instruments, piano, guitar, voice, composition and jazz techniques are offered for children and adults.
Suzuki instruction in violin, cello, guitar, and piano is also offered for young children. In the "talent education method" of Dr. Shinichi Suzuki, children learn to play music with the same enjoyment and fluency with which they learn language.

- Early Childhood Music Foundations is an innovative program in early childhood music education that has a national reputation for excellence. In a carefully planned sequence of music learning, the program uses the natural human inclination for chanting, singing and movement as the first steps in the musical understanding of melody and rhythm.
- Movement and Dance classes take children through a sequential, age-specific dance program. Offerings include: Creative Movement (3 & 4 yrs.), Music and Movement (5 through 7 yrs.), Modern Dance (8 yrs. through teens in three levels) and Ballet Technique (pre-teens & teens).
- Basic Musicianship classes are offered in three progressive levels. The goal of these classes is to develop musicianship by integrating aural, written, vocal, and tactile skills. By using movable "Do" solfege, students learn to make the connection between musical notation and sound. Level three is also offered as an advanced standing music theory course, earning a high school senior college credit at the Boyer College of Music and Dance.
- Adult classes are designed to provide opportunities for personal growth and professional development. Offerings include: classes in learning to play piano, learning to play guitar, learning to sing, Speaking with Confidence, or in Suzuki piano teacher training; lectures to prepare music listeners for their next concert or opera; as well as individual study in instruments and voice. Pennsylvania educators are eligible to receive Act 48 credit for most of these offerings.
- The Center for Gifted Young Musicians is the component of Music Prep that focuses on the training of exceptionally-gifted students who have the ability and willingness to make a serious commitment to music. By audition only.

Instrumental Division (for strings)

The Center's instrumental program provides a comprehensive package of music instruction and performance for young musicians who have demonstrated the greatest potential for musical achievement. Emphasis in this program is placed on the development of superior musical skills through large and small ensemble performance. The faculty is made up of the finest artist/teachers in the region, including members of The Philadelphia Orchestra and professors from Temple's own Boyer College of Music and Dance.

Young Artists Harp Ensemble

The Young Artists Harp Ensemble offers pedal and lever harp students ages 10 through high school the opportunity to participate in a group ensemble experience with a conductor as well as in student-led chamber music settings. Participants are also eligible to attend monthly studio master classes by Philadelphia Orchestra principal harpist, Elizabeth Hainen at the Boyer College of Music and Dance.

Students may also have the opportunity to collaborate with other Temple Music Prep ensemble groups.

The Festival of Young Musicians

The Festival of Young Musicians has long been the centerpiece of the Center for Gifted Young Musicians. Held annually in late April/early May, it consists of a series of concerts throughout the region that feature all the performers in the Center.

- The Community Music Scholars Program: Upper Division provides weekly individual instruction, music theory and ensemble experience at a nominal fee for young instrumentalists. These Philadelphia school students with need are nominated by their school music teachers and accepted by audition.
- The Philadelphia String Project at Temple University is aligned with the National String Project Consortium (NSPC) a coalition of String Project sites at universities across the United States that exchange ideas and learn from each other but operate completely independently. The NSPC is dedicated to increasing the number of children playing stringed instruments, addressing the critical shortage of string teachers in the US and supporting public school string programs. Participating students receive twice weekly instruction taught by a Master Teacher and supported by Temple University undergraduate music education and performance string interns.

The Boyer College of Music Preparatory and Extension Division is located at Temple University's Center City Campus, 1515 Market Street, in the heart of metropolitan Philadelphia at the hub of the Regional Transit System.

For further information concerning curricula and fees, write to: Temple Music Preparatory Division, 1515 Market Street, Suite 501, Philadelphia, PA 19102, or e-mail: musicprep@temple.edu or phone: 215-204-1512. You can also visit the web site at: www.temple.edu/boyer/community/music-prep/index.asp.

Facilities

Presser Hall, opened in 1967, is the center of musical activity at Temple University. This building houses practice rooms, classrooms, ensemble rehearsal rooms, teaching studios, faculty offices, a 16-station computer classroom, student and faculty lounges, a large listening and viewing library, and the Presser Learning Center. Presser Hall's performance facilities include Klein Recital Hall and Arronson Rehearsal Hall. Presser Hall houses the Music Studies Department, the Music Education Department, the wind, brass, and Percussion programs of the Instrumental Department, the Choral Activities Department, the Department of Voice and Opera, and the programs in Music Therapy and Jazz Studies.

The nationally recognized Presser Center for Research and Creativity in Music, located on the first floor of Presser Hall, houses over 6,000 books, recordings, periodicals, videotapes, audio tapes, classroom instruments, and other materials used in the preparation of music teachers and music therapists. Included in the computer classroom is the hardware and software necessary for future teachers and therapists to become knowledgeable about the role of computers in music and administration.

The Presser Hall Listening Library houses a collection of more than 10,000 recordings and tapes, 6,000 compact discs, hundreds of video tapes and DVDs, reference books, and scores. Music listening and viewing assignments for courses in music history, theory, composition, jazz, education, and literature can be completed with this collection, which spans music history and performance from the earliest times to the present. A larger collection of music books and scores is found in Paley Library.

The Boyer College's Rock Hall was extensively renovated for music and dedicated in 1994 in recognition of the generous support of Dr. Milton Rock and the late Mrs. Shirley Rock. Located at Broad Street and Cecil B. Moore Avenue on Temple University's Main Campus, Rock Hall houses the Office of the Dean, the string and chamber music programs of the New School Institute, the programs in Music Composition, the Keyboard Department, the Early Music Program, the Alice Tully Library, three state-of-the-art computer/electronic laboratories for music and dance, practice rooms, classrooms, and a 325-seat chamber music recital hall.

The Experimental MIDI studio in Rock Hall features a variety of voice modules controlled by a computer workstation, a multi-channel mixer, and digital and analog recording facilities. Students are encouraged to design their own libraries of timbres for use in composition. The computer synthesis studio uses several computer workstations with expanded disk memory, digital and analog recording equipment, and a broad range of software for music synthesis. Most hardware and software titles in the Boyer College Computer Labs are identical to those in the new TECH Center's dedicated Music Lab, enabling students to work on projects in multiple venues.

The Boyer College added a 3-story addition to Presser Hall in 2009 which contains 21 additional practice rooms, three large classrooms, teaching studios, administrative offices, the Center for Arts and Quality of Life, and a recording studio.

The Boyer College's Department of Dance has its administrative, faculty, institute, and student offices housed in 1700 North Broad Street. Dance classes are held in three large dance studios in Pearson Hall where there are additional support spaces as well as two small teaching studios for smaller groups. Dance classes and performances are held in Conwell Dance Theater in Conwell Hall, a 125-seat black box theater.

With the 2011-2012 academic year, the College now presents its largest ensembles in performance in the Temple Performing Arts Center. This iconic building – formerly the Baptist Temple of Philadelphia – was specifically converted into a performing arts complex capable of housing a full symphony orchestra and choir. Boyer's symphony orchestra, choirs, wind symphony, percussion ensemble and other large ensembles all perform in this venue. In addition, the Temple Performing Arts Center is also available to the College for recording sessions, rehearsals, faculty concerts and other significant events.

Also utilized by the Boyer College is the third floor of Mitten Hall where the Temple Opera Theater's rehearsal, administrative and faculty offices are housed along with the Opera Listening and Study Library, and the scene, costume, and prop shops. Tomlinson Theater, located across the street from Presser Hall, is used for on-campus large ensemble performances and for the twice yearly staged opera productions. A 55-seat smart classroom for music and dance instruction is housed in the Tuttleman Learning Center.

Academic Advising Center

All Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Science in Music students will be assigned a faculty advisor. Students are required to meet with their advisor prior to registering for classes for the following semester.

Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements. Temple University's Schools and Colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising; therefore, students must assume primary responsibility for understanding the requirements for their degree, and acquiring current information about their academic status.

Boyer College Policies for Music Students

Please see Undergraduate Academic Policies. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies as well as those of the Boyer College of Music and Dance that appear below.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Band Camp and Choir Retreat Policy

Each fall, prior to the opening of school, the Temple University Marching Band holds its annual band camp. In addition to having a concentrated four-day work period to prepare for the coming season, students get to know each other in both a working and social relationship. They also become acquainted with the group directors at both the personal and professional levels. Attendance at band camp is mandatory for group participation.

The Temple University Concert Choir often meets a few days prior to fall classes or during the first weekend of fall classes for extensive rehearsals.

Ensemble Requirements

- Undergraduate students with a major or concentration in voice or keyboard are required to participate in a choral ensemble, as determined by the director of Choral Activities, throughout the undergraduate degree program where indicated by the curriculum. Participation begins in the first semester and continues until a baccalaureate degree is obtained. The requirement is waived during the semester of senior recital, internship, or student teaching.
- Music Education/Jazz Studies majors whose concentration is voice are required to participate in both classical and jazz vocal ensembles. After advisement to determine which kind of ensemble is appropriate, these students should go to the director of Choral Activities to be placed in a classical ensemble and to the coordinator of Jazz Studies to be placed in a jazz ensemble.
- Undergraduate students with a major or concentration in strings are required to play in the Temple University Symphony Orchestra. Participation begins in the first semester and continues until a baccalaureate degree is obtained. Qualified jazz strings and upright bass students are required to audition. This requirement is waived during the semester of student teaching or internship.
- All woodwind, brass, and percussion performance majors and concentrations must audition for instrumental ensembles, large and small, each semester. Continuing students will audition for ensemble placement through juries at the end of each semester. New students will audition for ensemble placement at the beginning of the first semester of study.
- Music education majors whose principal instrument is woodwind, brass, or percussion are required to play in the marching band for two semesters, normally during the fall semester of the freshman and sophomore years. Transfer students in this category must also register for Marching Band for two semesters unless they can show evidence of equivalent undergraduate experience at another college or university as determined by the director of athletic bands.

- All students taking private lessons (major or concentration) or Recital Extensions are required to participate in an ensemble each semester in attendance.
- Percussion majors are required to participate in Percussion Ensemble.
- Any instrumental student who does not play for a private lesson jury at the end of each semester must arrange for an audition for ensemble placement for the succeeding semester with the Department of Instrumental Studies.
- Students may perform in more than two ensembles only with permission of their advisor.
- All students must show evidence of ensemble experience in their performance medium.
- All students who concentrate in string, woodwind, and brass instruments who are registered for lessons must arrange their schedules in order to attend regularly-scheduled master/studio classes. Failure to do so may result in the lowering of the applied lesson grade.

Independent Study Policy

Independent Study provides a special opportunity for juniors and seniors to work in a highly-individualized setting with one or more faculty members.

Those who wish to design an Independent Study project must prepare a written proposal six months in advance of the semester in which the study is to be accomplished. This proposal is then submitted for the approval of a special Honors subcommittee of the Academic Planning and Review Committee, which includes the dean and associate dean. Private lessons beyond those required in the curriculum are not an appropriate form of Independent Study.

Professional Development Policy

All students in the college, in addition to passing the required subjects toward their degrees, are obligated to serve in a number of capacities in order to enrich their academic and musical expertise. The Boyer College believes that such experiences give impetus to successful professional careers. Among the duties that may be required are conducting laboratory classes, tutoring, teaching private lessons, coaching, participating in the distribution and inventory control of university-owned musical instruments and instructional materials, participating in ensembles, accompanying, supervising performance classes, performing at admission and open house events, and other academically-related activities. The Boyer College performances must be given priority over non-college commitments.

Instrumental Jury Policy

All instrumental students, both performance majors and instrumental concentration students, must play a jury at the conclusion of each semester to show evidence of progress on their instrument. For string performance majors, the jury at the end of the sophomore year is the 'Junior Standing Jury,' which must be successfully passed in order for the student to continue in the performance program.

Recital and Concert Attendance Policy

The dean and faculty of the Boyer College of Music and Dance consider recital and concert attendance to be a significant educational activity in the training of a musician. It is largely through the process of active listening that the young musician develops powers of discrimination and critical judgment with relation to musical performance. Therefore, attendance at a minimum of sixteen college recitals or concerts throughout the course of an academic year is mandatory for full-time undergraduate students. Part-time, matriculated undergraduate students are also responsible for attending a specific number of concerts in a direct ratio to the number of credits for which they are registered. During student teaching, therapy internship, or senior recital, this requirement is waived. A maximum of 56 recitals is needed to complete the requirement. The requirement for full-time transfer students will be based on the number of semesters they attended the Boyer College. Failure to comply with this ruling may result in delay of graduation from the college.

Senior Recital Policy

Students in the following curriculums are required to perform a senior recital: Piano Performance, Piano Pedagogy, Instrumental Performance, Voice Performance, Jazz Instrumental Performance, Jazz Voice Performance, and Jazz Arranging/Composition. The senior recital provides the opportunity for the performance major to display his or her development and potential as a professional musician and should be considered the focal point for the semesters of private lessons which precede it. Before the senior recital is scheduled, the student (1) must have successfully completed private lessons during each semester prior to the recital and (2) must have achieved senior status academically. All grades of "incomplete" in private lessons must be cleared before the student may apply for the senior recital. Students should refer to the Boyer College of Music and Dance Undergraduate Handbook for further details and policies governing recitals.

After receiving approval from the jury and the major teacher in the applied area, a student should apply for the Senior Recital date and complete the necessary recital arrangements through the recital coordinator.

For students enrolled in the Instrumental Studies Department, the recital approval jury serves to demonstrate the student's ability to perform the degree recital successfully. Normally, this occurs at the preceding semester's jury. If by departmental approval this jury does not occur, then a jury must be scheduled at least four weeks prior to the recital. If the jury is not successfully completed by that time, the Instrumental Studies Department reserves the right to cancel the recital date. Most of the recital repertoire, with the exception of chamber ensemble works, should be available for performance at the jury and accompanied by the recital accompanist. Recital approval is dependent upon the time remaining between the approval jury and the actual recital date, as well as the degree of preparedness of the repertoire.

Except for non-sonata and complicated contemporary repertoire, string performance majors should perform from memory (and the recital program should include some portion that will be performed from memory). Students who wish an exception to this memorization policy must obtain prior approval from the department by indicating the request on the recital repertoire form when it is submitted to the department for approval of the program.

Senior Recitals are usually presented Monday through Friday at 5:15 PM or 7:30 PM. Performance time should be 45 to 50 minutes, exclusive of an optional intermission of no more than 10 minutes.

Recital Extension Policy

Some students may need to extend their applied study beyond the required number of semesters in order to complete the preparation for the Senior Recital. Students who do not present a recital during the recital semester will receive the grade of "Incomplete" and must register for Music 5000: Recital Extension for 2 semester hours of non-degree credit. Recital Extension must be taken each semester until the recital has been presented. The sole exceptions to this rule are as follows:

- Students who give their recitals during the first three weeks of the spring semester are not required to register for Recital Extension that semester.
- Students who register for Recital Extension or for private lessons during the summer may give their recitals during the first three weeks of the fall semester. However, if a student does not register for either Recital Extension or lessons during the summer, he or she may not present the recital in the fall semester -- regardless of the date -- without also registering for that semester of lessons or Recital Extension.
- Private applied lessons beyond the eight-semester requirement currently in effect for undergraduate performance majors may be taken by permission of the jury and/or the appropriate performance department chairman. Music 5000: Recital Extension carries a $400 fee (subject to change without notice). Tuition scholarships do not cover this private lesson fee.

Program Performance Policy

All music departments reserve the right to dismiss an undergraduate student at any time from a given undergraduate degree program, regardless of grade point average, if in the opinion of the major department, he or she is unable to meet departmental standards. The decision will receive automatic review by the Academic Review and Planning Committee. The student has the right to appeal the dismissal to the Academic Review and Planning Committee of the Boyer College of Music and Dance.

Undergraduate Private Lesson Policy

Weekly one-hour private lessons are arranged for full-time matriculated undergraduates in the Boyer College for as many semesters as required by the particular curriculum. (A full-time student must be registered for at least 12 credits each semester.) A per semester lesson fee of $200 (subject to change without notice) -- above and beyond the regular tuition -- will be automatically added to the tuition charge of each student for this study. Students who do not complete a minimum of 12 semester hours must pay a private lesson fee of $400 for the succeeding semester of private lessons. Students who are accepted for a double concentration or a double major in performance must be fully accepted by both departments by audition. A private lesson fee of $400 is assessed for the second instrument. Approval of the associate dean is required for all students desiring a double major or double concentration. Tuition scholarships granted by the Boyer College do not cover the private lesson fees.

General College Graduation Requirements - Music

University Requirements

All students starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

College Requirements

- All music education students must maintain a 3.0 GPA to obtain permission to student teach and qualify for state teacher certification.
- All music therapy students must receive a grade of B- or better in all music therapy classes. Grades below B- in any music therapy course may not be applied toward degree requirements in music therapy. Students may retake such courses only once, only with faculty approval. If a grade below B- is earned upon retaking the course, the students will not be permitted to continue as a music therapy major, but may be eligible to change to a different curriculum.
- All Boyer College music students must attend a minimum number of College recitals each semester to qualify for graduation. Refer to the Recital and Concert Attendance Policy for more detailed information.
- All Boyer College music students are required to participate in specific ensembles as determined by their department and program. Refer to the Ensemble Requirement Policy for more detailed information.
- Students in the following curriculums are required to perform a senior recital prior to graduation: Piano Performance, Piano Pedagogy, Instrumental Performance, Voice Performance, Jazz Instrumental Performance, Jazz Voice Performance, and Jazz Arranging/Composition. Refer to the Senior Recital Policy for more detailed information.
- All undergraduate music students must be cleared by the Assistant Director of Advising for graduation by the end of their junior year.

Please refer to the Boyer College Policy Section for a complete list of policies. Detailed requirements for each degree program are listed within the curriculum section of the Bulletin.

Descriptions

1. Certain courses fulfill multiple requirements. In consultation with an advisor, students will be able to plan their curriculum more effectively.
2. The total number of credit hours required for graduation may be greater for some students based on placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices, and academic progress.
3. Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisite and Co-requisite Policy in the University-wide Academic Policies section of this Bulletin.

Music Technology Component

In addition to coursework leading to Bachelor's degrees in Music, the Boyer College of Music & Dance offers a 36-credit component in Music Technology to qualified music majors. This component, which is distributed over a student's freshman through senior years, normally results in a five-year program of study.

The music technology component provides a structured sequence of courses for those students who desire to use new technologies to enhance their skills as performers, composers, teachers, and scholars. Courses focus on the creative, performance, and pedagogical aspects of music technology. Students interested in adding the component to their curriculum should contact their respective chair for further information and specific curriculum guidelines.

Music Education

Rollo Dilworth, Chair
215-204-8310
rollo.dilworth@temple.edu

The Department of Music Education concentrates on developing music educators at the undergraduate level who will be ready for successful entry into the teaching profession.

Faculty recommendations for student teaching are not automatic. They must be earned by the student through demonstrated potential in the field, a 3.0 GPA, and passing of Praxis exams I and II. Students not recommended for student teaching may be permitted to graduate after successful completion of additional coursework, but will not be recommended for Pennsylvania State Music Teacher Certification.

Upon successful completion of the four-year program of study, the five-year double major program of study, or the five-year program with Jazz Component, and upon achieving passing scores on the Praxis Series Assessments (Professional Assessments for Beginning Teachers), students qualify for Pennsylvania state certification for public school music teachers, K-12.

Mission

The Temple University Department of Dance is committed to artistic and academic excellence in a socially-inclusive environment that affirms dance as central to society and culture. We value dance as a performing art manifested artistically, culturally, and personally, and we embrace dance as a vehicle for social change. The department's artistic, scholarly, and educational work is based on the premise that the physical dimensions of human experience are indivisible from their intellectual and spiritual counterparts.

Accreditation

Full accredited Member of the National Association of Schools of Dance (NASD).

Admissions

Admission into the dance program requires the submission of four items:

- A general university application submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.
- Official transcripts / standardized test scores submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.
- A dance application / resume submitted to the Department of Dance.
- Attendance at an audition located on Temple University Main Campus in Philadelphia.

A dance audition cannot be scheduled until the general university application, official transcripts, and test scores have been submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions and the Dance Admissions Office receives the completed dance application. Please note that Temple University will not make an admission decision until applicants attend a dance audition.

The dance audition consists of technique classes divided into sections of ballet, modern, and African dance; a one minute solo of an applicant's own choreography; and an interview. The faculty attempts to choose students with physical, artistic, and intellectual potential to enter and complete the dance program and the university curriculum. The faculty is concerned that potential students' goals and aspirations are supported by the department philosophy, maximizing success in the program.

For additional information regarding dance admissions and for an application, please visit:
www.temple.edu/boyer/admissions/index.asp

Financial Aid

Entering Student Scholarships are offered by the Dance Department following successful entrance auditions and are based on artistic talent and potential for success in the dance curriculum. No separate application is necessary. Awards range from $1,000-$2,500 and are for one year only.

BFA Scholar Award - Honors a graduating B.F.A. student who has demonstrated excellence in overall academic achievement during the academic year.

Dance Academic Advising Center

Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements, but schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Therefore, students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status. It is not the responsibility of the advisor to monitor the academic rosters of individual students for errors in registration.

Dance Program Academic Policies

Please see the Undergraduate Academic Policies. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status. Additional and unique policies, or exceptions for the Boyer College of Music, Department of Dance, appear below.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Leave of Absence

Students must submit the Leave of Absence form to the Undergraduate Program Coordinator in advance of the semester in which the leave is to take place, stating the reason(s) why the leave is necessary. A Leave of Absence must be authorized by the Undergraduate Program Coordinator and Department Chairperson, who will process the leave in accordance with the university's leave of absence policy. (Policy # 02.10.16)

Injury Policy

An injury may affect a student's ability to continue successfully in a course. A student who is injured is expected immediately to contact the assigned instructor, their faculty advisor, and the Undergraduate Program Coordinator to discuss the possibility of continuance in the course.

Independent Study and Field Experience

Students who wish to register for Independent Study or Field Experience must submit a written proposal to the Undergraduate Program Coordinator no later than two months in advance of the semester in which the study is to be accomplished. A student who is on academic probation may not register for Independent Study or Field Experience. Credits will not be granted retroactively, and no more than 4 credits will be awarded over the course of a student's undergraduate study.

Full-Time/Part-Time Status:

The semester load for full-time undergraduate students is 17 credits. Undergraduate students must carry at least 12 credit hours to be classified as full-time. The Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in Dance requires matriculated students to attend on a full-time basis each semester. Students who have been full-time for at least four semesters may petition the Undergraduate Program Coordinator no later than two months in advance for approval to enroll in the subsequent semester on a part-time basis. All requests for part-time status must be approved by the dance faculty. Part-time status is granted for one semester only. Students who are on academic probation are not eligible for part-time status. If a student is granted part-time status and is then placed on academic probation, part-time status will be revoked.

Academic Overloads (18 or more semester hours)

Academic overloads need special approval from the Associate Dean for Student Affairs. Students interested in pursuing an academic overload should contact their Faculty Advisor no later than 2 months prior to the start of the semester in which they desire to overload. Students who are on academic probation are not eligible for academic overloads.

Technique Standards

Temple University's Department of Dance recognizes the necessity of technical training in building professional quality performers, choreographers, and teachers. Our technique classes include a diverse range of dance forms, including ballet, modern, jazz, and African. Each of our technique teachers draws from an array of influences and styles, preparing students for the eclecticism found within the contemporary dance world today. Through four years of technical training, our students gain an understanding of and apply the following principles in reaching their expressive potential and minimizing injury:

- Alignment and Core Connection
- Physical Strength and Flexibility

- Upper and Lower Body Integration
- Clarity in Articulating Various Body Parts
- Sensitivity to Qualitative Range and Expressivity Inside Movement
- Rhythmic Awareness and Musicality
- Incorporation of Weight and Breath
- Spatial Awareness
- Critical thinking
- Self Motivation and Discipline

Modern Technique represents the core of our students' technical training. Students in the Performance & Choreography Focus are required to advance to Modern Technique IV, while students in the Dance Education Focus are required to advance to at least Modern Technique III. In all technique classes, video evaluations occur at the mid-term and final periods of each semester. Following these evaluations, students receive verbal and written feedback from their instructors. This process provides a method of looking at a student's progress in developing the target competencies for each level of technique.

Technique Placement Class

All entering and returning undergraduates are required to attend a modern and ballet technique placement class at the beginning of each semester. Students who do not attend the placement class will be subject to automatic placement in a class by the dance faculty.

First Semester Program Review

At the end of the first semester, each student's progress will be formally evaluated in the following categories to determine suitability for continued study within the dance program.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance emphasizes modern dance technique, performance, choreography, and education. The program provides a two-year foundation for all undergraduate dance majors that supports the development of skill, strength and stamina. The two-year foundation program will be followed by two years of specialized study, during which students focus on either Performance & Choreography or Dance Education. Third and fourth year students in the Performance & Choreography focus will experience intensive training and will have an opportunity to audition for a student dance company that will prepare them to enter professional dance companies, create a company, or pursue an individual career in choreography. Third and fourth year students in the Dance Education focus will continue dance training and will experience intensive coursework in education and pedagogy, including opportunities to observe and work with dance teachers, that prepares them to teach in a variety of settings.

The degree program in dance aims to:

- Guide students toward a balance of cognitive, analytic, intuitive, and creative skills.

- Aid students in development of their creative potential through technique, choreography, performance, research, and other creative media.
- Educate students about the various forms and purposes of dance within their historical, social, and cultural contexts.
- Provide intensive training in a range of dance techniques and styles as represented by the faculty and selected guest artists.
- Prepare students for professional careers as performing artists, choreographers, teachers, scholars, and informed and responsible leaders in academic and other professional settings.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance is conferred upon a student by recommendation of the faculty and upon the satisfactory completion of a minimum of 124 semester hours of credit and completion of the required Dance and university requirements.

Dance Resources: The Dance Department, with its three studios, rehearsal room, Pilates and Dance Medicine Clinic, black-box theater, video library, and assorted classrooms, embraces a broad array of activities. The Philadelphia Dance Collection at Temple University (PDCAT) provides access to the dance legacy of the region through a permanent collection of multi-format archival resources related to the history of Philadelphia dance.

Special Opportunities: The Conwell Dance Theater season provides many opportunities for students to perform and choreograph. A typical season features two student concerts, two Master of Fine Arts thesis concerts, two Bachelor of Fine Arts senior concerts, a faculty dance concert, and an alumni concert. Added to this are performances by guest artists, repertory showings, and informal student choreography performances. Recent guest artists have included Donna Uchizono; Sean Curren; Cornelius Carter; Ruth Andrien, former soloist with the Paul Taylor Dance Company; and Nina Watt, member of the José Limón Dance Company.

DIVISION OF THEATER, FILM & MEDIA ARTS

Dr. Robert T. Stroker, Dean and Vice Provost for the Arts at Temple University

<http://www.temple.edu/theater>

<http://smc.temple.edu/fma>

The Division of Theater, Film and Media Arts is part of the Center for the Arts at Temple University.

The Department of Film and Media Arts is located in Annenberg Hall, which includes television and film production areas (studios and editing, graphics, and film labs) as well as extensive video and film editing areas, a 75-seat multimedia screening room, photographic labs, two news writing labs and smart classrooms.

The Department of Theater is located in Tomlinson Hall, which features two theaters, as well as rehearsal rooms, costume, and scene shops.

History

The study of communication began formally at Temple University with the founding of the Department of Journalism in 1927. It was the first such department in the Commonwealth.

Theater was an extracurricular activity at Temple until 1931, when formal courses were developed.

Radio-Television became an instructional division in 1947, and extensive film offerings were added in 1967. That year, Journalism and Radio-Television-Film joined Theater to form the School of Communications and Theater. In 1987 the highly-respected Department of Speech moved to the school from the College of Arts and Sciences. A year later, Speech became two departments: Rhetoric and Communication, and Speech-Language-Hearing.

The school was restructured in 1995. Radio-Television-Film became the Department of Film and Media Arts and the Department of Broadcasting, Telecommunications, and Mass Media; Journalism became Journalism, Public Relations, and Advertising; Rhetoric and Communication became Speech Communication. In 1998, the Department of Communication Sciences (Speech-Language-Hearing) moved to the College of Health Professions.

Effective Fall 2004, a change occurred with the Departments of Journalism, Public Relations and Advertising, and Speech Communication. Advertising became a separate department. The Department of Speech Communication changed its name to Strategic and Organizational Communication and includes Public Relations as one of three concentrations: Public Communication (formerly Speech Communication), Public Relations, and Organizational Leadership. In 2010, the Department of Strategic and Organizational Communication changed its name to the Department of Strategic Communication.

On July 1, 2012, the School of Communications and Theater was renamed the School of Media and Communication. It houses the departments of Advertising; Journalism; Media Studies and Production (formerly Broadcasting, Telecommunications, and Mass Media); and Strategic Communication. The Communication Studies program remains a part of the School of Media and Communication. The Departments of Theater and Film and Media Arts form the Division of Theater, Film & Media Arts and join the Boyer School of Music and Dance and the Tyler School of Art to form the Center for the Arts. Special Programs

Internship Program

Although the requirements may vary, internships are available to junior and senior students. Internships are for academic credit and must involve professional activity related to the student's course of study. The internships must be approved by the administrator or faculty member charged with supervising internships.

Los Angeles Internship & Study Program

Offered by the Film and Media Arts Department, the Los Angeles Internship & Study Program is open to students from any major on both the upper-level undergraduate (63 credit hours completed) and graduate levels who have an interest in working within the Hollywood entertainment industry. This program is offered as an 8-credit summer program that runs from May through the end of July. It includes an on-site internship and ten weeks of concurrent coursework. Additionally, the program is offered in the fall and spring semesters as a full-time program of study combined with an internship component. For more information, please contact Alison Crouse at 215-204-5910.

Advising

SMC Student Affairs/Advising

Philadelphia, PA 19122
215-204-5273
<http://sct.temple.edu/web/undergraduate/advising/>
advise@temple.edu

Students in Theater and Film and Media Arts are advised by professional academic advisors and faculty advisors. New students (up to 30 credits), transfer students in their first semester, interdepartmental majors, undeclared students, and students on academic probation make advising appointments in SMC Student Affairs/Advising, located on the ground floor of Annenberg Hall. All other students are advised by faculty in their respective departments. Consult your departmental office for assignment to the appropriate advisor.

Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements, but schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Therefore, students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status.

Most students will be eligible to register for classes online via Self Service Banner through the TU Portal. However, all students should meet with an advisor prior to the eligible registration period.

Students preparing to graduate must file the necessary paperwork one semester prior to the graduation date. At that time, an appointment should be made in SMC Student Affairs/Advising to complete a graduation review and application for graduation.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see the Undergraduate Academic Policies section of this Bulletin. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies as well as those of the School of Media and Communication that appear below.

Academic Standing

A matriculated undergraduate student in the university is in Academic Good Standing if enrolled in a baccalaureate degree-seeking program.

Please see the University's policy on Academic Standing for detailed information about Academic Warning, Academic Probation, and Academic Dismissal.

Credits Not Applied Toward the Degree

Credits earned in the following courses are not applied toward a degree in the School of Media and Communication: lower-level courses in Military Science, Topical Studies, RCC, ELECT, and Mathematics 0015.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Re-enrollment

Students returning to Temple University after an absence of one semester (unless an approved Leave of Absence form was filed prior to the leave) must use the Undergraduate Bulletin in effect at the time of readmission or any subsequent Undergraduate Bulletin. Credits more than 10 years old may not be applied toward a degree. For application deadlines and the re-enrollment form, please visit: www.temple.edu/vpus/documents/request_to_reenroll.pdf.

Transfer Students

Refer to the Undergraduate Admissions section of this Bulletin for general information on transferring courses to Temple. In addition to these criteria, each department will evaluate any credit to be transferred into a major. This evaluation generally is done at the first meeting with a faculty advisor during the first semester. The maximum number of credit hours allowed to transfer in the major are: 21 hours in Film and Media Arts and 20 hours in Theater.

Requirements for Graduation

The Division of Theater, Film & Media Arts requires 124 credits to graduate; completion of the university General Education (GenEd) requirements; completion of departmental requirements, including two writing-intensive courses in the major; a minimum of 2.00 GPA, both cumulative and in the major; and completion of a maximum of 71 credits within the School of Media and Communication and the Division of Theater, Film & Media Arts and a minimum of 53 credits outside of the School of Media and Communication and the Division of Theater, Film & Media Arts.

Minimum and maximum credit requirements within each major are listed with the departmental requirements.

Students who are planning to graduate must schedule an official graduation review with an academic advisor and complete the application for graduation one semester prior to the anticipated graduation date. Appointments may be made in SMC Student Affairs/Advising, Annenberg Hall Room 9.

Program Descriptions

1. The total number of credit hours at graduation may be greater for some students based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices, and academic progress.
2. Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisites and Co-requisites Policy in the university-wide Academic Policies section of this Bulletin.

The Film and Media Arts (FMA) Program focuses on the development of creative and technical skills in film, video, audio, digital media, and new technologies, and the theoretical understanding of media and culture. The program recognizes and explores the creative tension between individual expression and the social, political, and economic forces that shape culture at large through the creation and study of film, video, and new media.

Students are trained in developing meaningful content as well as craft, theory, and practice. In learning independent and mainstream approaches to production and theory, graduates will be prepared to develop their own independent productions and to assume a creative role in the motion picture, television and media industries.

FMA faculty have received the Oscar, Emmy, Guggenheim, Rockefeller, NEA, Fulbright, Sundance and international film awards and are authors of some of the important texts in the field. The department also brings in guest media makers and visiting professors from diverse backgrounds for special lectures and workshops. Students may select elective courses from throughout the university, including other departments in the School of Media and Communication, in such areas as journalism and theater. A highly-recognized graduate program offers undergraduates numerous opportunities to work on advanced productions and participate in advanced research, exhibition and creative work in the field.

Faculty Mentoring

FMA faculty strongly believe in the importance of close mentoring. This is particularly important in a department that focuses on individual and collaborative expression. Upon entering the department, each student will be assigned a faculty mentor who will guide the student through his/her four years at Temple. The faculty and external jurors review student work submitted to yearly screenings and as portfolios for Senior Project.

Special Programs and Internships

The Film and Media Arts Department offers special programs for study and research in London, Rome, and Tokyo. FMA has an extensive internship program throughout the year in Philadelphia and Los Angeles. Additionally, many organizations in New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Washington, D.C. provide regular opportunities for student professional internships.

Summary of Requirements for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts in Film and Media Arts

The Bachelor of Arts degree may be conferred upon a student majoring in Film and Media Arts by recommendation of the faculty and upon satisfactory completion of a minimum of 124 credit hours. Students must complete:

1. University requirements:

- New students starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the General Education (GenEd) curriculum.
- All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below and identified with the code "WI" in the Attribute column.

2. School of Media and Communication requirements

3. At least 42 credits and a maximum of 58 credits earned in one of the Film and Media Arts sequences.

4. No more than 21 FMA credits can be transferred to the major.

The number of credits taken in the School of Media and Communication is limited to 71 credits. A student must earn a grade of "C" or better in all Film and Media Arts courses that count towards the degree.

Maintaining Program Performance

Prerequisites to entrance and graduation from the Creative and Media Studies Thesis sequences require students to maintain a GPA of at least 3.0 calculated in all courses taken in the university. Students who have earned at least a 2.0 GPA may enter and graduate in the General sequence. Students with an average under 2.0 may not continue in the FMA program. Students may take up to 4 of the 42 FMA credits as an internship.

FMA Foundation Courses

Film and Media Arts students will complete the following courses by the end of the sophomore year:

Subject	Course #	Course Title	Hours	Attribute
FMA	1141	Media Arts I	4
FMA	1142	Media Arts II	4
FMA	1171	Media & Culture	3
FMA	1172	Introduction to Film & Video Analysis	3

At the completion of these courses, students will choose to enter either the General sequence (a self designed program with no thesis required), the Media Studies Thesis, or the Creative Thesis (leading to a supervised Senior Project or a feature length screenplay).

Creative Thesis Sequence

Mark Rosenthal, Sequence Director
215-204-3395
mark.rosenthal@temple.edu

This sequence educates prospective media makers, writers, and new technology practitioners to take creative control of their own work. It emphasizes students' initiative in creating individual or collaborative projects that serve as an expression of their personal vision and voice. Students can enter this sequence to work on their own project or as a collaborator with equal creative responsibility as screenwriter or director.

The Creative Thesis sequence builds to a two-semester senior capstone course in which each student, working with close faculty guidance, finishes an advanced film/video project and production book or a feature length screenplay. Media work must be presented publicly at the end-of-the-year program screenings.

Students may enter this sequence if they earn a 3.0 or higher in the FMA foundation courses and in all of their other FMA classes. Completion of this sequence requires Senior Project I and II or Screenwriting Master Class I and II and is based on the grade requirements listed above, along with faculty acceptance of the Senior Project application portfolio (which includes a proposal or script and a work sample) submitted in April of the student's junior year).

Media Studies Thesis Sequence

Paul Swann, Sequence Director
 215-204-1735
pswann@temple.edu

This sequence explores the role of media in American and international cultures. The critical exploration of technology, ethics, economic and legal factors, social history, and institutions highlights the processes through which media culture affects identity construction and social change. Students who choose this sequence develop critical, analytical, and organizational skills in linking media culture to such arenas as community-based organizations and museums, schools, media resource centers, and the multicultural community of independent film and video producers.

The Media Studies Thesis sequence builds to a two-semester capstone course in which each student completes a written research-based thesis on media culture criticism and/or history or a producible script for research-based media programming. Students may enter this sequence if they earn at least a 3.0 GPA in the FMA foundation courses.

Students who do not meet the above requirement may petition to enter this sequence based on a review of their written work. The petition must be received by the Media Studies sequence director no later than the seventh week of the semester prior to the semester when the student would be taking the senior thesis course.

General Sequence

Allan Barber, Sequence Director
 215-204-8399
allanbar@temple.edu

This sequence is designed for students who wish to have a more general approach to the major or wish to conclude the degree with something other than a year-long capstone film, feature length screenplay or a supervised written thesis. After completing the FMA core, students must take one production or writing course in either Filmmaking, Videography, Experimental Video or Screenwriting, along with one 2000-level or higher studies course. Students then design their own program with approval of their advisors, choosing a range of middle- and upper-level courses that complete a balanced approach to media study and production or a self directed emphasis in camera, lighting, sound, animation, directing, writing, producing or new media studies or production. The program requires at least one middle-level writing-intensive course, one advanced writing-intensive course, one advanced studies course and one advanced course in studies or production. Students may progress through the General sequence if they have a 2.0 cumulative average and grades of C or better in the FMA foundation courses.

The Theater Department is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre (NAST) and is a member of the United Resident Theatre Association (U/RTA). These affiliations characterize it as amongst an elite group of highly-recognized Theater Programs. The Theater Department was recently ranked by U.S. News & World Report among the top 25 theater programs in the nation.

As a theater department in the heart of a culturally-rich urban setting, Temple University's Theater Department is immersed in and among some of the most important regional and national theaters in the country. This bountiful artistic environment benefits our undergraduate students. Many of our faculty and staff are also working industry professionals, several of whom have distinguished national career profiles. Year after year, an impressive number of Temple Theater graduates are actively involved at every level in nearly every major theater endeavor produced in the Philadelphia metropolitan area.

The undergraduate curriculum in theater is designed to provide the highest quality professional training within a rigorous comprehensive liberal arts setting. Through the study and practice of the arts, craft and scholarship of theater, we aspire to instill in our students a passion for artistic leadership, creativity, e-collaboration, communication and lifelong learning. Characterized by an unswerving commitment to professional excellence, academic depth and breadth, community involvement, and international engagement, our program strives to be a vital cultural force in the diverse community of Temple University, the Philadelphia region, the nation, and the world.

