LESSON 1

Introduction to Supports Broker Training: Paradigm Shift
Objectives

Participants will…

• leave with a deep understanding of the philosophy behind person-driven models.
• understand the framework of person-driven services in PA.
• understand the roles and responsibilities of Supports Brokers and Recovery Coaches.
• have the tools to assist people with decision-making and enhancing natural supports.
• possess the tools to support people in their roles as employers.
“Person Driven Services”

Also called:

- Participant-Directed Services (PDS)
- Self-Directed Services
- Consumer Driven or Directed Services
- Consumer-Employer
Financial Management Service (FMS) Organizations

• Provide specialized payroll services to people directing their own services

• Developed to improve choice and control of participant directed services

• Ensure supports and services are in compliance with tax and labor laws
Supports Broker

Designed to assist participants in order to be successful self-directing some or all needed services.

• Employer-related duties (finding, hiring, managing support workers, support with paperwork for FMS)

• Enhancing Natural Supports (facilitating a support group that helps to meet the participant’s self-direction needs -“Circle of Support”)

• Support with program rules (assisting with monitoring expenditures and utilization of services, following rules of the waiver)
Paradigm Shift

Person-driven services are about a fundamental shift in power.

“Experts”/Professionals → Person

Traditional versus Participant-Direction Models

Traditional
- Person selects provider agency from willing and qualified providers in the area
- Agency makes staff decisions—does all hiring, training, managing, scheduling
- Primary responsibility for implementing ISP is provider’s

Participant-Direction
- Person is directly involved in the hiring or selecting of support people.
- Person directly manages, schedules and trains support people.
- Person directly determines how to achieve the outcomes listed in the ISP.
LESSON 2

Principles of Self-Determination, Everyday Lives and Recovery
Why Person-Driven Models?

- Civil rights, integration
- Cost effectiveness
- Better outcomes
- Response to demographic changes
- System only gets more complicated
Principles of Self-Determination

Freedom

The exercise of the same rights as all citizens.

People with disabilities, with assistance when necessary, will establish where they want to live, with whom they want to live and how their time will be occupied. They do not have to trade their inalienable rights guaranteed under the Constitution for supports or services.

The National Office of Self-Determination
Principles of Self-Determination

Authority

The control over whatever sums of money are needed for one’s own support…

including the re-prioritizing of these dollars when necessary. This is accomplished through the development of an individual budget that "moves" with the person.

The National Office on Self-Determination
Principles of Self-Determination

Support

The organization of these resources as determined by the person with a disability.

This means that individuals do not receive "supervision" and "staffing." Rather, folks with disabilities may seek companionship for support and contract for any number of discrete tasks for which they need assistance.

The National Office on Self-Determination
Responsibility

The wise use of public dollars.

Dollars are now being used as an investment in a person's life and not handled as resources to purchase services or slots. Responsibility includes the ordinary obligations of American citizens and allows individuals to contribute to their communities in meaningful ways.

The National Office on Self-Determination
Principles of Self-Determination

Self-Advocacy
For an authentic voice in individual/personal and public policy decision-making

Self-advocacy is about helping people with disabilities to speak up for themselves. If we do not know how to speak up for ourselves, we will never know how to dream and what we can achieve. Without self-advocacy there is no self-determination!

Self-Advocates Becoming Empowered
Everyday Lives means that people with disabilities can live, work, play, and worship in their communities to have lives just like everyone else.

Supported Decision-Making
Developed using information with permission from:

- Boston College Center for the Study of Home and Community Life
- MEDSTAT Consultants
- Department of Health and Human Services
- Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
Tenets of Participant-Directed Services

- May represent a wide range of choices
- Places the participant as expert in identifying needs and desires.
- Service to total life planning option
- Consultant’s role is that of facilitator, coach, and teacher not expert.
- Participant-directed care focuses on choice and active decision-making.
Decision Making:

How do we make decisions?
Intellectual Factors (Head) in Decision-Making

• What knowledge (or lack of) do participants bring to making decisions about services?

• What knowledge may affect decisions participants will make?

• How do we educate and inform participants without violating their right to self-determination?
Emotional Factors (Heart) in Decision Making

• How do past emotional experiences affect the decisions a participant makes?

