COMMUNITY ISSUES

In last 10 years, number of students living on or in neighborhoods surrounding Main Campus has more than doubled.

- 2001 5,000
- 2011 12,000+

Issues:
- Crime and safety of students
- Relationships with non-student residents
- Private development

A lot of good has come from this shift from a commuter school to a more residential campus.

- Increased sense of cohesiveness throughout the student body—which will ultimately translate into a more engaged alumni network.
- Economic development to North Philadelphia—including first grocery store in the neighborhood in more than a decade and other service amenities, jobs, etc.

Has also created tensions in the community:

- Crime and safety of students.
- Relationships with non-student residents.
- Private development.
- Growing pains.

Concerns on both sides of these issues—both students and non-student residents have legitimate complaints.

Last year:

- Produced the Good Neighbor Policy through Student Affairs.
- Increase security patrols.

More issues arising this fall.

Creation of Task Force on Community and Student Issues and Concerns.

- Chaired by Dean of Students Stephanie Ives.
- Including representatives from:
  - University Counsel
  - Government, Community and Public Affairs
  - Campus Safety
  - Student Affairs (Student Activities, Dean of Students, Housing and Residential Life)
  - Athletics
  - Undergraduate Students
  - Community Member
  - Community Realtor
- Charge:
  - Develop recommendations for a comprehensive approach to policies, programming, services, and assessment with respect to student behavior, safety, awareness, and related concerns.
  - Develop short-term goals to address what Temple can do to immediately improve the off campus climate and long-term goals regarding policy, programming, and assessment.
  - Recommend appropriate metrics to address how outcomes will be monitored and assessed.
  - Consult with appropriate University bodies and offices, including the Faculty Senate Community Learning Network Committee.
  - Involve students who live in off-campus apartments, town houses.
  - Make on-going reports, including recommendations for action, to the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Provost and the President.
- Will keep the Board and the university community informed about findings and recommendations as the task force undertakes its work.
- First meeting held today.

OLD BUSINESS

NEW BUSINESS

Mr. O’Connor announced that several students had sent emails last week asking to address the Board related to Mountaintop Removal Coal Mining and PNC Bank. As indicated in the replies sent to the students, the Board of Trustees does not have a public comment period at its Board meetings. As evidenced at today’s meeting, matters for Board consideration are channeled through the various Board committees. This is how the Board at Temple University operates. The matter that has been raised by the students will be referred to the Investment Committee of the Board of Trustees. In addition, since many of the students are present regarding this matter, the chairman invited the students and any interested Trustees who are present to meet in 200 Sullivan for an informal discussion.

ADJOURNMENT The meeting adjourned at 4:10 p.m.