With a strong pedagogical emphasis on experiential learning, students are challenged to learn and create in a wide variety of classroom, studio, and production situations. In addition, Philadelphia has a storied history as one of the top three centers for professional theater in the country, providing a host of opportunities for student observation and engagement during their time here.

The objective of the undergraduate curriculum is to develop within students the creative, cognitive, communication and entrepreneurial skills that will prepare them as citizens of the world and artists contributing to the development of the future of theater in the 21st century. We hope to inspire our students to fulfill their creative potential within an ever more interdisciplinary artistic environment that is responsive to tomorrow's marketplace and the future needs of our multiple communities.

The undergraduate curriculum is intended to combine outstanding academic liberal arts classes with intensive theater craft and studio class studies. The department requires that all undergraduate students take a foundation of broad-based theater classes and also have the opportunity for more specialized theater studies as they progress through the program. The department main season production program serves as the hub of our pedagogy and is a natural and important extension of classroom work. Students are encouraged to participate in the extensive department production programs on some level each semester, ranging from performance opportunities, to design/technical production work, stage management and running crew, as well as dramaturgical research, box office and front-of-the-house patron management.

In summary, the successful theater student graduates from our program with excellent communication and collaboration skills, a broad-based and substantive liberal arts background, developed abilities within the discipline of theater, a peerless commitment to achieving and appreciating artistic excellence, and a passion for life-long learning that will enable success in a wide variety of future endeavors. Our alumni are not only successful artists in theater and all of the entertainment industries, but they are also leaders in many other fields. We strive to graduate well-educated and enlightened "Citizen Artists" who possess the creative capacity and commitment to make a difference in the quality of community life regardless of their chosen field of endeavor.

Faculty Advising and Mentoring

Advising is an important part of the education of students in Theater. Undergraduate majors first see academic advisors in the School of Media and Communication's Student Affairs Office/Advising Center and later choose a Theater faculty advisor within the department. Students are encouraged to consult their advisor on academic matters. In addition to assigned advisors, the chair of the department maintains an open-door policy, and other members of the faculty and staff are happy to mentor students who seek their advice regarding academic progress, production experiences and career objectives.

Theater majors are advised to select courses that will best prepare them to succeed in the future. Toward this end, students may select courses according to their particular interests through the Theater Studies Sequence or choose from five Theater Concentrations: Acting, Design, Directing, Musical Theater, or Theater Education.

Theater Studies Sequence

The Theater Studies Sequence prepares students to enter graduate programs or pursue careers in theater, other entertainment industries, or other fields. It is within this sequence that entrepreneurial students, the student who wishes to explore future interdisciplinary linkages, or those most interested in playwriting, might best fit. The student who follows the Theater Studies Sequence may select any courses offered by the department as long as required prerequisites are completed with applicable proficiencies as indicated in some courses, by a grade of B or better.

Theater Studies Sequence students must complete the Theater Foundation Courses. However, they are encouraged to meet with a Theater Department faculty member to discuss their goals and what selection of courses might best prepare them to achieve their professional aspirations after graduation.

Acting Concentration

The Acting Concentration prepares students to enter graduate acting programs or pursue professional careers in theater, television and film. The coursework provides the highest caliber of training possible within the context of a liberal arts education, so students can thrive either in a graduate conservatory program or in the profession. Through intensive and varied classes in acting, combined with experiential work in minimalist to full-scale productions, students develop the skills needed for creative communication and artistic leadership, tools they will need to pursue their professional goals.

Notes:

1. In order for the student to progress to the next level of study, prerequisites for admission to some classes are required.
2. In order for the student to take Acting courses beyond Theater 2261 (Acting II), qualifying through an audition process is required. Therefore, a student is not officially a part of the Acting Concentration until successfully advancing from Acting II to Acting III. At this time, the student may declare the Acting Concentration in the Theater Department or through SMC Student Affairs.
3. Some Voice, Movement, Speech, and Acting classes may be repeated for credit.
4. Performance courses are available to those students electing the Acting Concentration and to other students in the department who meet the prerequisite requirements.
5. Certification officials from the Society of Fight Directors are invited to the final projects of Swordplay for the Actor classes, and some students receive certification in various combat specialties.

These young artists are drawn to children's theater, social issues theater and educational programs. Their dreams include working in the Education Departments of major regional theaters, reaching people of all ages as teaching artists, collaborating with one of the countless outstanding youth theater organizations across the country, teaching in high schools, junior highs, elementary schools, starting their own youth theaters or social issues theaters, heading up programs at recreation centers, camps or private schools and many other occupations available for motivated theater artists.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Founded 1919

 Philadelphia, PA 19122-6091

Mission Statement

The College of Education at Temple University believes that education improves the lives of children and their families. By ensuring access to high-quality education and empowering all students with the tools they need to achieve, the education profession protects our democratic institutions and promotes social justice. The College of Education aims to play a critical role in promoting educational opportunity both locally and nationally.

As a result of its strategic location in North Philadelphia and its long-term history of collaboration with the School District of Philadelphia, the College of Education is uniquely situated to impact educational practice in city schools. The preparation of teachers, administrators and other school professionals to improve the quality of education, especially in urban settings, remains a core activity of the college.

College faculty conduct and promote research that addresses significant issues of national importance that have immediate practical applications. They investigate problems, evaluate strategic responses to those problems and provide evidence for new practice.

History

While the official date for the founding of the College of Education is usually given as 1919, the college has included teacher preparation as part of its curricula almost from its inception. It is clear from Temple's history that the unofficial founder of the college was Laura Carnell, who began a program for the preparation of kindergarten teachers as early as 1895. This preparation program was expanded into elementary and then secondary areas largely in response to the Philadelphia School District's decision that higher positions in the city's school system would be open only to those with a college degree. In response to this need, the college began offering two, three, and four-year programs to teachers, as well as extension work, day and evening courses, five days a week and on Saturday mornings. This intimate relationship between the college and the School District of Philadelphia characterizes almost all of the college's history. The college was one of the first institutions to schedule courses so that teachers could take them after school hours. Programs of graduate study at the master's level were introduced in 1923, with the Doctor of Education being first awarded in 1931.

The first dean of the college was George Walk, who took over "Teachers College" in 1919 from Laura Carnell (the official name was changed to the "College of Education" in 1960). At present, there are two departments in the college: the Department of Psychological, Organizational and Leadership Studies and the Department of Teaching and Learning.

Historically, Temple's College of Education has had a significant impact on local and regional practice. It has always been the largest college of education in the region and one of the largest in the country. The college continues to be the major provider of teachers for the Philadelphia School District and for many suburban districts. Many principals and superintendents of the neighboring regions have received their degrees from Temple. Many of the school psychologists, counselors, educational researchers, and other education professionals have been prepared at Temple. In a very real sense, the College of Education has helped to shape the educational direction of the region.

Accreditation

The College of Education is an accredited member of the following organizations:

1. The Teacher Education Accreditation Council
2. Middle States Accreditation

The College offers programs approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Education (P.D.E) that are designed for students seeking Instruction I certificates to teach in early childhood/elementary, middle-grades, or secondary settings.

The undergraduate programs in the College of Education are designed to prepare students for careers in education, both in schools and in non-school settings. Secondary education programs require students to take extensive course work in a specific specialization area. The College also offers a major in Adult and Organizational Development designed for students who are interested in a career in education and training but who are not planning to pursue a conventional teacher certification track.

Candidacy

Students are admitted to Temple University and the College of Education; however, Pennsylvania law mandates that all students must be admitted into the Teacher Education Certification Program through an application process referred to as "Candidacy."

Candidacy is required to progress through the later stages of the Teacher Education Certification program. Students cannot register for teaching methods courses nor the student teaching experience prior to achieving Candidacy.

To learn more about Candidacy, including all criteria required, deadlines and more, visit the College of Education's Candidacy web site: www.temple.edu/education/ugrad/candidacy.html.

* All students, including transfer students, are strongly encouraged to complete their Praxis I exams prior to the beginning of their sophomore year to avoid delays in their anticipated graduation date.

Clearances

Pennsylvania requires students to have four clearances prior to entering a school or other setting where children are present. This requirement applies to any student who is taking ANY course with field experience. Students should maintain valid and current clearances while they are enrolled in the College of Education.

For more information about all clearances required and how to obtain these clearances, students should visit the College of Education's clearances web site: www.temple.edu/education/clearances.html.

Certification Testing

Students enrolled in teacher certification programs must successfully complete the Pennsylvania Department of Education's certification exams. Students can find all certification exam information on the College of Education web site at www.temple.edu/education/teach/resources/praxis-prep.html

Academic Advising Information

Undergraduate Academic and Student Affairs
www.temple.edu/education/ugrad/index.html
 215-204-8011

The Undergraduate Academic and Student Affairs in the College of Education helps students plan curricula, choose majors, make vocational and post-graduate plans, and resolve a variety of academic matters. Services are provided by a staff of full-time professional advisors. The department informs students about the results of placement testing and assignment into corresponding courses. The department also monitors academic progress, candidacy approval, and graduation clearance. Through individual appointments and group workshops, the department offers the following services:

- New Student and Transfer Orientations
- Advising and registration assistance for all students in the College of Education. Students enrolled in the University Honors Program also receive advising in the Honors Program Office in Tuttleman Learning Center, Suite 201.
- It is strongly recommended that students consult with an advisor prior to registration at least once a semester in order to stay on course for their anticipated graduation date.
- Academic advising provides an opportunity for students to develop a meaningful education plan compatible with career and life goals. Students can also meet with advisors to discuss a variety of academic concerns and identify solutions. Students on academic probation or experiencing academic difficulty work with advisors to learn strategies for overcoming the obstacles to success.
- Change of Program - Advising for students changing programs (majors) and moving into the College of Education from other schools and colleges within Temple. Students must attend a Change of Program workshop where they learn about collegial degree requirements, policies, and procedures. After this workshop, students can then schedule an appointment to meet individually with an advisor.

- Approving special requests including: re-enrollment to the University; permission to take courses elsewhere; registration for overloads; Third Attempt registrations, etc.
- Coordinate PLATO to assist students in completing the required Praxis II exams for teacher certification, disseminating information to students regarding PAPA and PECT test prep.
- Candidacy applications
- Graduation clearances for all undergraduate students
- Assist with transfer articulations agreements with other institutions in consultation with the College of Education Faculty and Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies office.

All academic advisors are trained to evaluate information carefully to give students the best possible advice. However, primary responsibility for course selection and degree completion rests with the student. Every student must be aware of the requirements of his or her degree and should collaborate with an advisor regularly to ensure timely completion of his or her program.

Non-Academic Grievances

Students may have grievances that are not academic in nature. Such grievances should be directed to other offices on campus, which may include the Office of the Dean of Students, the Equal Opportunity Compliance office, Campus Housing, and other units on campus. Students unsure as to where to proceed with a non-academic grievance should consult either with the Office of the Dean of Students or the college's Academic Advising Center.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status. Additional and unique policies related to state requirements for teacher certification are aligned with the Pennsylvania Department of Education (P.D.E.) and College of Education requirements.

Temple University Requirements

- All students must complete Temple University's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.
- All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses at Temple University (including transfer students).

College of Education Requirements All Teacher Certification Education Programs

(Early Childhood Education, Middle Grades Education, and Secondary Education)

Students receive a Bachelor of Science in Education degree by meeting the following minimum College requirements:

- Completion of program requirements as detailed on the program advising sheet/8-semester matrix.*
- Achieved a "C-" or above in all required Education Courses.
- Achieved a "C-" or above in all required University General Education Courses.

*The required total credit hours may vary depending on the course of study.

All students seeking to graduate with the recommendation for Pennsylvania teacher certification (Instructional I Certification) must successfully complete their program requirements with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. The required total credit hours may vary depending on the course of study. These credit hours are satisfied by taking courses in four categories:

- (1) University General Education requirements (General Education)
- (2) Education courses
- (3) Teacher Education Certification Courses (i.e. methods and student teaching)
- (4) Elective courses as permitted by your program of study.

All students, including transfer, must meet the following requirements:

- Must complete at least 48 credits, 12 of which must be completed at Temple University, with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0.
- Complete at least 36 credits toward your teacher certification program of study, as detailed on the program advising sheet/8-semester matrix.
- Earned a "C-" or above in all required Education Courses. (Students must be aware, however, that the State of Pennsylvania requires a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 for teacher certification. For this reason, obtaining the minimum grade of "C-" in multiple courses will not be sufficient to obtain certification.
- Earned a "C-" or above in all University General Education Courses.
- Passed all three sections of PAPA (reading, writing and math) and passing scores in all required PECT or PRAXIS II exams.
- Completed six credits of college-level math as specified by your program. Courses at the Mathematics 0702 level or below are not applicable to this requirement.
- Completed six credits of college-level English (3 credits of composition and 3 credits of literature).
- Passed a speech screening assessment conducted by an academic advisor.
- Secondary Education students are required to earn a minimum cumulative 2.0 GPA in their content area. Students may earn a "C-" in a course, if it is approved by the department; however, the cumulative GPA for their specialization MUST be a 2.0 GPA. (i.e. English, History, Math, etc.)

- Middle Grades students are required to earn a minimum cumulative 2.0 GPA in their concentration area.
- Pennsylvania requires students to have valid clearances prior to entering a school or other setting where children are present. This applies to ANY student who is taking ANY course with a field experience component. Students must maintain valid and current records of four required clearances.

Courses Inapplicable to Certification

Specific courses are required in order for students to be endorsed for Pennsylvania teacher certification. For example, it is possible that a student may have accumulated enough credits to graduate; but not have the appropriate courses to be recommended for certification. This is one of the reasons why it is imperative to meet with an academic advisor at least once per semester.

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Some credits from ROTC and preparatory courses do not count towards the total number of semester hours needed to graduate.

Courses Over Five Years Old

Courses over five years old are subject to review to fulfill certification requirements.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Graduation without Certification

In rare instances, a student who is unsuccessful in meeting certification program requirements or who has less than the required grade point average(s) may be graduated without certification, provided the student submits a petition to Graduate without Certification and that said petition is approved and that the selected additional requirements are met as recommended by the academic advisor and approved by the department chair and Dean's designee.

Permission to Take Courses at Another Institution

Consistent with University Policy, students will not receive transfer credit for courses taken at another institution while they are matriculated (Degree Seeking) at Temple University unless prior permission has been obtained. Permission forms are available on the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies web site (www.temple.edu/vpus), under Forms. Students should allow at least two weeks for processing once permission forms and documentation have been submitted.

Change of Program to the College of Education

Students will need to register for a Change of Program workshop with the College of Education and then meet with an academic advisor before officially being transferred into the program of study. The Change of Program session will provide students with details and expectations regarding their possible new course of study. Students seeking to transfer into the College of Education from other colleges and schools at Temple must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0.

Change of Program within the College of Education

Students must be in good academic standing in their program to transfer to another program within the College of Education. To transfer to another program within the College of Education, a student must meet with a professional advisor to complete a change of major form.

College Graduation Requirements

Temple University Requirements

Students receiving either a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in education degree must complete the following university requirements before graduation:

1. All students must complete Temple University's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.
2. All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses at Temple University (including transfer students).

Requirements for Certification

Graduation from the College of Education does not carry automatic endorsement for state certification. Students must complete all the requirements for their specific Teacher Education Certification Program, including student teaching; maintain a cumulative 3.0 GPA; and pass all required performance assessments (see below).

In addition, all students seeking certification are required by the State of Pennsylvania to pass the relevant parts of the Pennsylvania Teacher Certification Testing Program in order to be eligible for teacher certification. The required tests include the PAPA and PECT/Praxis II tests. Students should visit the PAPA web site, the PECT web site or the Praxis II web site to acquire test dates and required scores.

Students not obtaining Pennsylvania State Teacher certification within five years of completing their programs must take additional coursework before the College of Education will recommend them for certification.

Speech Assessment

Candidates for Teacher Education Certification are given a diagnostic speech assessment. Additional diagnostic testing may be required, and corrective actions may be taken, to remediate problems. Decisions about remedial efforts and student eligibility to continue in a program will be determined by the Chair of the Department in which the student is enrolled and approved by the Associate Dean of Teacher Education of the College of Education.

Field Experience, Practicum and Student Teaching

The College of Education places a great deal of emphasis on students' in-school experiences. All undergraduates are required to complete courses that place them in school settings for a specified duration. Student teaching, completed in a student's final semester, constitutes the most important field experience for prospective teachers. Application for student teaching placement must be submitted the semester prior to student teaching by the specified deadline communicated to students by the student teaching placement office.

Performance Assessment

In addition to the teacher certification tests (PAPA and PECT/Praxis II tests) required by the Pennsylvania Department of Education, students are required to complete three performance assessments in order to gauge the extent to which they:

- (a) know the content they will teach,
- (b) can teach the content, and
- (c) embody the professional attributes required of professional educators.

The performance assessments occur at three points in the undergraduate program: initially when prospective students are being admitted to certification programs through candidacy; in the junior year, prior to student teaching (intermediate assessment); and before graduation, while student teaching (senior assessment). In addition to assessing and informing candidates about their teaching, the performance assessments are intended for use by faculty as a tool for program evaluation.

All undergraduate Education majors seeking certification must successfully complete the Intermediate Performance Assessment (IPA), a Temple University and PA Department of Education requirement for teacher education majors before student teaching. Under state guidelines, a teacher education institution must:

- (a) conduct performance assessments throughout the preparation program for all students admitted to a professional educator (certification) program
- (b) use the assessment information to determine eligibility for student teaching.

The Intermediate Performance Assessment (IPA) was developed in response to a regulation of the Pennsylvania Department of Education and as part of the College of Education's interest in ensuring teacher candidates continuous progress in the teacher education certification program. The Temple IPA, like college of education courses, is aligned to the program's six standards of effective teaching. At the completion of the teacher education program, teacher candidates will have had instruction to help them meet all of these standards in their teaching practice. The IPA measures progress toward these standards part way through the program; students must complete and pass this formal assessment to be eligible to student teach.

The IPA is followed by the Senior Performance Assessment (SPA) in the final semester of the program. All candidates for certification, must successfully complete the Intermediate and Senior Performance Assessments. This is both a Temple University and PA Department of Education requirement for teacher education majors. Candidates for certification will not be submitted to the state as having met all requirements if they fail either the IPA or SPA twice.

Professional Education Portfolio

After being admitted to a teacher education certification program and for the duration of the degree program, students will be required to maintain a professional education portfolio in either electronic or hard copy form. Faculty will use the portfolio to complement the performance assessment activity described above. The specific requirements for the portfolio will be available from the student's faculty advisor.

Career & Technical Education

Dr. Robert W. Clark, Executive Director

robert.clark@temple.edu

The Career and Technical Education Program serves individuals working in the field of workforce development, including secondary and/or post-secondary career and technical education and technical training in industry. The following teacher education degrees/certifications are offered at the undergraduate level: business, computer and information technology education; industrial education; and marketing education.

Note: The degree and certification programs in Career and Technical Education (Business, Computer, and Information Technology Education (BCITE); Industrial Education; Marketing Education) were recently revised to address new regulations from the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE). All students enrolling in any of these programs for the first time in 2012-2013 are strongly recommended to check with the Shimada Resource Center (SRC) in the College of Education, or with the Department of Curriculum, Instruction and Technology in Education (CITE), to affirm the requirements that pertain to their specific major. In addition, students should check the Undergraduate Bulletin web site for the most current information about these programs (Academic Programs section), or the College of Education's web site at www.temple.edu/education. It is also recommended that students meet with an advisor before enrolling in classes specific to these majors and leading to certification as a teacher. This is to assure that a candidate's intended program of study will be compatible with the new requirements.

Business, Computer, & Information Technology Education

Dr. D. James Gilmour, Certification Program Advisor

1. The total number of credit hours at graduation may be greater for some students based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices, and academic progress.
2. Certain courses fulfill multiple requirements. In consultation with advisors, students will be able to plan their curriculum more effectively.
3. Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisite and Co-requisite Policy in the university-wide Academic Policies section in this Bulletin.

The Business, Computer, & Information Technology Education (BCITE) curriculum is designed to prepare students who expect to teach business subjects in K-12 and at the 2-year college level in public and private schools. Subject area content (academic specialization) and professional education content are combined with general education content (university curriculum) in order to provide the student with a general education, a field of specialization, and professional training. Moreover, the curriculum aims to combine these elements in such proportions as to give students the balanced perspective of the relation that business education bears to education as a whole.

Prior to enrolling in Student Teaching (Education 4788: Student Teaching in Secondary Education/Career & Technical Education), BCITE students must have completed (with a 3.0 cumulative grade point average) the general education, professional education and academic specialization course sequence requirements.

Certification Programs

Cooperative Education

Dr. Chester Wichowski, Certification Program Advisor
Ritter Hall 340
215-204-6249
chet.w@temple.edu

School personnel interested in teaching and supervising students in work-based settings in Pennsylvania must be certified in Cooperative Education. This certification covers a variety of work-based settings for secondary students, including capstone programs, diversified occupations programs, shadowing experiences, work experience programs, internships, and job shadowing. The skill and knowledge included in this certification program also has application to post-secondary and adult settings.

Persons wishing to become teachers of cooperative education must apply to the program and provide information about their education and experiential backgrounds. Based on the information provided, a program of studies, which includes an internship, is prepared. Persons who enter this program holding a valid teaching certificate will work toward earning an "add-on" certificate in Cooperative Education, while others will work toward a "stand-alone" certificate. Persons wishing to enroll in this program should contact an advisor.

Career & Technical Certification Program

Ms. Nancy Johnston, Certification Program Advisor
Ritter Hall 346
215-204-8376
nancy.johnston@temple.edu

This curriculum, which is offered in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Department of Education, is designed to prepare in-service teachers of career and technical education (industrial) subjects at the secondary, post-secondary, and 2-year college levels in public and private schools. Career and Technical Teacher Education courses may be taken on three levels: certification, undergraduate, and graduate. Persons who meet statutory requirements and who have at least two years of work experience beyond the learning period in a trade, technical, or other selected occupation may prepare for certification to teach occupational subjects or related classes in secondary schools in Pennsylvania.

Certification students must apply and be admitted to the Industrial (Career and Technical) Education Certification Program. All certification students must meet the requirements for admission to the university. In addition, candidates must satisfy the departmental requirements for work experience and must have passed the required Occupational Competency Assessment. Students must also pass Praxis I computer-based tests before receiving the Vocational Intern Teaching Certificate. This program prepares the student for career and technical teacher certification in Pennsylvania and, in general, is acceptable in other states. Work taken toward the certification objective may be applied to the undergraduate degree program. The courses are offered on a part-time basis for those who are employed on an Intern credential. Completing 18 semester hours of approved coursework and passing the occupational competency examination will permit the issuance of a Vocational Instructional I Certificate, which is valid for six years.

Upon receipt of the Vocational Instructional I certificate, the student must complete an additional 60 s.h. of college work, earning a minimum of 6 semester hours of credit per year until the requirements for permanent certification (78 s.h. and three years successful teaching) are satisfied.

Persons wishing to enroll in this program should contact an advisor.

The Early Childhood-Elementary Education (PreK-4) program is designed to prepare teachers to work in programs serving children in pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, primary, and early intermediate grades. The program aims to help students gain an appreciation and understanding of child development and learning, build conceptual and practical expertise about effective instruction, acquire a sound philosophy of education, and develop personally and professionally.

A hallmark of the program is field experience in an exciting and diverse variety of settings. By working directly with children several times prior to student teaching, students in the program can gain hands on experience with children of various ages and backgrounds, gaining insight into the creation of effective learning situations which meet the needs of all learners.

Students must be accepted into the certification program prior to taking methods courses (see candidacy). Observation, participation, and teaching within the practicum courses are further extended during student teaching where our students operate more independently.

Bachelor of Science in Education Requirements

The Bachelor of Science in Education in Middle Grades Education prepares undergraduate students for middle level teaching (fourth to eighth grades). Middle grades teachers, particularly in math and science education, are increasingly sought out and in high-demand in Pennsylvania as well as across the country.

The College of Education program in Middle Grades Education is designed to ensure not only that there are certified teachers to fill the growing vacancies, but that our students graduate highly knowledgeable about learning and teaching as well as committed to pre/adolescent learners from diverse ethnic, economic and geographic backgrounds. To that end, our program focuses on building deep content-specific pedagogical knowledge aligned to the breadth of academic standards and the wide-ranging developmental needs of middle grades students. To develop a strong link between learning theories and actual pedagogical practice, we also require that our students engage in early, often and strategic field/clinical education experiences in middle grades settings.

Our newly designed program stands out as cutting-edge because we prepare undergraduate students to teach in both the upper elementary and middle grades classrooms. In addition to becoming certified to teach all elementary subjects in 4-6th, all Middle Grades Education students will pursue dual certification for 7-8th grades in one of the following concentrations:

- Math and Science
- Math and Language Arts/English
- Science and Language Arts/English

The total number of credit hours for the program is 126 credits for the Mathematics and Language Arts concentration, 126 for the Science and Language Arts concentration; and 127 credits for the Mathematics and Science concentration.

Bachelor of Science in Education Requirements

University Requirements

All new students starting in the academic year 2012-2013 and beyond are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive (WI) courses at Temple University. Writing intensive course numbers end in 96, 97 and 98.

College Requirements

Students receive a Bachelor of Science in Education degree with a recommendation for Pennsylvania teacher certification upon the successful completion of their program requirements with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. The required total credit hours may vary depending on the course of study. These credit hours are satisfied by taking courses in four categories:

- (1) University General Education requirements (General Education)
- (2) Education courses
- (3) Teacher Education Certification Courses (i.e. methods and student teaching)
- (4) elective courses as permitted by your program of study

All students seeking to graduate with the recommendation for Instructional I Certification from Pennsylvania must also meet the requirements for candidacy.

Secondary Education / English Education

Academic Content Area - English

Students seeking certification in Secondary Education: English must complete the requirements for both the major in Secondary Education: English AND for the English major as specified by the English Department. (For more information on the English department's major requirements, go to the College of Liberal Art's English page or click here.) In order to assure that students gain the content knowledge specified by the Pennsylvania Department of Education, we strongly recommend students to choose English electives that include the following areas: Linguistics, Shakespeare, and African American literature. Without coursework in these areas, students risk failing the state-mandated Praxis II examination.

Secondary Education / World Languages Education

In the state of Pennsylvania, certification in a world language is a K-12 certificate. World Language certification is offered in French, German, Hebrew, Italian, Latin, Portuguese, and Spanish. Students seeking certification in Secondary Education: World Languages must complete the requirements for both the major in Secondary Education: World Languages AND for the language major as specified by the College of Liberal Arts.

Academic Content Area For certification in one foreign language

Ten courses above the first two elementary courses must be taken (that is, beyond courses which, at Temple, are generally numbered 1001 and 1002)

All courses must be taught in the target language. (Native speakers who received most of their pre-university education in their native land may be eligible to certify by taking eight appropriate foreign language courses in their native language.)

These ten courses must include:

- Composition and Conversation: at least two (and preferably three) courses are required, except for Italian, in which only one course is available.
- Culture and Civilization: one course is required.
- Linguistics: one course is required. If no course is available in the target language, one will have to be taken in another department, but it will not count as a foreign language course if taken in the English or Strategic Communication departments.
- Literature: two courses are required, one of which must be contemporary literature. Students should check with an advisor to select the specific courses that meet the above requirements. Additional courses should also be selected in consultation with an advisor. It is strongly recommended that, in Spanish, courses be taken in both Peninsular and Latin American Spanish. Similarly, in French, coursework should include both continental and overseas French.

Total Semester Hours for Certification in One Foreign Language: 122-124

It is strongly recommended that certification in English as a Second Language (ESL or ESOL) or in an additional foreign language be pursued in order to enhance career opportunities. Courses may be taken during summer sessions to avoid heavy course loads during the academic year.

Total Semester Hours for Certification in One Foreign Language and ESL: 131-133

Academic Content Area for Certification in Two Foreign Languages

Ten courses in the first foreign language must be taken. If the language is begun at the college level, the first two elementary courses do not count toward the ten courses. At Temple, these courses are generally numbered 1001 and 1002.

For the second foreign language, at least eight courses must be taken. The first two beginning courses do count toward certification in the second foreign language. The same courses required for the first foreign language apply also to the second foreign language, (i.e., two courses in composition and conversation, one culture and civilization course, one linguistics course, and two literature courses, including contemporary literature).

Total Semester Hours for Certification in Two Foreign Languages: 146-148

Native Speakers

Native speakers who were educated to speak, read, and write their native language need only eight courses in the formal study of their native language as a subject at the university level. Courses should be at an appropriate level for their background. These courses must include two composition and conversation courses, one culture and civilization course, one linguistics course, and two literature courses (including a contemporary literature course). There is no credit-by-examination given at Temple in a foreign language.

Foreign Study and/or Travel

Study and travel experiences in relevant foreign language speaking areas are highly recommended. Temple provides such experiences at Temple's Rome Campus, the Temple-Sorbonne program, the Temple University of Puerto Rico exchange program, or Temple's exchange programs with the Universities of Hamburg and Tübingen in Germany. The Latin American Studies Semester program is an immersion experience available at Temple's Main Campus to all Spanish majors during spring semesters.

Engineering Building, Room 331
1947 N. 12th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19122
215-204-7800

Accreditation

The Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering and Mechanical Engineering programs are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission (EAC) of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), <http://www.abet.org>. The Construction Management Technology and Engineering Technology programs are accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission (ETAC) of ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.

Mission

The mission of the College of Engineering (COE) is to provide students with a high-quality, innovative, and globally-competitive learning experience in engineering, engineering technology, and the applied sciences. Engineering graduates are to be educated professionals with the technical, problem-solving, and communication skills required to succeed in the workplace and society.

The college is mindful of its obligation to be an environment for the creation of knowledge, and it encourages basic and cross-disciplinary applied research by faculty and students. We place great value on scholarship, practice, and service aimed at improving the quality of life and the economic viability of our society. This value system is reflected in how we assess faculty for promotion and tenure and how we grade student work.

We strive to pursue these objectives in a learning environment that celebrates ethnic and gender diversity, respects experience, and encourages problem solving through teamwork.

The college offers undergraduate curricula in engineering and engineering technology. Our engineering programs, leading to the Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree, prepare students for positions in engineering that require a broad preparation in mathematics and the engineering sciences at the entry level. They are recommended for those who expect to become registered professional engineers, pursue an advanced degree, or become involved in conceptual design, planning, research, and development in industry. The programs in engineering technology, which lead to the Bachelor of Science in Engineering Technology degree, educate students for careers as engineering technologists. They participate as members of the engineering team, translating concepts into functioning systems and supervising subsequent implementation by technicians and craftsmen.

Graduates of the COE find employment in manufacturing, construction management, sales engineering, inspection and quality control, production engineering and management, research and development, purchasing, technical field services, application engineering, engineering design, computer systems and software manufacturing, and research or production involving computers. Following on-the-job experience, they can qualify for positions of a supervisory and managerial nature. Others may qualify as registered professional engineers.

Day and evening courses are offered at the Main Campus and at the Ambler Campus. All programs can be completed at the Main Campus.

Admission

Admission to the university does not guarantee admission to particular programs in the College of Engineering. Because programs in the college have varying admissions requirements, students should contact the Office of Undergraduate Studies, Room 326, for further information (215-204-2998).

Honors Program

For current information on the College Honors Program, contact Dr. Vallorie Peridier, Coordinator, by phone (215-204-7143) or e-mail (vallorie.peridier@temple.edu).

Cooperative Education & Internship

Full-time matriculated College of Engineering students who have a GPA of 2.5 or greater and who have completed at least 30 semester hours (at least 12 at Temple) toward the baccalaureate degree may apply for paid cooperative work experience (full-time) during spring or fall semesters. Students work at least 35 hours per week and are considered full-time students at Temple University. It can take additional time to complete the degree when participating in this program, but at least one semester of relevant work experience is gained. College of Engineering students may register and receive technical elective credits for their work experience with the Co-op courses (Engineering 2181, 3181). These programs are managed by the Director of Recruiting and Co-op Programs in the College of Engineering.

Students may also receive relevant work experience through internships, which are normally available during the summer terms. Because internships are offered over the summer, they allow students to finish in the traditional four years and still gain some on-the-job experience.

Mechanical Engineering (B.S.M.E.)

These degree programs also offer concentrations in the following areas:

Environmental Engineering in B.S.C.E.
Computer Engineering in B.S.E.E.
Bioelectrical in B.S.E.E.
Bioengineering in B.S.M.E.
Energy Systems in B.S.M.E.

Engineering Technology

Engineering Technology programs are accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission (ETAC) of ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.

These programs lead to a Bachelor of Science in Engineering Technology (B.S.E.T.) degree.

Two Engineering Technology programs are offered in the following areas:

Construction Management Technology
Engineering Technology

College Requirements for all Majors:

Engineering Programs:

32 minimum credits in Math and Science
15 minimum credits in Humanities and Social Science
60-70 credits in major (varies with major), minimum 2.0 GPA in the major
124 minimum credits total

Engineering Technology (CMT & ET) programs:

24 minimum credits in Math and Science
15 minimum credits in Humanities and Social Science
50-60 credits in major (varies with major), minimum 2.0 GPA in the major
124 minimum credits total

1. The total number of credit hours at graduation may be greater for some students based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices, and academic progress.
2. Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisite and Co-requisite Policy in the university-wide Academic Policies section in this Bulletin.

3. The engineering programs are structured to prepare students for the professional practice of engineering and/or graduate study. The curricula emphasize a rigorous treatment of the mathematical and scientific approaches to the solution of engineering problems.
4. The final two years of study stress the synthesis of unique solutions rooted in the fundamental principles mastered during the first two years. These final years culminate in a design project.

All students in the College of Engineering (COE) are assigned an academic or faculty advisor when they initially enroll. The student's academic advisor will confirm that the courses selected yield credits toward a degree and that the requirements of Temple University, COE, and the academic department are being met. Reference should be made to this Bulletin and to DARS in planning programs.

Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements, but schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Therefore, students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degrees and for acquiring current information about their academic status.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see the full listing of university-wide Academic Policies. The university policies and regulations generally apply to all undergraduate students and provide a framework within which schools and colleges may specify further conditions or variations appropriate to students in their courses or programs. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

College Graduation Requirements

Anticipation of Graduation - All College of Engineering (COE) students who intend to graduate in May, August, or January must have a graduation review at the completion of 90 credits. At the beginning of the final semester, the student must complete a graduation application. To earn the baccalaureate degree in any curriculum of the COE, a student must submit a graduation plan (check sheet), consisting of all required courses in the chosen curriculum, which has been approved by the student's faculty advisor, chairperson, and dean of the college. Required courses are indicated in curriculum checklists available from the student's respective department of instruction.

College Requirements for all Majors:

Engineering Program:

- 32 minimum credits in Math and Science
- 15 minimum credits in Humanities and Social Science
- 60-70 credits in major (varies with major), minimum 2.0 GPA in the major
- 124 minimum credits total

Engineering Technology (CMT & ET) programs:

- 24 minimum credits in Math and Science
- 15 minimum credits in Humanities and Social Science
- 50-60 credits in major (varies with major), minimum 2.0 GPA in the major
- 124 minimum credits total

Program Performance - A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 is required for graduation. Students majoring in engineering must attain a minimum GPA of 2.0 in their major courses in order to graduate. Students majoring in engineering technology and construction management technology must have a minimum GPA of 2.0 in their major courses.

Independent Research - Independent student work on a laboratory investigation or design project must be approved by the chairperson of the respective department and the assigned faculty supervisor. Work is graded on research methodology, research results, and a report. Only seniors with a minimum GPA of 3.0 may apply for independent research. Approved projects must be completed in one academic year.

Independent Study - A student is permitted to take no more than two independent study courses. Permission is granted only if a student needs the course to complete his/her studies. They can be taken only in the junior and senior years. The content of the independent study work must cover the material in one of the courses listed in the curriculum. Students must complete an independent study form in their department prior to registration for the independent study.

Transfer Credit - Transfer credit to the COE can be granted only from an accredited institution of higher learning. Co-op education, credit for life experience, and advanced placement credits are not transferable from other institutions. Transfer credits are not granted after a student has matriculated into a degree program. In only exceptional circumstances may students take courses at other institutions and have transfer credits awarded. The dean must approve permission for such arrangements in advance. Senior Design Projects or Capstone courses are not transferable to the college.

Non-Traditional Credits - A maximum of 12 semester hours of credit will be allowed by the COE in cooperative education, relevant work experience, approved ROTC courses, and Advanced Placement or CLEP examinations. No other non-traditional credit will be granted.

Credit for Life Experience - Degree seeking students may be granted academic credits for work experience if it is judged to be an adequate substitute for all or part of particular courses required of the student. Experience must be related to a specific course in the curriculum offered by the college. Work experience must be acquired before entering Temple University. Credit will only be granted after completion of 30 semester hours of coursework. Application forms are available in the Office of Undergraduate Studies (Engineering Building, Room 349).

The Civil Engineering Program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission (EAC) of ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.

Civil Engineering Program

Goals, Objectives & Design Integration

Graduates will be employed in industries, academia or state and federal government agencies or enter into or complete graduate or professional degree programs. Graduates will use modern engineering techniques, skills, and tools to identify, formulate, and solve civil engineering problems; or design structures or systems considering functionality, safety and cost effectiveness; or evaluate the impact of civil engineering solutions in a global, societal, and environmental context consistent with the principles of sustainable development. Graduates will engage in the professional practice in civil engineering or closely related fields. Graduates will demonstrate an understanding of ethical, societal, and professional responsibility; engage in life-long learning opportunities; and demonstrate effective communication and interpersonal skills within multidisciplinary teams.

Civil Engineering professionals plan, design, construct, and operate facilities which are essential to the quality of modern life, the Civil Engineering curriculum is based upon providing a fully-integrated design experience by beginning with introductory courses in the study of engineering history and economics, then progressing through a broad coverage of the primary areas of practice within Civil Engineering (surveying, structures, geotechnical engineering, construction engineering, water resources, transportation, and environmental engineering), and finishing with a year-long capstone Civil Engineering senior design project. The goal of the Civil Engineering program is to prepare students to pursue graduate education in their specific areas of interest, to pass the Fundamental of Engineering and Professional Engineer exams in the areas of practice within Civil Engineering, and become involved in design, project planning and research.

Civil Engineering Program with Concentration in Environmental Engineering

Goals, Objectives & Design Integration

The objective of the Concentration in Environmental Engineering within the Civil Engineering program at Temple University is to provide students with the skills needed to understand environmental problems and to design environmental systems to reduce and/or mitigate pollution. Environmental Engineering is a hybrid of Civil Engineering and Chemical Engineering, and it is thus natural for a civil engineer to broaden his/her knowledge in Environmental Engineering. Students in this concentration would be in a program that satisfies ABET accreditation for civil engineers, but they are more equipped to pass the Fundamental of Engineering and the Professional Engineer exams in the Environmental Engineering Category.

Minor in Environmental Engineering

Room 514, Engineering and Architecture Building
1947 North 12th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19122
215-204-7814

The Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering (CEE) offers a five-course (15 s.h.) undergraduate Minor in Environmental Engineering. Undergraduates from the Physical Sciences, Mathematics, and Engineering are eligible to participate in this program.

The purpose of the Minor is to allow students from a wide range of undergraduate majors to obtain an introductory background in sustainability, pollution prevention, environmental modeling, and pollution control technologies most appropriate to their interests and major field. The Minor in Environmental Engineering will add considerably to students' major program skills and make them more valuable to employers. Mathematics and Science majors will gain an understanding of engineering problem-solving processes and standard pollution control technologies. Engineering majors will understand the environmental effects of technologies in their major field and how to manage those effects. After the student completes the requirements for the minor, the minor will be recorded on the student's official university transcript upon graduation.