• What kinds of things do participants have strong emotional reactions to? Fear? Joy? Anxiety? Anger?

• How do emotional factors cloud the role of knowledge in decision-making?
Social Factors (Hands) in Decision-Making

• What social experiences (or a desire for social experiences) affect who participants want to interact with them?

• How do you think the participant sees himself or herself in relationship to the greater society? How does this affect decision-making?
Purpose-Driven Factors in Decision-Making

• Do you think the participants have a vision for their lives? Why? Why not?
• Do they have dreams of what they want in life?
• Do they see a reason for their lives?
Risk is...

• The likelihood of a bad or undesirable outcome.
• The willingness to tolerate uncertain outcomes.
What is your risk tolerance?

Risk averse:
  • Prefers structure, certainty, with less (rather than more) variability.
  • Worst case scenario

Risk seeker:
  • Prefer ambiguity, greater tolerance for unknown consequences.
  • Best case scenario
Risk tolerance is a function of:

- Personality structure
- The biological need for thrill
- Age and gender
- Birth order
- Level of education
- Previous experience
- Perception of irreversibility
Risk with Dignity

- Exploration of options
- Careful consideration
- Honoring of choice
What tools do Supports Brokers have to support people with decision-making?
What challenging situations can Supports Brokers anticipate?

- Interpersonal/family dynamics
- Risk tolerance
LESSON 10

Engaging Natural Supports:
Creating and Maintaining Circles
Circles of Support

Circle of Support

The person is at the center. The first circle nearest to the person is the most important relationships. The second circle is close friends this could include relatives. The third circle you would list the organization the person belongs to this could include work, churches, clubs. The fourth circle is where we are going to places any support you pay for like the hairdressers, doctors, exercise classes.

- Write names into each area of the circle.
- Underline people you’ll invite to circle.
- Star possible facilitator.

New people to approach

Community Mapping
What is Community Mapping?

More generally understood definition ....

Collaborative mapping supports and facilitates an integrated approach to environmental conservation, open-space and historic preservation, neighborhood revitalization and urban planning, community asset inventories, and economic development as well as expands awareness of local needs, issues and special places as determined by the community's own members.

–Center for Community Mapping
Template for Mapping a Person’s Community

Questions that need answering:
1. What is your vision? Your aspirations?
2. What gifts/interests do you share?
3. Where do you feel welcome?
4. Where do you contribute?
5. Where would you be missed if you didn’t make it?
6. What are the places or opportunities in your community to share your gifts/interests?
7. Who can help? What are they helping with? When? (date for action to be completed)
Process for Mapping a Person’s Community

• Environmental scan – HOW depends on the person
• Some possible approaches that may work separately or in combination
  – Meeting of people who know and care—brainstorming—visual/graphic process
  – In separate conversations and using the web
  – Walk around area, pick up local newspapers and magazines—observe and talk to people
  – Drive around area, take public transportation in the area

WHERE DO I CONTRIBUTE?
WHERE WOULD I BE MISSED?

Recruiting, Screening & Hiring
The work of SSWs should always be targeted at supporting a person to achieve the outcomes they have identified in their ISP.
Recruiting

Prior to advertising, recruiting get clear on position description, hours and wage range

• Job description should be aimed at achieving outcomes identified in the person’s ISP and person-centered planning
• Check “Services and Supports” section of ISP for hours, type of service and budgeted amount
• Work with person to have a clear understanding of personality traits and skills they prefer
• Know the basic provider qualifications for the service that will be billed
Effective Job Descriptions

- Need to be clearly written, inclusive of major duties and responsibilities, not tasks
- Reviewed with the applicant prior to hire
- Does the applicant understand the job?
- Opportunity to individualize the template to include specific needs and preferences
Determining Wages

• Person/surrogate gets to determine SSW wages from ODP wage ranges

• Person-surrogate decides whether to provide a benefit allowance for SSWs

• Some things to consider about wages:
  – Person’s budget
  – Probationary periods
  – Wages based on experience and skill required
  – Capacity to give raises in future.
Matching