Academic Requirements for the Environmental Engineering Minor

Students pursuing an Environmental Engineering Minor must meet the following requirements:

- A minimum of C- in each course
- An overall GPA of 2.0 for courses in the Environmental Engineering minor

Courses

Two required courses:

- Civil Engineering 2711: Environmental Chemistry & Microbiology (prerequisites: CHEM 1031, CHEM 1033)
- Civil Engineering 3711: Environmental Engineering (prerequisites: CHEM 1031, MATH 1042)

Three elective courses (minimum) may be taken after completion of the two required courses; choose from the following:

- Civil Engineering 4621: Engineering Hydrology
- Civil Engineering 4631: Environmental Hydrology
- Civil Engineering 4711: Air Pollution Control System
- Civil Engineering 4721: Water & Wastewater Systems Design
- Civil Engineering 4731: Solid & Hazardous Waste Management

Students are required to complete prerequisite courses (shown in parentheses above) as indicated for the two required courses. These prerequisite courses do not count toward the minimum of 15 semester hours. The Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering maintains an approved list of elective courses.

Declaration of Environmental Engineering Minor

Students who are interested in pursuing an Environmental Engineering minor should speak to their advisor in the school or college in which they are pursuing their degree. Students should formally declare the Environmental Engineering minor upon completing no more than 6 credits toward the minor. There is no penalty if the minor is not completed. For more information and to declare the minor, please contact the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering.

Cooperative Education Programs

A Cooperative Education (Co-op) is an optional program available at the College of Engineering where you have the opportunity to gain professional work experience before graduation. It is designed to give you the chance to apply the knowledge learned in the classroom to real life problems. You will be exposed to the latest technology and new ideas at a worksite helping you understand your field of work more extensively. During the Co-op, you will make valuable connections with professionals in your field. A cooperative education can enhance and strengthen you academically, professionally and personally.

Below are the five-year curricula for the Co-op programs leading to the Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering and the Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering with a concentration in Environmental Engineering. The minimum requirement for graduation is 127 semester hours.

The Electrical Engineering program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission (EAC) of ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.

Program Goals, Objectives & Design Integration

The objective of the Electrical and Computer Engineering Program is to prepare students for careers as practicing engineers in areas such as digital systems, embedded processor applications, digital communications, control systems, sensor networks, biomedical signal processing, microelectronics, computer security, and power networks. These careers are in applications, development, research, and design of electric and electronic systems and devices. Electrical Engineers are involved in the design and development of telecommunications networks, cellular telephones, computer and other microprocessor-based devices, consumer electronics, control systems for space vehicles and robots, and in many aspects of the power and automotive industries.

The department offers a concentration in Computer Engineering. The objective of the computer engineering concentration is to prepare students for a career in the area of Computer Engineering as it relates to the design of integrated software/hardware systems with both high- and low-level computer systems programming and applications to electrical systems. Computer engineers are responsible for the design, implementation, and application of computers and digital systems. The field covers hardware, software, and the interaction between them. The Computer Engineering concentration integrates courses on computer science fundamentals from the Department of Computer and Information Sciences of Temple University into the curriculum.

The department also offers a concentration in Bioelectrical Engineering. The objective of the Bioelectrical Engineering concentration is to prepare students for careers in the emerging areas of biomedical signal and image processing, assistive devices for the impaired, and bioelectronics. The Bioelectrical Engineering concentration utilizes courses in Biology, and Mammalian Anatomy and Physiology from the Department of Biology at Temple University as part of the curriculum.

The curriculum in Electrical and Computer Engineering is accredited by the Accreditation Board of Engineering and Technology (ABET). The curriculum features required courses in Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, General Education, and the fundamentals of Electrical and Computer Engineering. The ABET minimum requirement for graduation is 124 semester hours, and students must satisfy the minimum requirement in each category as shown below. "Approved Elective" courses include elective electrical engineering courses, and a selection of math, science, engineering, and computer science courses as approved by the department chair. Students should consult the department chair or their academic advisor for any questions concerning the credit distribution.

University Requirements

All new students are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum. Transfer students are advised by the Department Chair with regard to their transfer credit for courses in their major taken elsewhere. Students should contact the department chair for an appointment and advisement.

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses as part of the major. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below and are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column.

Summary of Degree Requirements

The degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering may be conferred upon satisfactory completion of a minimum of 124 semester hours of credit with a minimum GPA of 2.0 overall and in the major. Students must also score a minimum grade of C- in each of the following courses: ECE 2312, ECE 2322, ECE 2612, and ECE 3512 before they can take other junior and senior level courses. The following tables show the minimum credit hour requirement in various areas for the ECE degree program and concentrations in Computer Engineering and Bioelectrical Engineering:

Cooperative Education Programs

A Cooperative Education (Co-op) is an optional program available at the College of Engineering where you have the opportunity to gain professional work experience before graduation. It is designed to give you the chance to apply the knowledge learned in the classroom to real life problems. You will be exposed to the latest technology and new ideas at a worksite helping you understand your field of work more extensively. During the Co-op, you will make valuable connections with professionals in your field. A cooperative education can enhance and strengthen you academically, professionally and personally.

Below are the five-year curricula for the Co-op programs leading to the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering, the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering with a concentration in Computer Engineering, and the Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering with a concentration in Bioelectrical Engineering. The minimum requirement for graduation is 127 semester hours.

Engineering Program

Goals, Objectives & Design Integration

The mission of the general Engineering Program at Temple University is to provide an excellent educational experience for its students. This experience includes an emphasis on the technical, communication, teamwork and life-long learning skills that graduate engineers need to succeed, in both the workplace and society in general. The general engineering program is structured to prepare the graduate for the practice of engineering and graduate school or professional programs in business, law and medicine. The curriculum emphasizes a rigorous treatment of the mathematical and scientific approach to the solution of engineering problems. The program has design across the curriculum and is capped with an integrated design experience in the form of a senior project.

The general Engineering Program shall produce graduates who:

- have the theoretical and practical ability to research, analyze, design and evaluate engineering systems for modern practice and/or graduate and professional programs;
- can communicate effectively in oral, written and electronic media and have the necessary teamwork and leadership skills to work and participate effectively in a team environment; and
- are committed to life-long learning and continuous improvement and who can contribute to the economic, technical, social and educational development of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the country and the world.

Program Goals, Objectives & Design Integration

The mission of the Mechanical Engineering Department is to provide an excellent educational experience for the students in its programs. This experience includes an emphasis on the technical, communication, and teamwork skills that graduate engineers need to succeed, in both the workplace and society in general. In order to achieve these goals, the department places great importance on teaching, research, scholarship, engineering practice, and service to the university community and the Engineering profession. The mechanical engineering program is structured to prepare the graduate for the professional practice of engineering and/or graduate school. The curriculum emphasizes a rigorous treatment of the mathematical and scientific approach to the solution of engineering problems. It provides a coherent set of courses in energy conversion and structures/motion in mechanical systems. The program has design across the curriculum and is capped with an integrated design experience in the form of a senior project.

Most technical courses in the program are offered during the day only.

Cooperative Education Programs

A Cooperative Education (Co-op) is an optional program available at the College of Engineering where you have the opportunity to gain professional work experience before graduation. It is designed to give you the chance to apply the knowledge learned in the classroom to real life problems. You will be exposed to the latest technology and new ideas at a worksite helping you understand your field of work more extensively. During the Co-op, you will make valuable connections with professionals in your field. A cooperative education can enhance and strengthen you academically, professionally and personally.

Below are the five-year curricula for the Co-op programs leading to the Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering, the Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering with a concentration in Bioengineering, and the Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering with a concentration in Energy Systems. The minimum requirement for graduation is 127 semester hours.

Program Goals & Objectives

The baccalaureate curriculum in Construction Management Technology (CMT) prepares a student for a practitioner's role in industry, government or institution in the area of construction management.

Graduates are qualified for jobs as construction field supervisors, estimators, expeditors, construction cost analysts, schedulers, plan examiners for government agencies that control construction, and in safety. Graduates can communicate effectively and have the necessary teamwork and leadership skills to work and participate effectively in a team environment. Also, graduates will have professional growth and life-long learning skills that engineering technologists need to succeed in both the workplace and the society in general

Day and evening courses are available; however, most technical courses are offered in the evening only. While the day program requires a minimum of four years, a completed evening program may extend over eight to twelve years.

The Construction Management Technology Program is accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission (ETAC) of ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.

Program Objectives

This program is offered on the Main Campus with some courses available at Temple University Ambler. Students may complete all required coursework at night on the main campus. The curriculum in Engineering Technology provides a broad base of technological skills extending across the traditional fields of engineering technology with a concentration designed by the student and faculty advisor to meet personal and career objectives. A plan of study can be developed with a focused track such as construction, environmental, computer, mechatronics, or energy. Mechatronics is only available at the campus of Lehigh Carbon Community College. See the following link for courses in these tracks on page 26 of the Student Handbook:
www.temple.edu/engineering/current-students/student-handbook.

The Engineering Technology Program is accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission (ETAC) of ABET, <http://www.abet.org>.

Introduction

Temple University Ambler has been connected to sustainable concepts and environmental stewardship for over a century. In June 2000, the Temple University Board of Trustees formally recognized Ambler College (now the School of Environmental Design) located at the Ambler Campus, as the 17th academic unit of Temple University. This designation provided Ambler College with the ability to plan and develop unique programs consistent with its mission. In July 2009, Ambler College was renamed the School of Environmental Design in the College of Liberal Arts. The School of Environmental Design (SED) is the home to the Department of Community and Regional Planning, the Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture, and the Center for Sustainable Communities, with plans for future academic programs to be added under the school umbrella.

The mission of the School of Environmental Design is the enhancement of the relationship between individuals, social patterns, and political systems and the natural, built, and cultural environments of contemporary life. The School of Environmental Design upholds the environmental traditions established by the Pennsylvania School of Horticulture for Women and carried forward by our founding Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture. As Temple University's 17th college, the School of Environmental Design has a commitment to the health of communities, the preservation and appreciation of the natural and historical landscape, and the recognition of the connections between the natural and constructed worlds. (Adopted by the Faculty, Ambler College [now the School of Environmental Design], December, 2000.) The School of Environmental Design core values are: student-centered learning, community engagement, and environmental responsibility.

The Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture traces its origins to the Pennsylvania School of Horticulture for Women, founded in 1911 at Ambler Campus. Originally, the department offered only two-year Associate degree programs, but in 1988 added two four-year degree programs in Landscape Architecture and Horticulture. In Fall 2010 it added a Master of Landscape Architecture (M.L.Arch.) degree. The department's evolution has combined theory with practice, continuing the tradition of blending art and science with practical experience. Committed to excellence in ecologically-based education, the department provides students with the knowledge and understanding of sustainable environments. Through an ecological approach to planning, design, development, and care of the land, the programs in Landscape Architecture and Horticulture promote the development of skills to improve the quality of urban, suburban, and rural communities. Courses and programs are offered that utilize the 187-acre Ambler Campus as both an arboretum and a living laboratory for faculty and students. Students also have the opportunity to conduct research in a state-of-the-art greenhouse.

Established in 2001, the Department of Community and Regional Planning, building on the traditions already established in the Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture and the Center for Sustainable Communities (See Special Programs and Facilities below), develops skilled practitioners for the dynamic and growing field of planning in the government, non-profit, and private sectors. Students develop an understanding of the physical and economic issues of planning, sensitivity to the social and environmental impact of planning decisions, and a knowledge of governmental structures as they apply to planning. The Bachelor of Science and Master of Science programs place students on the front lines of efforts to create and maintain healthy, sustainable communities by providing students with a broad-based understanding and awareness of multi-dimensional land-use and planning issues.

The Ambler Campus continues to be the home of the School of Environmental Design and is also a teaching site for many courses and full degree programs sponsored by other schools and colleges of Temple University. See the Degree Programs Chart for a listing of the full degree programs and the Ambler Campus section for additional information on campus facilities and services.

Accreditations

The Bachelor of Science in Landscape Architecture program is accredited by the Landscape Architectural Accreditation Board of the American Society of Landscape Architects. The first professional Master of Landscape Architecture program has been granted accreditation candidacy status.

The Master of Science program in Community and Regional Planning is accredited by the Planning Accreditation Board.

Admissions Information

Ambler Admissions Office
267-468-8100
ambler@temple.edu
www.temple.edu/ambler/admissions/

A strong interest in the environment, planning, and/or design is highly desirable for students who enroll in all programs offered by the School of Environmental Design. Students interested in Community and Regional Planning also should have a desire to develop computer, social science, and communications skills. Applicants to the Landscape Architecture and Horticulture programs, depending on the intended area of study, should have a background that includes courses in art, geometry, biology, and geography.

Lehigh Carbon Community College (LCCC) Agreement

In 2009 Lehigh Carbon Community College and the School of Environmental Design signed a program-to-program articulation agreement to facilitate the transfer of LCCC students with an Associate's in Science in Natural Science-Horticulture and Plant Science to the School of Environmental Design Bachelor of Science in Horticulture program. For details, call the Office of Academic Advising at 268-468-8200.

Longwood Gardens Agreement

Students who graduate from the Longwood Gardens Professional Gardener Program and are admissible to Temple University may receive credits toward the Bachelor of Science degree in Horticulture. This agreement is based on an assessment of prior learning for the completion of the Longwood program and is not a course by course articulation. Call the Ambler Office of Academic Advising at 267-468-8200 or visit www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements/longwood.html for detailed information. Note: Since programs and requirements are subject to change, students are advised to consult with an advisor at Longwood Gardens.

For a listing of all Temple University articulation agreements, go to www.temple.edu/vpus/transfer/agreements.htm.

Financial Aid and Scholarships

In addition to assistance from the Department of Student Financial Services, there are several scholarships and grants-in-aid that are available only to School of Environmental Design students: Horticulture, Landscape Architecture, and Community and Regional Planning. Also see the Financial Aid section of this Bulletin.

The Temple University Ambler Campus has a long history and rich tradition of horticulture and landscape design. Established as the Pennsylvania School of Horticulture for Women in 1911, the 187-acre campus represents a unique mix of natural and designed landscapes.

The gardens and campus serve as an excellent outdoor teaching laboratory for numerous classes and as a source of inspiration for students, faculty, and visitors. The campus was officially designated an arboretum in March 2000. Now known as the Ambler Arboretum of Temple University, this accessible, historic, public garden continues to develop as a living laboratory. The formal gardens have been revitalized to express the character of their original design, and many new garden additions are included throughout the grounds.

As the home of Temple University's Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture, the Ambler Campus has a myriad of learning gardens, including a ground cover garden, native plant garden, formal gardens, green roof garden, rock wall, woodland garden, sustainable wetland garden, trial garden, the Viola Anders Herb Garden, the Philip A. and Barbara F. Albright Winter Garden, the Ernesta Ballard Healing Garden with labyrinth, the Colibraro Conifer Garden, and large perennial borders. The arboretum's three areas of focus are sustainability, the health benefits of gardens, and the history of women in horticulture, agriculture, and design.

The Greenhouse provides students with a first-class facility to study plant and soil science. The energy-efficient greenhouse includes computerized climate controls and thermal blankets to protect the plants in the winter and shade them in the summer. Modern fertilizer injection systems water and fertilize plants simultaneously. In addition to being used for coursework, the greenhouse provides faculty and students with a facility to conduct horticulture research that is at the forefront of the industry.

Semester Abroad

After careful consultation with their advisors, juniors and seniors in Landscape Architecture and Horticulture and students in other School of Environmental Design programs may elect to enroll in a semester abroad. Many options are available, including the Rome or Japan campuses. For more information about Study Abroad options, see Education Abroad.

Academic Advising Information

Susan McCaffrey
Director - Academic Advising
Disability Resources and Services Coordinator
Academic Advising and Career Development
West Hall 109
267-468-8200
tuaadvis@temple.edu
www.temple.edu/ambler/advising/

The Office of Academic Advising and Career Development provides access for School of Environmental Design students to both professional and faculty advisors who assist students with their choice of programs and curricula, help students understand the university and its policies and procedures, and aid students in attaining their vocational and post-graduation goals.

Students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status. Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements, but schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising.

Newly-admitted freshmen and transfer students are advised for their first semester by professional advisors. After their first semester, students maintaining at least a 2.0 grade point average may independently register for classes online, but they are encouraged to also meet with an advisor. A graduation review is required before a student's final semester.

The services provided by this office include:

For New Students (Freshmen and Transfer):

- Freshmen: Academic Preview during the New Student Orientation Program.
- Transfers: required online orientation and small group information sessions.
- Academic counseling.
- Registration.

For Continuing Students:

- Individual academic counseling.
- Academic progress reviews.
- Career development coaching and workshops.
- Curriculum advising.
- Final graduation clearance.
- Pre-professional advising.
- Transfers between colleges and campuses within the university (IUT), withdrawal, re-enrollment, reinstatement and Leave of Absence interviews.
- Registration assistance.
- Veterans advising.

For Continuing Studies (Non-Degree) Students, including Visiting and High School Students:

- Academic counseling.
- Registration.

For Students with Disabilities:

- Documentation review.
- Accommodation arrangements.

For Prospective Students:

- Academic counseling.
- Information sessions.

For All Students:

- Referrals to other university programs and services.

- Information on academic grievance procedures.
(Non-academic grievances should be directed to the Ambler Campus Office of Student Life.)

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see Academic Policies. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status. Additional and unique policies, or exceptions, for the School of Environmental Design appear below.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Leave of Absence/Re-enrollment/Reinstatement

School of Environmental Design students who wish to voluntarily withdraw from the university for one or two semesters (fall and/or spring) are strongly encouraged to apply for a Leave of Absence (LOA). If approved, these students remain eligible for the same requirements as when they declared their major and will have access to Temple e-mail, university library systems, and priority and self registration for the approved semester of return. By contrast, students who leave the university without any notice and without an approved LOA must apply to be re-enrolled and, if allowed to return, must follow the most recent university curricular requirements in place for the semester of their return. If no LOA was filed, before students return, they must indicate any course(s) taken since leaving Temple and provide a copy of an official transcript from each institution attended. Both the academic advisor and the student have the right to request an interview as part of the re-enrollment process. Students who received a medical withdrawal may be asked to provide medical documentation clearing them to return to school and to schedule an interview with an advisor before a re-enrollment decision can be made. Leave of Absence and Re-enrollment forms may be obtained in the Office of Academic Services, West Hall 102, through their academic advisor, or online. Further details can be viewed at: http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy_no=02.10.16

Students who were dismissed for academic reasons should see the university policy on Academic Standing.

Second Degrees

Students who have earned a bachelor's degree may earn a second bachelor's degree in Landscape Architecture or Horticulture, but they should also consider the Master of Landscape Architecture degree. Students who are interested in Community and Regional Planning should consider enrolling in the Community and Regional Planning Master of Science degree program. Schools and colleges may waive up to 9 credits of degree requirements outside the second major for students who already have a bachelor's degree. See Second Degrees in the Academic Policies section. For information on graduate programs, see the Graduate Bulletin.

Student Grievance Procedures

All students have the right to adjudicate grievances concerning academic matters in a fair and expeditious manner. Consult your academic advisor for information on procedures. Non-academic grievances should be directed to the Ambler Campus Office of Student Life. Also see Grievances at www.temple.edu/bulletin/Responsibilities_rights/rights/rights.shtm#grievance.

General College Graduation Requirements

Please see Academic Policies. The following policies apply to all School of Environmental Design students:

Academic Residency Requirements

All undergraduates must take 30 of their last 45 semester hours at Temple University. Community and Regional Planning majors must complete at least half of the courses required in the major at Temple. While candidates for a degree at Temple, students wishing to take academic work at another institution, either classroom or online courses offered during the regular year or in summer sessions, must have an advisor's prior approval before enrolling at the other institution. See Academic Policies.

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Credits earned in the following courses are not applicable toward degrees awarded by the School of Environmental Design: ELECT, Russell Conwell Center (SRAP), Mathematics 0015, and lower-level courses in Military Science. A maximum of 4 courses or up to 12 semester hours for upper-level Military Science (Army ROTC), Naval Science (Navy ROTC), or Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC) courses will be applicable toward graduation credits. For the Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture (LAH), Horticulture 1001, unless it is the student's first LAH course or part of a successful credit certificate, is not applicable toward degree credit.

Grades and Grade Point Average

To be awarded a School of Environmental Design degree, students must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 and pass all General Education required courses with a C- or higher. In addition, Community and Regional Planning majors must pass every required Community and Regional Planning course with a C- or higher and have a cumulative average of at least 2.0 for all courses in the major. For degrees in Landscape Architecture and Horticulture, no more than one grade below a C- is allowed in any course in either Landscape Architecture or Horticulture and students must have a cumulative average of at least 2.0 for all courses in the major.

Program Requirements

Planning a Program of Study

The information in the following requirements sections is designed to provide students with guidance in planning their program of study. The requirements, electives, and, in some cases, sequences are detailed. Courses are scheduled for students to follow the planned sequence. If students do not follow their program as designed, they may face conflicts or not have required prerequisites that will necessitate enrolling for additional semesters to complete their requirements.

If students enter a program after the freshman year, they must understand that their degree requirements may not be met within the traditional eight semesters (or four semesters for the Associate's degree). When students first meet with their academic advisor, they should plan how long it will take to complete their degree requirements.

Requirement Modifications

The requirements for the degrees are under continuing review and are, therefore, subject to modification. See the latest departmental degree requirements for any changes and meet with an advisor to ensure these changes are met.

Additional Notes

The total number of credit hours at graduation may be greater for some students based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices, and academic progress.

Certain courses may fulfill multiple requirements. In consultation with their academic advisor, students will be able to plan their curriculum more effectively.

Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisite and Co-requisite Policy in the university-wide Academic Policies section of this Bulletin.

Academic Advising and Career Development
West Hall 109
tuaadvis@temple.edu

Students who are interested in the environment and in learning how to impact the world around them positively may want to consider completing the School of Environmental Design credit Certificate in Environmental Sustainability. This certificate provides students with the basic knowledge needed to evaluate environmental problems and to draw ecologically- and economically-sound connections between environmental needs, policy issues, and current research.

The certificate is available to all undergraduate degree students to complete as part of their studies, and is also available to non-degree students. Consult a School of Environmental Design academic advisor about how the required classes fit into academic and career plans. Most courses in this certificate program are offered during the daytime at the Ambler Campus; a few courses are available in the evening at the Ambler campus. In addition, some courses are also available at the Main Campus.

This credit certificate may be conferred upon a student by recommendation of the faculty and upon satisfactory completion of the required credits with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. At least one half of the courses required for the certificate must be completed at Temple University.

Note: The symbol after the course number indicates that the class is offered ONLY in the semester indicated: F = offered fall only; FE/FO = offered fall of even/odd numbered years; S = offered spring only; SE/SO = offered spring of even/odd numbered years; O = offered occasionally.

Minor in Ecological Planning & Design

Students in the School of Environmental Design as well as students in other colleges, schools, and departments may choose a Minor in Ecological Planning and Design. Through this minor students pursue courses which deepen their understanding of the concept of ecological planning and design. That is, they learn a process of decision making that ensures that development is compatible with natural resources and processes and that takes into consideration social, political, economic, and governance factors to achieve sustainable outcomes. This prepares students for lifelong contributions to the environmental sustainability of the communities in which they live and work. Also the minor provides undergraduates with an opportunity to explore the option of graduate studies in planning, landscape architecture, or horticulture.

The curriculum for the Minor in Ecological Planning and Design involves 18 credits, with two required foundation courses and at least four elective courses. The two foundation courses ensure that all students understand the fundamentals of natural and built systems and ecological planning. The electives allow students to explore their own interests in different facets of horticulture, landscape architecture, and planning while also gaining an appreciation of the science of ecology and the concept of ecologically-sensitive development.

A student may not double count any course for the Minor in Ecological Planning and Design toward any other major, minor, or certificate. At least half of the courses for the minor must be taken at Temple University. Students must complete successfully each course for the minor with a grade of C- or better and all of the minor courses with a cumulative average of 2.0 or higher.

Note: The symbol after the course number indicates that the class is offered ONLY in the semester indicated: F = offered fall only; FE/FO = offered fall of even/odd numbered years; S = offered spring only; SE/SO = offered spring of even/odd numbered years; O = offered occasionally.

Minor in Sustainable Food Systems

Students in the School of Environmental Design as well as students in other colleges, schools, and departments may choose a Minor in Sustainable Food Systems. Through this minor students investigate the complexities of food systems through an interdisciplinary approach that includes horticulture, planning, and public health. Students explore the relationship of farmland preservation, food production practices, and supply alternatives that improve local economies, reduce energy consumption, lower environmental impact, and ensure widespread access to affordable and healthy food. This prepares students to contribute to the overall sustainability of the communities in which they live and work and strengthens students' preparation to work as professionals in environmentally-oriented fields or as citizen activists. Also the minor provides undergraduates with an opportunity to explore the option of graduate studies in planning, horticulture, or related fields.

The curriculum for the Minor in Sustainable Food Systems consists of 18 credits, with two required foundation courses and at least four elective courses. The required courses ensure that students have a strong foundation for the study of food systems including food crops, planning for food systems, and nutrition. The electives allow students to delve deeper into different facets of food systems planning.

A student may not double count any course for the Minor in Sustainable Food Systems toward any other major, minor, or certificate. At least half of the courses for the minor must be taken at Temple University. There is a need in this region and throughout the nation for professionals involved in developing plans for the growth and revitalization of urban, suburban, and rural communities. Students with degrees in planning have many employment options in the public and private sectors.

The mission of the Department of Community and Regional Planning at Temple University is to strengthen the effectiveness of planning practice in creating healthy, sustainable communities. Our educational programs prepare students with the understanding, values, and skills that enable positive contributions in a rapidly changing world. Our research and service seek to advance knowledge and guide public decision making. Our place is metropolitan Philadelphia. We have a responsibility for articulating public interests that are important not only to Philadelphia, but to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the mid-Atlantic region. (Adopted by the faculty, Department of Community and Regional Planning, February 2008)

The Community and Regional Planning program helps students understand how to create and evaluate plans that make the best use of a community's land and resources for commercial, institutional, residential, and recreational purposes. Through classroom experience, team projects, and a required internship, students learn about the economic issues of planning and develop sensitivity to the social and environmental impact of planning decisions. They acquire communication and problem-solving skills through knowledge of Geographic Information Systems (GIS), site planning, planning and zoning law, research and design methods, American political institutions, negotiation, and mediation. Students in Community and Regional Planning have the opportunity to take advantage of the Center for Sustainable Communities to obtain practical experience on campus.

The Department of Community and Regional Planning offers a four-year baccalaureate program (B.S.), an undergraduate minor in Community in Regional Planning, a master's program (M.S.), and two graduate certificates. The Master of Science in Community and Regional Planning is accredited by the Planning Accreditation Board.

Minor in Community & Regional Planning

Students in the School of Environmental Design (except for CRP majors) as well as students in other colleges, schools, and departments may choose to minor in Community and Regional Planning. Through this minor students undertake formal studies about public planning, thereby preparing themselves for contributions as informed citizens, civically engaged professionals, or ultimately as professional planners. The minor provides students with the background and with stronger credentials to apply for graduate level work in planning.

In this 18 credit minor, the required courses provide common background in the basics of planning, including history, theory, comprehensive planning and its components, ethics and principles of planning practice with particular emphasis on citizen participation, and exposure to a range of analytical methods for understanding community planning issues. The four electives allow students to explore interests in different facets of community planning: land use; housing; economic development; transportation; sustainability and environmental planning.

A student may not double count any course for the Minor in CRP toward any other major, minor, or certificate. At least half of the courses for the minor must be taken at Temple University. Students must complete successfully each of the following courses with a grade of C- or better and a cumulative average of 2.0 or higher for all courses in the minor:

The Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture offers four-year baccalaureate degree programs in Landscape Architecture and Horticulture; a two-year Associate in Science degree in Horticulture, with a general or business emphasis; minors in Environmental Horticulture and Landscape Studies; and credit certificates in horticulture. In Fall 2010, a Master of Landscape Architecture degree was added. The undergraduate Landscape Architecture degree is accredited by the Landscape Architectural Accreditation Board. The first professional master's degree program has received candidacy for accreditation.

With origins that trace back to the Pennsylvania School of Horticulture for Women, founded at Ambler in 1911, the department, throughout its history, has combined theory with practice. Committed to excellence in ecologically-based education, the department provides students with the knowledge and understanding of sustainable environments. Through an ecological approach to planning, design, development, and care of the land, the programs in Landscape Architecture and Horticulture promote the development of skills to improve the quality of urban, suburban, and rural communities. The unique curricula integrate horticulture and landscape architecture. A state-of-the-art greenhouse is available to students. Students and faculty also utilize the 187-acre Temple University Ambler campus as both an arboretum and living laboratory.

Careers in horticulture and landscape architecture are available in both the public and private sector. For landscape architecture graduates, careers in public landscape architecture include positions with regional, county, and city planning commissions, and park, recreation, housing, and transportation agencies. Private practice includes the design of recreational, residential, commercial, institutional, and industrial projects, as well as the overall planning of new communities. Environmental protection, historical restoration, and land reclamation efforts could also be an important part of the role of a landscape architect.

Students with a degree in horticulture could be involved in the production, use, installation, and management of plants. They may:

- Produce plants in greenhouses and nurseries for sale and landscape use.
- Design, install, and/or maintain residential, commercial, or public landscapes.
- Work in arboreta, botanic gardens, parks, or golf courses.
- Teach in a high school, community college, or university.
- Research new technologies and plants in private and public institutions.
- Work toward registration as a horticultural therapist.

- Write about plants and horticulture for articles, books, and copy on web sites.
- Work as an extension agent or specialist helping residential and commercial clients.
- Work in interior landscaping or floral design.
- Work as a sales representative for horticultural or allied industries.
- Own and operate their own business.

Financial Aid

In addition to assistance from the Department of Student Financial Services, there are several scholarships and grants-in-aid that are available only to Landscape Architecture and Horticulture students. Applications for department scholarships are available from the Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture office and at www.temple.edu/ambler/ac_services/scholarshipslah.htm. Also see Financial Aid.

Continuing Studies

The Department offers a variety of credit courses and certificate programs in the late afternoon, in the evening, and on weekends. These courses and certificates are available to degree-seeking students as well as others interested in horticulture who are not seeking a degree. It is also possible, over a period of years, to complete all of the requirements for credit certificate programs or Associate in Science in Horticulture degree by attending late afternoon, evening, and weekend classes. For many, these courses are a means of advancing their careers; for others, they are a source of personal enrichment. For more information, contact the Department of Landscape Architecture and Horticulture.

Policies and Regulations

The following departmental policy is in addition to the university policies and regulations that apply to all undergraduate students and to the policies that apply to all School of Environmental Design students.

Class Scheduling

The Associate's Degree in Horticulture and some of the credit certificate programs can be completed through daytime classes only or through only late afternoon, evening, and Saturday classes. Students in the bachelor's degree programs in Horticulture and Landscape Architecture will be required to take classes during regular daytime hours, with some courses available in the evening and on weekends.

Minor in Environmental Horticulture

Students in the School of Environmental Design as well as students in other colleges, schools, and departments may choose a Minor in Environmental Horticulture. Students complete courses related to horticultural concepts and practices which allow them to develop an understanding of the science and practice of protecting, restoring, and managing existing and natural landscape resources. This minor provides students with the opportunity to explore the option of graduate level studies in Landscape Architecture or Horticulture.

The curriculum involves 18 credits, with two required courses and at least four elective courses. The required courses give students a solid basis for understanding the fundamentals of horticulture, botany, and plant identification. The electives allow students to explore their own interests in different facets of horticulture including soils, plantscaping, and food crops.

A student may not double count any course for the Minor in Environmental Horticulture toward any other major, minor, or certificate. Minor in Landscape Studies

Students in the School of Environmental Design as well as students in other colleges, schools, and departments may choose a Minor in Landscape Studies. Through this minor, students complete courses that deepen their understanding of the relationship between the natural landscape and the human made environment, but without the professional focus of the bachelor's degree in Landscape Architecture. The minor prepares students for lifelong contributions as informed, civically-engaged, and environmentally-conscious citizens. Also it allows students the opportunity to consider pursuing a graduate level degree in Landscape Architecture.

The curriculum for the Minor in Landscape Studies involves 18 credits, with two required courses and four elective courses. The required courses ensure that all students have a solid understanding of the fundamentals of Landscape Studies, including history, theory, and the relationship between the natural and built environments. The four electives allow students to explore their own interests in different facets of Landscape Studies.

A student may not double count any course for the Minor in Landscape Studies toward any other major, minor, or certificate. At least half of the courses for the minor must be taken at Temple University. Students must complete successfully each of the courses for the minor with a grade of C- or better and all of the minor courses with a cumulative average of 2.0 or higher.

Note: The symbol after the course number indicates that the class is offered ONLY in the semester indicated: F = offered fall only; FE/FO = offered fall of even/odd numbered years; S = offered spring only; SE/SO = offered spring of even/odd numbered years; O = offered occasionally.

 College of Health Professions and Social Work Health Sciences Campus

Vision Statement

The College of Health Professions and Social Work aspires to be a global leader in the discovery, dissemination and integration of health and social welfare related research, practice and teaching. Our diverse population of students and highly recognized faculty seek to enhance the quality of life for all.

Mission Statement

The College of Health Professions and Social Work prepares future generations of professionals through discovery, ethical practice and lifelong learning.

Since its inception in 1966, the college has prepared well-rounded practitioners who are sensitive to patient/client needs and whose professional competence is built on a solid foundation of theory, laboratory practice, and clinical fieldwork/internships. The college offers undergraduate programs that include Athletic Training, Health Information Management, Kinesiology, Linguistics, Nursing, Public Health, Speech, Language & Hearing Science, Therapeutic Recreation and Social Work. Students graduating with a B.S. degree from Health Information Management, Kinesiology, Nursing, Public Health, or Therapeutic Recreation meet the entry-level requirements of their professions and are qualified to take state and/or national examinations leading to certification or licensure in their fields.

Admissions

Those seeking undergraduate admission to the programs in the College of Health Professions and Social Work must apply through Temple's Undergraduate Admissions office (www.temple.edu/undergrad/). Prospective students may obtain further information about the procedures for undergraduate admission by contacting the specific program in which they are interested. The phone number for the College of Health Professions and Social Work Office of Enrollment and Student Services is 215-707-4800. Students can also visit the college's web site at <http://chpsw.temple.edu> or send an e-mail to OEES1@temple.edu.

Admission to Athletic Training, Kinesiology, Linguistics, Public Health, Social Work, Speech, Language & Hearing, Therapeutic Recreation

Entering undergraduates, whether freshmen or transfers from other institutions, are admitted to these programs by submitting an application to Temple University's Undergraduate Admissions office. Decisions are based on a review of the applicant's academic credentials. Current Temple students may also enter these programs by applying for a change of program within the university. Interested students should direct admission questions to the Office of Enrollment and Student Services at 215-707-4800 or to the specific department of interest to them. Current Temple students interested in transfer to one of these majors should review the relevant section below, which describes the required change of major sessions.

Admission to the Nursing Program

Temple's BSN program is a four-year program enabling students to begin fieldwork experience during their first year. The BSN program provides three entry options depending on students' background and education. There is a freshman option for highly-qualified high school graduates. Space permitting, the BSN program accepts a limited number of transfer students from current Temple students or from external applicants enrolled in another college or university. Internal transfer admission decisions are highly competitive and made on a space available basis. This transfer option requires students to begin the nursing program as a first-year nursing student. Students admitted via this option will spend eight semesters in Temple's BSN program entering the program in the fall semester. This option is recommended for Temple students with less than 30 college credits. For more information about admission to Temple's BSN program visit <http://chpsw.temple.edu/nursing/academic-programs/bs-nursing-program/admissions>.

Admission to the Health Information Management Program

Freshmen can apply directly to Pre-Health Information Management within the College of Health Professions and Social Work. Students following this path should pay careful attention to the requirements and meet with their academic advisor.

During the fall of the sophomore year, students interested in admission to Health Information Management must apply to the program. Applications may be made prior to completing all of the prerequisites and General Education courses and should be received one year prior to admission into the professional program. However, prior to starting the professional program in Health Information Management, a student must complete all pre-professional college work, which includes the University General Education (GenEd) Curriculum and all program prerequisites at Temple University or another university or college. The student must achieve transferable grades in all prerequisites and have a competitive grade point average (GPA) for initial consideration.

Current Students transferring to Athletic Training, Kinesiology, Linguistics, Public Health, Speech, Language & Hearing Science, Social Work, or Therapeutic Recreation

Students interested in transferring into Athletic Training, Kinesiology, Linguistics, Public Health, Social Work, Speech, Language & Hearing Science, or Therapeutic Recreation must attend a Change of Program session. These are listed on the College of Health Professions and Social Work web site under Student Advising (<http://chpsw.temple.edu/chpsw/students/student-advising>). Applications will not be processed until the student attends the required Change of Program session. A minimum GPA of 2.0 is required for admission to any of these programs.

Current Temple University Students Applying to Health Information Management

Temple students who want to learn more about the program can contact the Health Information Management Advisor at 215-204-2037. Those ready to apply to the program should contact the Health Information Management Department at 215-707-4811 or via e-mail at hlthinfo@temple.edu. Students must send the application and a $15.00 application fee to the Health Information Management Department and must comply with all admission requirements of the program. Applicants are notified of a final decision in a letter from the College of Health Professions and Social Work. An acceptance letter will include the departmental required courses to be taken when applicable and the semester in which study is to begin. Students will be requested to confirm their acceptance of admission with a $100.00 tuition deposit.

Academic Advising

The College of Health Professions and Social Work has an extensive system of academic advising provided by professional and faculty advisors. Professional Advisors, coordinated by the Associate Director for Advisement, are located in each department, where they provide assistance with such topics as: registration, course scheduling, and transfer credits, as well as referral to other resources. For a complete listing of our professional advising staff, visit the Student Advising web site at <http://chpsw.temple.edu/chpsw/students/student-advising>.

In most departments, when students reach junior or senior standing, they are assigned to faculty advisors who assist with mentoring as students progress in their professional training.

Academic advisors strive to avoid errors when advising students about program requirements; however, the College cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Students must, therefore, assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status (Please see the Undergraduate Academic Policies). Additional and unique policies, or exceptions for the College of Health Professions and Social Work, appear below.

Attendance

The College of Health Professions and Social Work desires to promote professional responsibility among its students. It is therefore the policy of the college to place the responsibility for class attendance upon the students. Students are accountable for all work missed due to absence. Instructors are not required to make special arrangements or examinations for students who are absent. There are certain courses that require a minimum number of hours of student participation in laboratory or clinical experiences, as established by the professional accrediting agency and/or the academic department concerned. At the beginning of each such course, the department shall make the attendance requirement clearly known to the enrolled students. Excessive absences may, at the option of the department, jeopardize the student's grade and/or continuance in the course. If, in the opinion of the department, a student is absent to the point of endangering his or her successful completion of a course, an official warning shall be issued through the department. If the absences continue, the student may receive a failing grade.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Ethics

Since students of the College of Health Professions and Social Work are enrolled in professional programs, they are expected to abide by standards of professional conduct and behavior at all times.

Program Performance

The grading system is in accordance with the system adopted by Temple University. For students enrolled in this college, a grade of C is the lowest acceptable final grade in major courses. Students not achieving a grade of C or better are required to repeat those courses in which they have failed to demonstrate acceptable performance.

Student Code of Professional Conduct

The College of Health Professions and Social Work prepares practitioners to fulfill their ideals of service in the health care setting. In attaining these goals, practitioners must demonstrate exemplary professional behavior, as this is the keystone of the professional associations of the disciplines within this college. The Code of Conduct of Temple University's College of Health Professions and Social Work is intended to contribute to an environment in which excellence in learning and conduct may be fostered.

All terms of the Students' Rights, Code of Conduct, and Disciplinary Procedures for Temple University apply to students within the College of Health Professions and Social Work. In addition to the major violations noted by the university code, another action has been identified by the faculty of the college as constituting a major infraction of the code: "Unethical conduct or intentional neglect of duty on clinical practice."

College Graduation Requirements

For the College of Health Professions and Social Work, see the individual programs of study for graduation requirements.

Military Science Courses

Undergraduate students in the College of Health Professions and Social Work whose degree programs allow for free electives may apply up to 12 credits of military science courses at the 3000 and 4000 levels in Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC), Military Science (Army ROTC), and Naval Science (Navy ROTC).

Student Contact Information

Students are asked to call the Office of Enrollment and Student Services (OESS) of the College of Health Professions and Social Work at 215-707-4800 or the department with questions regarding the College or specific departments. Students may also e-mail the OESS at OESS1@temple.edu. For contact information in a specific department, visit the web site at <http://chpsw.temple.edu/>. The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders offers two majors: one in Speech, Language & Hearing Science and one in Linguistics.

1. The total number of credit hours at graduation may be greater for some students based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curricular choices, and academic progress.
2. Certain courses fulfill multiple requirements. In consultation with your advisor, you will be able to plan your curriculum more effectively.
3. Students must fulfill the necessary prerequisites for any given course or course sequence. See the Prerequisite and Co-requisite Policy in the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin.

Bachelor of Arts degrees in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders (CSCD) may be conferred upon a student by recommendation of the faculty upon the satisfactory completion of 122 semester hours of credit. A grade of C is the lowest acceptable final grade for courses in the major. A grade of C- (C Minus) is the lowest acceptable grade in GenEd courses. The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders requires that students show a basic level of proficiency in a language other than English. This requirement may be met by taking college-level courses up to or beyond the equivalent of the 1002-level or by showing similar knowledge through a placement examination. Students may take two semesters of American Sign Language to satisfy this requirement. Students in the department must elect one of two majors: Speech, Language & Hearing Science; or Linguistics. Students who complete either of these majors may graduate with distinction in the department if they meet the requirements outlined below. In addition to the majors in Speech, Language & Hearing Science and Linguistics, the department also offers a minor. Enrollment of minors in departmental courses is subject to availability.

University Requirements

All students are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses as part of the major. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below and are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column.

Summary of Requirements for Graduation with Distinction in the Major

1. GPA of 3.5 or better
2. No grade below B in the major
3. Completion of an honors paper at the end of a 3-credit independent study (CSCD 4979) during which the student will engage in an empirical study or library research in the field of Communication Sciences and Disorders under the supervision of an honors advisor.
4. Completion of 20 hours of volunteer work, internship, or fieldwork in consultation with the honors advisor.

A career as a Health Information Management (HIM) professional allows individuals to combine interests in health care, business, and information technology. HIM professionals have expertise in health informatics, which requires knowledge of clinical medicine and the electronic health record (EHR). HIM professionals also have expertise in coding and classification systems, quality and human resource management, the legal and ethical aspects of health information systems, the regulatory and accrediting agency requirements, and the public policy issues that affect the health information system. Clinical internships are scheduled at several health care institutions.

The HIM professional works closely with all other health professionals to collect and disseminate the information needed to provide high-quality patient care. The health information system supports the needs of patients, health care professionals, administrators, the community, and those involved in research and education. Job opportunities include positions with hospitals and other health care institutions, research and pharmaceutical firms, and governmental agencies. Career opportunities for the HIM professional include: Information Security Officer, Director of Integrated Health Information Systems, Director of Medical Records, Research and Decision-Support Analyst, Clinical Data Specialist, Data Resource Administrator, Patient Information Manager and Clinical Coding Specialist.

Certification

Students enrolled in the HIM program and in the last term of study are eligible to apply for and sit for the examination of the American Health Information Management Association for certification as a Registered Health Information Administrator (RHIA), which is nationally and internationally recognized.

Following satisfactory completion of all course requirements, the graduate is awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in Health Information Management.

Accreditation

The baccalaureate program in Health Information Management at Temple University is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Health Informatics and Information Management Education (CAHIIM).

Requirements

This is an upper-level program. Students are admitted in the fall of the junior year and must have 55 credits completed by the fall semester of admission to the program. Transfer students must have their transfer credits evaluated by the Admissions Office and must meet general and prerequisite requirements of the program.

Kinesiology

Rick Swalm, Undergraduate Coordinator

215-204-8713

rswalm@temple.edu

<http://chpsw.temple.edu/kinesiology/home>

The undergraduate program in Kinesiology leading to the Bachelor of Science degree requires students to complete coursework in three broad areas: the General Education (GenEd) Curriculum, the Kinesiology Core, and a professional application of the discipline of Kinesiology.

The university General Education Curriculum is divided into nine categories (i.e., Analytical Reading & Writing, Mosaic I & II, Arts, Human Behavior, World Society, U.S. Society, Race & Diversity, Science & Technology, and Quantitative Literacy). Even though there are numerous courses which can be taken to meet these requirements, the department requires Human Anatomy and Physiology I and II (Kinesiology 1223 and 1224) for the Science & Technology requirement. All University GenEd courses must be completed with a minimum C- grade in order to count toward graduation.

Kinesiology is the study of physical activity. The Kinesiology Core includes a group of foundation courses (Kinesiology 1201, 2203, 2204, 3202, 3296, 4296) that deal with the intellectual, physical, social, psychological, and philosophical factors which influence and are influenced by human beings as they move. In addition to taking the foundation courses, students are required to satisfy the forms of movement requirement, which consists of developing knowledge and skills in a broad spectrum of movement activities (i.e., aquatics, fitness, survival, and lifestyle). All Kinesiology Core courses must be completed with a minimum C- grade in order to count toward graduation.

The Kinesiology Department offers four professional application options to allow students to concentrate their studies (i.e., the athletic training major, the exercise and sport science program, the physical and health education teacher education (PHETE) program, and the pre-health profession studies program). Students select the professional application option that satisfies their short term educational and professional objectives.

The Athletic Training Education Major prepares students to work with physically-active populations (e.g. athletic teams, dance, circus, NASCAR, Disney, rodeo, PT clinics, etc.). The certified athletic trainer functions as an integral member of the athletic health care team in secondary schools, colleges, universities, professional teams, and sports medicine clinics, providing leadership in the prevention, evaluation, immediate care, and rehabilitation of sport-related injuries. The athletic training program requires fulfillment of both academic coursework and clinical fieldwork experiences. This program of study is approved by the Commission on the Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE) and is designed to prepare students for certification as athletic trainers by the Board of Certification (BOC) and for Class "A" certification in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Admission into the athletic training program occurs upon students identifying athletic training as their intended course of study. This admission may take place either during the freshmen year or any time afterward.

The Exercise and Sport Science Program provides students with knowledge and competencies required for professional service in a variety of sport, fitness, wellness and rehabilitation settings. The Exercise and Sport Science Program also prepares students for graduate study in exercise physiology or in a variety of related health professions. Program competencies include health screening, fitness assessment, exercise program development, health-fitness counseling, and therapeutic exercise supervision of patients with special needs. Concentration courses include, but are not limited to: advanced exercise physiology, exercise in health and disease, exercise testing and programming, electrocardiography, exercise and aging, and applied technology. The exercise and sport scientist understands the complexity of the human body and the interaction among physical activity, exercise, and good health. The improved function, health, and well-being of the total person - Body, Mind, and Spirit - are the ultimate goals of professionals in this field.

Exercise scientists apply their knowledge, skills, and beliefs to all people regardless of gender, age, social status, and current health-related fitness level or disease state. Wherever there is a need to improve functionality, health-fitness, medical prognosis, optimal aging, or wellness, one will find an exercise scientist providing leadership in programs that help individuals optimize their lives and health. In summary, exercise science is a stimulating area of study and a rewarding professional application with a very bright future.

The Department of Kinesiology offers two programs in Exercise and Sport Science at the undergraduate level. They are:

Option I - Exercise and Sport Science-Health/Wellness

Option II - Exercise and Sport Science-Health/Wellness/Pre-Professional

Teacher education is the focus of the Physical and Health Education Teacher Education (PHETE) Program. This concentration prepares students to teach physical and health education in public and private schools (grades K through 12). The PHETE program integrates academic preparation with fieldwork experiences each semester, culminating in a dual-level (secondary and elementary) full semester, student-teaching experience. Coursework in discipline specific content, methods of teaching, assessment and evaluation, educational psychology, educational foundations, cultural diversity and adapted activities, and administration all help teacher education students assume their roles as competent teachers in today's society. Admission into the PHETE program takes place after the sophomore year upon completing the pre-admission coursework; two in-school teaching experiences; the PECT PAPA tests in reading, mathematics, and writing; and the Praxis II test in fundamental content knowledge, as well as an interview with the PHETE faculty. All PHETE and Public Health courses must be completed with a minimum B- grade in order to count toward admission and graduation. All PHETE and Health courses are valid toward certification for a maximum of five (5) years. If one does not get certified within this time period, those courses that have expired must be retaken. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 or greater is required for admission into the junior year and certification. After admission, one additional Praxis II test is required for certification: Health and Physical Education Content Knowledge. Upon completion of the program, and after passing the appropriate standardized tests, graduates will be licensed to teach by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon submission of a completed Certification Application.

The Pre-Health Profession Program prepares students for admission into Graduate Programs in a multitude of the Health Professions such as Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Medicine, Dentistry, Physician's Assistant, etc. The Department of Kinesiology's Core is a perfect complement to the standard prerequisite courses and expanded elective courses available through this program. This combination of coursework and practical experience will position students well for continued study at the graduate level. While the Pre-Health Profession Program includes the standard prerequisite courses and the option for elective courses for admission into Graduate Programs for a multitude of Health Professions, students are advised to check the prerequisites for their intended graduate programs and work these into their programs where elective coursework is afforded. Students are also advised to maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (B) since entry into graduate programs in the health professions is highly competitive. A "B" or better in the specific prerequisites is required for most graduate programs. In addition to the Pre-Health Profession Program, the Department of Kinesiology also has a memorandum of understanding with Temple University's Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) program providing academically-gifted students the opportunity to enter into a 3 + 3 program, thus allowing students who are accepted into Temple's DPT program at the conclusion of their junior year to count the first year of their DPT program as the fourth year of their undergraduate studies, thus eliminating one year of academic work. Students can only start the 3 + 3 program the first semester of their freshmen year.

University Requirements

All new students are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below and identified with the code "WI" in the Attribute column.

Curriculum and Degree Requirements

All students must complete 1-4 below:

1. GenEd Curriculum (35-38 s.h.) - Selected Courses
2. Kinesiology Core Courses - Kinesiology 1201, 2203, 2204, 3202, 3296, 4296 (20 s.h.)
3. Forms of Movement Courses - Kinesiology 1001-1099 (4-8 s.h.)
4. Program specific requirements and elective courses (60-70 s.h.)

Note: All courses in the Department of Kinesiology and required courses in the selected professional application options must be completed with a minimum grade of C-. The PHETE program has a more stringent requirement of a minimum B- grade in all PHETE courses and required health and education courses. The Kinesiology Core and program requirements must be satisfactorily completed prior to enrolling in any internship/externship or student teaching experience.

Professional Application Option Requirements

Students must select a professional application option and electives to complete their requirements for graduation. There are four professional application options available: (a) the athletic training major, (b) the exercise and sport science program, (c) the physical and health education teacher education (PHETE) program, and (d) the pre-health professional studies program. They are more fully described below.

In Fall 2008, the Department of Kinesiology established the Bachelor of Science in Athletic Training. This degree may be conferred upon a student by recommendation of the faculty upon the satisfactory completion of 124 semester hours of credit. The other three professional application options require 128 semester hours of credit to satisfy their respective graduation requirements.

Kinesiology Pre-Health Profession 3+3 Program

Students must meet the admissions requirements for early admission to Temple University's College of Health Professions Doctor of Physical Therapy program. If you are applying to other physical therapy programs, please use the web to find admissions requirements.

Guidelines for the Completion of the Bachelor of Science Degree from the Department of Kinesiology

- Bachelor of Science candidates in the Department of Kinesiology must complete all requirements for their major before entering the Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) Program in the College of Health Professions (CHP) with the following exception: Pre-Health Profession 3+3 students may count up to 27 equivalent credit hours from the first year in the DPT Program in the College of Health Professions to fulfill their general credit hour requirements for the B.S. degree in the Department of Kinesiology. This is only possible by following the planned program of study as outlined below.
- Admission into the Department of Kinesiology's Pre-Health Profession 3+3 Program is highly competitive and challenging. If you are interested in pursuing this accelerated program, you must declare it immediately upon admission and talk to an advisor within the department prior to registering for your first semester classes. Your SAT scores and high school transcript must support your capacity to handle successfully a rigorous academic workload. Students in this program must be able to achieve and maintain cumulative and prerequisite GPAs of 3.5 or better.
- If students fail to get admitted into the College of Health Profession's DPT program after their junior year, they are required to finish their programs within the Department of Kinesiology as defined in the latter 4th-year grid listed below.

The Department of Public Health's curriculum prepares students for diverse careers in the public health field that focus on creating, implementing, and evaluating interventions and programs designed to improve health status and quality of life for all individuals. The department has a national reputation and all levels of study are accredited by CEPH (Council on Education in Public Health)), including the Bachelor of Science (BS), Master of Public Health (MPH), Master of Science in Epidemiology (MS-Epi), Master of Science in Environmental Health (MS-Environmental Health) and Ph.D. programs. As one of the few accredited undergraduate public health programs in the country, the department offers a Bachelor of Science degree in public health for undergraduate students in which students study the broad range of public health concerns, including individual disease prevention and injury/harm reduction behaviors, distribution and development of disease through epidemiological assessment and community program development, implementation, and evaluation. Students learn to use educational interventions to provide health information, gain experience in assessing the needs of target populations, clarify program goals and objectives, and develop strategies to motivate and involve their clients/patients in educational interventions.

The Public Health major trains entry-level health educators to provide frontline preventive health information, services, and health behaviors interventions at the community level, particularly in communities with high-risk populations. Graduates typically work in: voluntary health agencies, public health departments, hospitals, rehabilitation centers, corporate work sites, community health organizations, family planning clinics, and managed-care facilities. They can also apply for graduate public health programs (Master of Public Health, Master of Science in Epidemiology, or Master of Science in Environmental Health) or other health professions.

Mission of the Department

The mission of the department emphasizes the principles and practices of applied social-behavioral science of public health by creating and evaluating applied interventions, programs, curricula, and policies designed to improve the health status and quality of life of individuals and communities. The department strives to contribute to the rapidly-changing knowledge base in the applied social-behavioral sciences. The department's strong service mission ensures that faculty and students are available to the communities served by Temple University; thus the department emphasizes scholarly service to regional, state, and national institutions and organizations, including schools, hospitals, and voluntary and government health agencies. Because of the pressing needs for health services in the region, coupled with our urban location, the program emphasizes public health and health education for diverse populations.

The Department of Public Health follows the requirements set forth by Temple University regarding General Education. The department has also established additional core and cognate requirements for all Public Health majors.

University Requirements

All students are required to complete the university's General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses as part of the major. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below and are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column.

Certificate in Emergency Management with Special Populations

Temple University's Department of Public Health, in collaboration with Temple's Center for Research Preparedness Education and Practice (C-PREP), is offering classes for preparing the public health workforce and emergency managers to address the needs of special populations in a competency-based and practice-oriented framework. In emergency management a special population is any group of people that needs extra support to be prepared for an emergency, as well as those needing community support to respond successfully and recover in disasters or emergency situations. These classes are for practitioners in emergency preparedness and response, public health professionals, undergraduate students, and recent graduates with an interest in emergency preparedness and response. This program consists of a four- or five-course sequence, depending on previous coursework. For current public health majors and minors at Temple University, two of these courses can be used to fulfill elective requirements. The certificate program can be finished in either one or two years part time, and the courses are all offered online so that students from all over the globe and at different stages in their career can take advantage of the program. This certificate will be listed on your transcript upon completion. FEMA Higher Ed calls this program a national first in their April 11, 2008 program report.

PRE-REQUISITE (1): This course may be waived if the student can demonstrate either NIMS certification or similar coursework taken at a college or university with a grade of B or better.

Public Health 2207: Principals of Emergency Management: A Public Health Perspective

CORE (3): The core courses will address the basic competencies in emergency preparedness, response, and mitigation. Within these core competencies the needs of special populations will be addressed.

Public Health 2202: Man-Made Disasters: Radiological, Chemical & Biological Terrorism

Public Health 2208: Natural Disasters: Response and Recovery

Public Health 2215: Special Populations: Strategic Community Outreach

ELECTIVE (1): The electives will allow the student to customize the certificate program to meet their educational objectives and professional needs within the rubric of emergency preparedness and special populations. This includes the option to take graduate-level electives as appropriate. Recommended electives include:

Public Health 2201 or Public Health 5105: Health Communication; graduate or undergraduate credits; in-person

Public Health 2205 or Public Health 5004: Stress and Change; graduate or undergraduate credits; online

Therapeutic Recreation

The Therapeutic Recreation Program is composed of three degrees: a B.S. in Therapeutic Recreation, an M.S. in Recreation Therapy, and an interdisciplinary Ph.D. in Health Ecology. Additionally, the Therapeutic Recreation Program offers an accelerated MS degree program (5 year BS to MS degree program), which provides the opportunity for qualifying students studying recreation therapy as an undergraduate to begin taking graduate level courses within their undergraduate curriculum and therefore complete an MS in Recreation Therapy in a total of 5 years (4 year BS + 1 year MS). Recreation therapists use recreation and leisure activities to facilitate recovery, health, and wellness in individuals with disabilities. The primary goal of the undergraduate program is to prepare entry-level recreation therapists to use play and recreation generally, and recreation therapy specifically as a means of psychosocial adaptation, health promotion, rehabilitation, and life quality for children, adults, and the elderly who have illness and disability. The curriculum is focused on assuring that graduates have proficiency in the cognitive (knowledge), psychomotor (skills), and affective (behavior) learning domains to function as recreation therapists in traditional and emerging service delivery settings. Alumni of Temple's therapeutic recreation degree programs can be found in a wide range of health and human services agencies. They are employed in diverse settings, including hospitals, rehabilitation centers, nursing homes, assisted-living facilities, schools, and community recreation agencies. According to the U.S. Department of Labor, employment opportunities are expected to increase approximately 17%, as fast as the average for all other occupations. A growth in employment opportunities will be most prevalent in the areas of aging/nursing care facilities, as well as with students with disabilities in schools and in outpatient medical facilities vs. inpatient care.

Mission of the Program

The Therapeutic Recreation Program strives to be a world class academic and research unit committed to advancing the role of play, recreation, and leisure opportunities in health promotion, rehabilitation and disease prevention for diverse individuals with chronic illnesses and disabilities across the life span. The program provides exceptional educational experiences, conducts discipline-expanding research, and contributes to society via programs that explore and test evidenced-based innovations in practice and policy. The program's mission includes:

- Instilling knowledge, values, ethics and skills that will guide students in their future academic pursuits and their professional practice in therapeutic recreation at the local, national and international levels;
- Being a leading contributor to the ever-changing knowledge base in health, leisure, and disability studies through research and other scholarly activities;
- Providing innovative and responsive educational opportunities, research and service in collaboration with local, regional, and national agencies and organizations; and,
- Fostering interdisciplinary collaborations to promote a better understanding of the importance of physically and socially active lifestyles to health, well-being and quality of life.

Central to the overall mission of the Therapeutic Recreation Program is a commitment to access and diversity. This is realized through a commitment to ensuring equal access to all qualified applicants (students and faculty) and a commitment to promoting equal access to recreation and leisure opportunities for all people regardless of age, economics, race, gender, culture, sexual orientation, religion or abilities.

Certification

Following satisfactory completion of all coursework and internship requirements, graduates with the Bachelor of Science degree in Therapeutic Recreation are eligible to sit for the national certifying examination in therapeutic recreation administered by Educational Testing Services and the National Council on Therapeutic Recreation Certification.

Therapeutic Recreation - Bachelor of Science

A Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree in Therapeutic Recreation is awarded to students upon satisfactory completion of a minimum of 121 semester hours of credit with a minimum GPA of 2.0 overall and 2.5 in the major. Students completing this degree are eligible to sit for the national credentialing examination for recreation therapists.

GenEd-to-GenEd Transfer Curriculum

The following course sequencing for Fall and Spring transfers is based on meeting Temple University's GenEd-to-GenEd Transfer requirements for students with an approved associate degree from a community college with an approved GenEd-to-GenEd agreement. (See GenEd Transfer programs at www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_programs/general_education/transfer.shtm). If your transfer courses do not include coursework in anatomy and physiology, human growth and development, and abnormal psychology, you will be required to take these courses as part of your B.S. degree. In some instances, the general elective requirements identified may be used to meet this requirement. Students should check with their academic advisor and faculty mentor regularly to make certain they are meeting all requirements to be eligible for graduation.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

In The College of Health Professions & Social Work

Michael R. Sitler, EdD, Interim Dean
553 Ritter Hall Annex
1301 W. Cecil B. Moore Avenue
215-204-8623

Mission and Goals

The School of Social Work was established in 1969 to prepare individuals for professional practice and for positions of leadership in social work and in the broader human services arena. The distinctive mission of the school, rooted in humanistic and democratic values, is reflected in a broad and vigorous commitment to the elimination of human suffering and social injustice and to the promotion of human rights and social equality. Its educational programs are therefore centered on intervention strategies on behalf of those populations and persons who are underserved, victimized, or denied full access to social opportunities and resources. Poverty, racism, sexism, homophobia and other forms of discrimination and disenfranchisement are priority concerns of the school, as are those social problems associated with life in the inner city.

The School of Social Work (SSW) is dedicated to societal transformations to eliminate social, political, and economic injustices for poor and oppressed populations, and advance the quality of life for all through:

- Education emphasizing the discovery of knowledge and the use of critical inquiry and professional ethics to guide solution-seeking and action-taking to effect social change among professional social workers in front-line, supervisory, managerial, and leadership positions.
- Research and scholarship to advance applied knowledge and generate evidence-based strategies to resolve problems occurring between people and their social environments at local, state, national, and global levels.
- Public service to aid the dissemination of knowledge and evidence-based strategies, and the responsiveness of the school to the needs of constituents through collaborations and partnerships with communities, agencies, and organizations.

B.S.W. Program Objectives

At the completion of the B.S.W. curriculum, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Apply strategies of social change and advocacy that help advance social, political, and economic justice.

2. Use critical inquiry and scientific research methods, both qualitative and quantitative, to evaluate and advance one's own social work practice and that of the profession.
3. Understand and work to eliminate the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination at all system levels.
4. Practice with knowledge, skills, and respect with regard to age, class, color, culture, ethnicity, family structure, gender, language, marital status, national origin, physical and/or mental disabilities, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation.
5. Understand and adhere to the values, ethical standards and principles of the social work profession.
6. Use knowledge of the social work profession's history, concerns, and societal contributions to inform contemporary issues in practice.
7. Practice with the skills and knowledge base of a culturally competent generalist social work practitioner at all system levels.
8. Demonstrate professional use of self in their practice with effective communication skills, self-awareness, inclusion of supervision and consultation, and the creation of positive change within organizations and service delivery systems.
9. Understand, analyze, influence, and formulate social policies.
10. Critically apply theoretical frameworks, supported by empirical evidence, that offer insight into the development and behavior of individuals over the life span and the interactions among individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Social Work and the Master of Social Work programs are accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. This attests to the educational quality of the curricula and to the qualifications of graduates to assume professional positions that legally require applicants to have these degrees.

Honors/Honor Society

Dean's List - Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Alpha Delta Mu National Social Work Honor Society - Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.50 or above may apply for nomination to Alpha Delta Mu. Juniors and seniors are eligible for membership. Students should discuss this with their advisors.

Student Groups

Students at Temple University's School of Social Work are part of a diverse community. The school offers an opportunity to be in class with diverse students who have had different life experiences and who represent varied points of view. In addition to classroom learning, SSW offers a number of ways in which students can come together as a community. The main student organization at SSW is the SSW Student Collective.

The Student Collective is the organization of both undergraduate and graduate students matriculated in the SSW Program. The Student Collective sponsors activities each academic year of a social, educational, and professional nature. Student representatives, selected by the Collective, sit on various school committees as voting members. The Collective was formed to represent a unified student voice that incorporates all the diversity of the student body. For additional information, contact the Director of Admissions and Student Services or see the bulletin board in the lobby on the fifth floor of Ritter Hall Annex.

In addition to the Student Collective, students can choose to participate in the following social work organizations at SSW. The activity level of many groups varies from year to year since their existence is dependent on students stepping forward and organizing meetings and events.

National Social Work Honor Society (Beta Rho Chapter, Alpha Delta Mu)

The purpose of this organization is to advance excellence in social work practice and to encourage, stimulate and maintain scholarship of the individual members in all fields, particularly in social work. For current activities, see the bulletin board in the lobby on the fifth floor of Ritter Hall Annex.

Alumni Association

For more information about SSW's alumni association, contact the General Alumni Association for names and numbers of current officers at 215-204-7524.

National Association of Social Workers-Philadelphia Division (NASW)

NASW is a professional organization that works on behalf of its members and the consumers they serve. Applications are available on the NASW bulletin board in the lobby on the fifth floor of Ritter Hall Annex.

If you are interested in contributing your time, energy and ideas to any of the following groups that have added, over the years, to the rich diversity of activities at SSW, please contact the Director of Admissions and Student Services.

Latino Social Work Organization (LSWO)

LSWO was founded in 1992 by a group of young social workers in Chicago. Temple students involved in LSWO have advocated for quality bilingual/bicultural services to Latinos and other oppressed communities.

Student Association of Black Social Workers (SABSW)

SABSW is a non-profit organization created to serve African-American students and the community. The SABSW works towards unifying black Social Work students in the School of Social Work. The SABSW will also work with any student organization on campus or the immediate community to further the educational, political, academic, communal, and social plight of students at large.

Pride in Social Work (PSW)

PSW provides support, education, and advocacy for gay, lesbian, bi-sexual and transgendered students and their supporters. For additional information on Pride in Social Work at Temple University, contact Professor Bernie Newman at 215-204-1205.

Underground Railroad – Temple Depot (URR)

The URR works together with the Poor People's Economic Human Rights Campaign focusing on direct actions, such as lobbying, advocacy, demonstrations, and support of grass-roots movements for social justice.

Academic Advising

The College of Health Professions and Social Work has an extensive system of academic advising provided by professional and faculty advisors. In the School of Social Work (SSW), when students reach junior or senior standing, they are assigned to faculty advisors who assist with mentoring as students progress in their professional training. Early and regular contact with the advisor can be extremely helpful. The advisor is a knowledgeable person with whom students may discuss issues of concern in relation to university regulations as well as course selection.

Academic advisors are particularly important for social work majors. The Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) curriculum is organized so that courses scheduled to be taken later in the program build on the knowledge and skill foundation provided in the liberal arts and social work courses taken earlier. For this reason, most social work courses designate successful completion (with a C- or better) of earlier courses as prerequisite to taking later courses. Additionally, SSW requires that three of the social work courses required in each semester of the senior year -- research, the seminar in social work practice, and the field practicum -- be taken concurrently. This program of study for B.S.W. students has been carefully designed and approved by faculty. It is intended to provide students with a coherent, integrated, and high quality learning experience.

Although students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring information about their academic status, student advisors can help students if they have any questions. Academic advisors strive to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements; however, schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising.

Transfer Students from Schools Outside of Temple

The Offices of the Provost and the Senior Vice Provost for Undergraduate Studies are responsible for the University's relations with community colleges and for oversight of curricular policies related to student transfer into Temple. The Senior Vice Provost's Office assists in the evaluation and re-evaluation of transfer courses for GenEd Curriculum credit at Temple, and interprets University transfer policies for students, faculty members, and academic advisors. (See Undergraduate Admissions regarding transfer admissions.)

Once accepted into the University, students should contact and set up an appointment with SSW's academic advisor.

Students are expected to be majors in the program a minimum of two years and a summer.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see the Undergraduate Academic Policies. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status. Additional and unique policies, or exceptions for the School of Social Work, appear below.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Program Performance

Social work majors are expected to maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or above. Students are expected to maintain grades of C- or above in each of the professional and professionally-related courses. Students who obtain a D+ or below in any of the courses in the social work major must repeat the course.

Collegial Warning will be issued to students whose GPA falls below 2.00 for one semester. Students should not register for more than 12 s.h. until they improve their average.

Collegial Probation: Students who fall below a 2.00 either for the semester or for their cumulative average will be placed on probation. They may register for no more than 12 s.h. for the next term in order to improve their average. If their average is still below a 2.00 after two semesters of academic probation, students are subject to being dropped from the Social Work Program in the School of Social Work.

Dropped from the Program: If the student does not achieve a cumulative average of 2.00 or show evidence of substantive scholastic improvement after two semesters on collegial probation and a 12 s.h. roster, the student is subject to being dropped from the School of Social Work.

Readmission Application

To re-enter the School of Social Work, students must complete a Re-Enrollment Application found at www.temple.edu/undergrad/applying/documents/request_to_reenroll.pdf and send it to the fax number designated on the last page of the application. Applications of students seeking re-enrollment after an absence of one or more semesters, not including summers, will be reviewed by the Director of the B.S.W. Program. If the student is accepted for readmission, his or her program for completion of degree requirements will be planned in accordance with those currently operative in the program. If courses were taken elsewhere, applicants are responsible for having official transcripts available when submitting the re-enrollment application.

Transfer from Schools within the University

Students who are in good standing at Temple University may transfer to the School of Social Work at any point during their academic career. Before applying to transfer to Social Work, Temple students must attend a Change of Program session. These are listed on the College of Health Professions and Social Work web site under Student Advising (<http://chpsw.temple.edu/>). Transfer applications will not be processed until the student attends the Change of Program session. Intra-university transfer students will be notified of the decision in a letter from the Dean's Office. A minimum GPA of 2.0 is required for admission to any of the CHPSW programs.

Prior to transferring, students are encouraged to arrange to meet with both the original school advisor and the SSW advisor or BSW Program Director. Because of the professional requirements and the sequential nature of the curriculum, students are encouraged to enter the program as early as possible. Students must be majors in the social work program for a minimum of two years.

General Graduation Requirements

In order to receive a Bachelor of Social Work degree, a student must complete a minimum of 120 semester hours, which includes the University General Education (GenEd) curriculum and the School of Social Work curriculum. A potential graduate must also hold a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or better (having received a C- or better in all social work courses), and meet any additional requirements, such as the Exit Interview.

Military Science Courses

Undergraduate students in the College of Health Professions and Social Work whose degree programs allow for free electives may apply up to 12 credits of military science courses at the 3000 and 4000 levels in Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC), Military Science (Army ROTC), and Naval Science (Navy ROTC).

Student Contact Information

Students are asked to call the Office of Enrollment and Student Services (OESS) of the College of Health Professions and Social Work at 215-707-4800 or the department with questions regarding the college or specific departments. The B.S.W. Curriculum

The B.S.W. curriculum is organized so that courses scheduled to be taken later in the program assume, and build on, the knowledge and skill foundation provided in the liberal arts and social work courses taken earlier. For this reason, most social work courses designate successful completion (with a C- or better) of earlier courses as prerequisite to taking later courses. Additionally, the School of Social Work requires that three of the social work courses required in each semester of the senior year -- research, the seminar in social work practice, and the field practicum -- be taken concurrently. This program of study for B.S.W. students has been carefully designed and approved by faculty. It is intended to provide students with a coherent, integrated, and high-quality learning experience.

Requirements for the Degree of Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.)

School of Social Work Requirements

- Satisfactory completion of a minimum of 120 semester hours of credit.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 overall and in the major.
- A grade of "C-" or higher is required in all courses satisfying GenEd and the Social Work major.

University Requirements

All students are required to complete the university General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

(Students who entered prior to fall 2011 should check the online archived Undergraduate Bulletin for the appropriate year and program requirements.)

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses at Temple as part of the major. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column in the tables below.

A grade of "C-" or higher is required in all courses satisfying GenEd and the Social Work major.

B.S.W. Program Requirements

- Six university courses (18-19 s.h.) required by the School of Social Work: Psychology 1061 (Psychology as a Social Science); Sociology 1176 (Introduction to Sociology); Kinesiology 1223 (Human Anatomy & Physiology I) or Biology 1001 (Human Biology); Economics 1001 (Introduction to the Economy) or Economics 1101 (Macroeconomic Principles) or Economics 1102 (Microeconomic Principles) or Economics 1103 (Global Economics Issues) or Economics 0858 (The American Economy); Political Science 1101 (The American Political System) or 1911 (Honors Introduction to American Politics); Sociology 1167 (Social Statistics) or 1967 (Honors Social Statistics).

- Professional courses in Social Work (56 s.h.)
- Field Work Practice: A minimum of 400 hours in supervised field settings is required. Students are overseen by an M.S.W. (or B.S.W. with at least two years of experience). They are directly involved in professional tasks in the agency and in the community. This component of the educational program of study facilitates the integration of classroom learning particularly in the social work subject areas of human behavior, policy, practice, and research. Students apply what they are learning and receive feedback from both classroom and field instructors on their work. The Social Work Minor

The Social Work Minor is a great complement to majors such as criminal justice, psychology, education, pharmacy, and other allied disciplines.

The Social Work Minor introduces students to the knowledge, values, and skills necessary to:

- Comprehend the structures and functions of the field of social work;
- Develop a more informed position on social policy issues;
- Appreciate the economic, social, political, ethical and epistemological challenges societies, and their citizens, face in responding to basic human needs;
- Grasp the critical importance of social capital to communities and the larger society;
- Become actively involved in helping to address social needs;
- Broaden and further enhance their professional career paths.

The Social Work minor consists of nine courses (23 credit hours), all of which are offered at the main campus:

- Social policy development in historical, political, and economic context (Social Work 2003: The History and Values of Social Welfare);
- Social problems and social policy analysis (Social Work 2004: Social Welfare in the United States);
- Theories of human behavior within the context of the social environment (Social Work 3007: Human Behavior in the Social Environment);
- Helping processes across systems of all sizes; (four courses) (Social Work 3005 & 3015, 3006 & 3016: Helping Processes in Social Work I & II plus lab)
- Verbal, non-verbal and written communication skills (Social Work 1002: Communication in Social Work Practice);

- Institutional racism or group dynamics (Social Work 3008 or 3011: Institutional Racism or The Social Worker in the Group).

Student services advisors in the school or college in which the student is currently majoring are available to help students interested in adding a social work minor to their program of study.

Introduction

Given the current pace of social and technological change in the world community, a firm grounding in the liberal arts is essential to one's prospects for success. Although recent trends in higher education highlight the proliferation of job-specific training, a well-rounded, liberal arts education is more relevant now than ever before. While highly specialized training and knowledge may prove helpful in landing one's first job, those who will build successful careers and lead us into the future will have a much broader, more transferable set of skills. Our graduates will be able to think critically while analyzing complex issues and developing creative solutions to problems that we have not yet imagined. The written and oral communication skills honed by a liberal arts program will allow our graduates to communicate their ideas concisely and effectively to both specialized and lay audiences. Working across disciplines to evaluate ideas and arguments throughout their college career, liberal arts graduates develop the technological and cultural literacy necessary to thrive in the global marketplace. In short, our leaders of the future will possess the skills and attributes that have long defined a liberal arts education.

In the College of Liberal Arts, our students learn how to learn by exploring a rich diversity of rigorous coursework in the humanities and social sciences, including anthropology, English, history, philosophy, sociology, religion, psychology and foreign languages. Many of our courses are taught in intimate, seminar-style settings that encourage students to engage our world-class faculty in meaningful discourse that expands world views and enhances analytical reasoning skills. Equally important is the flexibility afforded students within the liberal arts curriculum, which provides them with myriad opportunities to supplement their classroom education in meaningful ways by participating in study abroad programs, engaging in directed research, pursuing original scholarship through independent studies, and gaining valuable professional experience in internship programs. Taken together, these liberal arts experiences not only prepare students for rewarding careers, but for fulfilling lives as informed and engaged citizens of the world.

Accreditation

Departments and programs at Temple University are accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (www.msche.org). Individual departments and programs may carry additional accreditation by the official accreditation body for that discipline.

The Center for Internships and Career Development (CICD) links College of Liberal Arts students and faculty to organizations in the greater Philadelphia region in order to provide applied learning and career-oriented opportunities, as well as forums for engaged research. This also includes the development of experiential and career development programs and resources, including: internships (from smaller community-based organizations to larger non-profit organizations, from social services agencies to governmental agencies, from publishing firms to law firms), externships, volunteering, community service, building résumés, interviewing techniques, and matching the breadth of skills associated with a liberal arts education to concrete career paths and goals. Comprehensive manuals are also available for students, faculty, and departments. Contact the CICD to schedule an appointment.

Rachael Groner, Associate Director

First-Year Writing includes two main 4-credit courses, English 0701 (Introduction to Academic Discourse) and English 0802 (Analytical Reading and Writing). First-Year Writing also includes English 0711 and English 0812, which are sections of English 0701 and English 0802 (respectively) designated especially for English as a Second Language (ESL) students. The ESL sections of all of our courses are equivalent in weight and credit to their direct counterparts.

Entering students are either placed into the 0701-0802 sequence, placed into 0802 only, or exempted from these courses entirely. Placement is based on a formula which takes into account the results of the placement exam, high school rank, and the SAT verbal score.

If a student places into English 0701/0711, he or she may not enroll in English 0802/0812 until English 0701/0711 is completed successfully, with a grade of C- or better. English 0802/0812 may not be taken for credit by students who have successfully completed English 0902 (Honors Literature, Reading and Writing).

English 0802/0812 is a required course in the General Education program. English 0802/0812 is a prerequisite for Intellectual Heritage 0851 and 0852: Mosaic Humanities Seminar I and II, any upper-level course in the College of Liberal Arts (all courses numbered 2000-4999), and all Writing Intensive Courses (course numbers ending in -96, -97, and -98).

Students are advised to take the required three-course sequence of Analytical Reading and Writing, Mosaic I, and Mosaic II (IH 0851 and 0852) in order and in successive semesters.

The Intellectual Heritage Program offers a two-course sequence, Mosaic: Humanities Seminar I and II, IH 0851 and 0852, which is part of the university General Education curriculum. Engaging with some of the rich, complex, and historically-significant texts that have shaped our culture, students build strong communication skills and intellectual curiosity. Students become familiar with some of the key concepts and moments in Western and other intellectual traditions.

Students are required to complete the General Education Curriculum. Transfer students should see their academic advisor for more information regarding their IH placement. Satisfactory completion of English 0802 is a prerequisite for the Mosaic sequence. Honors versions of the Mosaic sequence are offered as IH 0951 and IH 0952, respectively.

Temple Law Scholars Program

Paul Crowe, Director
7th floor Anderson Hall
215-204-8591
pcrowe@temple.edu

The Temple Law Scholars Program provides an opportunity for outstanding students to gain provisional admission to the Temple University Beasley School of Law at the same time they are accepted into the College of Liberal Arts. As Temple Law Scholars, students spend their undergraduate years in Temple's Honors Program, after which they enroll in the Beasley School of Law, leading to the JD degree. Scholars will take advantage of special opportunities, including internships, mock trial competitions, attendance at special events and lectures, and sitting in on law school classes.

The Temple Law Scholars Program is highly selective. To be considered, applicants must be accepted into the Honors Program. High class standing, high SAT scores, and superior letters of recommendation are expected, as is an articulate, thoughtful essay. In addition, other criteria used in the decision-making process include above-average maturity, community service, leadership, and a genuine commitment to the legal profession and service to others.

Application to the Temple Law Scholars Program takes place at the same time students apply to the College of Liberal Arts. The application materials include the Temple undergraduate admission application, the Temple Law Scholars application, a letter of recommendation, and an essay on a topic assigned by the Temple Law Scholars admissions committee. An interview may also be required. The deadline for receipt of all application materials is April 1. Applications received before March 1 will receive priority treatment.