Utilize the Matching Tool to work with the person and their family and surrogate, to identify supports needed and wanted, skills needed in their staff, desired personality characteristics of staff and common interests.
Advertising

Some common approaches include:

• Using the information contained in the Matching Tool to create an employment flyer and distributing the flyer throughout spots in the person’s local community (coffee shops, churches, colleges, shopping centers)

• On-line resources such as Idealist, Indeed, Craigslist, Social Media, and College Networks

• ‘Word of mouth’ recruitment through the person’s network (schools, church, friend and family, social groups, etc.)
Screening

Standard qualifications:

• Over 18 years of age

• A clear criminal record or a record with no prohibited offenses (see list)

• A clear Child Abuse clearance

• A valid driver’s license with a clean driving record
Screening

Values:

• Does the candidate show an interest in the work?

• Does s/he use person centered language?

• Does the candidate demonstrate a basic interest in helping people with disabilities to be full, contributing members of their community?
Interviewing

• If a potential good fit for the person, schedule an interview to take place with the person and their family.

• Interview can take place in a location in their community (based on individual and or family preference).
Interviewing

- Interview is led by the person accepting services.
- Some choose to prepare interview questions and use them for each interview. Others prefer a more informal conversation with the applicant around their interests and experience.
- Whether a formal or informal style is used, applicants should be asked the same or very similar questions and topics covered should be similar.
Interviewing

The process typically takes place in three phases: Application, Phone Screen, Interview

- Applications can be downloaded from the Internet
- Phone screens are used to obtain basic qualifications and values
- In-person interview with the person, employer and/or Supports Broker.
- Candidates should be observed for their ability to engage, listen, and respond honestly, respectfully, and thoughtfully to questions
- Candidates should show a level of enthusiasm for the work
Selecting the Best Person for the Job

There are a number of things to consider:

• How did the candidate get along with the person supported?

• What are the observations from the interaction? Do they seem like a “good fit”?

• Refer back to the Matching Tool:
  – Does the candidate possess the skills and interests needed to help the person connect with their community?
  – Does the candidate appear capable of helping the person to accomplish their goals?
  – Has the applicant been reliable and consistent in their communication?
Hiring Process with FMS

VF/EA (PPL)

- Complete and submit the “SSW Enrollment Packet” including verifying qualifications and eligibility

AWC

- Send referral packet to AWC who completes remainder of employee paperwork with the SSP
Managing SSPs
Managing SSPs

- Create clear job descriptions
- Communicate clear expectations
- Supervision is defined as a service to the SSPs
- The supervisory relationship is built on mutual respect and cooperation
Performance Management Process

- Documentation is important

- Differences between VF/EA and AWC –
  - VF/EA: the person and/or employer does all of the performance counseling and improvement planning, as well as the formal termination of employment
  - AWC: the person and/or employer informs the AWC representative of the performance issue and if there is a need to terminate employment
Scheduling SSPs

• Clarity on the person’s needs and preferences
• Clarity on what is authorized
• Carefully watch utilization – review statements from FMS
• Overtime is prohibited
• Overlapping time is prohibited
• Person/Surrogate may be responsible for overages
• In AWC, SSP cannot do medication administration so this may need to be considered when creating the work schedule
Developing a Good Back-Up Plan

• Back-up planning is required for both AWC and VF/EA users
• Back-up plan outcomes have to match regularly scheduled services and outcomes
• Friends and family are often times the best backup
• As much as possible, create flexible staffing schedules and use variable hour employees
• Communicating the expectation for back-up
Compliance with Service Documentation
Purpose of Service Notes and Progress Notes

• Claims Basis—did the service being billed really happen?

• Track Progress Identify how activity contributes to progress in achieving outcomes—is the service being billed for really supporting the person to achieve his/her desired outcomes?

• Adjust Activities Mechanism for needed adjustments in activities—is what we are doing working? If not, why not?
Service Notes & Progress Notes

- Service Note: details the date, type and number of units of a service that were provided, after each service is rendered.

- Progress Note: details how the provider’s support assists the person to achieve an approved plan outcome and/or how lack of progress will be remedied, after each service is rendered or at least monthly.