Honor Societies and Awards for Achievement

Awards

During the graduation season in May, the Baccalaureate Awards Ceremony is held to honor seniors who have demonstrated outstanding academic performance and/or exceptional service to the college. Junior scholarship recipients are recognized at an annual event in the fall. These prizes are awarded competitively and are a testament to the excellence of the College of Liberal Arts undergraduates. For more information on awards offered for particular majors, see the majors section of the Undergraduate Bulletin, the web site for your department, or ask your faculty advisor about the awards nomination process.

Phi Beta Kappa

See Opportunities>Honor Societies.

Student Association Information

Majors' Associations

Some of the departments within the College of Liberal Arts support student interest groups, clubs, and majors' associations. These organizations provide opportunities for students from the individual disciplines of the liberal arts to meet one another and to extend the learning experience beyond the classroom. Some of these associations invite their alumni back to campus to connect with current undergraduates and talk with them about the wide range of career options open to liberal arts graduates.

Participation in the majors' associations has significant benefits. Active involvement cultivates skills in leadership, team work, cultural sensitivity, and public speaking, all of which are highly valued in the workplace.

Academic Advising Center

The Academic Advising Center in the College of Liberal Arts helps students plan curricula, choose majors, make vocational and post-graduate plans, and resolve a variety of academic matters. Services are provided by a staff of full-time professional advisors. The Center informs students about the results of placement testing and assignment into corresponding courses. Monitoring of academic progress and graduation clearance is also the responsibility of the Advising Center. Through individual appointments and group workshops, the center offers the following services:

- New Student Orientation.
- Advising and registration assistance for all students in the College of Liberal Arts. Students enrolled in the University Honors Program also receive advising in the Honors Program Office in Tuttleman Learning Center, Suite 201. Students are strongly encouraged to seek faculty advising in their major department.
- It is recommended, and in some cases required, that students consult with an advisor prior to registration. The advisor will review the proposed coursework and inform students of the requirements for graduation. In addition, the advisor helps students achieve breadth in their curriculum and provides other needed assistance.
- Academic advising provides an opportunity for students to develop a meaningful education plan compatible with their life goals. Students can also meet with advisors to discuss a variety of academic concerns and identify solutions. Students on academic probation or experiencing academic difficulty work with advisors to learn strategies for overcoming the obstacles to success.
- Intra-University Transfer (IUT) Advising for students changing programs and moving into the College of Liberal Arts from other schools and colleges within Temple. During mandatory group advising sessions, students transferring to Liberal Arts learn about collegial degree requirements, policies and procedures, and complete the Change of Program form.

- Approving special requests including: leave of absence; academic forgiveness; course repeats; re-enrollment at the University; permission to take courses elsewhere; registration overload; credit/no-credit option for free electives; and other questions regarding University or College policies. (Click the links to be directed to more information on specific policies.)

All academic advisors are trained to evaluate information carefully to give students the best possible advice. Primary responsibility for course selection and degree completion rests with the student. Every student must be aware of the requirements of his or her degree and should collaborate with an advisor regularly to ensure timely completion of his or her program.

Department-Based Advisors

All departments in the College of Liberal Arts have designated faculty advisors, undergraduate chairs, or embedded professional advisors, with whom students can discuss the requirements of their major, minor, and/or certificate programs. For a listing of CLA faculty advisors, consult: www.cla.temple.edu/advising/departamental/.

Student Grievance Procedures

Title IX of the Educational Amendments Act of 1972 requires that each college or university establish due process for the resolution of academic grievances. This is to protect students from prejudiced and capricious academic evaluation. All undergraduate students enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts have a right to appeal grades which they deem unfair and unreasonable. The student must provide evidence indicating a mistake, fraud, or bad faith on the part of an instructor. Students will not be allowed to grieve a grade unless it is accompanied by such evidence.

Students should first contact their instructor to discuss the grade(s) in question, and if the matter cannot be resolved at that level, students are then urged to talk with the chairperson for the department in which this course was given. Chairperson information is available in this publication. A student must initiate the first stage of an academic grievance by the dates in the College of Liberal Arts Grievance Procedure, available at www.cla.temple.edu/students/undergraduate/grievances/.

For more information, students should contact the college's Grievance Officer, Amanda Gibson, at gibson@temple.edu or 215-204-8504.

Non Academic Grievances

Students may have grievances that are not academic in nature. Such grievances should be directed to other offices on campus, which may include the Office of the Dean of Students, the Equal Opportunity Compliance office, Office of University Housing and Residential Life, and other units on campus. Students unsure as to where to proceed with a non-academic grievance should consult either with the Office of the Dean of Students or the college's Academic Advising Center.

Preparation for the Study of Law

All law schools accept the degree of Bachelor of Arts as fulfillment of their requirements for admission. The Pre-Legal Education Committee of the Association of American Law Schools and the Temple University School of Law stress the importance of a well-rounded education. Liberal arts majors are considered excellent preparation for law school. Although Temple University does not have a specific major in Pre-Law, we do offer specialized advising for students interested in applying to law school, as well as majors in challenging disciplines that will help students hone their critical thinking, analytical and communication skills. Since the legal profession makes extensive use of both the written and spoken English language as professional tools, the law student should have extensive preparation in English in undergraduate courses. Because a large part of a lawyer's work requires problem solving and sound judgment, students should take courses that help develop creative power in thinking. The study of law, furthermore, rests upon a broad knowledge of western civilization, including its political, economic, and social institutions; hence, the student preparing for law should schedule courses which afford this broad background. Some law schools also recommend two semesters of accounting. After selecting a field of concentration, the student schedules courses in consultation with both the advisor in the area of concentration and with the pre-law advisor in the Academic Advising Center of the College of Liberal Arts.

Courses of Special Interest to Pre-Law Students

While no specific undergraduate courses or majors are required for admission to accredited law schools, pre-law students are advised to select courses and programs of study that are intellectually challenging, while helping to develop necessary skills and knowledge.

Courses that are "law-related" because they either require reading of law cases or concern the study of particular legal issues are listed below for the convenience of interested students. Since most law schools require applicants to submit the score earned on the Law School Aptitude Test, administered periodically by the Law School Admissions Service, students planning to study law should consult the pre-law advisor prior to the senior year to determine whether the school to which they plan to apply will require such a test and to determine the dates when such examinations are given. Prospective law students should consult the pre-law advisor about requirements for admission to law school, law school scholarship assistance, and opportunities in the legal profession. To satisfy statutory requirements, early in their senior year, prospective law students should consult the pre-law advisor concerning the legal requirements for practicing law in the state in which the student desires to study and practice.

Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International

Students interested in College of Liberal Arts pre-law studies are encouraged to join Phi Alpha Delta. Its pre-law program assists "undergraduate students to make an 'informed choice' in selecting law as a career, deciding which law school to attend, and in preparing for the rigors of law school."

Phi Alpha Delta was formed "to advance the ideals of liberty and equal justice under law; to stimulate excellence in scholarship; to inspire the virtues of compassion and courage; to foster integrity and professional competence; to promote the welfare of its members; and to encourage their moral, intellectual, and cultural advancement." For more information about Phi Alpha Delta and College of Liberal Arts pre-law society, please contact Dr. Paul Crowe, pre-law advisor, at 215-204-8591 or pcrowe@temple.edu.

Academic Policies & Regulations

University policies and regulations generally apply to all undergraduate students and provide a framework within which schools and colleges may specify further conditions or variations appropriate to students in their courses or programs.

Academic Residency Requirements

Upon transferring into the College of Liberal Arts, all students must complete at least 30 credits of coursework as a degree-seeking student, completing at least half of the courses required for any major, minor, or certificate program at Temple University.

In order to be considered for Latin honors (cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude), a student must complete a minimum of 60 credits at Temple University and meet the GPA requirements as set out in the University policy.

Course Levels

All College of Liberal Arts undergraduate courses are open to all students who have successfully completed appropriate course prerequisites and are divided into four categories:

- Preparatory courses numbered 0700-0799.
- General Education courses numbered 0800-0999.
- Lower-level courses numbered 1000-1999.
- Upper-level courses numbered 2000-4999.

Courses Taken at Other Institutions

Degree-seeking Temple students must always petition for the prior approval of their dean or dean's designee to take courses at another institution. (See Permission to Take Courses at Another Institution under Academic Policies and Regulations.) Petitions are available in the College of Liberal Arts Academic Advising Center.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Declaration of Major

Students in the College of Liberal Arts must declare their major before completing 60 credits, including credits transferred from other institutions. Undeclared students with 45 or more credits are required to meet with an advisor in the Academic Advising Center before registering.

Intra-University Transfer

Students who wish to Intra-University Transfer (IUT) into the College of Liberal Arts from other colleges and schools at Temple must have at least a 2.0 GPA in the intended major and overall. Students will not be permitted to IUT as undeclared majors if they have completed, or are in the process of completing, 60 or more credits.

Applying For Graduation

During the semester immediately prior to the semester in which students will complete their degree requirements, they must apply for graduation by completing the on-line graduation application available through Self Service Banner. Students planning to graduate in August or January must apply by April 1 and students planning to graduate in May must apply by November 1.

All applications received by the deadlines noted above will be reviewed by academic advisors in advance of the next semester and students will be notified of any necessary schedule revisions to fulfill remaining requirements.

Students are responsible for ensuring their intended graduation date is up-to-date by contacting their advisor.

Placement Tests

All incoming freshmen must take diagnostic English and mathematics placement tests. Transfer students who have not completed English 0802/1002 or a college-level math course are also required to take placement examinations. The results of these tests determine if students are required to enroll in introductory composition and mathematics courses. Students assigned to English 0701/0711 must register each semester for that course until the requirement is completed. Only upon successful completion of English 0701/0711 can such students enroll in English 0802/0812. Students assigned to courses designed to remedy deficiencies in mathematics are required to complete those courses (Mathematics 0701 or 0702) before enrolling in the mathematics component of the University General Education Program (GenEd). Incoming students must also take a foreign language placement examination if they plan to continue a language previously studied or if they wish to place out of the foreign language requirement.

Plagiarism & Academic Cheating

Plagiarism and academic cheating are unacceptable in College of Liberal Arts courses. The development of independent thought and a respect for the thoughts of others is essential to intellectual growth. The penalty for plagiarism or cheating as a first offense is normally an F in the course in which the offense is committed. In such cases, the instructor will write a report to the dean. The CLA Grievance Committee will adjudicate appeals made by students and serious cases, or repeat offenses, referred to the committee by an instructor or the dean. The dean may recommend suspension or expulsion from the university when warranted. Instructors may also refer the offense to the University Disciplinary Committee (UDC) for adjudication.

The prohibition against plagiarism and cheating is intended to foster this independence and respect. For more information, see Academic Honesty under Student Responsibilities.

Academic Standing, Warning, Probation, Dismissal, & Reinstatement

To maintain academic good standing in the university, a student enrolled in an associate or baccalaureate degree-seeking program must achieve both a semester grade point average and a cumulative grade point average of at least a 2.0. See the University policy on Academic Standing for details on academic warning, academic probation, academic dismissal and reinstatement. Also see the policy on Academic Forgiveness.

Withdrawal from Classes

During the first two weeks of the fall, spring, or summer semester, students may drop a course with no record of the class appearing on the transcript. In weeks three through nine of the fall or spring semester, or during weeks three and four of the summer sessions, students may withdraw from a course. Instructors' signatures are not required to withdraw. The course will be recorded on the transcript with the instructor's notation of "W," indicating that the student withdrew. After week nine of the fall or spring semester, or week four of summer sessions, students may not withdraw from courses.

Students may not withdraw from more than five courses during the duration of their studies to earn a bachelor's degree effective as of fall 2003, and students may not withdraw from the same course more than once.

For the complete policy, please refer to the Academic Policies section of this Bulletin.

Requirements for the Baccalaureate Degree

Credit Hour Requirements

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees in the College of Liberal Arts require a minimum of 123 credits, distributed according to the university and college policy outlined below, with at least a 2.0 cumulative grade point average (GPA). A minimum 2.0 GPA must also be maintained in College of Liberal Arts and College of Science and Technology (hereafter "CLA/CST") coursework and in the major.

To earn a CLA baccalaureate degree, a student must complete a minimum of 123 credits, including: 90 credits in CLA/CST courses, 45 credits of which must be at the upper level (numbered 2000-4999). Of that, 6 credits must be outside the student's major division (e.g. Social Sciences or Humanities).

A maximum of 9 credits of Independent Study can be applied to the Bachelor's degree. This does not include internship, externship, or research credits.

Degree Eligibility

The College of Liberal Arts does not award baccalaureate degrees to students who have already completed an accredited first Bachelor's, Master's, or Ph.D. degree, regardless of when the degree was completed.

University Requirements

All students entering an undergraduate degree program in 2012-2013 are required to complete the university General Education (GenEd) curriculum.

All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses at Temple University as designated by their major requirements. The specific writing-intensive courses required for each major are listed on the individual program pages and are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column.

Major

Students must also complete the requirements of a major. The minimum acceptable grade in a course taken to fulfill major requirements is a "C-," though students need a 2.0 GPA overall in major coursework in order to graduate. At least half of the coursework required for a major must be taken at Temple University.

Students are permitted to double-major (both inside CLA and across schools and colleges) but Temple University does not permit transcription of a third major.

Students are encouraged to declare their major as soon as possible, and university policy requires that a major must be declared by the time a student has earned 60 credits.

Major requirements are determined by the effective semester of their declaration. The Academic Advising Center is responsible for making this assignment and informs the student via e-mail.

Students who wish to declare or change their major or minor should consult the Academic Advising Center at 1810 Liacouras Walk, Suite 301.

B.A. and B.S. majors are offered in the divisions of the Humanities and the Social Sciences.

- Humanities: English, French, German, Greek and Roman Classics, Hebrew, Italian, Japanese (only available at our Japan campus), Philosophy, Religion, Russian, and Spanish (includes tracks in Language, Literature and Linguistics, Professional Studies, Education)
- Social Sciences: African American Studies, American Studies, Anthropology (includes tracks in Human Biology and Visual Anthropology), Asian Studies, Criminal Justice, Economics, Environmental Studies, Geography and Urban Studies, History, Jewish Studies, Latin American Studies, Mathematical Economics, Neuroscience: Systems, Behavior and Plasticity (B.S.), Political Science, Psychology, Sociology (includes track in Sociology of Health), and Women's Studies

Upper-level distribution requirements

All B.A. and B.S. students in the College of Liberal Arts must complete upper-level distribution requirements by taking two upper-level (numbered 2000-4999) CLA courses outside the curriculum division of the major (or upper-level College of Science and Technology courses) as stated above. Students who have double majors in two different divisions automatically satisfy the distribution requirement.

Note: The Humanities Division has been expanded to include upper-level courses in Art History.

Military Science Courses

Undergraduate students in the College of Liberal Arts whose degree programs allow for free electives may apply up to 12 credits of military science courses at the 3000 and 4000 levels in Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC), Military Science (Army ROTC), and Naval Science (Navy ROTC).

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Students will not receive credits for lower-level courses after successful completion of higher-level courses in sequenced courses of study. This only applies to the First Year Writing sequence in English (0701-0802), and all courses in Mathematics and Foreign Languages. For example, after passing a Spanish 1002 course, a student will not receive credits for Spanish 1001.

Credit/No Credit

During the junior and senior years, any College of Liberal Arts student who is in good standing and taking a minimum of 12 semester hours may elect to take one course each semester on a Credit/No Credit basis, except for courses that count toward major, minor, GenEd, or distributional requirements. Application must be made at the Academic Advising Center during the first two weeks of a fall or spring semester course and during the first three days of a first or second summer session course.

Special Major & Minor Requirements

Interdisciplinary Major

Rather than major in an existing department or program, students may apply for a major in Interdisciplinary Studies. The proposed major should consist of coursework totaling at least 36 semester hours and be justified in terms of some thematic unit of cohesive rationale. The program must not closely resemble any major currently available in the College of Liberal Arts.

The proposed major program may include courses outside of the College of Liberal Arts, but at least 24 semester hours must be in upper-level liberal arts or science courses. The student's proposal must be sponsored by two faculty members from different departments, at least one of whom must be in the College of Liberal Arts. Approval for the program must be obtained from the College of Liberal Arts Academic Advising Center prior to the initiation of the last 60 semester hours of the degree.

Honors Interdisciplinary Major

Students in the University Honors Program may apply for a College of Liberal Arts Honors Interdisciplinary Major. They must complete the degree requirements of the B.A. in the College of Liberal Arts and the requirements for the Interdisciplinary Major described above as well as the requirements for the University Honors Program. Approval for this program must also be obtained from the University Honors Committee prior to the initiation of the last 60 semester hours of the degree.

In addition, the proposed major program should include submission of an acceptable honors thesis to the University Honors Oversight Committee.

Minor

Students may also choose to complete the requirements for a minor. The minimum acceptable grade in a course taken to fulfill minor requirements is "C-," though students need a 2.0 GPA in the minor in order to have it awarded at graduation. At least half of the courses taken by a student to fulfill the minor must be taken at Temple. Students may declare a minor at the Academic Advising Center, 1810 Liacouras Walk, Suite 301. The College of Liberal Arts offers minors in:

African American Studies; American Studies; Ancient Mediterranean Studies (see Classics); Anthropology (General), Anthropology (Visual), Arabic; Asian-American Studies; Asian Studies; Chinese; Classics; Cognitive Neuroscience (see Psychology); Criminal Justice; Economics; English; Environmental Studies; French; Geography and Urban Studies; German; Hebrew; History; Italian; Japanese; Jewish Studies; Latin American Studies; Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Studies (LGBT); Neuroscience Research; Philosophy; Political Science; Portuguese; Psychology; Religion; Russian; Sociology; Sociology of Health; Spanish; and Women's Studies.

Certificates of Specialization

Students may choose to complete the requirements for an additional certificate of specialization. At least half of the courses taken by a student to fulfill a certificate of specialization must be taken at Temple. Students may declare a certificate in the Academic Advising Center, 1810 Liacouras Walk, Suite 301. Certificates of specialization are available in the following programs:

- Asian Business and Society (see Asian Studies)

The mission of the Department of African American Studies (AAS) is to provide an intellectual arena in which students learn critically to examine, analyze, and interpret the experiences, traditions, and dynamics of peoples of African descent so as to be prepared to take roles of effective agency, participation, and leadership in the intellectual, research, and social activist domains of professional and community life. The department's guiding philosophy is African-centered in that we believe that mindful awareness of the social, cultural, and historical experiences of African peoples must inform and guide all viable research, analysis, interpretation, and action directed toward people of African descent.

The curriculum stresses the skills necessary to think critically, write clearly, argue persuasively, and solve problems effectively. Students are exposed to theory and research in a variety of subject areas and are encouraged to engage in active research and service beyond the classroom. Past AAS alumni have entered careers in primary and secondary education and administration, social work and administration, research design, law enforcement, city government, and have also worked with museums and other cultural and artistic institutions. Others have entered graduate studies in a variety of areas, including law, the health-related professions, public administration, and the social sciences.

The department offers three internal awards for graduating seniors—two privately-sponsored awards for outstanding academic performance and one departmental award for outstanding service. The Department of African American Studies supervises the Temple in Ghana program, which allows students to study for six weeks during the summer at the University of Ghana in Accra.

American Studies is a broad-based interdisciplinary program that explores the rich complexity of American culture and American lives. Courses focus on national myths and everyday realities, race and ethnicity, work, technology, media and popular culture, architecture and city planning, and the production and consumption of art forms like photography, film, dance, and music. In American Studies, though, we do not treat these topics as discrete categories, but instead explore their relationships to each other. For instance, we look at ideas about race and class embedded in national symbols and ideas. Through a variety of courses and in a mix of different categories, American Studies provides students with a deep understanding of the many forces and ideas shaping America over a long sweep of time in any number of places, the East, the West, in the heartland and at the borders. The program also offers student internship opportunities, and other hands-on kinds of learning, at a variety of cultural institutions in Philadelphia and the Delaware Valley. American Studies courses are known as challenging and thought-provoking, and many of them are cross-listed with the Temple University Honors Program. The major program stresses development of reading, writing, and analytical skills that are necessary for successful careers in a range of professional fields. American Studies majors go on to graduate school in the humanities and social sciences, law school, and medical school. They also may take jobs in schools, non-profit organizations, museums, libraries, business, social services, public relations, and the media.

Anthropology is the study of human origins, development, and diversity. Anthropologists explore the ways in which people understand and adapt to living in a variety of settings, ranging from urban environments to rural villages, all over the world and across time. Anthropologists are interested in investigating such questions as: What does it mean to be human? What are the historical, social, political, economic, and environmental pressures that have helped shape the experiences of particular groups of people? How do human beings interact with the physical environment? Does the language that one speaks affect the ways in which one thinks and experiences the world? Anthropology includes four broad sub-fields, all of which are well represented at Temple University: Cultural Anthropology, Archaeology, Biological Anthropology, and Linguistic Anthropology.

Undergraduate majors in Anthropology pursue one of three courses of study: General Anthropology, the Human Biology concentration, or the Visual Anthropology concentration. Laboratory facilities, internships, fieldwork, and experiential learning courses provide students with practical experiences in all of Anthropology's sub-fields. A minor can be taken in General Anthropology or in Visual Anthropology.

General Anthropology

The general anthropology major is intended to give students a foundation in all of the four sub-fields associated with the discipline of anthropology. Each of the sub-fields requires the development of a number of skills, including formulating hypotheses; developing research programs and proposals; applying theories to the interpretation of data, including artifacts; and gathering ethnographic information through participant-observation. There is sufficient flexibility in the requirements for the general anthropology major so that a student can focus their coursework, if desired, on any one of the four sub-fields.

With its focus on human diversity and its emphasis on cultural relativism, the general anthropology major well prepares students for the issues they are likely to encounter in today's workplaces. At Temple we offer a number of courses on such topics as the Anthropology of Policy, Medical Anthropology, and Urban Anthropology, which prepare students for careers in public administration, social work, health policy, urban planning, and other aspects of public policy-related work, in addition to professional careers in fields such as business, law, and medicine. Anthropology students are also well-prepared to participate in activities which call for cultural sensitivity and an understanding of cultural differences, such as the teaching of English as a foreign language and other work with immigrant communities or work in the global marketplace. A variety of courses on archaeology prepare students for careers in the field of cultural resources management and historic preservation.

Interested students can contact the faculty advisor for additional information. A brochure describing the General Anthropology major can be obtained in the department.

Human Biology Concentration

The Human Biology concentration in Anthropology prepares students for careers in medicine, dentistry, physical therapy, optometry, podiatry, and other allied health fields. Human Biology students major in Anthropology but take departmental courses primarily in biological anthropology. These courses deal in human genetics, human paleontology, human physiology, and human reproductive biology and behavior. They stress an evolutionary perspective on humans and integrate molecular, whole-organism, population, and species-level data on humans. The Human Biology Concentration also includes required courses in biology, cultural anthropology, human anatomy, and physiology. This program also encourages students to take health/biology-related courses in psychology, sociology, history, political science, and the humanities to fulfill admission requirements to professional schools in the health sciences. As a result, our students have the broad, liberal arts background that many health science professional schools find attractive.

Interested students should contact the pre-med advisor at 1810 Liacouras Walk, 1st Floor, or the Human Biology Concentration advisor, Dr. Charles Weitz, at 215-204-7330 or weitz@temple.edu. A brochure describing the Human Biology Concentration can be obtained in the Anthropology Department, room 209, Gladfelter Hall.

Distinction in Major

Anthropology majors may graduate with distinction in the major if they have earned a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Visual Anthropology Concentration

The Visual Anthropology curriculum emphasizes a well-rounded liberal arts background and a comprehensive understanding of the world's varied systems of visual representation. The Visual Anthropology curriculum allows students to combine cultural anthropology with the study and practice of visual communication. Courses in the Visual Anthropology curriculum combine topics and methods familiar to the social sciences, humanities, and media arts. It is well suited to those students interested in popular culture as well as the fine arts; documentary and ethnographic film as well as feature film; all forms of artistic performance, including the folk arts, fine arts, popular arts, and media arts; televisual communication, including both broadcast and narrowcast forms; and home media and alternative media. Additional attention is now dedicated to relationships of globalization and New Media.

In the Visual Anthropology curriculum, literary traditions and criticism find a place alongside pictorial traditions and media criticism. Students may do original research that involves still photography and/or video production. Students apply field methods familiar to cultural anthropology to achieve a better understanding of the processes and products of visual communication. Laboratories are available for both still photography and video production. There are ongoing field programs in North America, Japan, and India. The summer program in India is intended to investigate Indian civilization through an anthropological and historical approach of its religions and artistic traditions, both ancient and contemporary. For more details on the summer program in India, go to the Temple University in India web site at <http://isc.temple.edu/jjhala/templeindia/>.

Interested students should contact the Visual Anthropology Advisor, Jayasinhji Jhala, at 215-204-7727 or jjhala@temple.edu. A brochure describing the Visual Anthropology curriculum can be obtained in the Anthropology Department, room 209, Gladfelter Hall.

Asian Studies draws on the resources of many departments to provide a comprehensive program of study on Asia (especially East Asia). Majors may concentrate on a geographic area, field, or theme(s). By combining language with the study of politics, history, society, art, religion, philosophy, and literature, each student can construct a major tailored to individual interests.

Temple's campus in Japan can provide students experience abroad while taking their coursework. The East West Club offers lectures, films, and career development programs, as well as fun and fellowship through extracurricular activities.

The curriculum gives students a foundation for living or working in Asia, or continuing their studies through developing a knowledge base, cross-cultural sensitivity, analytic thinking, and communication and writing skills in English and an Asian language. After graduation, students find employment in private firms, nonprofit organizations, or educational institutions. Some enter graduate programs in law, business, or academic fields, including Asian Studies.

The Asian Studies program will assist students in:

- understanding the broad foundations of at least one major Asian culture, including the history, culture, and socio-economic-political organization,
- recognizing the utility of different humanistic and social science disciplines in understanding a culture,
- understanding the distinction between theory and data and the links between the two components while drawing generalizations from actual social experience,
- recognizing the way language serves as a foundation of culture,
- understanding the issues and requirements of cross-cultural communication, and
- taking more initiative in educating themselves, to make analytical generalizations, to make ethical choices, and to feel confident in these and other exercises of personal responsibility.

Students in the Department of Greek and Roman Classics study the cultures and languages of two major civilizations of the ancient Mediterranean world. Classics is an interdisciplinary field of study which encompasses major disciplines of the liberal arts: languages, history, literature, art, and philosophy. Students select from two different major concentration options: either Classical Languages & Literature or Classical Civilization, depending on their interests and goals.

Classics offers a sound liberal arts background that prepares students for any career. Classics majors have held senior positions in government, law, and public service organizations, have founded and headed companies and organizations, and have worked as correspondents and journalists. Recent Temple Classics majors have gone on to law school, veterinary school, graduate school, and business and teaching careers.

Classics Majors and Minors are encouraged to study a semester at Temple's Rome Campus.

The organization for majors and minors is Zeta Beta Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, the National Honorary Society for Classics.

Distinction in Major

Distinction in Major requires a senior thesis and a minimum GPA of 3.5 in Greek, Latin, or Greek and Roman Classics courses.

Mission and Goals

The mission of the Bachelor of Arts program in Criminal Justice is to foster a comprehensive understanding of the nature of crime and the effectiveness and fairness of society's efforts to prevent and control it. Students engage in a multi-disciplinary approach to the study of crime, offenders, and victims, as well as the agencies, goals, laws, policies, and processes of the criminal justice system. Emphasis is upon promoting critical thinking about the kinds of questions and problems that shape developments in research, practice, policy and reform, and the skills utilized by scholars and professionals in the field. Majoring in criminal justice helps to prepare students for careers as practitioners, researchers, and academics in a variety of public and private sector professions in both adult and juvenile systems of justice, at the federal, state, and local levels of government. It also provides the core liberal arts foundations for students interested in alternative career paths or advanced education in law school and graduate programs in criminal justice, criminology, and related social-science fields.

Internship

Many students opt to take our specialized internship program, earning 3 credits for Criminal Justice 4077: Criminal Justice Practicum (which can be used toward the electives in the major) and 3, 6, or 9 credits in the Practicum Lab, Criminal Justice 4087, which count towards the 123 credits required for graduation but may not be used to fulfill any requirements of the Criminal Justice major. This program runs in the Fall, Spring, and Summer (over the two summer sessions).

Criminal Justice Honors Program

The Department has its own Honors Program in which majors who are also University Honors students may tailor their honors experience to include a criminal justice specialization. In addition to the honors-level elective courses offered, an invaluable part of the program is the opportunity for students to develop an honors thesis based upon an undergraduate research project individually mentored by a criminal justice professor.

Criminal Justice 4+1 BA/MA Program

High-achieving undergraduates will be invited by the faculty of the Criminal Justice Department to apply for the BA/MA 5 year program. Students admitted to this program begin taking graduate courses along with their undergraduate curriculum in their last three undergraduate semesters. They then complete the remaining requirements of a MA in Criminal Justice in the subsequent year. Up to 9 credits of graduate work may count for both the Bachelor's and Master's degree programs; these are used as Criminal Justice major electives in the undergraduate degree. Eligible students have a minimum 3.5 overall GPA and will have completed 83 credits of their overall program by the time they are admitted to this program in the spring of their Junior year. Students must have completed the following courses to be considered for this program: Criminal Justice 1001, 2401, 2601, and 2602. Eligible students will receive notification at the end of their Sophomore year, and applications will be accepted until September 30th of their Junior year.

Critical Languages offers courses in Arabic, Chinese, Hebrew, Hindi, Japanese, Korean, and Vietnamese. Students enroll in these courses for a variety of reasons, which include career goals, personal interest, preparation for study abroad, and the desire to fulfill college graduation requirements.

For students in any major, Critical Languages offers many courses taught in English, including:

- General Education courses in Chinese and Japanese literature, film, and popular culture—all given in translation—invite students from any major to develop familiarity with Chinese and Japanese culture.
- Israeli literature as well as Hebrew literature from the Diaspora. Thematically, these courses explore contemporary Israel and its relations to its region and the world as well as the Jewish historical experience and the cultural heritage.
- Courses are offered in Arabic literature and film. These courses invite students from any major to develop familiarity with the cultures of countries and regions where Arabic is used as the primary language of communication.

Within Critical Languages, students can earn a major in Japanese (at TUJ only - see the Temple University Japan section in this Bulletin), a Minor in Japanese, or Certificates of Specialization in Arabic, Chinese, or Japanese. Students may declare a major or minor in Hebrew by the end of the Fall 2012 semester; it will be phased out after this term. Critical Languages courses also count toward many of the requirements and electives of the Asian Studies major and minor. Students are encouraged to study Japanese language and culture at Temple University in Japan. Contact the Office of International Programs for more information.

The major in economics exposes a student to the economist's way of thinking about social problems and behavior. The major helps a student understand the economic aspect of current events and public policy and is good preparation for careers in law and business. The student honorary fraternity is Omicron Delta Epsilon. Along with the more general student organization, The Economics Society, it provides opportunities for students to network with other students and with practicing economists in learning more about economics and finding internships and employment opportunities. There is also a Cooperative Education option. Through this program, students may earn income while gaining valuable work experience which can enhance their job market prospects upon graduation. By completing an academic research project under the guidance of a faculty member, Co-op students may earn credit for Economics 3581.

Certificate in Political Economy

William Lynn Holmes, Department of Economics
215-204-8175
wholmes@temple.edu

Richard Deeg, Department of Political Science
215-204-7123
rdeeg@temple.edu

This is a joint program offered by the Department of Economics and the Department of Political Science leading to certificate of specialization in political economy.

Purpose

The purpose of the Political Economy program is to provide undergraduate students with the opportunity to study more intensely the relationship between the political and economic spheres of society. The program is based on the belief that a focused examination of this relationship provides us with a better understanding of several social phenomena. Chief among these is a better understanding of public policy choices and the policy making process, as well as a better understanding of how government actions affect the process of economic change and vice versa.

For these reasons the Political Science and Economics departments offer an interdisciplinary certificate in Political Economy. The program is open to all matriculated undergraduate students. Applicants need not be declared majors in either economics or political science. The Political Economy program provides an excellent preparation for graduate study in the social sciences and for the study of law.

Program Requirements

The program consists of two components: required core courses at the lower-division level and elective courses at the upper-division level.

Core Courses:

All students must take the following core courses:

- Economics 1101 or 1901: Macroeconomic Principles (3 s.h.)

- or*

Elective Courses:

All students must successfully complete (grade of C- or better) four courses from the following list. Two of the four courses must be in economics, and two courses must be in political science. Students should select courses that correspond to their own substantive interests and are encouraged to take cognate areas (e.g., if you choose international politics courses, also choose international economics courses). Students should plan their schedules well in advance, since many courses are not offered each semester.

Select two from the following list for a total of 6 credits:

The English major helps students develop as readers of interesting, complex texts, including literary texts. Majors read writing from a variety of historical contexts and cultures; this experience builds their understanding of the relation between society and language. English majors become critical and reflective readers, aware of the history and development of writing in English. They are also good, inventive writers who are able to analyze problems, do careful and inventive research, argue and evaluate the arguments of others.

The English major is good preparation for a career in writing or editing—of stories, speeches, legal documents, advertising, research projects, poems, grant proposals, essays, or letters. English majors also find careers in publishing and journalism, public relations, business, industry, management, marketing, social services, and government. English is a strong pre-professional major for law, medicine, library science, and teaching, from the elementary to the post-secondary level.

The English department has a distinguished faculty of nationally-known critics, writers, and scholars who will teach you, usually in small classes. You will choose from a range of exciting courses (about forty English courses each semester) and from interdisciplinary programs such as the Five-year Program in English and Education, or a double major in English and any other department throughout the university. Internships are offered with area institutions such as the Temple Press, the University of Pennsylvania Press, the Urban League, WHYY public radio, Philadelphia Magazine, United Way, the Red Cross, Bread and Roses, J. B. Lippincott Publishers, and the Academy of Natural Sciences. The department offers community-based projects, such as the New City Press and our Institute for the Study of Literature, Literacy, and Culture. There is an active program of readings by resident and visiting writers and artists. Students are active in writing and producing our literary magazine: Hyphen.

Environmental Studies is an interdisciplinary major offered by the Department of Geography and Urban Studies that examines the nature, causes and consequences of human interactions with the environment. Students in Environmental Studies gain the intellectual and methodological tools to understand and address the crucial environmental issues of our time and the impact on individuals, society, and the planet. Students are introduced to a physical lab science, an understanding of the economic system, and social science methods in order to prepare for our core courses.

The Environmental Studies core courses are designed to develop the theoretical and methodological frameworks and tools necessary to understand the relationships between people and their environment as they interact through local to global connections. Students examine environmental policy and the role of political institutions; environmental decision-making; natural hazards and risk assessment; environmental ethics and legal issues; and environmental justice. The electives give students the opportunity to develop an area of emphasis around their particular interests.

We encourage our students to incorporate a semester abroad and/or an internship into their plan of study. Each student's program is developed with a departmental advisor to suit individual interests and is designed to maximize educational and career opportunities. Our graduates find employment with government environmental agencies, nonprofits (domestic and international), citizens' organizations, consulting firms, and corporate environmental affairs departments. Many also go on to graduate programs in environmental studies, law, geography, planning, and other fields.

We offer the B.A. as well as a minor in Environmental Studies. Many of our students choose to complete a double major or a minor in a complementary discipline.

Internships

We encourage students to apply their skills and knowledge in a credit-bearing internship that utilizes their academic training. Assignments at planning, social service, environmental and other agencies, as well as at firms that specialize in mapping and geographic data analysis, have helped in securing employment opportunities. The internship is complemented by a seminar in which students discuss their experiences. Contact guses@temple.edu for more information on this opportunity.

Double-Counting Across Curricula

The ONLY courses that can double-count between the Geography and Urban Studies and Environmental Studies majors are: GUS 3161, GUS 4197, ENST/GUS 4078. When used for the major in either program, these courses may not be used to fulfill the minor elective requirements of the other program. Note GUS 4198 and ENST 4198 are NOT cross-listed seminars. Anyone pursuing a double major in GUS and ES must take both capstone courses.

Students may not combine a major or minor in Environmental Studies and a major or minor in Environmental Science in the College of Science and Technology.

Distinction in Major

Environmental Studies majors may graduate with distinction in major with a 3.5 in Environmental Studies coursework and a 3.0 GPA overall.

The French major helps students develop skills in reading, writing and oral communication while providing them with a rich understanding of the literature, cinema, history, and traditions of one of more Francophone cultures. In all classes, students focus on communication and communities, comparisons and connection, and culture. As they improve their linguistic skills and study various forms of cultural production from other nations, French majors also strengthen their ability to analyze and interpret in a way that contributes to their education above and beyond courses they take for the major. Through study at Temple, often enhanced by study abroad, French majors gain insight into their own identities and assumptions in relation to others. Majors complete the program with an ability to communicate, a grounding in literary tradition, and an awareness of cultural differences that has become increasingly important in the contemporary world.

The French major is a good preparation for a career that requires analytical thinking and communication skills in general, which includes the domains of education, business, government service, travel, and tourism. It is a good major or a second major for students planning to attend law or medical school. Studies have shown that learning a foreign language helps raise scores on the LSAT, GRE, and MCAT exams. This course of study also proves valuable to anyone who plans to work for a multinational corporation.

The French courses are often small, allowing students to get to know each other and their professors well. The program helps prepare students enrolled in the School of Education for careers teaching French and provides the opportunity to students enrolled in the Fox School of Business to acquire a certificate in French with a special course on French in the business world. Outside of class, students can share conversation and activities with an on-campus group for French speakers and gather at occasional film screenings and other events. Finally, those who are interested in publishing can help edit Temple's annual literary magazine for world languages, In Other Words.

The Department of Geography and Urban Studies combines the discipline of geography and the field of urban studies to offer a major that emphasizes geographic theory and methods to the study of urban and regional processes and problems in U.S. and international settings. Students majoring in Geography and Urban Studies are equipped with the intellectual and methodological tools necessary to understand and address a wide range of environmental, economic, social, and political challenges that are central to the well-being of billions of people around the globe in an urbanizing world. The major focuses on the three themes of globalization, sustainability, and social justice that are increasingly central to understanding such challenges and opportunities. Our fourth theme is geographic methods. There is a resurgence of interest in geographic theory and methods that examine the complexity of human-environmental interactions; the increasing interconnectedness of the global economy, environment, culture and politics; and the importance of place/context in people's daily lives. Students have the opportunity to gain skills in spatial statistics, geographic information systems (GIS), cartographic production and design, and qualitative methods that are highly valued by employers. We encourage our students to incorporate a semester abroad and/or an internship into their plan of study. Each student's program is developed with a departmental advisor to suit individual interests and is designed to maximize educational and career opportunities. Our graduates find employment with nonprofits (domestic and international), planning or government agencies, consulting firms, and citizens' organizations. Many also go on to graduate programs in geography, planning, environmental studies, law and other fields.

We offer the B.A. as well as a minor in Geography and Urban Studies. Many of our students choose to complete a double major or a minor in a complementary discipline.

*For students who are completing the General Education Program, no more than two courses at the 0800 and 0900 levels may be used to complete major requirements.
Note: GUS/ENST 4078 is not a writing-intensive course; students who elect this option must take another writing-intensive course in the Geography and Urban Studies department (in addition to GUS 4198-Capstone).

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed above and are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column.

Double-Counting Across Curricula

Many students elect to take a combination of the Geography and Urban Studies major or minor and the Environmental Studies major or minor and/or the Environmental Science major or minor as they are complementary programs, but there are limits in terms of which courses may count for the two curricula:

The ONLY courses that can double-count between the Geography and Urban Studies and Environmental Studies majors are: GUS 3161, GUS 4197, ENST/GUS 4078. When used for the major in either program, these courses may not be used to fulfill the minor elective requirements of the other program. Note GUS 4198 and ENST 4198 are NOT cross-listed seminars. Anyone pursuing a double major in GUS and ES must take both capstone courses.

Distinction in the Major

Geography and Urban Studies students can graduate with distinction if they have, at the time of graduation, a 3.5 GPA in the major and a 3.0 cumulative GPA.

Requirements for the Minor

GUS	Electives	Select five GUS electives, at least four of which must be 2000+ level.* Note: No electives may double-count between the Geography & Urban Studies minor and the Environmental Studies major or minor.	15
*One cognate course can substitute for an elective with written permission from the faculty advisor.
Total			18

Tracks

The department has identified several informal areas of concentration to assist students in making course selections. These do not constitute formal requirements but rather provide guidelines for developing a personalized curriculum. Students can focus on the following themes:

1. Urban Issues
2. Environmental Problems
3. International Development
4. Geographical Techniques

Gamma Theta Upsilon

We nominate students for membership in the National Honorary Society in Geography on the basis of GPA. Students, who are initiated annually, can submit articles to the GTU journal and apply for national scholarships.

Internships

We encourage students to apply their skills and knowledge in a credit-bearing internship that utilizes their academic training. Assignments at planning, social service, environmental and other agencies, as well as at firms that specialize in mapping and geographic data analysis, have helped in securing employment opportunities. The internship is complemented by a seminar in which students discuss their experiences. Contact guses@temple.edu for more information on this opportunity.

Double Major with the College of Education

Students may elect to earn certification in secondary school social studies by combining a major in Geography and Urban Studies with a major in Social Studies Education. Students may also earn certification through a Geography and Urban Studies major by following the 5-year B.A./M.A. program. For more information on this opportunity, please contact the CLA Academic Advising Center.

Certificates of Specialization in Travel & Tourism

Students may take a series of courses that examine the rapidly growing fields of tourism and recreation from an urban/geographical perspective. For more information please see the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management.

Certificate of Specialization in the Geography of Tourism

The courses in this certification program examine all the world's culture regions and the linkages among them. Students can elect courses relevant to either domestic or international tourism. Additional courses would then be chosen to help the student acquire a sense of place as well as strategies for learning about new locations.

Certificate in the Geography of Sports, Recreation & Tourism Planning

Students in this program who are interested in urban recreation and sports can take courses related to urban social and policy issues, while those interested in outdoor/rural recreation can take courses on environmental issues. The course on geographical information systems (GIS) is particularly relevant to tourism planning.

German is a major world language spoken in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, as well as in some communities in the United States. Whether you are interested in literature, music, theater, film, or art, German culture is a rich and exciting tradition. Temple's German program provides broad linguistic, cultural, and practical experiences to prepare students to participate meaningfully in the German-speaking world.

The German major and minor help students achieve their learning goals, whether they want to go on to use German to communicate with friends in Germany, Austria, or Switzerland; to engage in business with German partners; to work in government or in the media; or to participate in German culture. They develop skills in reading, writing, and oral communication while acquiring a rich understanding of the literature, cinema, history and culture of the German-speaking world.

Students who study German at Temple find that the program prepares them to do well in whatever they choose upon graduation; the German major is a good preparation for a career that requires analytical thinking and communication skills in general, which includes the domains of education, business, government service, travel, and tourism. It is a good major or second major for students planning to attend law school or medical school. Studies have shown that learning a foreign language helps raise scores on the LSAT, GRE, and MCAT examinations. This course of study also proves valuable to anyone who plans to work for a multinational corporation.

The German courses are often small, allowing students to get to know one another and their professors well. The program helps prepare students enrolled in the Fox School of Business to acquire a special language certificate including a special course on German in the business world. Outside of class, students can share conversations and activities informally or with the University German Society. In addition, they can publish their creative work in Temple's annual literary magazine for world languages, In Other Words.

The faster our lives change, the more we need to understand our past, reflect on our present, and make decisions for our future. History helps us to understand who we are and where we came from. It provides unique insights and perspectives for our personal and professional pursuits.

The History Department divides its courses between American History, European History, and non-Western History. Within each division, one can choose history courses in political, diplomatic, social, cultural, economic, gender, and ethnic history. Students should concentrate in one field of history and also be well-versed in the three main divisions.

Temple History graduates have gone into a wide range of careers; business, law, politics, education, historical preservation, and information resources are just a few of the many areas. History arms the student for a maximum amount of flexibility for career choices.

Temple students regularly participate in the intellectual life of the region through their connections to such organizations and institutions as the McNeil Center for Early American Studies, the Balch Institute for Ethnic Studies, the Pennsylvania Historical Society, the Atwater Kent Museum, and the American Philosophical Society.

The Department of History offers an Honors Program for majors with outstanding academic records. Qualified majors are invited to join Phi Alpha Theta, the History honor society. Both minors and majors participate in the Undergraduate History Association. Special Programs allow undergraduates to major in History and earn teaching certification, or to major in history and earn a Master's in Education in five years (program administered through the School of Education).

The History Major

The history major consists of a step approach. Courses numbered 0800 through 1999 are introductory level; courses numbered 2000-2999 are intermediate level, and courses numbered 3000-4999 are advanced level. Courses with "9" as a second digit are honors courses and are usually restricted to honors students.

The history major requires twelve courses (36 credits). Students must take two introductory level courses, of which one is selected from courses numbered 0800-1099 and one from courses numbered 1100-1999. Three courses (9 credits) are required at the 2000 level. Three elective courses (9 credits) are required at the 3000 level. All history majors take two required writing seminars: in the Junior year, students take a 3000 level writing course and in the Senior year, they take a complimentary Capstone course at the 4000 level. All writing intensive courses end in -96, -97 or -98. Finally, students may select two history courses (6 credits) at any level.

– Within these broad requirements, students must complete a minimum of two courses in U.S. history, two courses in European history, and three courses in Asian, African, Latin American or Global/Comparative history.

- Two of the courses in any category or level must be predominantly pre-1900 in content.
- Students should take four courses that represent an area of concentration based on some geographic or thematic intellectual rationale. The area of concentration should be defined in writing and approved by a departmental advisor ideally at the start of the junior year and no later than the start of the senior year.

Subject	Course #	Course Title	Hours	Attribute
Select one introductory course from:
History	0800-1099		3
Select one introductory course from:
History	1100-1899		3
Select three Intermediate courses:

Select one Capstone Writing Seminar at the 4000-level (ends in -96, -97, -98)			3	WI
Total			36

Students may not select more than two courses in a single department at the General Education level (0800-0999).

*Please note that the courses above also must satisfy the following content area distributional requirement: two U.S. History courses, two European History courses, and three Asian, African, Latin American or Global/Comparative History courses. Please note also that at least two of the twelve courses used to complete the major must be pre-1900 History courses.

Distinction in Major

To receive Distinction in Major, students must complete History 4934: Honors Historiography and Research Methods, and History 4997: Honors Thesis Seminar. The end product of the Honors Thesis Seminar is an Honors Thesis, which the student will present at a scholarly conference sponsored by the department. The Honors Thesis will also fulfill the History major's thesis/capstone requirement. Students must maintain a 3.4 GPA in all history courses and a 3.4 GPA in Temple courses overall. Students who are not in the University Honors Program will require special permission to enroll in History 4934 and 4997 – see the History Honors Scholar Program Director, Jay Lockenour (jay.lockenour@temple.edu).

History Honors Program

To participate in the History Honors Scholar Program, you must first apply to the University Honors office. Any History major who has earned or is in the process of earning 60 credits and has roughly a 3.7 cumulative GPA can apply for the program. The application form is available on the Honors web site: www.temple.edu/honors/index.html. Students in the program take six courses (18 credits), including History 4934: Honors Historiography and Research Methods, History 4997: Honors Thesis Seminar, and four upper-level Honors electives (any department). With careful planning, these Honors courses can ALSO fulfill the requirements for the History major, so that students need not delay graduation. For example, the Honors Thesis Seminar (4997) fulfills the normal "capstone/writing" requirement, and the electives, if chosen from History offerings, will also fulfill major requirements. Students must maintain a 3.4 GPA in History and a 3.4 GPA overall. Make an appointment to meet with the Director of the History Honors Scholar Program, Jay Lockenour (jay.lockenour@temple.edu), for advice on completing the application and to discuss your intellectual interests.

Requirements for the Minor

A History minor is an ideal complement to other majors and programs at Temple, from medicine to journalism, from computer science to finance, from film to marketing. Students with a minor in history are required to take six (6) courses totaling eighteen (18) semester hours. Of the six courses, at least two (2) must be numbered 2000 or above and at least one courses (1) must be numbered 3000 or above.

Jewish Studies is an interdisciplinary field that allows students to sample courses across the liberal arts curriculum at Temple University. Central to Jewish Studies is an examination of the history, culture, beliefs, customs, practices, texts, and languages of the Jewish people. It addresses the legacy of over 2,000 years of Jewish life as it has been lived in Jewish communities across the globe. At Temple we pay particular attention to contemporary issues of Jewish culture, identity, and practice. Students can either major or minor in Jewish Studies or do a certificate program in Jewish Secular Studies, a five-course mini-minor.

The Latin American Studies Major is an interdisciplinary program with a focus on the study of social problems of Latin America. Latin America's art, literature, and religious thought have been universally recognized for their high quality and contribution to world civilization. At the same time, extreme social inequality persists in Latin America in addition to rapid urban growth, dramatic ecological change, and political upheavals with powerful local and global implications. The Latin American Studies major offers a variety of courses that examine these issues. To complete the major, students must take twelve 3-credit courses in Latin American Studies and demonstrate a reading and speaking knowledge of Spanish or Portuguese.

Requirements for the Major

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below and are identified by "WI" in the Attribute column.

Requirements for the Minor

The Latin American Studies Minor enables students to combine the requirements of their majors with the study of Latin America. It is designed to be of particular value to students who intend to engage in technical, professional, business, or government work involving Latin America. To earn the minor, students must complete six 3-credit courses in subjects with a Latin American emphasis and demonstrate a reading knowledge and speaking facility of Spanish or Portuguese.

Please note: LASS Program counts as one introductory course and one elective.

Distinction in Major

Latin American Studies majors may graduate with distinction in the major if they have a GPA of at least 3.5 in the major and a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0.

Latin American Studies Semester (LASS)

The Latin American Studies Semester (LASS) has been offered every spring semester since 1973. It is a program designed to provide an intensive experience in the study of the Spanish language in combination with an interdisciplinary study of life and contemporary issues in Latin America.

LASS is an integration of several courses, totaling 17 semester hours credit, and must be taken as a package. Because of the credit-hour load and because the objective is to concentrate on Spanish and Latin American Studies, no other courses may be taken without prior approval.

The prerequisite for participation in LASS is two semesters of university-level Spanish or the equivalent. Students with more advanced levels of course background are encouraged to participate in the program as well. All participants in the program may expect to achieve marked improvement in Spanish fluency in only one semester.

- Morning sessions held from 9:00 to 11:50 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays offer language instruction and conversation practice at intermediate and advanced levels guided by native or near native speakers.
- Morning sessions held from 9:30 to 10:50 and from 11:00 to 12:20 on Tuesdays and Thursdays focus on Latin American culture and economic development.
- A LASS Seminar held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:10 to 3:00 highlights a series of topics in Latin American and Latino studies, includes presentations by guest speakers, and also provides for personal contact with the Latino community of Philadelphia.

An integral part of the LASS program is a three-week trip to the Costa Rica. The trip is akin to a laboratory in which students can practice their developing language skills. They experience firsthand a Latin American country's culture, history, and social development.

LGBT Studies analyzes gender, sexuality, and sexual orientation as they are understood by various disciplines and in cross-cultural perspectives. The minor enables students to become familiar with concepts, theories, history, literature, and political and sociological issues concerning the LGBT community. It also gives students an opportunity to examine and think critically about the intersections of sexuality, sex, and gender, and become aware of the diversity of attitudes about sexuality in different cultures and historical eras.

The Departments of Economics and Mathematics offer the Mathematical Economics program as a platform for systematic concentration in the mathematical approach to economics. Economics has progressed in the last several decades by making extensive use of mathematical techniques. As a result, students who wish to pursue graduate study in economics, finance, accounting, and other disciplines that make an extensive use of economics need a thorough grounding in both economics and mathematics. The Mathematical Economics curriculum provides this grounding with a broad selection of courses that cover all important areas of economics and the mathematical tools required for a critical, deep mastery of these areas. This program is especially recommended for those students who intend to pursue graduate studies in economics. The program and its requirements are described in full in the Intercollegial Programs section of this Bulletin.

A major in Neuroscience enables students to pursue a curriculum in several departments, colleges, and schools at Temple University in one of the most dynamic areas of science. Neuroscience is an interdisciplinary field addressing neural and brain function at multiple levels. It encompasses a broad domain that ranges from molecular genetics and neural development, to brain processes involved in cognition and emotion, to mechanisms and consequences of neurodegenerative disease. The field of neuroscience also includes mathematical and physical principles involved in modeling neural systems and in brain imaging. The undergraduate, interdisciplinary Neuroscience Major will culminate in a Bachelor of Science degree. Many high-level career options within and outside of the field of neuroscience are open to students with this major. This is a popular major with students aiming for professional careers in the health sciences such as in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, physical and occupational therapy, and veterinary science. Students interested in graduate school in biology, chemistry, communications science, neuroscience, or psychology are also likely to find the Neuroscience Major attractive.

The Bachelor of Science degree in Neuroscience includes 53-55 required credits: 19 credits in Neuroscience, 6-8 credits in electives on neuroscience topics from a variety of participating departments, and 28 credits of co-requisite courses in Biology, Chemistry, and Psychology. Students majoring in Neuroscience will be strongly encouraged to participate in research by taking courses in independent study as part of their elective credits for the major. Independent study opportunities will be offered in many of the laboratories of the more than 130 neuroscientist faculty members in the various colleges and schools participating in Temple University's Neuroscience Program.

Distinction in Neuroscience Major

Majors in Neuroscience: Systems, Behavior, Plasticity have the opportunity to be awarded departmental distinction upon graduation. Graduation with Distinction can be achieved by maintaining a Grade Point Average of 3.0 or better in all Neuroscience (NSI) Courses, completing two semesters of Independent Study in Neuroscience (NSI 4182 & 4282) with an A- or better, and successfully completing a neuroscience research project based on the independent study work and described in a research paper and poster presented to Neuroscience Program faculty and students.

Students should check prerequisites for all courses.

All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses.

Neuroscience Research Minor

The Neuroscience Research Minor expands opportunities for Temple students to get research experience and to become more competitive in their applications to graduate and professional schools. The required courses in the Neuroscience Research Minor focus on basic neuroscience, cellular and molecular neuroscience, and neuroscientific techniques. In addition to formal coursework, independent study resulting in a research project is required. The Neuroscience Research Project is a unique project developed over two semesters of independent study. The project is submitted in written form (research article format) and is presented to Neuroscience faculty members and graduate students as a poster. This project may not overlap with projects for other programs (e.g., Honors). Because of some overlap in coursework, the students must choose to minor in either the Neuroscience Research or the Cognitive Neuroscience minor.

The Philosophy Department offers a 36-credit B.A. degree program. The program is designed to provide a solid foundation for various professions in business, government, and professional schools (such as law), as well as an excellent background for the further study of philosophy. The department makes special provisions for students who have chosen the major as preparation for entry into law school. These students should follow a path slightly different from that of traditional majors, as indicated below. The Philosophy Department always has many majors who are transfer students. Students should be sure to see a departmental advisor to make the necessary adjustments for their progress through the major.

The Political Science major and minor provide a systematic study of politics in the United States (federal, state, and local) and foreign countries. Students will have an opportunity to compare United States politics and policy to those of other nations and to study the relationship among states within the international system. Special emphasis will be placed on using theoretical tools to study the role institutions and social relations play in shaping political outcomes, as well as the relationship between politics and economics (political economy).

The key educational goal for political science students is analytical thinking. Students will recognize and understand various patterns in the distribution of political power and recurrent models of political behavior. Students will also gain insight into the relationship between the distribution of resources and power within society and political outcomes. As politics inherently involves how societies distribute life opportunities, students will also reflect upon the moral choices involved in political life. The department teaches students how to develop the capacity to conduct empirical research in order to illuminate and revise theoretical models of politics. Students will be expected to use a full range of data and to write clearly.

Political Science graduates pursue a wide range of careers. They may work in government offices (at all levels), political campaigns, private voluntary organizations, unions and community organizations, as well as the private sector. Some pursue teaching careers. A degree in Political Science is also excellent preparation for law school.

The department can arrange internships, which are typically linked to academic study. In addition, our Experiential Learning Program offers internships combined with academic seminars every term.

The department has two important student organizations: the Political Science Majors Association and the Political Science Honor Society - Pi Sigma Alpha, Temple Chapter.

Course Sequencing for Political Science Majors

Students begin the major by taking four introductory courses (POLS 1101: The American Political System, POLS 1201: Foreign Government and Politics, POLS 1301: International Politics, and POLS 2496: Introduction to Political Philosophy). Courses should be sequenced so that students take the introductory courses before the upper-level courses. POLS 1101 is an introduction to U.S. politics and should be taken before upper-level courses in this area. Similarly, POLS 1201 introduces foreign governments and precedes upper-level courses in this field. POLS 1301 introduces international politics and is a prerequisite for upper-level courses in this subject matter. POLS 2496 introduces political theory and should be taken after a student has had several Political Science courses and should precede upper-level theory courses.

Once the introductory courses are completed, students can move on to the electives at the upper level (numbered 2000-4999), of which 3 are needed. Students should pay particular attention to the order in which they take the research methods-capstone sequence (which is taken concurrent with the electives; see notes below). The first course in this sequence is Evidence and Knowledge (POLS 2503), a research design course that teaches students how to conduct empirical research, an essential skill for successfully completing the upper-level courses. Evidence and Knowledge will lay the foundation for the next two capstone preparation courses (POLS 3501-3599). These research-intensive courses focus on an advanced topic, like other upper level courses, but they also place an emphasis on sharpening the research skills covered in the first course. Once two capstone prep/research intensive courses are completed, the student enrolls in a capstone seminar, the culminating experience of the Political Science major.

Special Programs

Political Science Honors Program: The Political Science Honors Program is designed to give highly motivated Political Science students the opportunity to take academically rigorous honors seminars with other honors students, and to acquire the skills necessary to undertake in-depth independent research on topics of interest. The Department's Honors Program is excellent preparation for graduate school, and deepens the information literacy goals of the General Education requirement.

Political Science majors who have completed their sophomore year with a 3.6 GPA or above are eligible to be a member of the Departmental Honors Program in Political Science. Departmental Honors students are allowed to take the junior (POLS 3996) and senior (POLS 4996) capstones. Students who pass both capstones with a B or better will graduate with Distinction in the Major. In addition, POLS 3996 counts as an upper-level elective and writing intensive course and POLS 4996 counts as the senior capstone requirement.

Admission into the Departmental Honors Program

Eligible students will be contacted via e-mail in the spring semester. Students who believe they are eligible for the program but who were not contacted are encouraged to contact the Political Science Honors Director, Dr. Orfeo Fioretos, kof@temple.edu.

Funding and Support: Honors Program students may apply for financial support to cover research-related activities, such as visits to archives, travel to present a scholarly paper, etc., through the Creative Arts, Research and Scholarship (CARAS) Program: www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/CARAS.htm.

Funding is also available through the Diamond Research Scholars Program: www.temple.edu/vpus/opportunities/ResearchScholars.htm.

Honors students are also encouraged to submit their completed senior thesis to the Library Prize for Undergraduate Research: <http://guides.temple.edu/libraryprize>.

Internship/Experiential Learning: The internship experience provides students the opportunity to learn more about the discipline in an actual work placement. Students may count up to 6 credits towards the requirements of the major (major electives) in approved, unpaid internship placements. (Additional credits may count toward free electives; check with your academic advisor.) Interested students should write to Dr. Orfeo Fioretos, Undergraduate Chairperson, kof@temple.edu, for more information.

The Pennsylvania Capital Semester: Open to students in any major, the Pennsylvania Capital Semester is an internship semester in Harrisburg where juniors and seniors have the opportunity to explore government affairs, policy making and implementation first-hand while earning full-time credits and staying on track to graduation. Internships are customized for the student, as Temple makes the initial contacts and sets up interviews. Students take two required courses including an internship seminar, and State Politics and Policy, in addition to the internship experience and any other courses. For further information go to www.temple.edu/ipa, or contact: Michelle J. Atherton, Assistant Director, Institute for Public Affairs, 840 Anderson Hall, 215-204-9074, mjather@temple.edu.

Pre-Law Studies: Political Science is one of the most popular majors for pre-law students. Although law schools neither give preference to any particular major nor require any specific undergraduate courses, they do make some general recommendations about getting a sound Liberal Arts education. Students should visit the CLA web site, www.temple.edu/claprelaw/, for more information.

In general, pre-law students should develop skills in communicating ideas in both written and spoken form. In addition, pre-law students should sharpen their analytical abilities and ability to think logically. Law schools also recommend that pre-law students acquire in-depth understanding of at least one social science (such as Political Science). Finally, some knowledge of business structure and terminology may be useful in law school. For further information, students interested in pre-law studies should contact Dr. Paul Crowe in the Philosophy Department, pcrowe@temple.edu or Ms. Elizabeth Reynard, ereynard@temple.edu in the Academic Advising Center.

Study Abroad: Temple provides a number of opportunities for students to study abroad; and the experience of living in, and meeting people from, other cultures; seeing different countries; and learning a foreign language can greatly enrich the undergraduate experience. The Office of Education Abroad and Overseas Campuses (200 Tuttleman Learning Center; phone: 215-204-0720; www.temple.edu/studyabroad/) has information on a variety of programs abroad. Temple study abroad locations include Tokyo, Rome, London, Paris, Germany, and Mexico.

The Political Economy Certificate Program: The Department of Political Science and the Department of Economics offer an interdisciplinary program leading to a Certificate in Political Economy. The program focuses on the interaction between government and the economy and is ideal preparation for students planning careers in either the public or private sector. It also provides an excellent foundation for graduate studies in law, the social sciences, and public administration. The program is open to all matriculated students in the university. Contact Dr. Richard Deeg, rdeeg@temple.edu, for specific details and requirements.

Student Organizations

The Political Science Majors Association is the organization of all Political Science majors at Temple University. The primary purpose of the association is to represent the opinions and interests of undergraduate majors within the Political Science Department. The association sponsors activities for undergraduate majors, including career forums, lectures, student and faculty mixers, law and graduate forums, seminars on popular topics, and trips to Harrisburg.

Pi Sigma Alpha is the national Political Science Honor Society, into which students who have distinguished themselves in the field of political science are inducted. Inquiries about membership should be directed to the faculty advisor of Pi Sigma Alpha, Dr. Robin Kolodny, rkolodny@temple.edu.

Psychology identifies several learning goals for each level of instruction in the program. At the introductory level (generally 1000-level courses, including 1061, 1071 and 1167), goals include familiarity with the discipline as it is grounded in both the social and the natural sciences, as well as familiarity with basic descriptive statistical applications. At the Foundation level (generally 2000-level courses), there are two sets of goals. One set is directed toward the further development of critical thinking. This is achieved through two courses, 2168 (Inferential Methods in Psychology) and 2196 (Scientific Thinking in Psychology), which prepare students dispassionately to examine conflicting claims, to analyze data, to organize research papers, and generally to become more proficient with the scientific process. The second set of goals includes familiarity with a spectrum of content areas in the discipline, which are broadly organized in two groups: Developmental/Clinical/Social (DCS) and Bio-Behavioral Cognitive (BBC). Students are required to choose at least one course from each of these two general areas, and this ensures familiarity with a scope of information across two content areas. At the Advanced level (generally 3000-level courses), students are required to select three courses, either continuing with a broad selection or choosing to delve into greater depth in one area, such as clinical psychology. Finally, at the 4000 level, Capstone is the only course offered. This 4-credit writing-intensive course is designed to help students integrate their knowledge base, to develop further the critical and writing skills they have developed, and generally to synthesize their knowledge of the discipline.

Psychology 3791, 3891, 4791, and 4891 Collaborative Research

One to four terms of Psychology 3791 - 4891 may be taken as elective psychology credit and helps fulfill the CLA upper-level course requirement. Your student advisor has information on the research interests of the faculty. You must contact the faculty member with whom you plan to work and receive their approval prior to registration. Working with a faculty member on a research project can be a very valuable experience, and this course is an important one to have on your record when making application to graduate school. The maximum credit permissible for 3791 - 4891 is 16 s.h.; a maximum of 4 credits each in 3791, 3891, 4791 and 4891.

Psychology 3785 - 3787 Internship

Designed for those who want to experience psychology in the workplace, the internship allows students to apply theory to real-life situations, build an employment record, and complement future applications for graduate work in psychology or social work. Work placements are available in a number of different applications in psychology, including, but not limited to: organizational, applied behavior analysis; education; clinical and counseling psychology; opportunities to work with autistic children; probation officers; and a variety of other placements. Each setting offers students a range of employment options that link classroom learning with practical experience. Students graduating from the program will have on-the-job experience as well as recommendations and job performance evaluations so that they can move easily from their undergraduate studies into psychology-related job opportunities or into graduate schools with an applied focus. Contact Peter James for information about our internships, 215-204-3409 or pjames@temple.edu.

Distinction in Major

Students earn Distinction in Major upon completion of the Psychology Honors program.

The Psychology Honors Program:

Honors students take honors courses from the Psychology 3991–4996 sequence in the Junior and Senior years. Independent study is guided by a faculty sponsor whose research interests coincide with the student's, and seminars deal with topics in research design as well as the substantive issues arising out of the student's research. Grade requirement is a 3.5 GPA across all courses. Contact Dr. K. Hirsh-Pasek, e-mail: khirshpa@temple.edu.

Cognitive Neuroscience Minor

Students in the College of Liberal Arts (including Psychology majors) as well as students in other colleges, schools, and departments may choose to minor in Cognitive Neuroscience. No more than two courses can be double-counted for the Psychology major and the Cognitive Neuroscience minor. Cognitive Neuroscience is an interdisciplinary field with a focus on a fundamental mystery of science: how the mind arises from the brain. A minor in Cognitive Neuroscience will strengthen the academic record of students who plan to apply for graduate programs. For example, in Psychology this minor will strengthen applicants' records for specializations such as Behavioral Neuroscience, Clinical Neuropsychology, Cognitive Psychology, or Psychophysiology. Students might also go into General Neuroscience or Cognitive Science. Pre-med students with a Cognitive Neuroscience minor would present distinctive profiles to medical school admissions offices.

Students must complete successfully the following courses with a grade of C- or better:

Religion is a pervasive, powerful, multifaceted, and enduring dimension of human experience. Religions have shaped complex cultures and countless individual lives. They are influential in the world today and will continue to be so in the future. The academic study of religion is multidisciplinary, drawing upon approaches from history, literary studies, philosophy, and the social sciences. It is multicultural, exploring the beliefs, practices, and development of particular religious communities in many different cultures.

Russian is a major world language spoken by more than 150 million people in the Russian Federation, Ukraine, Belarus, Kazakhstan, the Baltic States, the Caucasus, and right here in Philadelphia, as well as in every other large American city. Russian is the national (official) language of Russia, Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan and is used as a lingua franca throughout Central Asia. It is also one of the official working languages of the United Nations. Russian is the language of the booming Russian economy, one of the largest producers of oil, gas, coal, diamonds, gold, copper, steel, and timber. A tremendous market for U.S. goods and services, Russia is also beginning to increase its exports to the United States, especially in the energy sector. Students who study Russian can go on to enjoy exciting and fulfilling careers in international business.

Russia is also the birthplace of one of the world's most fascinating cultures. Whether you are interested in literature (think Dostoevsky and Tolstoy, Pasternak and Akhmatova), music (think Tchaikovsky and Stravinsky), theater (think Stanislavsky and Chekhov), film (think Eisenstein, Tarkovsky and Sokurov) or art (think Kandinsky, Malevich, and Chagall), Russian culture is a rich and exciting tradition that has been of critical importance for the development of world culture.

Temple's Russian program helps students achieve their learning goals, whether they want to go on to use Russian to communicate with Russian friends, to engage in business with Russian partners, to work in government or in the media, or to study Russian culture. Our courses are designed in accordance with the National Standards for Foreign Language Learning (see www.actfl.org and click on "Publications"). Students of Russian at Temple:

- Learn to communicate in Russian with native speakers of Russian and participate in Russian-speaking communities, whether in Philadelphia, Russia, or, through study abroad and/or use of technology, anywhere else in the world;
- Develop an appreciation of Russian culture and cultural practices and perspectives including not only the landmark works of literature, art, architecture, and music, but also Russian cultural behaviors, traditions, and expectations;
- Apply their knowledge of Russian to make connections to other disciplines, such as History, Political Science, Geography, and Economics, using Russian and English-language sources to compare Russian, American, and other cultures to understand Russia and the USA in a global context;
- Enhance their understanding of the English language and their written and spoken communication skills in both Russian and English; and
- Develop language learning skills and strategies they can apply to the continued study of Russian language and culture (after completion of their program at Temple) or to the study of other languages and cultures.

Students who study Russian at Temple find that the Russian program prepares them to do well in whatever they choose upon graduation; our program teaches students to think, read, and write critically. The word Russian stands out on students' résumés and transcripts. Students of Russian go on to careers in business, media, government service, and work in non-profit agencies; some choose to go to graduate or professional school before embarking on careers in law, medicine or government service. Russian is considered a language of national strategic significance and numerous federal agencies give preference to job candidates with Russian language expertise. Many students who major in Russian do so in combination with another major.

The Temple Russian program strongly encourages students to participate in study abroad through accredited programs and is ready to help students apply for scholarships to help make that possible. Students participating in recognized programs in Russia, such as those sponsored by the American Council of Teachers of Russian (www.actr.org), the Council on International Educational Exchange (www.ciee.org), or the School of Russian and Asian Studies (www.sras.org), as well as in other study abroad programs as approved by the faculty advisor, receive credit towards the Russian major for courses taken in Russia on study abroad. See the faculty advisor for more details, and visit Temple University's Education Abroad and Overseas Campuses office in the Tuttleman Learning Center (www.temple.edu/studyabroad/) for more information.

Note: The Russian Curricula will be phased out beginning in the 2012-13 academic year. If you intend to declare a major, minor, or Certificate program in Russian, you must do so during the Fall 2012 semester.

Sociology is the study of human behavior in the context of the groups, organizations, institutions, and societies in which it occurs. The sociology department offers courses covering a wide range of topics, including: contemporary social issues, race and racism, sexuality and gender, health and health care, education, urban life, housing, organizations, family, political life, popular culture, immigration, law, international development and globalization. The sociological perspective pays close attention to diversity in culture, values, and human experience.

Majoring in sociology prepares students for many careers and graduate programs by providing both a broad sociological perspective and specific research, statistical and analytic skills. Students gain experience in fieldwork and interviewing; they develop, administer and analyze surveys and statistics; and they write research reports. Sociology provides an excellent background for students planning to begin their careers upon graduation as well as those planning to pursue graduate education. Recent graduates have gone to work and graduate school in the areas of law, medicine, business, non-profits, community planning, social work, market research, and education. Students who are interested in a career in the health field can pursue a special sociology major focused on health-related coursework. The Health Track in Sociology prepares students for graduate studies in leading medical, dental, nursing, public health, and physical and occupational therapy programs as well as graduate programs in sociology and related fields.

Student Organizations and Opportunities

Sociology majors and minors are encouraged to participate in the Sociology Organization for Undergraduate Leadership (SOUL), which hosts academic, community service, and social events throughout the year. The department sponsors the Annual Student Research Conference in which students can present their work.

Awards

Awards available to sociology majors include the Robert K. Merton Award, the Sociology Prize, the Benjamin and Irma Robboy Award, and the Othella Vaughn Award.

Distinction in the Major

Sociology majors graduate with distinction in the major if they have a GPA of 3.5 or higher in the major and a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.25.

The Department of Spanish and Portuguese provides instruction in the languages, cultures, and literatures of Spain, Spanish America, and the Luso-Brazilian world. It also teaches specialized courses in Business, Legal and Medical Spanish, including their translation. Coursework at the undergraduate level in Spanish, Catalan, or Portuguese develops proficiency of the four basic skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Opportunities are also available for the in-depth study of Hispanic and Luso-Brazilian culture. Students may participate in special programs, including an intensive immersion program in Spanish and Latin American Studies; service learning and internships in areas of business, social service, and education in Philadelphia; and diverse programs abroad. Temple's computer language center, the special learning environment for the foreign languages, is available to students of all proficiency levels.

Spanish and Portuguese organizations and activities include, for instance, the scholarly publications of the Society of Spanish and Spanish-American Studies and the recognition of outstanding students as they are inducted into Sigma Delta Pi, the National Hispanic Honor Society. Moreover, the department faculty remains very active in research.

Graduates of the Department of Spanish and Portuguese find careers in a wide range of areas, including education, business, government, and social service.

Spring in Spain Program

The Temple Semester in Spain Program takes place over the spring semester in Oviedo, Spain. The 15-credit program combines coursework with faculty from the International Program at the University of Oviedo and with a Temple faculty member, who directs the program. All courses are pre-approved for Temple University credit. Courses focus on aspects of Spanish language, Spanish culture, and Spanish literature. The program develops Spanish skills over a semester of intensive study in a Spanish-speaking environment; it also provides the opportunity to complete a number of Spanish courses that may be used to satisfy the requirements for the Temple minor or major in Spanish. It includes an initial orientation week in Madrid. In Oviedo, lodging and meals are with Spanish families. For information, contact the Office of Education Abroad and Overseas Campuses or Dr. Jaime Duran (jduran@temple.edu), the Program Director, in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese.

Application for permission to study abroad may be made during the second semester of the sophomore year. Only well-qualified students may be granted credit from Temple University after submitting proper credentials for established foreign study programs at institutions approved by the department. Students interested in a junior year abroad, or a summer school abroad, should discuss their plans early with their faculty advisor and the chair of the department.

Women's Studies offers a cohesive framework of inquiry for the examination of women, gender, and sexuality in the U.S. and around the world, as they relate to other social categories, such as race, class, disability, nationality, and ethnicity. As an interdisciplinary field, Women's Studies takes into account social, historical, and cultural variables in its study of women's material and cultural experiences as a social group; the examination of the workings of gender as an analytical category, identity, and social force; and the social, political, and cultural functioning of sexuality. Women's Studies also seeks to transform traditional fields of study by incorporating new methodologies, data, theories, and frameworks developed by feminist scholars.

Temple University's Women's Studies Program is part of the College of Liberal Arts. It offers an undergraduate major and minor, as well as a certificate for students outside the College of Liberal Arts. In preparation for graduate school, Women's Studies majors have the opportunity to graduate with distinction in the major after completing an honors thesis.

The Women's Studies Program offers students the opportunity to study women, gender, and sexuality through an interdisciplinary curriculum taught by faculty from various departments across the university. Students learn to apply the methods and theories of social scientists, historians, philosophers, literary critics, etc., to the study of women's experiences, as well as gender and sexual identities. They explore a growing body of feminist theories that revise our understanding of gender, society, and culture. We encourage students not only to understand intellectually the importance of class, race, sexuality, physical ability, and gender to people's lives but also to learn actively through fieldwork (community internship). After graduation, Women's Studies students enter professional schools in law, medicine and business; take graduate degrees in the humanities and social sciences; and pursue careers in health, counseling, teaching, and public advocacy.

SCHOOL OF MEDIA & COMMUNICATION

Founded 1967

Goals and Objectives

The mission of the School of Media and Communication (SMC) is to provide leadership in advancing the role of communication in public life. This mission is pursued through the training of students for leadership careers in media and communications, through advancing research and creative activity in these fields, and through serving the public need for free and open communication. The school is concerned not only with high standards of professional work but also with encouraging the next generation of teachers and media managers to develop an intellectual background and a sense of social responsibility. Toward this end, SMC students are encouraged to take coursework in disciplines outside the school. For some, history and political science are related areas of interest; others choose literature and the arts; still others choose business, economics, or the social sciences. In this way, the school participates in providing not only professional training but also a broad humanistic education for its students.

The faculty of the school comes from diverse backgrounds. Some have extensive professional experience as journalists, television producers, speech writers, advertising executives, and public relations practitioners. Others have come to Media and Communication through academic study, doing graduate work and continuing the practice of research and scholarship while teaching at Temple.

Renowned for their professional experience, research, and teaching, our faculty prepare our graduates for a wide range of careers in communication industries, as well as lead graduate students towards Ph.D., M.F.A., M.A., and M.J. degrees.

History

The study of communication began formally at Temple University with the founding of the Department of Journalism in 1927. It was the first such department in the Commonwealth.

Theater was an extracurricular activity at Temple until 1931, when formal courses were developed.

Radio-Television became an instructional division in 1947, and extensive film offerings were added in 1967. That year, Journalism and Radio-Television-Film joined Theater to form the School of Communications and Theater. In 1987 the highly-respected Department of Speech moved to the school from the College of Arts and Sciences. A year later, Speech became two departments: Rhetoric and Communication, and Speech-Language-Hearing.

The school was restructured in 1995. Radio-Television-Film became the Department of Film and Media Arts and the Department of Broadcasting, Telecommunications, and Mass Media; Journalism became Journalism, Public Relations, and Advertising; Rhetoric and Communication became Speech Communication. In 1998, the Department of Communication Sciences (Speech-Language-Hearing) moved to the College of Health Professions.

Effective Fall 2004, a change occurred with the Departments of Journalism, Public Relations and Advertising, and Speech Communication. Advertising became a separate department. The Department of Speech Communication changed its name to Strategic and Organizational Communication and includes Public Relations as one of three concentrations: Public Communication (formerly Speech Communication), Public Relations, and Organizational Leadership. In 2010, the Department of Strategic and Organizational Communication changed its name to the Department of Strategic Communication.

On July 1, 2012, the School of Communications and Theater was renamed the School of Media and Communication. It houses the departments of Advertising; Journalism; Media Studies and Production (formerly Broadcasting, Telecommunications, and Mass Media); and Strategic Communication. The Communication Studies program remains a part of the School of Media and Communication. The Departments of Theater and Film and Media Arts will form the Division of Film, Media Arts, and Theater and will join Boyer School of Music and Dance and the Tyler School of Art to form the Center for the Arts. For more information, students and parents may visit: <http://sct.temple.edu/web/realignment/>.

Also in 2012, the Department of Broadcasting, Telecommunications, and Mass Media changed its name to Media Studies and Production while the Department of Strategic Communication renamed the Public Communication concentration to Rhetoric and Public Advocacy.

Special Facilities

The School of Media and Communication is housed in buildings designed for teaching, research, and production.

The primary location of the School is Annenberg Hall, which houses the Departments of Advertising; Journalism; and Media Studies and Production. Television and film production areas (studios and editing, graphics, and film labs) occupy the first floor. The building also includes extensive video and film editing areas, a 75-seat multimedia screening room, photographic labs, two news writing labs and smart classrooms.

The Department of Strategic Communication is housed in Weiss Hall.

The Joe First Media Center, SMC's newest addition, is located on the first floor, linking Annenberg and Tomlinson Halls. The center is a communications and media hub for the school and includes a cyber-café, a multimedia information center, and a venue for displaying student work.

Special Programs

TUTV - Temple University Television

In Fall 2010, the university launched TUTV, a new regional cable television channel with associated new media platforms, which will showcase the innovative work done by Temple students, faculty, and alumni.

TUTV offices and master control are located on the first floor of Annenberg Hall and is a part of the Kal & Lucille Rudman Media Production Center. The Rudman Center also features a broadcast studio and a computer-equipped classroom. The station features news, sports, music, comedy, and documentary programs. TUTV presents content from many of the university's other professional schools, plus programs produced in association with community cultural groups and professional broadcasters. Student volunteers are also accepted. For more information, contact the TUTV General Manager at paul.gluck@temple.edu.

Temple Update

Temple Update is a production course in which students can gain experience producing, reporting, and editing for a half-hour weekly news magazine format. The program airs on a cable outlet. The course gives students the opportunity to produce material for a résumé tape and provides students with valuable experience in field work, news writing, video editing, and the pressure of a live program.

Center for Student Professional Development (CSPD)

The Student Affairs Office within the School of Communications and Theater launched a new Center for Student Professional Development (CSPD) during the Fall 2010 semester. The CSPD offers professional development programming in a newly renovated space, which includes computers for job searching, résumé writing, cover letter writing, and job-related research; reference books; and a space for small group professional development workshops. The CSPD partners with the Career Center to offer specialized programming for School of Media and Communication students. Programming will include a variety of offerings related to job search preparation, the graduate school application process, and undergraduate research opportunities. For more information, please contact the manager of the CSPD, Patrick Gordon, at pgordon@temple.edu.

Internship Program

Although the requirements may vary, internships are available to junior and senior students of every department in the school. Internships are for academic credit and must involve professional activity related to the student's course of study. The internships must be approved by the administrator or faculty member charged with supervising internships.

Study Away

The School of Media and Communication offers several programs for students who are interested in studying away and strongly encourages students to participate in these programs.

The school offers a program in London for undergraduate and graduate students. Students spend either the fall or spring semester in London studying British theater and media as well as journalism and advertising with an international faculty.

Enrollment in the London program is also open to qualified students from other universities and colleges to foster an intellectual exchange among students of varied collegiate backgrounds. Courses are designed to make the best use of the uniqueness of London and the United Kingdom.

Summer Study Away programs are also an important feature of the school's special programs. Realizing the inestimable value of direct contact with professionals and other experts, the School of Media and Communication offers an annual summer seminar in London on British Mass Media. These seminars are offered for graduate and undergraduate credit and can be an integral part of a student's coursework.

Temple Dublin is a month-long program offered by the School of Media and Communication which allows students to experience the old and the new Dublin within a challenging academic experience. The two-course program includes a foundational course on Irish Identity taught by a Dublin professor and a course on Irish media and arts taught by the school's faculty director.

Temple South Africa is a new 6-week program as of summer 2011. This program offers students an opportunity to produce journalistic and documentary narrative or to conduct media research. The journalism option will allow students to experience what it would be like to work as a foreign correspondent in South Africa. The research option will offer students an opportunity to conduct research on topics related to mass media, communication technologies, politics, culture and economics in southern Africa. The program was suspended in 2012, but it is expected to continue in 2013.

Temple New York is a new program as of summer 2012. This program investigates the communicative components of New York City by focusing on its neighborhoods, organizations, and institutions. Students may also undertake an internship or academic experience component as part of this study-away experience and attend regular events and excursions.

The summer programs, like the academic year programs, are open to qualified students from other universities and colleges and to others who choose to continue their education in a less formal manner than in a prescribed program of study, although in South Africa program, preference may be given to Temple students.

SMC is also in the process of developing new Study Away programs. Check with the Study Away advisor for information on these developments. Current information on the SMC programs listed here is available from SMC Study Away at 215-204-2677 or 215-204-6535.

See Education Abroad for more information about University Study Abroad options.

Advising

SMC Student Affairs/Advising

[http://sct.temple.edu/web/undergraduate/advising/
advise@temple.edu](http://sct.temple.edu/web/undergraduate/advising/advice@temple.edu)

Students in the School of Media and Communication are advised by professional academic advisors and faculty advisors. New students (up to 30 credits), transfer students in their first semester, interdepartmental majors, undeclared students, and students on academic probation make advising appointments in SMC Student Affairs/Advising, located on the ground floor of Annenberg Hall. All other students are advised by faculty in their respective departments. Consult your departmental office for assignment to the appropriate advisor.

Academic advisors attempt to avoid errors when advising students about their program requirements, but schools and colleges cannot assume liability for errors in advising. Therefore, students must assume primary responsibility for knowing the requirements for their degree and for acquiring current information about their academic status.

Most students will be eligible to register for classes online via Self Service Banner through the TU Portal. However, all students should meet with an advisor prior to the eligible registration period.

Students preparing to graduate must file the necessary paperwork one semester prior to the graduation date. At that time, an appointment should be made in SMC Student Affairs/Advising to complete a graduation review and application for graduation.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see the Undergraduate Academic Policies section of this Bulletin. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies as well as those of the School of Media and Communication that appear below.

The Department of Advertising offers students professionally-oriented courses focused on preparing them for a wide variety of careers, rooted in marketing communications in a media-defined global society.

Advertising is a major industry, serving major businesses at the intersection of media and society. Students in a professional department dedicated to the study of advertising will learn, and graduates will be well grounded in the art of marketing communications in a modern, high tech, media intense, interconnected world. They must comprehend the nexus of economic communications and social communications. They must be positioned to succeed in professional careers and to respond wisely as citizens, consumers, and community leaders.

Based on the evidence from over 5,000 survey questionnaires, full-time advertising students at Temple University fall into clearly-defined groups:

- Students energetically interested in advertising as a career
- Students who have creative talent and wish to express it
- Students who are broadly interested in media and the power and mystery of advertising
- Students interested in marketing, sales, or business, but who do not wish to major in business or finance
- Students who think advertising will be a fun way to get a job-oriented college degree
- Students in the Department of Advertising will learn:
 - How to identify appropriate research designs for understanding consumer wants, needs, and communication behavior, and be able to interpret the results for developing brand and advertising strategies
 - How to conceive, write, design and produce advertising in all media formats which can be measured against marketing objectives and strategies
 - How to establish strategies and to negotiate executions for the investment of advertising dollars in all media vehicles and how to evaluate the results
 - How to manage client relations and the process of producing advertising from strategy through production at a profit

The Advertising Department consists of three major tracks:

1. Creative – Copywriting or Art Direction

Students following the Creative Track will take three advanced courses in either copywriting or art direction. These advanced courses prepare students for the competitive world of creative writing and creative art direction in the field of advertising. The Portfolio class provides students the opportunity to work in teams and to work on the production of a professional-grade portfolio.

Students following the Creative Copywriting track take Advertising 3022, 3023 and 4064.

Students following the Creative Art Direction track take Advertising 3052, 3053 and 4064.

Note: Students concentrating in Art Direction must demonstrate competency in computer software, such as the Adobe Suite. Students are advised to see an Art Direction faculty member prior to enrolling in ADV 3052.

2. Management

This track provides instruction for the advertising generalist, the account executive, and the media expert. In the three advanced management courses (Advertising 3032, 3033 and 4034), students follow the leadership path in organization, command, and control of the advertising function. Advanced Media prepares students for the complex, fragmented media landscape of today's world. Note: Students in the Management concentration may substitute ADV 1004 for ADV 2151 and ADV 3031 for ADV 3032.

3. Research

Students following this track will receive training that guides them in conducting surveys, analyzing data, testing copy, studying America's changing demographics, and attempting to get ahead of the fashion trend curve. Ways of tracking the success of traditional as well as alternative advertising vehicles and the mass media in general are studied. Students following the Research track take Advertising 3042, 3043 and 4044.

Internships or Diamond Edge Communications

All majors are required to take either an internship or be involved with Diamond Edge Communications (DEC), our student-run ad agency. Both offer students valuable hands-on experience in actual production: ads, logos, surveys, brochures, etc. DEC works with local Philadelphia clients and sometimes, working in groups, takes on a national advertising competition. In terms of internships, students will be directed to a number of quality situations where they will have the opportunity to work in relevant professional ways for course credit.

Communication Studies is a studies-based interdisciplinary major. It features the academic (aesthetic, analytical, critical, historical, theoretical) and interdisciplinary study of communication as represented by the departments included within the School of Media and Communication.

Designed to ensure flexibility and choice, Communications Studies allows students a chance to fully investigate multiple fields in the communications discipline. Emphasis is placed on providing an overview of Communication while also accentuating personal academic growth. Personal choice and options allow students a chance to complete the degree in a timely manner. In this interdisciplinary program, Communication Studies students will select Policy, Regulation and Advocacy; Contemporary Media Environments; Global Civil Society; or Arts in the Public Sphere as a distinctive area of investigation. A Major of Distinction track is also available for advanced scholars. The flexibility of the Communications Studies program offers students access to the field experiences, internships, and study away experiences vital to a comprehensive education. Students with a number of skill sets and academic interest areas are often drawn to this innovative program and graduates are poised for a number of professional and academic possibilities, such as graduate, law, or professional school. Graduates of this program will be well-suited to pursue a variety of positions across numerous aspects of the Communications field.

Students receive cross-curricular expertise through foundation and core courses. Academic rigor and student choice are at the very core of the program. Choices allow a student flexibility and curricular oversight ensures a solid, academically robust education. Courses are designed to allow student progress to be monitored at yearly intervals. Experiential learning is promoted, particularly during the junior and senior years. Cross cultural exchanges and experiences are integral aspects of the program's design. Advanced scholars have a distinct and individualized track.

B) Major of Distinction (Communication Studies Thesis Track)

The Major of Distinction is an academically rigorous program for students who wish to construct an interdisciplinary curriculum that meets their individual interests across the SCT departments. In the Major of Distinction, each student works individually with a faculty advisor from a relevant SCT department to build a curriculum that goes beyond that offered by the tracks above. The student completes five courses, four of which must be at the 3000 or 4000 level, and in the senior year completes a two-semester thesis. A student in the Major of Distinction must have completed three semesters of a foreign language (or equivalent with the approval of the Director of Communication Studies) by the time of graduation. If appropriate to the student's research, an advanced methods or theory course may be required by the student's faculty advisor.

Students apply for a Major of Distinction in the second semester of their sophomore year. To be considered, students must be on schedule to complete their Foundational and Core Communications courses by the end of their sophomore year. Also, students must have earned at least a 3.5 cumulative grade point average (GPA) in their Foundational and Core Communications courses along with a 3.25 overall GPA. Students must submit an application to the Director of Communication Studies that includes a statement of student's interest, a proposed curriculum, and a support letter from a full-time SCT faculty member willing to act as student's faculty advisor.

Once accepted into the Major of Distinction and in consultation with his or her faculty advisor and the Director of Communication Studies, each student constructs his or her own curriculum. The curriculum must contain five courses, four of which must be at the 3000 or 4000 level, and include courses from at least three of the SCT majors. Courses selected should be designed to lead to the senior-year thesis.

- No more than 8 s.h. in Kinesiology (physical education activity) may be credited toward the degree.
- Students may participate in study away programs.
- Transfer students are required to complete a minimum of 24 s.h. of major courses at Temple.
- A maximum of 4 s.h. of Internship credit may be counted toward the degree.
- A maximum of 8 s.h. combined of Independent Study and/or Special Projects may be counted toward the degree.
- A maximum of 27 s.h. in any one department may be counted toward the degree.

Communication Studies majors may minor in established SCT minors subject to the policies of the individual department. The Communication Studies student who declares a minor must complete the entire program requirements for both the major and the minor, with only the Communication Studies Major introductory required courses listed above fulfilling both the major and minor requirements. Courses in a minor department above the minimum minor requirement may be used to fulfill Communication Studies Major degree requirements.

Journalism

Andrew Mendelson, Ph.D., Department Chair
316 Annenberg Hall
215-204-7433

journ@temple.edu

<http://smc.temple.edu/journalism/>

The curriculum for Journalism is based on developing critical thinking in students for a multimedia, urban, journalistic environment. This requires a broad educational background coupled with rigorous professional training. The curriculum emphasizes subject matter from other disciplines, particularly those in the liberal arts. The department also believes that effective writing is central to communication and is, therefore, integral to the department curriculum.

Graduates of the program will develop:

1. Strong skills in reporting, writing, photography, audio/video newsgathering, print and web editing and design.
2. The ability to analyze critically past and present trends of journalism and to help craft alternative forms of journalism for the future.
3. A strong sense of ethical responsibility and the knowledge necessary for ethical decision-making.
4. An understanding of digital and interactive media technologies.
5. The ability to provide information in multimedia formats.

6. A culture of collaboration through team reporting....
7. ...in order to tell stories emanating from a diverse urban environment.
8. A keen understanding of the increasingly-global nature of today's journalistic environment.
9. An appreciation of free expression and awareness of legal constraints guiding responsible journalism.

Students need to meet the department's eight required courses as well as 18 credits of journalism electives, forming an area of emphasis. A capstone experience, Journalism 4196, combines urban community journalism with multimedia storytelling. This capstone produces the online news site, PhiladelphiaNeighborhoods.com.

Students who major in Journalism enter a variety of careers, including those as web reporters and producers, newspaper reporters and editors, still and video photographers, radio and television reporters, and magazine writers and editors.

Although students must ultimately be responsible for their own academic programs, freshmen and first-semester transfer students will first meet with a School of Media and Communication (SMC) academic advisor. During the sophomore and junior years, a student must meet at least once each year with a faculty advisor who is knowledgeable about the area of study the student is following.

Temple's Journalism Department is one of only two programs in Pennsylvania accredited by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communication (ACEJMC). The department has a chapter of the national journalism and mass communication honor society, Kappa Tau Alpha. Additionally, every spring the department awards thousands of dollars in scholarships to deserving majors.

Degree Requirements

The degree of Bachelor of Arts may be conferred upon a student majoring in Journalism by recommendation of the faculty and upon satisfactory completion of a minimum of 124 semester hours of credit with a cumulative average of 2.0 overall and in the major.

Students must meet:

1. University requirements:

- New students starting in the 2012-2013 academic year are required to complete the General Education (GenEd) curriculum.
- All students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses. The specific writing-intensive courses required for this major are listed below with a "WI" in the Attribute column, and are identified in their course descriptions in Self Service Banner, accessible through the TU Portal.

2. School of Media and Communication requirements

3. Major requirements in the department

Of the 124 semester hours required for graduation, at least 80 semester hours must be in courses outside Journalism; 65 of those credits must be in liberal arts and science courses. This limits students to a maximum of 15 credit hours taken from other departments in the School of Media and Communication, Education, Business, etc., if the student plans to graduate with no more than 124 credits.

Coursework taken in Business Education, Topical Studies, lower-level credits in Military Science, and the Extern Program as well as Secondary Education 0317 are not applicable towards graduation.

Only 8 semester hours will be accepted from Kinesiology and Dance courses. No more than 30 hours may be taken in any single CLA department or other SMC department without special written permission from the Department of Journalism. These requirements are to ensure a broad-based liberal arts education for each major.

Students required to take English 0701 must complete that requirement before enrolling in Journalism 1196.

Specific Major Requirements

To receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts, students must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 124 credit hours in the university, with at least 43 credits in Journalism but no more than 44 credits in Journalism. Students are cautioned to plan their program so they do not exceed the 44-credit hour limit that is set by our accrediting body.

It is the student's responsibility to meet all course prerequisite requirements.

Journalism-related coursework must be evaluated for transfer (including courses taken through study abroad programs after enrolling at Temple University) by the Department Chair. No more than 12 credits in total will be accepted for transfer. Under no circumstances will credit be allowed for duplicate courses.

The department does not award credit for academic or life experience. Students with extensive experience may present evidence and petition for a waiver of department course requirements.

Journalism majors must receive a grade of C or higher in all required department courses and electives for them to count for the major and must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.0 in the department as well as the 2.0 overall average required by the university to qualify for graduation.

The Department of Media Studies and Production (MSP) expands students' knowledge and skills to create, evaluate, and manage media content and organizations. With the urban and global communities as their living laboratories, students draw on their creativity, entrepreneurship, intellectual curiosity and analytical abilities to navigate digital media in our global society.

Theory and practice are integrated into all areas of study in the major. MSP students learn how to produce, evaluate and manage media content for traditional and emerging media in a variety of genres, including information (news and documentary), music, comedy, sports, drama, and commercial and noncommercial persuasion campaigns. They study institutions that create, distribute and investigate media products (e.g., production studios, television and radio networks and audience measurement companies) and learn how to create and operate successful media businesses. MSP students learn to think purposefully and critically about media, and examine media roles in history, culture and society from many perspectives. They also learn how to act ethically as they interact with the world both in careers in media institutions and as media consuming and producing citizens.

The MSP curriculum features Professional Options in four areas:

- 1) Media Production Professional Option: This option introduces students to conceptual and technical tools employed to create media content for the digital world. Students who study in this option develop strong professional skills as well as critical and analytical abilities that enable them to evaluate content for various media. They seek career opportunities as producers, writers, videographers, editors, recording engineers, web site designers, and talent in traditional and emerging media.
- 2) Media Business & Entrepreneurship Professional Option: The practical and ethical ways to start, operate or participate in an enterprise that creates, produces, and/or distributes media content. Students who follow this option seek career opportunities as media entrepreneurs, media production freelancers, owners/operators of production companies or recording studios, web site developers, or founders/owners of a station, channel or network.
- 3) Media Analysis Professional Option: Critical understanding of the roles of media in contemporary life, including media technology as a cultural force; the nature of media institutions, audiences, and texts; and the media as a source of shared social identities. Students who select this option are prepared for careers as media consultants, editorial or technical writers, community activists, corporate communication producers, and market research analysts.
- 4) Emergent Media Professional Option: Focuses on critical analysis and production in new digital media, specifically in mobile media, the web, and video games. Students who study this option develop an understanding of the global nature of the new digital media environment and its business practices, and production processes. Students follow this option will be prepared for careers as digital media consultants, web designers, and marketing professionals in the converged media environment.

Requirements for a Minor in Leadership

The Leadership Minor consists of six courses (18 s.h.) to provide students in other programs at Temple University the opportunity to better prepare them for life after graduation by gaining the knowledge and skill sets required to communicate effectively and lead at the organizational, team, and individual levels.

The mission of the Leadership Minor is to help students to understand that leadership is a communication and relational process, not a position. Viewed in this way, leadership requires responsible, thoughtful reflection and action from all levels of society, not just those in positions. This approach requires competencies in self-awareness, team skills, ethical decision-making, as well as the ability to generate a vision and lead with, through, and for others to bring about positive change.

Introduction

Science and technology were responsible for a profound transformation of the world in the 20th century and will drive the economy of the 21st century. The objectives of the undergraduate programs of the College of Science and Technology are to prepare students for careers in these important areas and to graduate informed, responsible citizens.

The college approaches science and technology as a body of knowledge that has an advancing frontier and a complex interface with society. The traditional mandate for a university is to provide undergraduate students with a comprehensive education and the opportunity to focus closely on a particular area of study. The College of Science and Technology embraces this mandate and extends additional opportunities to our students. Science and Technology students are encouraged to participate in faculty research projects and thus experience the advancement of this body of knowledge.

Bachelor of Science programs offer a greater concentration in major coursework, while Bachelor of Arts programs offer a greater variety of coursework. All programs offer undergraduates the opportunity to work with distinguished faculty and a richly-diverse and stimulating student body as they prepare for active roles in society.

Mission Statement

The mission of the College of Science and Technology is to seek academic excellence by providing outstanding instruction in the sciences, and to foster scientific research of the highest quality. In pursuing its mission the College is committed to meeting the needs of a diverse student body, and is truly dedicated to the founding principles of Temple University in providing a superior education to the prepared student. The educational mission of the College is pursued through offering a current curriculum that incorporates the fundamental principles as well as the latest discoveries in the major scientific disciplines.

Interdisciplinary degree programs and independent research projects allow the student to explore scientific boundaries. The College offers a general education curriculum that provides the opportunity for non-science majors to be better informed of the complex scientific and ethical issues facing society. The College also strives to improve science and mathematics education in the Philadelphia schools. All of these aspects of the educational mission of the College are achieved through the dedicated efforts of the faculty, who are leading scholars in their field.

The research mission of the College is pursued through a sustained effort to recruit the best and brightest new faculty, to aggressively develop promising research initiatives, and to create a modern science campus with facilities fully supportive of cutting-edge research. The College also strives to support the scholarly pursuits and professional activities of its faculty, who in turn advance their respective disciplines. In doing so, the College provides an outstanding environment for graduate and undergraduate research, with the Departments and Centers as focal points for interdisciplinary research initiatives and graduate degree programs. In pursuing its research mission the College of Science and Technology will be a vital participant in establishing Temple University as a recognized center of excellence in scientific research and development.

Special Programs

Study Abroad

See Education Abroad in the Opportunities section of this Bulletin and Temple University's Study Abroad web site at www.temple.edu/studyabroad for more information about study abroad options.

University Honors Program

Students in the College of Science and Technology may apply to the University Honors Program. Honors students are eligible to enroll in CST honors courses, provided that they have satisfied the prerequisites and co-requisites. Honors courses are designated with a nine as the second digit in the four-digit number, e.g. Mathematics 1941 is Honors Calculus I. See Academic Opportunities: University Honors Program for more information.

TUteach Certification for Secondary Education

Seven Bachelor of Science programs enable students to prepare for secondary education certification while mastering the content of their field. The programs are: Biology with Teaching, Chemistry with Teaching, Earth and Space Science with Teaching, General Science with Teaching, Mathematics with Teaching, Mathematics and Computer Science with Teaching, and Physics with Teaching. The programs require that students complete the collegial Bachelor of Science requirements and a total of 124 credits. See the TUteach Programs for more details.

Accelerated Five-Year Bachelor's/Master's Programs with Teacher Certification

The Biology, Chemistry, Earth & Environmental Science, Mathematics, and Physics Departments enable talented students to complete both a Bachelor's degree in one of the above departments and a Master's degree in Education in a total of five years. After completing the Bachelor's degree in one of the aforementioned disciplines, students spend an additional year as a graduate student in the College of Education. Students must apply for the five-year Master's program during their sophomore year. If accepted, they will take both undergraduate major courses as well as Master's in Education courses beginning in their junior year. They complete their undergraduate major in their fourth year and their Master's in their fifth year. Students who complete this program earn a Master of Education degree and are certified to teach in Pennsylvania schools. See the College of Education for more details.

Early Admission to Professional Programs

Students in the College of Science and Technology who have been admitted to one of the following programs: Temple University School of Medicine, Temple University Kornberg School of Dentistry, Temple University School of Podiatry, Temple University School of Pharmacy, or the Doctorate of Physical Therapy, at the end of their third year and have completed 90 semester hours, including all course requirements for the major, College and University, may transfer their first year in professional study toward the completion of the credit requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Biology and Chemistry majors may also transfer approved courses in their first year of professional study toward the elective courses in their major.

Students in the College of Science and Technology who have been admitted to other health-related professional schools at the end of their third year with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.5 and who have completed 90 semester hours, including all course requirements of the major, College and University, may petition the dean for the transfer of their first year of professional study toward the completion of the credit requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. University residency requirements must also be met.

Awards and Achievements

Awards

Juniors and seniors are often honored for outstanding performance in a variety of academic areas and for exceptional service to the College and the University. Information about these awards is available in departmental offices or in the Office of Student Services, 1810 Liacouras Walk, Room 203.

Distinction in Major

Academic Advising

The Office of Student Services
 1810 Liacouras Walk
 Suite 203
 215-204-2890
www.temple.edu/cst
cstadv@temple.edu

The Office of Student Services in the College of Science and Technology guides students from New Student Orientation through graduation to assist them in ensuring that they complete all degree requirements and work to their fullest potential. Faculty advisors in each major use their field experience and knowledge of departmental curriculum to help students choose courses consistent with their specific career objectives.

Specialized Services

- New Student Orientation—Group advising and registration appointments for all newly-admitted first-semester freshmen and transfer students.
- Advising and Registration Services—Students may want to meet with professional advisors at different times during their academic career to discuss their academic progress, develop educational and career goals, discover academic success strategies and check on their remaining graduation requirements. The express advising and advising-by-appointment schedule is available at www.temple.edu/cst/advising/officehours.html. Registration with an advisor is required for students with a cumulative, last semester attended or major/track GPA below 2.0 and for any students registering for more than 17 credits. Newly-admitted or readmitted students are also required to meet with an advisor for registration.

- Petitions for Exception to Policy—Petitions are reviewed on a rolling basis by the Director and Assistant Director of Student Services. Typical petition requests include those for overload approval, for attending another institution for a semester or summer session, and for curriculum exceptions.

- Progress Report—At 60 credits, students may schedule a progress report with their academic advisor to lay out a semester plan for taking the remaining requirements before graduation.

- Graduation Review—At 90 credits, students are required to schedule an official graduation review with their academic advisor. The advisor will explain the remaining course and credit requirements needed to graduate. Students are expected to be active participants in the review and have equal responsibility for assuring the accuracy and completeness of the review.

Departmental Advising

After their New Student Orientation advising and registration session, students' major departments will have access to their academic credentials for subsequent advising by faculty advisors. Faculty advising is very important in developing ties between a student's academic program and his or her professional goals. Faculty advisors may assist students in finding research opportunities and professional internships and will help students choose courses that will best prepare them for their field of interest within a particular discipline.

Academic Advising and Student Responsibility

All academic advisors are trained to read and evaluate information carefully to give students the best possible advice. However, primary responsibility for curriculum completion rests with the student. Every student must be aware of the requirements of his or her degree and should collaborate with an advisor regularly to ensure timely completion of his or her program.

Student Advisors/Ombudspersons

Each department in the College of Science and Technology has a Student Advisor/Ombudsperson (SA/O) who is a qualified undergraduate student in that department. The SA/O is thoroughly familiar with requirements and curricula of the department and can competently advise fellow students on the courses and faculty members of the department. He or she also has information about career options for the department's graduates. The SA/O also coordinates the student grievance procedure.

Student Grievance Procedure

The SA/O is familiar with the College of Science and Technology Grievance Procedure and is the first person to consult in case of an academic grievance. The SA/O will serve as a student-faculty liaison and attempt to resolve the grievance through mediation. A student must initiate this first stage of the academic grievance procedure no later than thirty days after the beginning of the fall or spring semester immediately following the completion of the course in which the grievance occurred. A copy of the College of Science and Technology grievance procedure can be obtained from the SA/O. Each SA/O has an office in his or her department, and the SA/O program coordinator is located in the Office of Student Services. A list of current SA/Os is available at www.temple.edu/cst/advising/sao/index.html.

Continuing Student Registration

Continuing student registration is the period during the fall and spring semesters when currently-enrolled students should register. Degree Audit Reports (DARS) provide a compact summary of a student's progress toward a degree, including a list of requirements yet to be completed. Eligible students obtain their DARS documents via TUportal.

Prior to processing their registrations, freshmen are strongly recommended to meet with advisors to review their DARS documents and discuss course selections for the upcoming semester. New transfer students and continuing students in good academic standing are encouraged to meet with their departmental advisors before processing their schedules via Self-Service Banner. Students ineligible to use Self-Service Banner are required to meet with an advisor.

Pre-Professional Advising

Knowledge gained in the College of Science and Technology curricula provides the foundation needed in preparing for Professional Health School entrance exams. Many of the courses required by professional programs such as dentistry, medicine, pharmacy, and veterinary medicine are incorporated into College of Science and Technology curricula. This approach allows our students to fulfill degree requirements, while at the same time meeting admissions criteria for professional and graduate programs.

CST offers three ways in which students can pursue health professional programs.

- Students may complete a bachelor's degree and apply to the health professional program.
- Students may apply to the 3+4 and 3+3 accelerated programs linked to particular Temple health professional programs by which they may complete both their bachelor and professional degree.
- Students may apply to the 2+4 pre-pharmacy program by which students would only complete a Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD).

Students interested in professional health programs should contact the Office of Pre-Professional Health Studies for detailed advising. The office is located in 1810 Liacouras Walk, Suite 100 and further information can be found at www.temple.edu/healthadvising. Applicants to professional health programs who are either pursuing a degree+professional program or the 3+professional program must complete a "Letter of Intent" with the Office of Pre-Professional Health Advising, preferably during their first semester but no later than the spring of their freshman year. Applicants to a Pharmacy program on a 2+4 track apply directly to the Pharmacy program. The curriculum and advising of these students is specifically tailored to fulfill the prerequisites set forth by the Temple University School of Pharmacy. Pre-pharmacy students must declare a major upon completion of 30 credits. All students should identify a "parallel" program of study in addition to indicating their intent to pursue a professional health program.

Academic Policies & Regulations

Please see the Undergraduate Academic Policies in this Bulletin. Students are responsible for complying with all university-wide academic policies that apply to their individual academic status. Additional and unique policies, or exceptions for the College of Science and Technology (CST), appear below.

Academic Holds

Pre-Pharmacy

Pre-Pharmacy students who have completed 30 or more credits without declaring a major shall be placed on "academic hold" and directed to see a CST advisor before the priority registration period of the subsequent semester.

Program Warning

Any CST student who does not make satisfactory progress in the CST major or track may be placed on "academic hold" and directed to see a departmental or CST advisor before the priority registration period of the subsequent semester.

Undeclared

Students who have not declared a major who have completed 60 or more credits shall be placed on "academic hold" and directed to see a CST advisor before the priority registration period of the subsequent semester.

Adding or Changing Majors or Minors

CST Students:

In order to add or change majors or minors within the College of Science and Technology, a CST student must meet with an advisor in the CST's Office of Student Services. The advisor will evaluate the student's record in accordance with the following policy:

1. CST students in their first semester at Temple University who wish to add or change majors or minors within the CST will be automatically approved, provided they are taking, have satisfied or placed higher than a GenEd-level Mathematics course.

2. Continuing CST students who wish to add or change declared majors or minors within the CST must have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 or higher. Continuing CST students who wish to change their major to undeclared will be automatically approved, provided that the total of completed and registered credits is fewer than 60 credits.

3. CST students can complete a second major in the CST by fulfilling all requirements for the primary and second majors, including at least four distinct courses in the primary major and four distinct courses in the second major. Distinct courses are those that do not overlap to fulfill requirements in the other major.

Non-CST Students:

In order to add or change majors or minors within the College of Science and Technology, a non-CST student must meet with an advisor in the CST's Office of Student Services. The advisor will evaluate the student's record in accordance with the following policy:

1. Students in their first semester at Temple University who wish to change their major or add a minor or second major within the CST will be automatically approved, provided they are taking, have satisfied or placed higher than a GenEd-level Mathematics course.

2. Continuing students who wish to change their major or add a minor or second major within the CST must have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 or higher and must have completed a course in their proposed major or minor with a grade of C (2.0) or better.

Backtracking

Students may not apply toward the degree program credit earned for a lower-level course, if the student has progressed two levels beyond the material being taught. For example, a student who has successfully completed Physics 1062: Elementary Classical Physics II, may not subsequently take Physics 0847: How Things Work for degree credit. This rule applies to Math and Science courses, language courses, and other sequenced courses. Advanced students should consult with an advisor in the CST's Office of Student Services before taking a lower-level course.

Co-Requisites and Prerequisites

Students may be de-enrolled from courses for which they do not meet prerequisites and co-requisites. (Please see the Prerequisites and Co-requisites policy for more information.) Students are responsible for reviewing and abiding by all course prerequisites and co-requisites in the Course Catalog. The requirements are designed to assure that students are appropriately prepared to be successful in their courses. Prerequisites provide an efficient manner for students to register for the next course in a sequence for which they are prepared. Students who appropriately satisfy prerequisites are permitted to register for a first and second attempt. Completion of a prerequisite does not permit a student to enroll in the third attempt of a repeated course. Students may attempt a course for the third time only if they have received permission from the College, which is not guaranteed and may require additional coursework (See Repeat Policy below).

Course Eligibility

The College of Science and Technology offers four types of undergraduate courses:

1. Preparatory courses numbered 0700-0799: open to all students, including non-degree seeking students who have completed appropriate course prerequisites and have completed or are in the process of completing required co-requisite courses. If required, students must complete these courses before enrolling in any higher level courses in the same department.
2. General Education courses numbered 0800-0999: open to all students, including non-degree seeking students who have completed appropriate course prerequisites and have completed or are in the process of completing required co-requisite courses. These courses satisfy University General Education requirements as indicated in the course description.
3. Lower-Level courses numbered 1000-1999: open to all students, including non-degree seeking students who have completed appropriate course prerequisites and have completed or are in the process of completing required co-requisite courses. These are general foundation level courses in the various disciplines.
4. Upper-Level courses numbered 2000-4999: open to all students, including non-degree seeking students who have completed appropriate course prerequisites and have completed or are in the process of completing required co-requisite courses. These courses build on the foundation courses (and on other upper-level courses) to provide a focused exploration of field-specific content.
5. Graduate-Level courses numbered 5000-9999: undergraduate students are generally prohibited from taking Graduate-Level courses. In rare circumstances, special permission may be granted by the department for undergraduate students to take graduate courses. A higher graduate tuition will apply.

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Semester hours earned in Mathematics 0701, lower-level military science (ROTC), and RCC-enhanced courses are not credited toward the minimum semester hours required for graduation.

Students will not be awarded duplicate credit for courses that are repeated in transfer or at Temple.

Students will not receive credit towards graduation for lower-level courses, which are two or more courses below either an already-completed course or their placement level. For example, if a student successfully completes Math 1041 (Calculus I), then they are not permitted to subsequently take Math 1021 (College Algebra) for new credits.

A maximum of 8 semester hours of credit will be allowed by CST for life experience and CLEP examinations. A maximum of 4 courses or up to 12 semester hours will be allowed for upper-level Military Science (Army ROTC), Naval Science (Navy ROTC) or Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC) courses. A maximum of 12 total semester hours will be allowed for a combination of CLEP, Life Experience, and upper-level Military Science.

Courses Over Five Years Old

In admitting transfer or returning students, the College of Science and Technology will, when possible, allow credit for courses taken five or more years prior to the date of admission or re-enrollment. The College of Science and Technology may choose not to accept courses regardless of age for credit in the major. Foundation courses, courses of a technical nature or courses in a particularly dynamic field may not be accepted for credit.

Courses over five years old will be reviewed by the College to determine whether they will be accepted toward the degree. Final determination of the acceptability of such courses is the responsibility of the Office of Student Services and generally occurs after the student has matriculated or been rematriculated.

Dean's List

Each fall and spring semester, those undergraduates who have met the credit hour and academic criteria for their school or college are placed on the Dean's List. See the Dean's List policy for specific GPA and credit-hour requirements.

Grading

Major, Minor, and GenEd courses must be completed with a letter grade of C- or higher unless otherwise specified. Certain courses require a C or better in order to advance to the next level.

Graduation Procedures

All College of Science and Technology students are required to complete a graduation review with an advisor in the Office of Student Services prior to or at the start of their senior year. Students should schedule a review once they have completed 90 semester hours. The graduation review involves a detailing of the courses and credits completed and those that remain to be completed for graduation. Once a professional advisor completes the review, the Office of Student Services forwards the review to the student's department for the faculty advisor's approval.

Students are expected to be active participants in the review and have equal responsibility for assuring the accuracy and completeness of the review.

Early in the semester in which students will complete their degree requirements, they must apply online at www.temple.edu/cst/graduation. The deadlines for completing the online application are:

- October 12, 2012, for fall semester 2012
- February 15, 2013, for spring semester 2013

- June 7, 2013, for second summer session 2013

Intra-University Transfer (IUT)

In order to transfer into the College of Science and Technology, a student must meet with an advisor in the Office of Student Services. The advisor will evaluate the student's record in accordance with the following policy:

1. Students in their first semester at Temple University who wish to transfer into the College of Science and Technology will be automatically approved, provided that they are taking a GenEd-level or higher Mathematics course or have satisfied the GenEd-level or higher Mathematics requirement.
2. Continuing students who wish to transfer into the College of Science and Technology must have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 or higher and must have completed both a GenEd-level or higher Mathematics course and a GenEd-level or higher science course (or additional GenEd-level or higher Mathematics), both with a grade of C or better.

Once all of the above is approved, students must attend an IUT group orientation session within the college before the transfer is official. Students approved for an IUT must comply with the major requirements effective during the applicable semester of transfer.

Life Experience Credits

Students are required to write what proficiencies are developed by their life experience and designate courses similar to their background. The experience will be reviewed by the appropriate faculty. Students need a 2.5 minimum cumulative GPA in order to apply. A maximum of 12 semester hours is allowed for the combined category of life experience, upper-level military science (ROTC) courses, and CLEP/DSST examinations.

Non-Traditional Credits

A maximum of 12 semester hours of credit will be allowed by CST for life experience, upper-level military science (ROTC) courses, and CLEP/DSST examinations.

Overload Requests

Students in the College of Science and Technology must petition through the Office of Student Services for approval of an overload when they request to take more than 17 credits in either the fall or spring semesters or more than 8 credits in either summer session. The following items are considered when reviewing an overload petition:

- Minimum 2.75 GPA overall and in the last semester of graded coursework.
- The number of credits completed in previous semesters.
- The number of science and math courses taken previously in each semester.
- The amount of credits requested.

- The type of courses requested. The office focuses particularly on the number of science and math courses in the student's proposed roster.

Each petition will be reviewed individually based on the number of credits requested.

Permission to Take Courses at Another Institution

Students in the College of Science and Technology who wish to take courses at another institution must petition the Office of Student Services for approval prior to enrolling in such a course. Petition forms are available in the Office of Student Services, 1810 Liacouras Walk, Room 203. The student is responsible for obtaining a course description from the other institution and attaching it to the petition form. The student takes the petition to the corresponding Temple department for faculty review and then submits the petition to the Office of Student Services for final approval.

Courses taken without prior approval will not be transferrable toward the Temple degree. In addition, students must have completed the prerequisites and have completed or be completing any listed co-requisites of both the Temple equivalent course and course at the host institution.

Please see Permission to Take Courses Elsewhere for more information.

Placement Tests

The results of placement tests determine if students are required to enroll in preparatory composition and mathematics courses. All incoming freshmen must take English and mathematics placement tests.

All CST transfer students are required to complete the math placement test, regardless of transfer credits. For students who have already completed their program's mathematics requirement or the prerequisite requirement through transfer credits, the test will be used as a diagnostic tool. The test results will be informational only and will not restrict or dictate course selection nor negate the transferability of credits. The results of the placement exam should be discussed with an academic advisor at the time of the initial registration. Your advisor may suggest certain "bridge courses" that will assist you in preparing for more advanced coursework. Bridge courses build on content from courses for which you have received transfer credit, allow you to keep your credits, and support your preparation for the next course in your sequence.

If students are unsuccessful in courses beyond their placement results, they may be asked to repeat the prerequisite course at Temple regardless of transfer credits.

Transfer students who have not completed English 1002 or 0802 are also required to take the English placement test. Students assigned to English 0701 or 0711 must register each semester for that course until the requirement is completed. Only upon successful completion of English 0701 or 0711 can such students enroll in English 0802 or 0812.

Plagiarism and Academic Cheating

Plagiarism and academic cheating are prohibited by the College of Science and Technology. The development of independent thought and a respect for the thoughts of others is essential to intellectual growth. The prohibition of plagiarism and cheating is intended to foster this independence and respect. See the policy on Plagiarism in this Bulletin.

The penalty for plagiarism or cheating as a first offense is normally an F in the course in which the offense is committed. In such cases, the instructor writes a report to the dean and the Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards. The Office of Student Conduct and Community Standards generally adjudicates all cases and student appeals.

Pre-Pharmacy Track Students

Pre-Pharmacy track students must declare a primary major upon completion of 30 credits. Students who have completed 30 credits without declaring a primary major will have an academic hold placed on their record that will prevent them from registering. Students must meet with an advisor to declare a major in order to have the hold removed. All Pre-Pharmacy students should identify a "parallel" program of study in addition to indicating their intent to pursue Pharmacy School admission.

Prerequisites and Co-Requisites

Students may be de-enrolled from courses for which they do not meet prerequisites and co-requisites. (Please see the Prerequisites and Co-requisites policy for more information.) Students are responsible for reviewing and abiding by all course prerequisites and co-requisites in the Course Catalog. The requirements are designed to assure that students are appropriately prepared to be successful in their courses. Prerequisites provide an efficient manner for students to register for the next course in a sequence for which they are prepared. Students who appropriately satisfy prerequisites are permitted to register for a first and second attempt. Completion of a prerequisite does not permit a student to enroll in the third attempt of a repeated course. Students may attempt a course for the third time only if they have received permission from the College, which is not guaranteed and may require additional coursework (See Repeat Policy below).

Program Performance

Students must maintain a 2.00 cumulative GPA in their major or track and make satisfactory progress toward their CST degrees to remain in good academic standing in the College. Students who are not in good academic standing in the College will be placed on program warning, and an "academic hold" may be placed on their record.

Re-enrollment to the College of Science and Technology

College of Science and Technology students who have not enrolled for two consecutive semesters must apply for re-enrollment. Any existing holds must be cleared prior to re-enrollment and official transcripts provided for any college-level courses completed after leaving Temple University. Students who have been away for less than two semesters are subject to university policies and restrictions governing taking courses at another institution and must receive permission prior to enrollment in such courses. In addition, courses over five years old will be reviewed by the College to determine whether they will be accepted toward the degree. Final determination of the acceptability of such courses is the responsibility of the Office of Student Services and generally occurs after the student has been rematriculated.

The deadline for application to readmit for the fall semester is July 1; the deadline to readmit for the spring semester is November 1, and the deadline for summer semester I and II is April 1. Also see the policy on Academic Standing.

If the student's original curriculum is no longer available, students are required to follow the most current curriculum upon return. This applies to any student who has not registered for a single fall or spring semester. This can have significant impacts on degree progress and students are encouraged to discuss any planned absences with an advisor.

Full-time degree-seeking students have the option of pursuing a Leave of Absence for a period of no more than 2 semesters. Please refer to the Leave of Absence Policy for more information.

Repeating a Course

Students may attempt a course two times without restriction. Students in the College of Science & Technology are encouraged to meet with an advisor prior to attempting a course for the second time. A third attempt of any course is not guaranteed and requires permission of the student's home college. Petitions for a third attempt may require additional coursework, remediation, and/or academic/personal planning. Please refer to the University policy found here for further information: Repeating a Course.

Undeclared Majors

After completing 30 credits, undeclared majors in the College of Science and Technology will be notified that they need to select a major. Students who have completed 60 credits without declaring a major will have a hold placed on their record that will prevent them from registering. Students must meet with an advisor to declare a major in order to have the hold removed.

Warning, Probation and Dismissal

All University policies on warning, probation and dismissal are enforced with this addition: CST students who are put on Academic Warning or Probation should see an academic advisor to review their proposed schedule of courses. See the University's policy on Academic Standing for more details.

General College Graduation Requirements

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) and the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degrees

The College of Science and Technology offers two undergraduate degrees: a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) and a Bachelor of Science (B.S.). The B.A. degree gives students a broad-based education, including the study of a foreign language. The B.S. degree is for those students who wish for more specialized training in their chosen disciplines.

Credit Hour Requirements

The College of Science and Technology requires that students complete a total of 123 credits for most programs. The TUteach programs (Biology with Teaching, Chemistry with Teaching, Earth & Space Science with Teaching, General Science with Teaching, Mathematics with Teaching, Mathematics and Computer Science with Teaching, and Physics with Teaching) require students to complete a total of 124 credits. Of those totals, 90 credits must be in the College of Science and Technology or the College of Liberal Arts (CLA). A course shall count as a College of Science and Technology or College of Liberal Arts course if it is offered by a department or program in either of the respective colleges, or if it is in the departments of Economics and Art History, or if it is taken to satisfy a major or minor requirement in the College of Science and Technology. Of those 90 credits, 45 must be in upper-level courses. Upper-level courses consist of course numbers at the 2000 level or above. Students receiving a Bachelor of Arts (as opposed to Bachelor of Science) degree must take at least two courses numbered 2000 or above in the College of Liberal Arts.

Courses Inapplicable to Graduation

Semester hours earned in Mathematics 0701, lower-level military science (ROTC), and RCC-enhanced courses are not credited toward the minimum semester hours required for graduation.

Students will not be awarded duplicate credit for courses that are repeated in transfer or at Temple.

Students will not receive credit towards graduation for lower-level courses, which are two or more courses below either an already-completed course or their placement level. For example, if a student successfully completes Math 1041 (Calculus I), then they are not permitted to subsequently take Math 1021 (College Algebra) for new credits.

A maximum of 8 semester hours of credit will be allowed by CST for life experience and CLEP examinations. A maximum of 4 courses or up to 12 semester hours will be allowed for upper-level Military Science (Army ROTC), Naval Science (Navy ROTC) or Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC) courses. A maximum of 12 total semester hours will be allowed for a combination of CLEP, Life Experience and upper-level Military Science

Grade Point Average (GPA) Requirement

The College of Science & Technology requires that students have a GPA of at least 2.00 overall and at least 2.00 in the department(s) of their major and/or minor.

Residency Requirements

Students who transfer into the College of Science and Technology must complete at least 30 of their last 45 semester hours of coursework at Temple. These credits must be applicable to their degree.

For Bachelor of Arts programs, 7 of the courses required for the major must be completed at Temple. For the Bachelor of Science programs that are within a single discipline, 9 of the courses required for the major must be completed at Temple. For the Bachelor of Science programs that are interdisciplinary, 10 of the courses required for the major must be completed at Temple.

In addition, half of the courses required in the department of the major must be taken at Temple. Please refer to degree programs for the specific number of major courses required.

The minimum acceptable grade in a course taken to fulfill minor or concentration requirements is a C- unless otherwise specified. A concentration is available in the program of Biology. At least three of the courses credited towards the minor must be courses that were not credited towards the major. If the primary major is not within CST, the student should follow the policies of the home college regarding distinct courses. At least half of the courses taken by a student to fulfill the minor must be taken at Temple. Minors are available in the following programs:

- Biology
- Computer Science
- Digital Media Technologies (CS/BTMM)

Second Major. Students may complete a second major by fulfilling all requirements for the primary and second majors, including at least four distinct courses in the primary major and four distinct courses in the second major. If the primary major is not within CST, the student should follow the policies of the home college regarding distinct courses. General Education requirements must be satisfied in accordance with the requirements of the primary major. In instances of a double major, only one degree will be conferred.

Bachelor of Arts Requirements

General Education. All students are required to complete the General Education (GenEd) requirements. The General Education curriculum consists of 25-26 s.h.

Language Requirement. In addition to the University General Education requirement, Bachelor of Arts candidates must complete a second language requirement. B.A. degree candidates are required to successfully complete the second semester (typically courses numbered 1002) of a second language or demonstrate proficiency in a second language. Upper-level distribution requirements. Bachelor of Arts students must complete upper-level distribution requirements by taking two upper-level courses in one or more departments of the College of Liberal Arts or the departments of Economics or Art History. Upper-level courses consist of course numbers at the 2000 level or above.

Students who have second majors, one of which is in the College of Liberal Arts or Economics or Art History, automatically satisfy the distribution requirement.

Major. Bachelor of Arts candidates must complete the requirements of a major. It is important to note that students enter the College of Science and Technology as Bachelor of Science majors. If students wish to change their degree choice to Bachelor of Arts, they must complete a declaration of major form in the Office of Student Services with an advisor. The minimum acceptable grade in a course taken to fulfill major requirements is a C- unless otherwise specified. B.A. majors are offered in the following programs:

- Biology
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Earth Science (see Geology)
- Information Science and Technology
- Mathematics
- Mathematical Economics
- Natural Sciences
- Physics

Minor or Concentration. Students may also choose to complete the requirements for a minor and/or concentration. The minimum acceptable grade in a course taken to fulfill minor or concentration requirements is a C- unless otherwise specified. A concentration is available in the program of Biology. At least three of the courses credited towards the minor must be courses that were not credited towards the major. At least half of the courses taken by a student to fulfill the minor must be taken at Temple. Minors are available in the following programs:

- Biology
- Computer Science

Second Major. Students may complete a second major by fulfilling all requirements for the primary and second majors, including at least four distinct courses in the primary major and four distinct courses in the second major. General Education requirements must be satisfied in accordance with the requirements of the primary major. In instances of a double major, only one degree will be conferred.

Individual Program Requirements

Certain courses fulfill multiple requirements. In careful consultation with your advisor, you will be able to optimize curriculum choices.

The total number of hours required for the degree may vary based on initial placement exams, transfer evaluations, individual curriculum choices, and academic programs.

Listed under each degree program are the courses students must successfully complete to earn that particular B.A. or B.S. degree. These required courses are in addition to the General Education curriculum requirements.

(F) - Fall only course
(S) - Spring only course

^If the student has taken the necessary prerequisite courses, some of the Biology or Cognitive elective courses may be taken before the Spring semester of Year 3.

Minor Requirements

Students interested in acquiring basic knowledge in biology but not wishing to major in the subject may pursue a minor by successful completion of Biology 1111 and Biology 2112 (Introduction to Biology I and II), plus three additional upper-level 2200 or above Biology electives (see course descriptions for exceptions). At least one of these additional Biology electives must have a laboratory component.

Note that Chemistry 1031 and Chemistry 1032 (with labs) are the co-requisites or prerequisites for Biology 1111 and Biology 2112, and that a grade of C or higher in Biology 1111 and Biology 2112 is required to take Biology electives. Biology 2227, Biology 2296, and Biology 3096 can be taken as electives for the minor. Please consult the Biology Department's advisor when choosing the three additional courses to ensure that prerequisites have been satisfied. (A minimum of 18 credits in Biology is required for the minor.)

Distinction in the Major

To be eligible for distinction in the major, a student must retain a grade point average of 3.2 or better (overall and in the major); should register for Biology 4391 (Accelerated Research in Biology) or Biology 3481 (Extrdepartmental Study) for a total of 6 s.h. over two semesters; and must write a final research paper and present his/her research at a departmental research poster session before graduation. A student, however, does not have to enroll in the distinction program in order to participate in departmental research. Other courses (Biology 3082, Independent Study, and Biology 3481, Extrdepartmental Research) provide credit toward graduation and research experience, and are available to undergraduate students from their sophomore through their senior year. A student may register for Biology 3082 or Biology 3481 more than one semester. In all cases, permission of the faculty and application to the department Honors Committee is required before registering for research credits.

Concentration in Neuroscience

Undergraduate students with an interest in Neuroscience may apply to the Neuroscience Concentration after declaration of a major in biology or psychology. Upon successful completion of their departmental and Neuroscience Program requirements, students receive a bachelor's degree with a Concentration in Neuroscience. Please note that the College of Science & Technology now offers a Bachelor of Science in Neuroscience - Cellular and Molecular that will result in a phasing out of the Biology Neuroscience Concentration over the next several years.

Neuroscience Concentration Requirements

- Completion of three Neuroscience courses with a grade of B or better. Courses may be selected from: Biology 3354, Biology 3356; Communication Sciences & Disorders 3235; Philosophy 5244; Psychology 2501, Psychology 2502.
- One year of Neuroscience research with a faculty member of the Neuroscience Program, with public and written presentation of the results. Two faculty members in the Neuroscience Program must approve the written presentation.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Biology 1011, for example.

A total of up to 3 s.h. of Biology research courses numbered lower than 4000 (to include: Biology 3082, 3181, 3183, 3281, 3481, 3681, and 3781) may be taken for a letter grade. Any additional credits in research courses in this category can be taken only on a CR/NC basis. No research courses numbered lower than 4000 may be used for Biology elective credit.

†Four electives must be chosen in consultation with the physics advisor. All courses must be 2000-level or above. At least two electives must be Physics courses. Choose courses in Physics, Biology (Neurobiology, Genetics, Cell Structure, Physiology), Chemistry (Physical Chemistry), Biochemistry and Biophysics. Recommended for graduate school in Physics: Physics 2101, 3302, 3701 and 4796 and as much of the B.S. program in Physics as time allows. Students planning to go to medical school should complete Biology 1111: Introduction to Biology.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Biology 1011, for example.

Distinction in Major

A student who wishes to graduate with Distinction in the Major must complete all courses required for the biophysics major with a GPA of 3.5 or better, and carry out an independent study or undergraduate thesis project. Consult the undergraduate physics advisor for more details.

The Department of Chemistry is one of the oldest departments in the university and has a long record of preparing students for careers in science. Both Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degrees are available, depending upon a student's career goals. Since a significant portion of America's chemical industry is centered in the Philadelphia region, there is a wide range of career opportunities locally available. Although most of our students have gone on to medicine, dentistry, or the chemical industry, recent graduates have also gone on to careers in law, forensics, and even art restoration.

All prospective majors should schedule an appointment with one of the departmental advisors (names of current advisors are available from the Chemistry Office, Beury Hall, Room 130) to plan a program of study. The recommended order of courses for the two majors is listed below; a different order is acceptable as long as the student adheres to prerequisite requirements.

Bachelor of Arts

Summary of Requirements for the Degree

1. University Requirements (123 total s.h.)

- Math 0701 (4 s.h.) and/or English 0701 (4 s.h.), if required by placement testing.
- All Temple students must take a minimum of two writing-intensive courses in their major at Temple. For Chemistry majors, one must be Chemistry 4196 and the second should be either Chemistry 3397 or 3398.
- Students must complete the General Education (GenEd) requirements.
 - The General Education Curriculum consists of approximately 25-26 s.h. See the General Education section of the Undergraduate Bulletin for the GenEd curriculum.

2. College Requirements

- 45 Upper Level (2000+) credits within the College of Science & Technology (CST) or the College of Liberal Arts (CLA).
- 90 credits within the College of Science & Technology (CST) or the College of Liberal Arts (CLA).
- Two (2) Upper Level (2000+) Liberal Art courses.
- Second (2nd) Level of a Foreign Language (1002).

3. Major Requirements for Bachelor of Arts (53-56 s.h.)

- Nine (9) Chemistry courses are required (33-36 s.h.): Chemistry 1031/1033, 1032/1034, 2201/2203, 2202/2204, 3103/3105, 3301, 3302, 4196 and [3397 or 3398].
- Three (3) Mathematics courses are required (12 s.h.): Mathematics 1041, 1042 and 2043.
- Two (2) Physics courses are required (8 s.h.): Physics 1061 or 2021 and 1062 or 2022.

Note: Chemistry 3091 is not available for major credit.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Chemistry 1027, for example.

Five-Year Master's Programs

Five-Year B.A. or B.S./M.A.

Chemistry majors at the beginning of their junior year may apply for admission to the fifth-year M.A. Program. Upon admission to the program and satisfactory completion of the program requirements, the student is assured of having a master's degree at the end of the fifth year. Interested students should contact their advisor for details.

Five-Year Master's/Secondary Education Certification Program

This is a combined program between the College of Science and Technology and the College of Education. For more information, see the following web site:
www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_programs/schools_colleges/ed/intro/generalinfo/ed_generalinfo.shtm#teacher

Distinction in Major

To graduate with Distinction in Major, students are required to achieve a 3.33 GPA or higher in all the Chemistry courses in their major.

Computer Science undergraduates study computer software - including program, design and engineering - system architecture, networks, distributed systems, theory and mathematical foundations, Data Bases, Computer Graphics, and Web technologies. Our alumni will have a detailed understanding of computer and information technology, good practical skills in the use of that technology, good abilities in written and oral communications, and experience in teamwork. They will also have the opportunity to participate in internship programs and in research projects. Our alumni will have been in a program that stresses personal and professional responsibility, where all students, regardless of religion, race, or gender, feel at home. Our alumni will be ready for successful careers in societies and technologies that are undergoing rapid change.

Students will be equipped with the scholarly background and intellectual skills to understand a wide range of pressing environmental issues, and they will come to appreciate the physical, economic, political, demographic, and ethical factors that define those issues. Among the many environmental problems central to our program are groundwater contamination, suburban sprawl, river basin management, environmental justice, and the greening of abandoned urban spaces. Our graduates find employment with government environmental agencies, citizens' organizations, consulting firms, and corporate environmental affairs departments.

The Bachelor of Science degree is offered through the College of Science and Technology. A related Bachelor of Arts degree is offered through the College of Liberal Arts. There is further explanation in the "Intercollegial Programs" section of this Bulletin.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Chemistry 1027, for example.

Distinction in Major

To graduate with Distinction in Major, students are required to achieve a 3.5 GPA for courses required for the major. If the difficulty of courses chosen as electives is high, then a 3.3 GPA will earn Distinction in Major. This determination will be made by the appropriate faculty.

The Department of Earth and Environmental Science offers both a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science in Geology.

The B.S. program prepares students for immediate entry into a career in geology or for graduate studies. Career opportunities for geologists in industry and government include planning for the environment, evaluation of waste disposal sites, monitoring of groundwater, and exploration for natural resources. The B.S. program is excellent preparation for graduate study and ultimately for a career in research, teaching, industry, or government.

The B.A. program is not intended for prospective geologists. The B.A. program is suitable for pre-medicine or pre-law students or for students planning to teach earth science in secondary schools.

A departmental field trip for undergraduate students, graduate students, and faculty will be conducted during each fall semester.

Science Upper Level Electives (SUE)

The following is the list of courses that you can select from to fulfill the Science Upper-Level Electives (SUEs): Biology 2112 or higher; Chemistry 2201/2203 or higher; Earth & Environmental Science (EES) 2002 or higher; Mathematics 2043 or higher; and Physics 1062 or higher. Science Foundation Electives (SFE) and Science Upper-Level Electives (SUE) courses cannot be double-counted.

Earth & Environmental Science electives must be above 2001, and at least one must be writing-intensive. At most, one of the EES electives or SUEs may be a graduate-level course with permission of the faculty advisor.

Minor

Students interested in acquiring a basic knowledge of Geology but not wishing to major in Geology may pursue a minor in Geology by successfully completing the following courses:

- Earth & Environmental Science 2001
- Chemistry 1021/1023 or Chemistry 1031/1033
- Mathematics 1022 or Mathematics 1041 or higher
- Earth & Environmental Science electives numbered above 2001, with a total of 16 or more credits, chosen with the approval of the undergraduate Earth & Environmental Science advisor.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Chemistry 1027, for example.

Five-Year Master's Program

Five-Year Combined B.A. or B.S. and Ed.M. Program

This is a combined program between the College of Science and Technology and the College of Education. For more information, see the following web site:

www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_programs/schools_colleges/ed/intro/generalinfo/ed_generalinfo.shtm#teacher

Senior Research Project

Students whose cumulative GPA is at least 3.25 at the end of the first semester of their junior year are eligible to undertake a senior research project. In the second semester of their junior year, students must select a faculty research advisor and, with the advisor, prepare a written research proposal. After the research advisor and the undergraduate Earth & Environmental Science advisor approve the proposal, the student may register for 3 hours of Earth & Environmental Science 4082 (Individual Study Program), in the summer and each semester of the senior year (up to a total of 9 hours), to carry out the research project. Normally, the project will involve field or laboratory work in the summer between the junior and senior years and lead to presentation of the results at a departmental seminar at the end of the senior year.

Distinction in Major

To graduate with Distinction in Major, students are required to achieve a 3.5 GPA for the aggregate of courses required for the B.S. in Geology or the B.A. in Geology.

Information Science & Technology

Dr. Jie Wu, Chair
Ms. Wendy Urban, Faculty Advisor
Wachman Hall, Room 304
215-204-5236
wendy.urban@temple.edu

The undergraduate programs in Information Science and Technology (IS&T) offered by the Computer and Information Science (CIS) Department are intended to provide students with both a detailed knowledge and a broad background in the technology of information systems. Fundamental concepts in mathematics, programming, object-oriented modeling, databases, software systems analysis and design, computer-operating systems and architectures, and networks and communications are stressed in the first two years. Special topics, including component-based software development and net-centric and client-server computing, are offered as part of the last two years of the program. A two-semester capstone project course is required. This course is designed to help students integrate what they have learned in other courses and apply this knowledge in the design and implementation of a software application.

Students develop the skills and the knowledge necessary to analyze information problems and to apply current technology to their solution. The emphasis is to develop problem-solving and communication skills. Substantial laboratory work is required. Students participate individually and in groups in the design, development, testing and documentation of information systems for a university or an external client.

Five-Year Master's Program

Five-Year B.A. or B.S./M.S.

Information Science & Technology majors at the beginning of their junior year may apply for admission to the fifth-year M.S. Program. Upon admission to the program and satisfactory completion of the program requirements, the student is assured of having a master's degree at the end of the fifth year. Interested students should contact their advisor for details.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include CIS 1056, for example.

Distinction in Major

To graduate with Distinction in Major, students are required to have a 3.50 or higher grade point average (GPA) both in the major and overall, as well as be recommended by the department of Computer & Information Science.

The Digital Media Technologies Minor is a 21-23 semester hour interdisciplinary minor offered through the Department of Media Studies and Production (MSP) within the School of Media and Communication and the Computer and Information Sciences (CIS) Department within the College of Science and Technology. It is designed to expand students' knowledge of the information age and to empower them to understand how to communicate using emerging media and computer technologies. The ability to tell stories through emerging digital media technologies will be critically and analytically explored as students examine the science of those technologies. The algorithms of communicating via emergent technologies will be at the core of this minor. This program addresses serious gaps in the current curriculum because current students of media have little understanding of the science of digital media and fast evolving interactive web-based information sharing technologies.

The minor is available to undergraduate students in Media Studies and Production, Computer & Information Science, as well as other departments and colleges. Upon completion of the minor, students should be able to demonstrate the following competencies:

1. Utilization of the hardware, software and technologies for integrating content for computers, the Internet, and mobile devices;
2. Critical analysis of decisions made regarding the use of technology specifically in the social and ethical arenas;
3. Understand the impact of current and emerging technologies locally and globally;
4. Design and implementation of content for various media digitally;
5. Ability to evaluate the science of technology as it impacts communications;
6. Develop and refine presentation, analytical, problem solving and writing skills.

Transfer credits are not accepted for credit for the minor.

Students must receive the permission of their advisor before starting in this program. Minor credit is not given for BTMM grades below C. Students must maintain at least a 2.00 grade point average in the program for successful completion of the minor. Students with averages under 2.00 for more than two semesters will be dropped from the program. Students with averages under 2.00 may not begin the program.

Requirements for the minor in Digital Media Technologies are as follows:

Required (14 credits)
Subject	Course #	Course Title	Hours
BTMM	1701	Introduction to Media Technology	3
CIS	1052	Introduction to Web Technology and Programming	4
CIS	1056	Advanced Web Technology and Programming	4

Other requirements:

- For MSP students, at least one (1) CIS elective is required.
- For CIS students, at least one (1) BTMM elective is required.
- For students of other backgrounds, at least one (1) BTMM and one (1) CIS elective are required.
- All prerequisites must be completed or permission by instructor received to enroll in minor courses.
- Example CIS Elective: CIS 2305 (Mobile Computing Technologies). This course accepts CIS 1052-1056 sequence as prerequisites.
- Permitted Substitute Elective: Biology 3333
- For students taking the Digital Media Technologies minor, 5 courses applied toward completion of minor requirements must be distinct from the major requirements. As such, additional electives will be accepted in place of courses that are listed for both the major and the minor. For MSP majors taking this minor, BTMM 2701 or 2751 will be accepted in place of the required BTMM 1701.

Mathematics

Mathematics majors may select either the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) program or the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) program.

The B.A. program is intended for those students who plan to seek employment in a mathematics-related field upon graduation. The program lays a solid mathematical foundation through its required courses and gives students an opportunity to pursue their mathematical interests through the choice of three electives. Several potential tracks include:

- 1) Students interested in teaching mathematics at a high school level should choose Math 3003: Theory of Numbers, Math 3061: Modern Geometry I, and Math 3032: Mathematical Statistics, as their electives.
- 2) Students interested in applied mathematics should choose from Math 3043: Numerical Analysis I, Math 3044: Numerical Analysis II, Math 3032: Mathematical Statistics, and Math 4043: Applied Mathematics.
- 3) Students interested in actuarial science or finance should choose Math 3043: Numerical Analysis I, Math 3032: Mathematical Statistics, and Math 4033: Probability Theory II.

Other choices of electives are also possible. Students who are interested in teaching mathematics at a high school after graduation should seriously consider the B.S. in Mathematics With Teaching program. This program provides solid mathematical foundation and pedagogical training necessary for success as a high school teacher and satisfies Pennsylvania's teacher certification requirements.

The B.S. degree is intended for those students who plan to pursue a graduate degree in mathematics or a mathematics-related field or are interested in learning mathematics in more depth. It is a more challenging alternative for the stronger math students.

Either program can be combined with the department's M.A. program leading to an M.A. degree after five years of study.

The department offers joint programs with the Department of Physics and the Department of Computer and Information Science leading to a B.S. degree and a joint program with the Department of Economics leading to a B.A. degree. Students who wish to pursue careers as secondary math teachers may also choose a five-year interdisciplinary program, offered jointly with the College of Education, that leads to a Bachelor's degree in Mathematics, a Master's degree in Education, and teacher certification.

The Departments of Economics and Mathematics offer the Mathematical Economics program as a platform for systematic concentration in the mathematical approach to economics. Economics has progressed in the last several decades by making extensive use of mathematical techniques. As a result, students who wish to pursue graduate study in economics, finance, accounting and other disciplines that make an extensive use of economics need a thorough grounding in both economics and mathematics. The Mathematical Economics curriculum provides this grounding with a broad selection of courses that cover all important areas of economics and the mathematical tools required for a critical, deep mastery of these areas. This program is especially recommended for those students who intend to pursue graduate studies in Economics. The program and its requirements are described in full in the "Intercollegial Programs" section of this Bulletin.

Five-Year Master's Program

The Combined B.A. or B.S./M.A. Program

To participate in this five-year program, a mathematics major should be enrolled in either the B.A. or the B.S. program. Application to continue in the M.A. program must be made to the graduate chair of the department no later than the first semester of the senior year. To be accepted by the M.A. program, a student must have a GPA of at least 3.25 in Mathematics courses when the application is made. Bachelor of Arts students must complete Math 3141, Math 3142 and Math 4051 in place of Math 3137 and Math 3138, also B.A. students must complete Math 3098 and Math 3101 in place of Math 3096 in order to be considered for admission to the Master's program. In addition to completing the B.A. or B.S. requirements, the student must complete four additional graduate-level mathematics courses numbered 5000 and above by the end of her/his senior year. If the Core and College requirements have also been met, the student will be awarded the B.A. or B.S. degree at the conclusion of this portion of the program. All courses must be passed with a grade of C- or better, and no more than two graduate courses can carry a grade less than B- for the student to continue with the M.A. portion of the program.

Fifth-Year Course Requirements

The student will take a total of six graduate-level courses, selected to conform to the M.A. requirements. At the end of the fifth year, the student must either write a master's thesis or pass one of the following examinations:

- Master's Comprehensive Examination in Pure Mathematics
 - Master's Comprehensive Examination in Applied Mathematics
 - Ph.D. Combined Comprehensive Examination (M.A. level pass)
- For further details on the M.A. degree requirement see the Graduate Bulletin.

Five-Year Master's/Secondary Education Certification Program

This is a combined program between the College of Science and Technology and the College of Education. For more information, see the following web site: www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_programs/schools_colleges/ed/intro/generalinfo/ed_generalinfo.shtm#teacher

Minor Requirements

- Three semesters of calculus (Math 1041, Math 1042, and Math 2043).
- Linear algebra (Math 2101)
- Four additional mathematics courses numbered 3000 or above, or Math 2196 and three mathematics courses numbered 3000 or above. (Math 2196 must be taken prior to Math 3098 or Math 3141.)

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Math 1022, for example.

Distinction in Mathematics

To graduate with Distinction in Mathematics a student should meet the following requirements:

1. All requirements for the B.A. or B.S. degree in Mathematics must be met with a GPA of at least 3.50 in the Mathematics courses.
2. At the time of graduation, the student's overall GPA, including all college-level courses, must be at least 3.25.
3. Bachelor of Arts students and students enrolled in TUteach - Mathematics Program must complete Math 3141, Math 3142 and Math 4051 instead of Math 3137 and Math 3138, as well as Math 3098 and Math 3101 instead of Math 3096 in order to qualify for a Distinction in Major.
4. A student must either have a GPA of 3.50 or higher in the following courses: Math 3141,

Math 3142, Math 3098, Math 3101, Math 4051 and any other 4000-level course other than individual study, or a student must complete a graduate math course 5000-level or higher with a grade of B or better.

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in the Natural Sciences provides students more breadth than traditional science programs. Many exciting areas of scientific inquiry, such as the neurosciences, environmental sciences, and biophysical sciences, require general science backgrounds that encompass multiple science disciplines.

Students planning graduate study or technical careers in one of these interdisciplinary areas, as well as students preparing for careers in health sciences, legal professions, science education, science-related business, or social service might be well served by the B.A. in the Natural Sciences.

However, this program of study will not prepare students for graduate study in a traditional science discipline nor will it prepare students for technical employment in a traditional science discipline.

The major in Neuroscience - Cellular & Molecular leading to a Bachelor of Science from the College of Science and Technology is designed to provide rigorous preparation in scientific knowledge at the molecular and cellular level to those students interested in pursuing advanced studies and professional development in neuroscience, medicine or a related field in life sciences. In addition to neuroscience, graduates in the major will be well prepared for graduate or professional studies in cell or molecular biology, biochemistry, biophysics, biomedical sciences, medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, and many allied health fields. Neuroscience graduates who do not pursue graduate studies will be prepared to accept technical positions in industry (pharmaceutical, biotech) or government and university laboratories. Graduates will be ready to conduct research on a range of neuroscience and related topics at the level of cells or molecules, including nervous system function, development, disease or injury.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Biology 1011, for example.

A total of up to 3 s.h. of Biology research courses numbered lower than 4000 (to include: Biology 3082, 3181, 3183, 3281, 3481, 3681, and 3781) may be taken for a letter grade. Any additional credits in research courses in this category can be taken only on a CR/NC basis. No research courses numbered lower than 4000 may be used for Biology elective credit.

Distinction in the Major

Distinction in Neuroscience is awarded based upon the completion of two semesters of Biology 4591, submission of a paper, a poster presentation, AND maintaining a GPA of 3.2. Admission to the program for Distinction is by application to the Neuroscience Program during the junior year.

The Bachelor of Science (B.S.) program serves two purposes. First, it gives strong preparation for those wishing to attend graduate school in physics or related disciplines. Second, the B.S. program is recommended for those who intend to enter the scientific workforce upon completion of a bachelor's degree.

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) program is designed for those who are planning for a non-research career in a field which nevertheless has an important science component. Examples include patent law, environmental law enforcement, medicine or sales or management in a high-technology industry.

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Math 1022, for example.

Minor Requirements

Students wishing to minor in Physics should take 8 semester hours of Calculus-based Physics I, II (Physics 1061-1062 or equivalent), Electricity and Magnetism (Physics 3301) or Introduction to Electromagnetic Fields and Waves (Electrical Engineering 3712), Introduction to Modern Physics (Physics 2796), and 6 additional semester hours of Physics courses at or above the 2000-level, chosen with the approval of the undergraduate Physics advisor.

Five-Year Master's Program

The Combined Five-Year B.A. or B.S./M.A.

This program allows a talented student to obtain both a bachelor's and a master's degree in five years. A physics major may apply for the program during the junior or senior year. Please consult the advisor for details.

Five-Year Master's/Secondary Education Certification Program

This is a combined program between the College of Science and Technology and the College of Education. For more information, see the following web site:

www.temple.edu/bulletin/Academic_programs/schools_colleges/ed/intro/generalinfo/ed_generalinfo.shtm#teacher

Distinction in Major

A student who wishes to graduate with distinction in the major must complete all courses required for the physics major with a GPA of 3.5 or better, and carry out an independent study or undergraduate thesis project. Consult the undergraduate physics advisor for more details.

The Bachelor of Science (B.S.) with Teaching programs are part of Temple's innovative teacher-training program, "TUteach." The B.S. with teaching provides broad training in the chosen discipline, and prepares students for a career in secondary school teaching. Students who complete the B.S. with Teaching meet Pennsylvania teacher certification requirements via theoretical and practical courses in education specifically designed for science and mathematics majors. The education courses in the B.S. with teaching degree program include practice teaching in school district classrooms and emphasize inquiry-based approaches to learning.

Seven Bachelors of Science programs enable students to prepare for secondary education certification while mastering the content of their field. The programs are: Biology with Teaching, Chemistry with Teaching, Earth and Space Science with Teaching, General Science with Teaching, Mathematics with Teaching, Mathematics and Computer Science with Teaching and Physics with Teaching. The programs require that students complete the collegial Bachelor of Science requirements and a total of 124 credits.

Biology with Teaching

The B.S. with Teaching in Biology is part of Temple's innovative "TUteach" teacher-training program. The B.S. with Teaching provides broad training in Biology, and prepares students for a career in secondary school teaching. The education courses in the B.S. with Teaching include supervised teaching in school district classrooms and emphasize inquiry-based approaches to learning. Students in the B.S. with Teaching degree program become eligible for a Pennsylvania teacher certification when they complete all the requirements for the degree that include theoretical and practical courses in education specifically designed for science and mathematics majors. In order to be recommended for Pennsylvania teacher certification, students must graduate with 1) a B.S. with Teaching degree 2) a minimum overall 3.0 GPA and 3) earn passing scores on the state-required Praxis I and Praxis II tests.

Students are encouraged to stay on track to graduate with an overall GPA of 3.0 by meeting once each semester with a TUteach advisor and by meeting the prerequisite GPA for required courses. GPA and prerequisite course requirements insure that students are well prepared for the significant amounts of supervised classroom teaching required in advanced courses. Attention is specifically directed to the prerequisites required to enroll in Project-Based Instruction (MAES 4189 or SCES 4189), an advanced course required in all TUteach degrees and recommended to be taken in either the fifth or seventh semester. The prerequisites for this course include entering the course with a GPA of 3.0 and having earned passing scores on the Praxis I Test ("Basic Knowledge:" reading, writing, and mathematics).

Calculation of Major GPA

The list of courses that are used to calculate major GPA is determined by the department. Students should consult with their academic advising unit for the applicable courses. In general, courses that could not apply toward the major as an elective or a required course are not counted for the major GPA. This would include Chemistry 1027, for example.

Distinction in Major

To graduate with a Distinction in Major, students are required to achieve a 3.5 GPA for the aggregate of courses required for the B.S. in Chemistry with Teaching.

Earth & Space Science with Teaching

The B.S. with Teaching in Earth & Space Science is part of Temple's innovative "TUteach" teacher-training program. The B.S. with Teaching provides broad training in Earth & Space Science, and prepares students for a career in secondary school teaching. The education courses in the B.S. with Teaching include supervised teaching in school district classrooms and emphasize inquiry-based approaches to learning. Students in the B.S. with Teaching degree program become eligible for a Pennsylvania teacher certification when they complete all the requirements for the degree that include theoretical and practical courses in education specifically designed for science and mathematics majors. In order to be recommended for Pennsylvania teacher certification, students must graduate with 1) a B.S with Teaching degree 2) a minimum overall 3.0 GPA and 3) earn passing scores on the state-required Praxis I and Praxis II tests.

Students are encouraged to stay on track to graduate with an overall GPA of 3.0 by meeting once each semester with a TUTEACH advisor and by meeting the prerequisite GPA for required courses. GPA and prerequisite course requirements insure that students are well prepared for the significant amounts of supervised classroom teaching required in advanced courses. Attention is specifically directed to the prerequisites required to enroll in Project-Based Instruction (MAES 4189 or SCES 4189), an advanced course required in all TUTEACH degrees and recommended to be taken in either the fifth or seventh semester. The prerequisites for this course include entering the course with a GPA of 3.0 and having earned passing scores on the Praxis I Test ("Basic Knowledge:" reading, writing, and mathematics).

Bachelor of Science

Summary of Requirements for the Degree

1. University Requirements (124 total s.h.)

- Math 0701 (4 s.h.) and/or English 0701 (4 s.h.), if required by placement testing.

- One (1) Secondary Education course is required (3 s.h.): Secondary Education 3796.
- One (1) Philosophy course is required (3 s.h.): Philosophy 2196.

 Note: The degree and certification programs in TUTEACH are being revised to address new regulations from the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE). All students enrolling in any of these degree programs for the first time in 2012-2013 are strongly recommended to check with the TUTEACH Advisor in the College of Science and Technology, to affirm the requirements that pertain to their specific major. In addition, students should check the Undergraduate Bulletin web site for the most current information about these programs (Academic Programs section), or the TUTEACH web site at: <https://tuteach.cst.temple.edu/>.*

It is also recommended that all students meet with an advisor before enrolling in classes specific to these majors and leading to certification as a teacher. This is to assure that a candidate's intended program of study will be compatible with the new requirements.

Mathematics & Computer Science with Teaching

The B.S. with Teaching in Mathematics and Computer Science is part of Temple's innovative "TUteach" teacher-training program. The B.S. with Teaching provides broad training in Mathematics and Computer Science, and prepares students for a career in secondary school teaching. The education courses in the B.S. with Teaching include supervised teaching in school district classrooms and emphasize inquiry-based approaches to learning. Students in the B.S. with Teaching degree program become eligible for a Pennsylvania teacher certification when they complete all the requirements for the degree that include theoretical and practical courses in education specifically designed for science and mathematics majors. In order to be recommended for Pennsylvania teacher certification, students must graduate with 1) a B.S. with Teaching degree 2) a minimum overall 3.0 GPA and 3) earn passing scores on the state-required Praxis I and Praxis II tests.

Students are encouraged to stay on track to graduate with an overall GPA of 3.0 by meeting once each semester with a TUteach advisor and by meeting the prerequisite GPA for required courses. GPA and prerequisite course requirements insure that students are well prepared for the significant amounts of supervised classroom teaching required in advanced courses. Attention is specifically directed to the prerequisites required to enroll in Project-Based Instruction (MAES 4189 or SCES 4189), an advanced course required in all TUteach degrees and recommended to be taken in either the fifth or seventh semester. Accreditation

The baccalaureate degree program in Sport and Recreation Management is currently accredited by the National Recreation and Park Association/American Association for Leisure and Recreation (NRPA/AALR) Council on Accreditation.

Goals & Objectives

The total experience within the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management enables students to have an excellent fundamental education and exposure to working professionals, internships, and personalized placement services. As a result, students are given a competitive advantage in a job market projected to double in the next decade.

The School of Tourism and Hospitality Management offers two undergraduate major programs: (1) Sport and Recreation Management, and (2) Tourism and Hospitality Management. The focus of the undergraduate programs is to provide a broad educational foundation and to prepare students for entry into the sport and recreation management, leisure service, or tourism and hospitality occupations at the professional level.

The Sport and Recreation Management program prepares students interested in sport and recreation careers in the private/commercial sector, public recreation and park agencies, professional sports, athletics, youth sport agencies, voluntary agencies, campus services, armed forces, and corporate/industrial settings. The Tourism and Hospitality Management program prepares students for entry-level to mid-level positions in tourism, hospitality, and event management. The program prepares students to work in convention and visitors' bureaus, destination management organizations, conference centers, resorts, casinos, hotels, theme parks, theaters, and clubs. Both programs consist of coursework in the university's General Education (GenEd), the school major course requirements, the supplemental electives from related disciplines, and two supervised field experiences.

Admissions

If you are applying for admission to Temple University as a freshman or a transfer student and wish to major in Sport and Recreation Management or Tourism and Hospitality Management, you should designate the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management (Code 023) on your application. All transfer students must seek individual program advice from the Center for Student Services.

Financial Aid & Scholarships

Information regarding financial aid and scholarships is available from the Office of Student Financial Services at www.temple.edu/sfs/. For additional information pertaining to specific scholarships within the school's disciplines, refer to the Center for Student Services.

Special Programs and/Or Professional Certification

Honors Laptop Community

Students admitted to the University Honors Program are eligible, by invitation only, to be part of the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management's Honors Laptop Community. Students participate in pre-approved Fox School of Business and Management Honors courses in pursuit of a Business Minor, with the added benefit of their own university-issued laptop computer.

Student Association Information

Professional development begins with membership to associations/organizations for all STHM students. We encourage our students to consider joining one of the following groups during their academic tenure in the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management. See our Center for Student Services for additional information. Scholarship opportunities are available within the associations for those who are active members. See the specific association's web site for details. Please be reminded that, in most cases, students must be a member of the association for at least one year to be eligible for the available scholarships.

STHM Student Association (SA)

The mission of the STHM Student Association is to introduce new students to all STHM has to offer, especially Student Professional Organizations, and to foster relationships between students and professionals.
